THE DAILY ACCIDENT.

Another Electric Works Employee Loses a Finger.

Accidents at the Canadian General Electric Works are occurring very frequently. Almost every day some employee loses one or more fingers. Mr. Richard Drew, a young married man was yesterday's victim. Grier and Boucher dressed the wound.

SPREADING DISEASE.

Proper Precautions Are Not Taken to Prevent Infection of Scarlet Fever.

THE TIMES has been informed that there are several cases of scarlet fever in town in houses which are not placarded, and that members of the families in question go about their daily work, mixing up with the general public.

This is the way infectious diseases are spread and it is to be hoped that the proper authorities will see to it that all proper precautions are taken in the cases mentioned.

We are informed that the father of one family, several of whom are now ill with scarlet fever, spent several days with his family and then attempted to resume work in the lumber camp where he had formerly been employed, but the foreman had learned that the man had been among scarlet fever patients and refused to let him mix with the other men. This man then went to Lakeside and secured employment with the Trent Valley Canal contractors, where a large number of men are at work.

This is little short of criminal, and the man should be severely punished. We understand there are several similar cases in town.

THAT C. P. R. MATTER.

Editor Morning Times.

DEAR SIR.—THE TIMES is once more on the right track and fearlessly outspoken on a matter that affects the interests of the town in the event of the council taking hasty action. As a railwayer, I was very much pleased to read the article in yesterday's paper, in which you so ably set forth reasons why the council should not badger the C.P.R., because their freight sheds encroach on Wolf street.

As I understand the condition of things, there has been but one complaint sent in to the council about these sheds, and this is from a railwayer whose right of property may be suffering by reason of the present location of the sheds; but the council can settle this claim for a few dollars, and I submit that the town can well afford to do this and thus avoid open hostilities with a railway that has, as you say, been largely instrumental in making Peterborough the town it today is.

Your suggestion that the town give the C.P.R. the whole of Spaulding's Bay, is an excellent one. This property at present, is of no practical value to the town, but on the contrary is a disease breeding stenches, and if the C.P.R. will accept it as a gift, fill it in and erect suitable freight sheds upon it, the town will be the railway's debtor.

When I stop to consider the enormous sums of money the town has wasted in useless litigation already, and see our representatives again pursuing a course that means another expensive law suit, it makes me feel like selling my property and shaking the dust of the town from off my feet forever. Thank you for your valuable space, Mr. Editor.

A RATEPAYER.

Death of Mrs. Grange. At Napanee on Sunday evening the spirit of Jane Ann Grange, wife of John T. Grange, winged its flight to the better land. Deceased had been an invalid for the past nine years, and all through her illness exhibited great fortitude and patience. She was a lady of good judgment, fine parts and a charitable disposition. She was a member of the Anglican church and a Christian in the true sense of the term. During her life she made many friends and no enemies, and the news of her death will be received with deep regret by all. Deceased was the only daughter of Thomas and Marie Soles. Her father preceded her to the grave 43 years ago, but her aged mother, who is in her 80th year, survives her, and is residing with Mrs. John T. Grange. Mrs. Grange's wedded life was a happy one, she and her husband never having outlived their honeymoon. She was the mother of a large family, the following of whom, five girls and two boys, survive her: Thomas Wilkie, of New York; William, who is at present attending Queen's University, Mr. Wm. Pruyn, and Myra, Catherine, Bertha, and Minnie, who reside with their father.

Wood's is Wonderful.

No less than wonderful are the cures accomplished by Wood's Sarsaparilla, even after other preparations and physicians' prescriptions have failed. The reason however is simple. When the blood is enriched and purified, disease disappears, and good health returns, and Wood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier.

WOOD'S PILLS are prompt and efficient and do not purge, pain or gripe. Write

Mr. Hickey seconded the motion and it was declared carried.

The Board then adjourned.

INS AND OUTS.

Oak Hall sold boys' pants at 10 cents a pair yesterday. Who says that marriage is a failure?

Wanted—Twelve competent nurses and two experienced surgeons. Apply at Canadian General Butcher Shop.

It would never do for a C. P. R. train to leave the track inside of this corporation.

The council would be sure to sue the company for trespass.

Here are some freaks of Sunday's wind in and about Peterborough.

A stone hitching post was blown up by the roots in Auburn and deposited on a neighboring lot.

The wind got under a loose corner of asphalt paving on George street and ripped up a sheet about 100 feet long. The paving stones were deposited on the roof of a neighboring cottage.

Some workmen were drilling a hole to blast out foundation for a house at Burleigh. Before the blast could be inserted the council would get into the hole and blow out about three tons of bed-rock. The workmen concluded that it was no use for organized labor to contend against the elements and immediately went on strike.

A large Elm tree near Jackson Park was torn up by the roots, whirled 100 feet in the air, turned bottom side up and then re-landed, top down, in the same hole from where it had come.

A house was picked up in Ashburnham, carried four blocks and left right side up on another lot. The queer thing about this is that the man who owned the house was planning to move it to the very lot where the wind took it.

It may be good that Sunday was not an especially good day for wind in Peterborough.

Keep Enemies Out.

All disease that lingers and finally kills are the effects of bad blood. The blood must be kept perfectly pure. This is what the kidneys are for. They have everything to do in filtering out the poisons.

This process of filtration may be interfered with by a cool. Usually if there is any lack of good kidney work, is cold, or perhaps over eating or over drinking.

Nearly every acute ailment starts with a cold, and the disease that finally kills. The thing is to arrest the cold. This brings us to the question—What is the best treatment for a cold? Experience teaches us, from the universal success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all the forms in which derangements of the kidneys show themselves that there is no treatment known to man anywhere equal to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 6, 1865.

ANOTHER UNPLEDGED MAN.

Only a few days ago Mr. Willoughby, the Conservative candidate in Cardwell, says the Toronto Star, sent to the McCarthyite leaders in that constituency a letter in which he announced his opposition to interference with Manitoba, and now comes the report that he has decided to follow Mr. McGillivray's example of seeking election on the non-committal plea of waiting until the Government produce its school legislation before he gives his opinion of it. He has placed himself or allowed himself to drift into an unenviable predicament.

First Mr. Willoughby secured the Conservative nomination.

Then the Government declared for remedial legislation.

Next the constituency was opened and Mr. Willoughby got to work to hold the nomination, supporting the Government.

Then he seemed to wobble and under the pressure of Ontario's strong opposition to interference, he declared against remedial legislation and coquetted with the McCarthyites.

The next act in the comedy was Sir Mackenzie Bowell's declaration that he had assurance that the candidate was with the Government on the school question.

And now immediately following the Premier's statement, Mr. Willoughby gets in out the wet, under McGillivray's umbrella.

It is to be feared that Mr. Willoughby's chief idea is to capture the seat, and his concern for principle and policy is a very bad second. He scarcely knows just where he is at. In his desire to run with the hare and hunt with the hounds, he has lost his bearings. His predicament is a fair illustration of the tangle into which a wobbling politician may get himself when he sets out to make votes by skirting a straight issue and trying to stand in with all classes.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell has cabled to Sir Charles Tupper to come to Canada for a consultation regarding the fast Atlantic service and Sir Charles will sail at once. We agree with the Hamilton Herald that the chances are that what Sir Charles is really wanted for is to reach out both hands, help pull the party out of the hole Sir Mackenzie has got it in and steer the next Dominion elections. You may have noticed that there is usually an election in sight when Sir Charles comes to Canada.

Gillespie, the Roman Catholic Liberal candidate for North Ontario, is riding the Protestant horse, and shouts "Hands off Manitoba" with the best of them.

The Review and similar dyed-in-the-wool party hacks, who support party through thick and thin, whether they are right or wrong, fairly explode with gratification whenever there is any talk of the alleged growth of protectionist sentiment in England. They seem to lose sight of the fact that if England adopted a protective tariff it would be mighty rough on Canada.

Hasten slowly is a good old maxim and may be well laid to heart by those members of the Council who propose to rush into a lawsuit with the C. P. R. Our past experience in the courts of law is no at all pleasant. There is only one individual at all directly interested in disturbing the company. The citizen returned to owns a small portion of the marsh which would be dear at almost any price.

Henry Menier, the chocolate manufacturer of Paris, has bought the Island of Anticosti for one million francs.

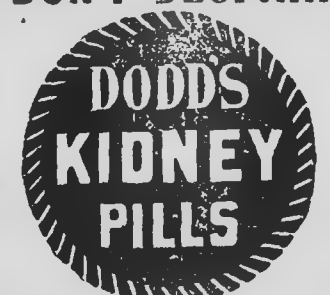

The world's record for lumber cutting is claimed for the Port Blakely mill of Port Blakely, Washington. During the ten months of this year, up to the end of October, 83,776,212 feet of lumber had been cut at this one mill, and it is estimated that the total output for 1895 will be at least 105,000,000 feet. Loaded in regular car lots this amount would make a train more than sixty miles long. No wonder there is talk about the rapid destruction of our forests.

The weather authorities have given us a foretaste, at an early period of the month, of genuine Christmas weather, and it is a good earnest of a rattling business being done by our merchants during the "festive season." Already the "spirit" of Christmas is abroad, and some of the windows on the business thoroughfares are beginning to remind the passer by of presents to be bought and given. Our advertisers should be bestirring themselves, and so also those whose benevolence will have to be appealed to on behalf of those whose lines are cast in places less favored than their richer fellow Christians. The ever present poor must not be forgotten by those who have this world's goods at the Christmas season.

The Presidential message, as far as it bears on Canada, is specially interesting. But it cannot be denied that the American administration does not shine very brightly in the remarks made by the President concerning the Behring Sea payment. For the chief magistrate of a great nation to have to beg Congress to carry out a solemn engagement is hardly creditable. It is not surprising that the press of Great Britain is strong and unsparing in its denunciation of the reference to Venezuela, and it shows that no visionary "doctrine" is to be permitted to interfere with international law. But then it does not appreciate to the fact that much of the message is only stage fire.

The search for pearls in Kentucky streams is recognized industry which has been unusually profitable this year on account of the lowness of the streams, especially the Cumberland river, which is the most important source of supply. One man found several pearls this summer that are worth from $75 to $100 each, besides a considerable number of smaller ones. One pearl found in the Cumberland is valued at $500. The pearl hunters say that one reason why the streams of Kentucky are more productive of pearls than the rivers in some other States is because of the limestone bedrock, which seem more adapted to the purpose of the pearl bearing mussels than the formations underlying many streams in other sections of the country.

In December, 1894, his Endowment matured, and he received a cheque from the Company for $1,364.70, being a return of all the premiums paid, and in addition, $665.70. That is to say Mr. Murray got back all the money he invested, with about 4 1/2 PER CENT. COMPOUND INTEREST, and had his life assured for $1,000 for twenty years free of charge.

It is needless to say that Mr. Murray was much pleased. You may gather that fact from the perusal of his letter here to appended. QUERY.—How many of the people of Peterborough invest their money to better advantage?

N. B.—This is an example of profits paid under our Five Year Distribution plan. The results under our Reserve Dividend (or Semi-Tontine) policies may reasonably be expected to greatly exceed that realized under the above plan.

KINCARDINE, Jan. 6th, 1895.

The Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, Montreal.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your cheque in full settlement of claim under my Ten Payment Twenty Year Endowment policy, No. 1406, and I desire to express my satisfaction with the result of my investment. I paid to the Company an annual premium of $69.00 for ten years, making a total of $690, for which I now receive a cheque for $1,364.70, being a return of all I have paid the Company, and in addition, $665.70, besides having had my life assured for $1,000 during the twenty years. This I consider very good indeed, and I have pleasure in giving my testimonial to that effect.

Yours sincerely, (Signed,) REV. J. L. MURRAY.

TAMWORTH SWINE.

A Short Description of the Modern English Bacon Breed.

The breed is practically unknown in this country. It is in every respect so totally unlike the kind of hog which it is the ambition of the swine breeder to produce that many will be surprised to learn that the accompanying cut is an excellent illustration of the type most popular among the English, being considered a very fine specimen of the breed.

The explanation of their popularity lies in their thin, long bodies, which supply great quantities of well-streaked bacon, the inevitable dish at every English breakfast table. Indeed, in the production of this article they are without a rival save the improved Yorkshire, which they greatly resemble in many ways.

In color the Tamworths are generally

a sandy red, though some are a dark gray with black spots. They are hardy and prolific and have been improved so that they are now an early-maturing breed. The long, deep sides, light shoulder and jowl make them an ideal bacon hog. The flesh is lean, pink and well-flavored.—N. Y. World.

Protest Sheep Against Trub in the Head.

Many American shepherds advise against the salt trough with tar, but this is seldom thorough enough. A practice to be recommended, where the flock is not too large, is to smear the noses of the sheep periodically, at least once a week, during the season of greatest activity of the fly, with a mixture of equal parts of tar and grease, or of tar and fish oil, or of tar and whale oil. Some have used whale oil alone with good results. A brush will be found convenient to apply these mixtures. A reliable authority speaks of the flattering terms of the use of an ointment made as follows: Beeswax, one pound; linseed oil, one pint; carbolic acid, four ounces. Melt the wax and oil together, adding two ounces of resin as the body, then, as it is cooking, stir in the carbolic acid. The same authority mentions also, by some breeders of choice stock, of a canvas face cover smeared with this mixture, or with one of asphaltum and tallow, which may be adjusted in such a fashion as not to interfere with the sight or with grazing, and yet protect the lambs against the fly. They lay the eggs from which the grub hatches. Some farmers plow a few furrows in the pasture so the sheep may put their noses in the fresh earth and thus keep the fly away.—American Agriculturist.

Feeding Grit to Poultry.

Get a box about one foot square and eight or ten inches deep, remove the top, and place it inside at an angle from one corner of the bottom of the box, leaving about three quarters of an inch space from the bottom and one side, and the other side of the box about two inches from the other side to allow space to fill, or it may be filled tight, and the side of the box removed and hinged so as to open and fill. Place a strip of wood about one inch square, about two inches from the three-quarter inch space at the bottom of the box, to keep the grit in place. Bore two small holes in the bottom of the box near what is to be the top, and hang on nails so as to raise the box a few inches from the ground, to prevent the chickens from scratching dirt in. Put in the grit, oyster shells, charcoal, etc., and the fowls will have it fresh and clean, as it will drop down as they eat it. There will be no waste as when fed on the ground or in open boxes. The same arrangement may be used for feed when it is desirable to keep feed before the poultry all the time. The device is shown in the cut.—Rural New Yorker.

Live Stock Notes.

Of all the meats, mutton is the freest of disease.

As much as breeding and growing animals need exercise for their prosperity, the hogs for fattening need rest and quietness.

The quicker the sheep reaches maturity the less food it consumes. Early maturing sheep, therefore, means lower cost of production.

If wool is low in price it will add something to the profits of sheep husbandry. But now, as never before, mutton is the standby.

The cheapest food for hogs that we can raise is clover or grass, and in corn we have perhaps the best food for fattening that can be found.

The best thing the sheep breeder can do is to recognize that conditions affecting sheep have changed and prepare to conform to them.

As the American people come to use their brains more and their muscles less, fat meat—mutton included—goes out of favor. People want flesh and not fat more and more.—Farmer's Voice.

Sows Raising Their Young.

To prevent sows eating their pigs, give the sow two to three lbs. of salt pork (cut in pieces half an inch thick) immediately after farrowing, provided there are any signs of trouble that way. This has proved a sure remedy in many cases, we having had letters from thirteen farmers to this effect, and the subject was mentioned in one veterinary department recently. Feeding sows mostly on wheat middlings for about two weeks before farrowing often avoids this trouble. Fresh hay may be used instead of salt pork, and raw potatoes may be fed with both. Give sloppy or cooling food just before parturition.—American Agriculturist.

The French law enforces the various forms of uncleanliness to which a horse is liable, and provides that an animal found to be suffering from any of these within nine days after its sale may be returned to the seller. Such a law in this country would do much to protect buyers, and it would also be welcome to the reputable ones who are engaged in selling horses.

A MANSLAUGHTER CASE.

A CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST ON TRIAL IN TORONTO.

Mrs. Mary Beers in Charged With Causing the Death of Percy Beck—A Case That Is Exciting Much Interest.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 4.—A tremendous crowd gathered in the Criminal Assize Court this morning to witness the trial of Mrs. Mary Beers, the Christian Scientist charged with causing the death of Percy Beck. The gallery was crowded, and standing room was at a premium.

The stout matron with a ruddy complexion and hair slightly tinged with gray. She is defended by Hamilton Cassels, while the Crown is represented by John Barron, Q. C. Deputy Attorney General. Cartwright was present at counsel table for a short time.

It did not take long to empanel the jury only seven men being challenged. When the twelve men were finally chosen it was seen that several of the Hyams jurors were among them.

The jury sworn are: Henry Evison, John Fuller, John T. Devins, John Ferguson, Fred Gregory, Thos. Edwards, Jas. H. Treloar, Disney L. Forbes, Alfred Strong, Truman Culham, Wm. T. Cook, and R. F. Mulholland.

THE CROWN'S CASE.

Mr. Barron opened briefly, described the circumstances of the death and defined the disease of which Percy Beck died as incomplete diphtheria. He said the prisoner was called in and did absolutely nothing. She gave him no medicine, did not examine him or take his temperature—did not even lay her hands upon him.

Thus the crime charged was one of omission and negligence. She undertook to take charge of the child during sickness, and did not fulfill the responsibility cast upon her.

In conclusion Mr. Barron pointed out that if the jury thought the responsibility rested upon the parents, and that the latter were negligent, the prisoner could be found guilty of aiding and abetting them in their negligence, and thus be found guilty.

Mr. Cassels objected to Mr. Barron's address, claiming that he had no right to mention the course of treatment pursued on the days preceding the lad's death.

PERCY'S MOTHER IN THE BOX.

Justice Falconbridge overruled this, and Mrs. Mary Beck was called. She stated that Percy had died on Oct. 28 after nine days' sickness of some illness with which she was not acquainted. He had never been vaccinated, and she noticed that he had a cold just like the rest of the family. She told him to go to bed and went for the night. She did not call in Dr. Ball, who had attended her family for eighteen years, as she had faith in the Christian Science treatment, by which her husband had been cured. She herself had brought in Mrs. Beers on the Saturday week preceding the boy's death. Mrs. Beers did not examine him in any way or give him any medicine. She ordered him egg and milk, and said he was to have everything he could eat. The morning of his death he seemed brighter, and Mrs. Beers remarked it. Mrs. Beck stated that she still had full confidence in Mrs. Beers, and she would not have called in a doctor if she had known that Percy was seriously ill.

THE TREATMENT WAS MENTAL.

Mr. Cassels then took the mother in hand. She told him that the defendant had treated all her family and they had got better. She had lost faith in doctors to whom she had paid hundreds of dollars, since their inability to cure her husband's sickness was demonstrated. As to the treatment given the boy it was mental and invisible. She had full faith in it.

In re-examination Mrs. Beck stated that the child was not treated through herself, nor was she treated on behalf of the boy.

Mr. Barron then proceeded to show that, according to Mrs. Mary G. B. Eddy, the Christian Science authority, young Beck was not treated at all because the treatment was not through the parents. Justice Falconbridge ruled out evidence.

THE FATHER TESTIFIES.

Thomas Beck, the father, corroborated his wife as to treatment and other points except in one particular. He stated that he had known that the child was seriously ill he would have called in Dr. Ball. He was quite satisfied with what his wife did and what Mrs. Beck did. His examination and cross-examination occupied a lot of time. He related the story of his own sickness. He had been confined to bed for six weeks with sickness and doctors could do no good. The Christian Scientist Stewart came, treated him six times, and he has been well ever since. Beck further stated that he did not know that the boy was seriously ill, the defendant never having told him. The boy said he had a sore throat. The defendant was called in to give mental treatment and she gave it, but his mother took full responsibility for the care of the child.

THIS INDICATES THE LINE OF THE DEFENCE.

It is argued that the defendant was called in to give mental treatment and gave it. She did not take charge of the child, this being left to the mother.

HEAD THE BOOK TO HIM.

George Beck and Gordon Beck both testified that they saw Mrs. Beers sitting by the side of the boy's bed, but she never touched him. She read him the Bible and to the lad. It was "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures." Gordon Beck said she had cured him of a poisoned hand. She looked at his hand, closed her eyes, and the pain went away. It came back, and he returned and was again treated. His hand was not cured, however, until three weeks after the treatment.

A C. P. R. CHANGE.

Freight Traffic Manager Bolworth Will Go to Montreal.

Special to The Times.
MONTREAL, Dec. 5.—Mr. G. M. Bosworth, of Toronto, who has for a number of years past filled the position of Freight Traffic Manager for the Canadian Pacific Railway, with headquarters in Toronto, will very shortly move to this city, where the centre of the department will in future be located. This change has been decided upon by the C. P. R. Executive, partly because of a wish on their part to have the head of several departments located in this city—where they may keep in closer touch with the Executive—and partly because of a change arising out of the desire on the part of Mr. Olds, General Traffic Manager, to be relieved of the executive duties in connection with his position.
When seen this morning, Mr. Shaughnessy, vice president, confirmed the news regarding the change. He intimated, however, that although Mr. Olds would very likely be relieved of the executive duties of his position in the near future, the change would not necessarily involve the appointment of a successor. The work of the department would simply be more widely distributed among the traffic managers of the road, so that Mr. Olds would be enabled to retain his present position.
Continuing, Mr. Shaughnessy stated that several conferences had been held between the C. P. R. Executive and Mr. Olds, with the result that the wish of the latter to be relieved of certain duties would very probably be granted by the former. No change had been made in Mr. Bosworth's position, however, although the head of the department had been transferred from Toronto to Montreal. The gentleman would continue to fill the position as freight traffic manager. His presence in this city, however, would undoubtedly facilitate the work of the department under the charge of Mr. Olds.

STILL UNIDENTIFIED.

Who is the Woman Suietied in the Buffalo Morgue?

Special to The Times.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 5.—A sister of Mrs. Nellie Marney, of Hamilton, Ont., who came for the purpose of identifying the woman who suiied at a Main street boarding house Monday, called at the morgue today. She declared that the dead woman was not her sister, and the identity of the woman is again in the calendar of missing.
Evidently there are a good many missing women in this part of the country. Fully 100 men and women have called at the morgue today and asked to see the body of the dead woman. They all said they were looking for people reported missing, but they failed to identify the corpse of the mysterious stranger on the marble slab.

BARRIE, Dec. 5.—A sad drowning accident occurred near here Monday evening. Alfred Warrick, and his son Dalton, left their home in Tollandale Monday afternoon to bring a trunk across the bay to Barrie. Before leaving home Mr. Warrick told his wife if it became stormy they would remain in Barrie until Tuesday. About an hour after they left a heavy wind and snow storm came up, and it continued until dark. It is supposed the boat became unmanageable with the weight of the trunk and capsized. When they did not return home Tuesday, friends drove to Barrie and found they had not reached here. A searching party started down the bay this morning, and found the boat and trunk about two miles from where the unfortunate men had commenced their fatal voyage. The bodies were found late this afternoon opposite Glen Allen. They were close together, and had evidently been helping each other when they perished.

At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. ## FISHING FOR COD.

A TRAMP PRINTER'S VOYAGE TO THE BANKS OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

Fog and Fish Were Plentiful—Weird Sensations Experienced Alone in the Mist. The Dangers of Setting the Trawls Are Many and Serious.

There are few situations in life, however strange and precarious, in which the tramp printer is not to be found; but, save myself, I know of none that has been fool enough to try his luck as a "trout-bait" on a hanker or fishing craft bound for the "stormy Georgias."

One day, weary of the monotony of typesetting, I went on board the 103 ton alop Trident lying off Spruce street wharf as it was hailed by Captain Sam Macy, a tall, bony Yankee in red cap and rubber boots.

"Want to ship for the grand banks fur cod? Ever tried fishing, boy? Well, I want a 'gutter' and will give $23 a month. Get yer plunder aboard. We sail tonight."

So on a very cold and windy night the alop passed Black light with a stiff wind astern. We had a crew of seven men, four of them Finns. After standing my watch I went into the little forecastle. Going to bed on a hanker means lying down on some one else. After a minute's trial I crawled from under a big Finn and finished my 40 winks on the wet deck, the waves flying over our low rail. For four days we did nothing but hold on, and after three days more jumping the seas the Trident anchored in Machias harbor, Maine.

A cloud of gray mist, and this our vessel entered as through a gateway, and then it closed, so thick that the man at the wheel could not see the jib, 30 feet away. Gropping our way, we anchored in 30 fathoms. Around us the toll of ship bells is plainly heard, and soon comes a hail. We are 40 yards away from old Ireland and yet cannot see them. Around us is a gray waste of water, breaking into short waves. The fog thickens, and in the northeast it is getting black, and by night the storm comes on, and for 40 hours we are fairly pinned to the deck by the wind.

It was my task to toll the bell. I grow dead weary and pulled the cord mechanically. How sweet to close one's eyes and dream! The sloop rises and falls with a lulling motion, and I am a thousand miles away. Suddenly a deep boom awakens me. All the crew in one flock and unite in one loud yell. "What's the matter?" I see a huge black wall hanging over the sloop, a glare of scorching light and a rush like a million of Tartar cavalry. It is gone. Captain Macy walks aft and says: "A close call. You must keep your eyes open. That was a Cuntar's blast boat!" An ocean liner had swept by us 50 feet to leeward.

And now we commenced fishing for cod. Each man had three lines, and these were pulled every minute, the fish released with a jerk, and the hook baited and thrown in. The cook and I opened the fish and put a handful of salt inside, while the captain packed them away. The cold was intense, and so we worked for 18 hours, and then came dinner and supper in one. I was too tired to eat, although the food was good and plenty of it.

Then came laying the trawls, the most dreaded work of all. Two men get into a sloop—double bowed skiff like a big dish—and lay out a mile of line baited and hooked every two feet. Ten feet from the sloop the mist closed around us like a pall. We had a compass, a keg of water and biscuit. After six hours' work we found the sloop and next day started again to overhaul the trawl—the most exhausting work. One man hauls into the heaving boat the line, halibut weighing 300 pounds are on the hooks, and these must be gaffed and as the boat rises hauled in, the boat gun's under water. Often she ups and then goes by. Sometimes men lose their bearings, and ships often find the dories drifting in mid-ocean, with the drunken and blackened remains of the occupants in the bottom. For 28 days we worked, the only intermissions being when the storm swept down on us. Once a steamer passed so close that her wake dashed the white water over our boat. Every day hails came to us through the blinding fog. "Alo! Seen anything of our dory?" Captain Macy had lost three sons and a nephew on one voyage two years before and in the terrible "Lord's day gale," August, 1878, 200 of the New England fishing fleet were dashed to pieces.

On Sundays we rested, mended our clothes, smoked, spun yarns and slept. Nothing was more surprising to me than the strange shapes taken by the mist when blown by a gale. It rolled up like rakes with women with floating garments and trailing hair or swept by for hours the semblance of an army of horsemen breaking, uniting and again forming in ranks.

Our Finns were very superstitious and full of curious old sea lore. Every move of the fog and wind had a significance, and once the whole crew was roused to listen to the wall of women far off to the windward. Heard in the silence of night it was very impressive. It was seals coming from the north on floating ice.

Our cruise had been very successful, and our catches were packed down over a splendid catch of halibut. So one morning we raised our anchor, struck our bell three times—the signal of departure—and this was answered, and under a chorus of goodbyes the jib and mainsail were hoisted home, and in 30 hours the Trident entered Gloucester harbor. Our destination was New York, but I had had enough of it, so the captain paid me, remarking graciously: "that I wasn't as big a fool as I looked."—Philadelphia Times.

Telegraphic Abbreviations.

Soon after the advent of typewriting machines in telegraph offices about five years ago senders of news messages began to abbreviate, and the manager of one of the news associations invented a code of abbreviations which is almost as intricate as the sign code itself. For instance, the sender telegraphs "hag," and the receiver writes it on his typewriting machine "in consequence of." Likewise "pos" means "possibly," "any" anywhere, "ano" by, "authenticity," "sum," sales unimportant; "abpnn," small business, prices unchanged; "fabnd," full prices asked, but no demand; "xr," exercise; "wam," with amendment; "etc," under the circumstances, "twp," tomorrow afternoon; "pop," presented a petition; "ogt," on the ground that; "scotus," supreme court of the United States; "kaw," adjourned sine die; "shv," either of which; "aks," consulted outside; "cht," covered by insurance.—Troy Times.

WILL SOON SOUP 'EM UP.

CURLERS PREPARING FOR THEIR WINTER'S PASTIME.

Some Peculiarities of the Scotchman's Game.—How Prominent Citizens Appear on the Ice.

It won't be very long now before curling will be in full blast in Peterborough and sturdy Scotchmen, and others who never were nearer being Scotchmen than eating oatmeal, will be guiding the "stones" and "sweeping 'em" up at the rink.

The best time of all the year will soon be at hand for curlers. Instead of spending the long winter evenings at home trying to find something to read in the evening papers, nursing babies, or going out into go to the rink and don the most grotesque costumes. This is one of the peculiarities in curling and it goes to show that the national love for that good old game predominates over everything else in the heart and mind of the enthusiastic curler.

Our artist this week depicts three well known curlers as they appear when deeply engaged in their favorite game.

MR. EDWARDS SEES IT COMING.

the yard for an occasional armful of wood or an occasional scuffle of coal, the citizen who has paid his $6 membership fee to the curling club will take down his old coat, hunt up his dingiest looking rubbers, poke under the bed of his Sam O'Shanter, and slyly flicking the broom behind the peatery door, will his away to the rink and curl and "soup" the whole long evening. His feet will be cold when he gets home and crawls in, but this is one of the evils the new woman is expected to put up with.

MR. DENNISTON SWEEPS.

The curling rink on any night when there is several exciting "rings" at it, presents a strange anomaly. When you first step inside—if you are uninitiated to the game and its players—you will naturally wonder where all those shantymen come from. They, the players, present a grotesque appearance, topped out in costumes that would put a second hand store to shame. But if you look under that old cap that presents a shaven top appearance, you will recognize the features of a prominent judge or lawyer, and that man over yonder wearing a ram old coat, is a prominent doctor, and that little comical looking man dressed in old velvet and rusty looking Sam O'Shanter and who is puffing away at a short pipe is not a bad carrier, but a well known and highly respected citizen, and so on down the list until all the prominent and prominent citizens in Peterborough's commercial life are found to be represented.

Men who are most fastidious as regards dress, who shave every morning, change their shirts at least three times per week, wear cuffs on weak days, and cross their trousers with painful regularity, will

Here Is Something Nice.

Our enterprising grocer, Mr. Alex. Elliott, has not been idle while other people were getting ready for the Christmas trade, but ordered and has just received a fresh line of fruits and peel, new fruits, nuts and raisins and other goods that the anxious housewife is so particular to get fresh and nice at Christmas time. He also laid in stock a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries, which will be offered to the public at rock bottom prices. Everything is fresh—that's the beauty of it. Also fine wines and liquors for holiday trade. Mr. Elliott is also sole agent for the famous California Tokay wine.

Successful Pupils.

We have on former occasions made reference to the success attending the pupils of Canada Business College of Chatham, Ont., but the report received from the College this week shows a state of things which must be very encouraging to the proprietors of this far famed school, and shows most conclusively that its graduation must know their business.

The Sutherland Innes Co., a firm doing business in the oil and gas industry, all lines of cooperage stock, and with almost every country in the world, has recently engaged three former pupils in the Chatham office, and have sent another former pupil, who has been engaged in the home office for the past two years, to take charge of their office at Manistig, Mich., still another to take charge of their office in Orleans, while another former pupil has had charge of the books of the same firm in their New York office for the past three years. Such evidence of competency as this cannot be gainsaid.

The College advertisement gives particulars of the appointments, and intending business or shorthand students would do well to look it up.

A Big Lumber Camp Near Lindsay.

In yesterday's issue we noticed the arrival in town of Mr. Thomas Callaghan, of Campbellford, walking boss for the Rathbun Co. and Contractor McGregor, of Peterborough. Today they leave with a gang of men to establish a large camp 12 miles east of Lindsay, in Doran's swamp, Emily township, the timber on that swamp is purchased by the Rathbun firm some years ago, and as soon as a suitable shanty has been erected a force of 60 or 70 men will be engaged and given constant employment throughout the winter.

In that swamp will not doubt benefit largely by the establishment of such a large camp, as in addition to affording lucrative employment to their spare teams in hauling the cut to the water's edge, a large market will be created for their surplus produce. The men will be in charge of Foreman R. Kennedy.—Post.

A Snap For Smokers.

Charles LeGros, the live tobaccoist is enlarging his place of business and in order to do so is closing out his present stock of imported and domestic cigars, pipes and tobaccos. Those who use the weed will have an opportunity to buy these lines cheaper than they have been offered in Peterborough. Call at the store and examine prices.

OAK HALL.

DEATH WAS NATURAL.

So Concluded the Jury After Investigating Haack's Demise.

Special to The Times.

MARKHAM, Dec. 6.—The death of Mr. George Haack, farmer, which occurred at the Wellington Hotel here on Tuesday from peritonitis, was investigated here today by Coroner Doherty and a jury. The investigation was made because of greatly exaggerated reports concerning a dispute the deceased engaged in a week or two before the day his sickness commenced, in which it was alleged he had been kicked several times in the body, sustaining injuries which were the cause of his death. After hearing the evidence of several witnesses, who were present when the dispute occurred, and of Dr. Fierheller, the attending physician, the jury decided there was no evidence pointing to the fact that the death was in any way attributable to violence, and rendered a verdict in accordance therewith.

STOCK THIEF EXTRADITED.

Krahn, Who Stole C.P.R. Certificates, Will go Back to England.

Special to The Times.

New York, Dec. 6.—Herbert Krahn, who obtained in Ludlow street jail on the charge of stealing ten certificates of stock calling for ten shares each of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in October last in London, has been extradited to London as a prisoner on the steamship Teutonic tomorrow. He stole the bonds from Mrs. Winifred Gordon, who is well known in London. Krahn goes to London in the custody of the captain of the Teutonic.

W. L. ANSEY, Sole Proprietor, Peterborough, Ont.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." Mrs. D. D. D. of Allen St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye, it is not what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story.

MILLAN ARSON CASE.*DID HE SET FIRE TO THE OSGOODBY BUILDING.

Rosenthal Swears That He Saw the Prisoner Apply the Match—Subsequent Occurrences Related.

Special to The Times.

Toronto, Dec. 5.—The case against Wm. McMillan charged with setting fire to the Osgoodby building will probably occupy the sessions until Saturday as both prosecution and defence have nearly 40 witnesses to examine. The defence by their cross examination of the opposite witnesses are endeavoring to show that the fire started on the top story of the Osgoodby building and that some person there had even a more powerful incentive than the prisoner for causing the conflagration. Crown Attorney Dewar in addressing the jury alleged strong motive on the part of McMillan, who he said, on the day of the fire received an intimation from his employers, the Union Card and Paper Company, of Montreal, that there were deficiencies in his accounts amounting to $350.98. The Crown also relies upon the evidence of one Albert Rosenthal that the heard prisoner express a wish that the building might be burned.

ROSENTHAL TESTIFIES.
Adolph Rosenthal, the most important of the Crown witnesses, went into the box this morning. He testified that for a year prior to the fire he was selling cardboard to the prisoner. On the Monday after the Globe fire he saw the prisoner in his office in the Osgoodby building and had a conversation about the fire. McMillan said: "I would give $500 to see this place go." The prisoner went on to say that he was short in his accounts and would return shortly. The witness followed him to the office.

Rosenthal pressed the prisoner to pay for some cigars he had purchased and the latter said: "If you will go out and sell some cardboard I will pay you in that way."

THE NIGHT OF THE FIRE.

On the night of the fire (Thursday) he had an appointment to meet McMillan at 8.30 in the afternoon, but on going to his office found it locked. The witness went down into the street and met McMillan at the corner of Bay and Melinda. The latter told him to wait for him at the next day. They then went and had a drink together. McMillan then left saying he was going to his office and would return shortly. The witness followed him to the office.

APPLIED THIS MORNING.

He arrived in time to see McMillan come out of the office into the warehouse, light a cigar, then apply the match to a piece of cardboard hanging from the shelf, saying: "I wish the whole thing would go as quickly as that." The two then came downstairs together, and went to the headquarter saloon. As they entered the saloon McMillan called the prisoner to have a drink while the witness waited for five minutes. The two then went to Lombard street and when at the corner of Church street the book and ladder were seen and someone said "The old Globe fire again."

THE ALARM.

McMillan grabbed witness by the arm and said: "No! It's the Osgoodby this time." McMillan then ran back and Rosenthal went home. Three or four nights afterwards McMillan saw him outside his own house and observed: "That was a quick job, wasn't it? I have the honor of making the biggest fire in Toronto."

In the month of May the witness met McMillan on the street and was told: "For God's sake keep that fire secret." Rosenthal went on to testify as to his transactions with the prisoner. He was instructed to sell all goods for cash and give receipts in his own name and he would get 30 per cent. on sales. He found out after a while that he was selling goods at much lower than the regular prices. Witness sold between $300 and $1,000 worth of goods for McMillan and kept no accounts.

A STATEMENT IN JAIL.

When Rosenthal and McMillan were in jail over the Don the former told the latter that the arrest was not his fault, but he had made a statement. McMillan said: "You have only to deny that statement and we'll both get off." Witness objected that this would be perjury when McMillan told him the punishment was only 30 days.

THE CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Mr. St. John cross-examined the witness with the object of showing that for a year prior to the fire his income derived from legitimate sources was very small. Rosenthal, leaving the transactions with McMillan, could only mention some $130 earned in his business as a dealer in job lots. He went on to say that although seventeen years in the city and a good writer and bookkeeper he had kept no record of his transactions. He could give no particulars as to the amount of goods sold or McMillan's account to any of the firms mentioned.

NOT MADE FOR AN OBJECT.

"I can swear to nothing," he said. About a month before the fire McMillan ceased dealing with the witness and told him not to come to the building or the boss might turn up. The witness related his experience in the sweat box for nine or ten hours as he said, which resulted in making a statement. He denied telling any one that his confession was made simply to enable him to return to his wife and family.

TAOMA, Wash., Dec. 5.—An interesting feature in the Alaskan boundary dispute developed by the announcement that the Canadian Government has let a contract for the carrying of the mails from Juneau, Alaska, to Fort Miles Creek, which is in the territory claimed by the United States, but which Canada claims. This move is taken as an indication of Canada's determination to possess the disputed territory. The mail service will begin Dec. 18.

SACRED VESSELS STOLEN.

The Bishop of Nicolet Has Suffered a Sore Loss.

Special to The Times.

MONTREAL, Dec. 5.—On the 1st of Nov. the Bishop of Nicolet used his special set of four pieces of sacred vessels at the grand ceremonies marking the feast of All Saints. Last week he wanted to use them again for the 40 hours' devotion but found them missing from the safe. They were of solid silver and consisted of a chalice and three salvers, all heavily plated with gold.

The Vice General sent for High Constable Blomquist, who left last night for Nicolet and made a thorough search for the missing property but without result. It is his opinion that the vessels are concealed somewhere in the church, as they are as large as not to be easily concealed.

The value of the vessels is fully $500 but they are practically invaluable, owing to their consecration. They were formerly the property of Cardinal Rampolla and were included in the best style of Italian art. They had been in the museum for years and they had liked, have carried away over $10,000 worth of other valuable sacred vessels.

AN OLD COUNTRY GALE.

Chimney Pots Fly in London and Telegraph Wires Are Down.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—A terrific gale prevailed throughout England and off the coast this morning. Outward bound vessels were driven back to the ports from which they had sailed and other sailings were postponed until the weather should become more favorable. Outdoor work in the ship yards at Bristol was suspended, owing to the violence of the gale.

The steamer Majestic, which sailed from Liverpool for New York yesterday, was detained at Queenstown until 12 o'clock this afternoon, in consequence to the delay to the Channel packet with the mail. Many accidents occurred in London through falling chimneys, masonry, signs and shutters. The telephone wires in the north of England are all prostrated.

BRIDE WAITED IN VAIN.

REEVE EVANS DESERTS HIS YOUNG BRIDE ON THE WEDDING EVE.

The Guests Were Waiting to Witness the Ceremony Which Failed to Come Off Because the Bridegroom Cometh Not.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 5.—A large number of friends of the contracting parties gathered at the residence of Mrs. Fleming, 22 Ossington avenue, yesterday afternoon in anticipation of the marriage of her niece, Miss Carrie Ferrier, to Reeve J. D. Evans of Elmwood. Unknown to any but the bridegroom, however, Mr. Evans had the previous night written to Mrs. Ferrier herself, advising her to postpone the wedding, owing to the opposition of his family he desired to break off the engagement. This letter was handed by the Reeve to Rev. W. B. B. of St. John's, who was to perform the ceremony, but he did not state the nature of the communication, and the minister had no idea of the turn things had taken until he had delivered the letter and heard it from Mrs. Ferrier herself.

Neither had the recalcitrant groom informed his groomsmen, Mr. Richardson, M.P.P. of East York, of his intentions, and the latter found on arriving at the house, that he, with the other invited guests, had been fooled. Miss Ferrier herself took the unfortunate occurrence very philosophically, and apparently felt she was perhaps, after all, not a great loser.

OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW BETTER.

Reeve J. D. Evans is over 50 years old and well known for the prominent part he has taken in the deliberations of the York County Council. His bride that was to be is a good match for him both as regards age and in other respects.

Owing to a death in the Ferrier family the idea of having the wedding at their residence at Islington was to be avoided and arrangements were made for the ceremony to take place at Mrs. Fleming's, the aunt. The disappointed bridegroom, Mr. Ferrier, left for Islington and the bride, Miss Ferrier, remained at home.

Neither had the recalcitrant groom informed his groomsmen, Mr. Richardson, M.P.P. of East York, of his intentions, and the latter found on arriving at the house, that he, with the other invited guests, had been fooled. Miss Ferrier herself took the unfortunate occurrence very philosophically, and apparently felt she was perhaps, after all, not a great loser.

A VERY SAD AFFAIR.

Father and Son Drowned While Crossing Kempsford Bay.

Special to The Times.

BARRIE, Dec. 5.—A sad drowning accident occurred near here Monday evening. Alfred Warnica, and his son Dalton, left their home in Tallmadge Monday afternoon to bring a trunk across the bay to Barrie. Before leaving home Mr. Warnica told his wife if it became stormy they would remain in Barrie until Tuesday. About an hour after they left a heavy wind and snow storm came up, and it continued until dark. It is supposed the boat became unmanageable with the weight of the trunk and capsized. When they did not return home Tuesday, friends drove to Barrie and found they had not reached here. A searching party started down the bay this morning, and found the boat and trunk about two miles from where the unfortunate men had commenced their fatal voyage. The bodies were found late this afternoon opposite Glen Allen. They were close together, and had evidently been helping each other when they perished.

To Admit the Guardianship to the Bosphorus or To Defy the Powers—Reports of Further Persecutions and Massacres.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Times publishes the following despatch from Constantinople:—"Although the Sultan proposed and Germany accepted as Minister Turkish Ambassador to Berlin, the Sultan has changed his mind, and has proposed Zin Pasha now the representative of Turkey at Paris, to go to Berlin. The Times correspondent defends the arrests and deportations at Constantinople as riding the city of an element that will be well spared, as it would constitute the bulk of the mob in the event of a riot. The correspondent admits that in some instances the choice of the persons arrested has been unhappy, but says that in the main the arrests have been beneficial, and that the danger of disorder daily lessens.

LIMITING THE TIME.

The Daily Telegraph has the following from Constantinople:—"If the reply of Turkey in regard to the admission of the Guardianship to the Bosphorus is not shortly received the powers will fix a date after which they will bring vessels to Constantinople."

News from Paris to a news agency here says that similar advice have been received there from Constantinople, and that the date fixed is December 7.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 5.—The Armenians residing in Constantinople have prepared a petition to the powers, which they purpose presenting to the various Governments through the Austrian Ambassador.

FURTHER ATROCITIES.

According to the latest advices from Kars, Asia Minor, 80 Armenians are known to have been killed in the massacre there on Nov. 30.

A despatch from Zeitoun from a Turkish source says that delegates sent to treat with the Armenians in regard to a surrender were not received by the insurgent leaders. It is stated that the latter released 400 captured troops, with the exception of those who, it is alleged, were murdered. A bloody and merciless campaign against the Armenians in Zeitoun is expected.

M. Petrovitch, an Austrian subject, who was chief of the local official tobacco regime, has been murdered while travelling in the Khartoum district. The officials in Erzerum, Harbat, Erzinlian and Bitlis continue to force the Armenians under.

MRS. BEER ACQUITTED.

JUDGE FALCONBRIDGE TOOK THE CASE FROM THE JURY.

Christian Science Is Not Manslaughter and Mrs. Beers Was Called In to Give Mental Treatment Only.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Mercy Beers, the Christian Scientist accused of manslaughter, is a free woman. Justice Falconbridge took the case from the jury this morning stating that he did not consider there was enough evidence had been put in for them to pronounce upon. He took the view advanced by the defence that Mrs. Beers was called in to give mental treatment and gave it. She was not asked to give medical treatment nor take charge of the child, the parents assuming full responsibility as shown in their evidence. He reviewed the evidence at length and instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty. In the meantime he reserved a case for the Crown in order that the Court of Appeal might so interpret the law as to provide for all similar cases.

THE DEFENSE.

The defense put in a number of witnesses to show that on no occasion had Mrs. Beers been called in to give medical treatment and in many cases had not been paid. Every witness testified that they gave Mrs. Beers just what they liked. The list of witnesses was long and strong in belief. Mrs. Isabella Williams was cured of Bright's disease and Mrs. Matilda Williams of indigestion.

Mrs. Beers, who was not a Christian Scientist, said that Mrs. Beers cured two daughters of tonsillitis and restored the eyesight of the elder one, who was rendered almost blind by typhoid. Mrs. Christiana Burridge was cured of Bronchitis and catarrh and her boy of measles, and Jenny Pooley said that the fits and bad headaches which had troubled her for 20 years were removed by Mrs. Beers ministrations. Mr. John O'Connor, a Christian Scientist demonstrator, was the last witness called. He gave a dissertation on Christian Science.

Judge Falconbridge said he would not ask the counsel to address the jury and this morning discharged Mrs. Beers.

THE HYAMS ACQUITTED.

THE JURY BRING IN A VERDICT OF "NOT GUILTY."

Their Freedom was Brief—He arrested on a Charge of Conspiracy to Defraud Insurance Companies and Murder Martha Wells.

Harry Place Hyams and Dallas Theodore Hyams were on Saturday found "Not guilty" of the charge of having on Jan. 16, 1893, killed and murdered Wm. Chinnock Wells.

When the verdict had been formally recorded, His Lordship discharged both men but they were at once rearrested on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the insurance companies and murder Martha Wells Hyams.

The charge of His Lordship Mr. Justice Ferguson to the jury was in many respects the most remarkable ever delivered in a Canadian assize court. The address of Mr. Oser was concluded at 12.30 and a moment later the learned judge took up his task. During his address of two hours and forty minutes he expressed his opinions of the evidence with a force and clearness that left no doubt in the minds of either jurymen, counsel and spectators of his views on the whole case. "That is the way I look at it. You may see it in another light and from a different opinion," was a remark which frequently fell from His Lordship's lips.

HOW MR. OSER APPEARED THE HYAMS.

While Mr. Oser was reviewing on behalf of the Crown the evidence which he claimed pointed to the guilt of the prisoners, the accused men sat in the dock as motionless as statues and without a trace of color or life in their faces. As His Lordship's charge proceeded the faces of both men brightened with the hope that his words inspired within them, that the verdict of the jury could be none other than that of acquittal.

When Mr. Oser had stated to the court the grounds upon which he asked for a reserved case, the prisoners were conducted by their guards from the dock to the cells.

HAS MRS. DALLAS CHANGED?

Mrs. Dallas Hyams has sat during the afternoon in the northwest corner of the grand jury box. As her husband passed on the way to the cell from which he was to return to hear the verdict that to him meant life or death, she reached out her hand and grasping his gave it a feeble shake, but it was noticed that there was a complete absence of the display of affection which took place before the jury at the May trial. Mrs. Hyams retired and was not seen again in the court room.

THE JURY WANTED TO BALLOT.

Exactly seven minutes after the jury had retired a loud knock was heard at the door through which they had passed into the jury room. A courier ran through the court room that an agreement had been reached, and for a moment there was a buzz of excitement. Sheriff Mowat answered the call, which proved to be only a request for paper for use as ballots.

THE JURY WITH ITS VERDICT.

The application of Mr. Oser for a new trial had been concluded. Mr. and Mrs. Wellman had taken leave of their friends in the court room and hurried away to catch an out going train for their home in New York. A buzz of conversation ran through the court room until 4.35, when the rapping on the jury door was heard again. As before it was answered by Sheriff Mowat, who, on receipt of the message, summoned His Lordship from his private room. Every one knew that the verdict had been reached and a hurrying of feet and uneasy moving about of chairs which was followed by a silence almost of death. Every one knew that all eyes were turned to the room through which the jury must enter. Slowly the men to whom the fate of the twins had been entrusted by their country filed into their places.

THE TWINS LOOKED HAPPY.

The jurors looked satisfied. They walked with the quick, anxious steps of men who had come to the end of a long and wearisome task.

High Constable Jones was calling the names of the jurymen when the prisoners emerged through the eastern door of the court room. The cheery look on their countenances told that the jury had returned an acquittal at the hands of their fellow countrymen. They walked with a step that was more elastic and steady than they have for many days.

THE TRAGIC MOMENT.

When the formalities of court procedure were passed Constable Jones put the question: "Gentlemen of the jury have you agreed upon a verdict?"

William Frisby, who had been appointed foreman, rose from his chair and in a low, but distinct voice, answered: "We have."

A painful pause followed, the foreman evidently waiting for the clerk to put another question. All eyes turned toward him and when he had realized that the court was waiting to hear the words, he said: "Not guilty," and settled back into his chair, with a heavy sigh of relief.

THEIR FREEDOM WAS BRIEF.

The verdict was formally rendered and Mr. Johnston and Mr. Lount arose and asked for the discharge of the prisoners. On behalf of the Crown, Crown Attorney Dewar asked that the prisoners be held on a charge of conspiracy to defraud insurance companies and murder Martha Wells Hyams, and also that Harry be held on a charge of forgery. The sheriff informed His Lordship that he had not been requested by the Crown to hold the prisoners, and they were discharged. For two short seconds they breathed their air of freedom. They had taken four steps from the prisoners' dock and were shaking hands with their counsel, when Detective Alf Cuddy stepped forward and re-arrested them on the charge already named.

BACK TO THEIR OLD QUARTERS.

The twins were escorted by Detective Cuddy and County Constable Burns to the awaiting cab and hurried away to the jail, where the last nine months of their lives have been spent.

MURDERER CAUGHT.

Brutally Killed a Windsor Man With a Necktie.

Special to The Times.

WINDSOR, Dec. 3.—A despatch from Chicago states that William Dorsey, alias Henry Williams, a colored man, wanted at Windsor for murder, was arrested there last night.

William Lyman, a white man, was employed at McKee's lumber yard as a cutter. Williams had been at work there but a few days as a lumber pile when he began a quarrel with Lyman on the afternoon of June 17, 1894. Williams in the face and he at once began cursing Lyman, who had handed him the board, and threatened to get even with him.

Williams seized himself in the barn, armed with a necktie, and when Lyman came along struck him on the back of the head, crushing in his skull. The act was witnessed by several men, but Williams ran away and made his escape across the river. Lyman died the following day.

Before the fire the prisoner tried to insure the stock for $15,000.

CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE.

THE PRESIDENT ADDRESSES CONGRESS ON IMPORTANT MATTERS.

Those Parts That Relate to Canada and Great Britain—Behring Sea Matters—The Venezuelan Question.

Special to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—President Cleveland's message to Congress read today in a lengthy document. After referring to the war between China and Japan and internal affairs the message continues:

Our relations with Great Britain, always intimate and important, have demanded during the past year even a greater share of consideration than usual.

Several vexatious questions were left undetermined by the decision of the Behring Sea arbitration tribunal. The application of the principles laid down by the tribunal has not been followed by the realty they were intended to accomplish, either because the principles themselves lacked in breadth and definiteness or because their execution has been more or less imperfect.

Much correspondence has been exchanged between the two governments on the subject of preventing the exterminating slaughter of sealions by the vessels of the British patrol of Behring Sea under the regulations agreed upon by the two governments has been pointed out and yet only two British ships have been seen during this season in those waters. The need of an effective enforcement of existing regulations as well as the adoption of such regulations as experience has shown to be absolutely necessary to carry out the intent of the award, have been earnestly urged upon the British Government, but thus far without effect.

In the meantime the depletion of the seal herds by means of hunting has so alarmingly progressed that unless their slaughter is at once effectively checked their extinction within a few years seems to be a matter of absolute certainty.

THAT HALF MILLION SHOULD BE PAID.

The understanding by which the United States was to pay Great Britain a lump sum of $425,000 in full settlement of all British claims for damages arising from the seizure of British sealing vessels, as authorized under the award of the Behring Sea arbitration, was not confirmed by the last Congress, which declined to make the necessary appropriation. I am authorized to say that the arrangement was a judicious and advantageous one for the government, and I earnestly recommend that it be again considered and carried into effect by Congress. It certainly will hardly desert from the proposition that the Government is bound by very consideration of honor and good faith to provide for the speedy adjustment of these claims by arbitration as the only alternative. A treaty of arbitration has therefore been agreed upon and will be immediately laid before the Senate, and that in one of the modes suggested a final settlement may be reached.

UNSATISFACTORY DELIMITATION MARKS.

I call attention to the unsatisfactory delimitation of the respective jurisdictions of the United States and the Dominion of Canada in the great lakes at the approaches to the narrow waters that connect them. The waters in question are frequented by fishermen of both nationalities, and their nets are there used. Owing to the uncertainty and ignorance as to the true boundary, various disputes and injuries to persons and property have occurred, while any positive settlement of the question is delayed. It is not easily to be reached. A joint commission in those quarters, on a practical basis, by measured courses following the line of the shore, should be established for which immediate provision should be made.

VENEZUELAN AFFAIRS.

In referring to Venezuelan affairs the message says the United States is bound to protect the rights of its citizens in the arena of British Guiana in derogation of the rights and against the will of Venezuela; that, considering the disparity in strength of Great Britain and Venezuela the territorial dispute between them can be reasonably settled only by friendly and impartial arbitration, and that in order to such arbitration should include the whole controversy; and is not satisfied if one of the powers concerned is permitted to draw an arbitrary line through the territory in debate and to declare that it will submit to arbitration only the portion lying on one side of it.

THE U. S. FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The remainder and greater half of the message is devoted to a discussion of the financial situation in the United States.

By command of the people," the message says, "a customs and revenue system designed for the protection of favored classes at the expense of the great mass of our countrymen, has been superimposed by the Government upon the people, and the right of the Government to accord special advantages to favorites, and while encouraging our intercourse and trade with foreign nations recognizes the fact that American self reliance, thrift and industry can build up our country's industries and develop its resources more surely than any other policy."

"But this and the repeal of the silver purchase law, it is said, fall far short of curing the financial evils from which we suffer."

The constant depletion of the gold reserve and the causes therefor are shown. The history of the various bond transactions which have been resorted to in order to replenish the gold reserve is reviewed and the constant subsequent falling off pointed out.

CANCELLATION OF GREENBACKS.

The President derives the conclusion that "the only thorough and practicable remedy for our troubles is found in the retirement and cancellation of our United States notes, commonly called greenbacks, and the outstanding treasury notes issued by the Government in payment of silver purchases under the act of 1893."

The method he proposes is an exchange for bonds, small and large, bearing a low rate of interest and for a long term. To replenish the diminution of the currency caused by the retirement of the United States and treasury notes—amounting probably to less than $480,000,000—he proposes that national banks "should be allowed to issue notes to the same value of the bonds they deposit to secure it and that the tax on their circulation should be reduced to one-fourth of one per cent. The banks are to be required to meet all the expenses the government incurs in their account. In addition, they should be allowed to subscribe or deposit in lieu of the bonds now required as security for their circulation those which would be issued for the purpose of retiring United States notes and treasury notes."

The winter session of the Reichstag opened yesterday. The Emperor was not present and the speech from the throne was read by the Chancellor, Prince von Hohenlohe.

PORT HURON, Mich., Dec. 3.—Captain Angel, of the schooner Kingsfisher, coal laden, in tow of the steamer Sam Marshall claims to have had a vision while the schooner was passing up the St. Clair river Sunday night of the vessel in Saginaw Bay with all on board. Neither Captain Angel nor any member of the crew would go further in the schooner, and an entire new crew had to be shipped.

OTTAWA, Dec. 3.—Hale and Booth have just completed the purchase of timber berth No. 22 extending for 36 square miles along the north shore of Lake Huron. The purchase was made from Messrs. Campbell & Sons, the Muskoka Mill and Lumber Co., of Toronto, and the price paid was $340,000. Messrs. Hale and Booth have already made purchases this year to the extent of $700,000. They have great faith evidently in the future of lumber tributary to Lake Huron and Georgian Bay.

THEY ARE UP IN ARMS.

INSURANCE COMPANIES WILL PROSECUTE ALL CASES OF FRAUD.

At a Conference It Was Decided to Engage Mr. B. B. Oser to Prosecute Cases of Graveyard Insurance—The Hyams Case.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 3.—The acquittal of the Hyams twins, charged with the murder of Martha Wells, has aroused the insurance companies to other foul play. They have done and the parties now in custody awaiting trial on a charge of defrauding insurance companies may have cause to regret the outcome of the trial.

During the past year so many cases of alleged defrauding of life and fire insurance companies have been discovered in Canada that the companies have at last decided to aid the authorities in an effort to bring home to the accused parties their guilt.

At a meeting of representatives of the various companies it was decided to place at the disposal of the Crown unlimited means to aid in the ascertaining of all facts in connection with the many recent alleged attempts to swindle the companies. As a result of the conference Mr. B. B. Oser, Q.C., will be retained to act for the Crown in the prosecution of:

1. The Hyams twins, charged with conspiracy to insure and murder Martha Wells.

2. George Alger and others, of Pickering, charged with attempting to swindle the Equitable Life and Home Life Association by what is known as a graveyard insurance scheme.

3. N. D. Ullin and George Ullin, of Dutton, Elgin County, accused of firing their shot at the subject of swindling the fire insurance companies having risks on their premises.

The action of the insurance companies is most important. It may mean help to prove a powerful ally to other forces which work for the protection of life and property.

IMPERSONATED A CLERGYMAN.

Well known Halifax Citizen Illegally Marries Two Young People.

Special to The Times.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 3.—A sensational case came to light here, in which a well known citizen impersonated a clergyman and illegally married a young man and woman.

The couple came to the city from the country, and the young man obtained a marriage license and they repaired to a house of a clergyman. The latter was out, but as the visitor stated his errand was urgent, he was directed to the house where the minister was.

Thither the country couple went, and when they arrived started their mission. The clergyman was not there, but the citizen told him he was the man of cloth. The couple were unsophisticated, and the man went through a mock ceremony and pocketed the fee.

The young man and woman went away happy, but after having lived as man and wife for several days the fraud that was perpetrated upon them was discovered solely through an accident. The fraud couple immediately had a legal ceremony performed, and the man placed the case in the hands of the police.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of the citizen who usurped the functions of the clergyman, but the officer who called at his house found the man absent, and it is believed he became frightened at what he had done and slipped out. To spare the feelings of the unfortunate couple and the police for the present withhold their names from the public.

HE WAS SMOTHERED.

The Awful Death of Mr. James W. Campbell of Toronto.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 3.—James W. Campbell, brother of Archibald Campbell, M. P. for Kent County, was working on the third floor of his brother's hotel at the corner of Junction this evening, and went into the huge shorts bin to get a scoop shovel. Just as Campbell got to the bin several tons of gravel fell on him. He was taken out as quickly as possible, but was unconscious, with only one spark of life remaining, his mouth, nose, ears and eyes being packed full of gravel. He died in a few minutes, in spite of every effort of the medical men, who were quickly on hand.

Lost Two Fingers.

James Mulholland, an employee of the testing department of the Canadian General Electric Company, lost two fingers on Monday. He was engaged with some others testing an armature and the latter accidentally fell on his right hand, resulting in his second and third fingers being so badly bruised that they had to be amputated.

About Gas Meters.

The inspection of gas meters throughout the Dominion reveals the fact that out of 913,562 meters only 2,714 were found to be accurate but a curious feature was that in a very large majority of cases the imperfect records were against the companies and in favor of the consumers. A similar result followed the visit of the inspector of electric lights to this town—the majority of the faulty meters were registered against the Light, Heat and Power Co.—Post.

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

Editor Morning Times.

DEAR SIR.—Can you enlighten me as regards the late of the Ratepayers' Association which was organized last year, and which was going to do such wonders. Has the organization been absorbed by the Lime Juice Club, or has it transferred the scene of its labors to South Africa? At this time of the year and at this particular period, when action should be taken to bring out good men for next year's council, it seems to me that the Ratepayers' Association might find a suitable scope for its efforts to exercise that influence and usefulness which it was designed to wield so powerfully in the direction of municipal reform and for the good of the property owners. Let it come forth from its hiding place and take an active part in the approaching municipal campaign.

I would also like to know what disbursement was made of the money collected in fees from the ratepayers who joined this organization in the belief that it would become a power for good in municipal affairs.

A RATEPAYER.

A CASE OF CRUELTY.

Editor Morning Times.

DEAR SIR.—Will you please give me space in your paper to state an incident I witnessed recently. On my way home I had occasion to pass the house of a party and was aroused by wild cries of murder. A woman's voice was screaming "For God's sake don't kill me." This was the home of a principal witness in a recent murder trial in Peterborough. I rushed to my right to the side of the road and remained there for nearly an hour, and during all this time the fighting inside the house continued, and four times the little man ran out screaming, "Oh, papa, don't kill me!" Of all wild oaths I think I heard the worst, and thinking something should be done, I went to the house of a neighbor and told him about it. His wife was up listening. Her husband refused to go down with me to stop the cruelty. He said it was not anything new, and that the woman must have 9 lives like a cat or she would have been killed long ago. When I left the fight was still hot, judging from the noise. It lasted 24 hours altogether.

A FARMER.

THE TOWN AND THE C.P.R.

The Council Unduly Exercised and Unduly Aggressive.

It would appear that the town council is unduly exercised because the C.P.R. freight sheds overlap on Wolfe street. There is evidently something behind this agitation to bring the C.P.R. to account for a slight trespass on the rights of this great corporation, other than concern for the town's interests. It appears that the council is, as well, interfering in a matter that devolves upon the town committee to be straightened out. This eagerness is confirmation of the suggestion that their is some secret motive involved.

Peterborough should be prepared to grant to the C.P.R. as many privileges as the old Midland Railway (now the G.T.R.) received from this corporation. Why the G.T.R. today occupies almost the entire length of Bethune street, and not a single squeak is heard from the council.

The C.P.R. has been the means of building up this town from a mere insignificant village to a town of magnificent proportions and progress, and this great railway never received one dollar from the town or anything else in the way of a bonus. It has given us shorter routes and reduced freight rates, and while we have no fault to find with the Midland Division of the G.T.R. for taking all the money is received from this corporation, it cannot be denied that the C.P.R. is deserving of much credit for all it has done for Peterborough.

Locally, the C.P.R. may not have any right to occupy Wolfe street with its freight sheds, but this town could well afford to let the company have that privilege. It could, in fact, well afford to give the C.P.R. all of Spaulding's Bay for a site for freight sheds and this it would not only be a benefit to the company, but to the town as well, and all those in the town who ship goods over that line.

HANGED HIMSELF.

A Young Farmer Near Norwood Takes His Own Life.

FOUND IN A SWAMP.

HIS RELATIVES DISCOVER HIS DEAD BODY HANGING ON A TREE IN A SWAMP ON THE FARM.

The Gist of It. John Jones, a young man, and son of Mr. Thomas Jones, a farmer living near Asphodel, hanged himself to a tree on Sunday afternoon.

A special wire to THE TIMES from Norwood says: On Sunday afternoon a very sad occurrence took place at lot 20 con. 6 Asphodel, when Mr. John Jones, second eldest son of Mr. Thomas Jones, hanged himself.

About 4 o'clock he left the house quietly and his parents thought he was going down to do the chores as usual, but on his not returning at tea time, which the family usually have about 6 o'clock, one of his brothers was sent out to tell him to come in.

He went to the stable and found the chores had not been done and also that a rope was missing. He went back and reported this to his father and brothers when they all started out in search.

There being no sign on the ground they easily traced him down to the swamp, where they found his body suspended from a limb, his toes touching the ground. He was quite cold and stiff, so they got a number of neighbors to view the body and also took advice from a physician who decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Deceased had not been in good health for about two years, often being very depressed in spirits.

Young Jones had given no intimation of the terrible deed he contemplated and his parents are almost heartbroken over the sad occurrence. It is thought that his ill health preyed on his mind, which caused temporary aberration of mind, in which condition he ended his life.

The funeral took place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be largely attended as the deceased was widely known and very popular.

(d) That he promote Mr. Denny to the position of 1st assistant in the south ward school, placing him in charge of a class composed of the junior 4th class pupils living within the ward, and permitting him to interchange with the head master of the central school in a manner similar to that in operation between the two highest teachers in the school.

(h) That he allow the teachers in charge of the infant classes to dismiss their pupils at 3 o'clock p.m., and that the teachers under such circumstances take charge of part of one of the divisions of a higher class during the last hour of the day.

In amendment to the above report it was moved by Dr. Caldwell, seconded by J. J. Hartley, that the salaries of Miss Hill and Miss Aldridge be in accordance with the schedule and their respective standings on the staff. This was defeated and the report passed as read.

Mr. Hill moved that the election for school trustees be held at the time, place and manner as required by statute and that the secretary be instructed to publish the necessary notice.—Carried.

A SUSPICIOUS CASE.

Was John Jones of Newtonville Murdered for His Money?

THE BODY EXHUMED.

HE LEFT AN ESTATE WORTH $22,000 AND HIS BROTHER BENEFITED BY HIS DEATH.

Special to The Times.

John Jones, a farmer of the Township of Clarke, died at the residence of his brother Henry Jones, on the 24th of September, in the 47th year of his age. He was attended by Dr. Aldrich, who gave a certificate that his death resulted from inflammation of the lungs and typhoid fever. The deceased left an estate valued at $22,000, and by will left the entire property to his brother, Thomas Jones, and his family, Hamilton Twp., and appointed Dr. Aldrich his sole executor. Shortly after Mr. Jones' death complaint was made to the County Crown Attorney, John Kerr, Q. C., regarding the circumstances of his death, and Dr. Corbett, of Port Hope, was consequently instructed to hold an inquest.

The coroner's inquest was held in Newtonville last week, Dr. R. A. Corbett presiding. John Kerr, Q. C., appeared for the Crown, and Mr. Henry White watched the case for the estate.

Dr. R. T. Corbett, of Port Hope, and Dr. Douglas, of Cobourg, were appointed to make a postmortem examination of the body of the deceased Mr. Jones. Drs. Waters, Powers and Clemesha were present at the post mortem on behalf of Dr. Aldrich.

George Smith, of Newtonville, knew the deceased and heard of his serious illness some time previous to his death. He was told by the local telegraph operator that he had endeavored for over two hours to send a message to Dr. Hilliard, of Bowmanville, the night previous to Mr. Jones' death, but that he could not get Bowmanville over the wire. He had asked Newcastle and Toronto, to try and get them without success.

W. J. Jones, operator at Newtonville, said that he tried for two hours to send a message to Dr. Hilliard, of Bowmanville, on the night previous to the death of Mr. Jones but he could not possibly get Bowmanville.

Mr. Carl Kent, operator at Bowmanville, testified that their office was never without an operator and that their connections were all right and there was no reason why a message from Newtonville would not be heard.

William Wittaker was the next witness but he could not throw much light on the subject.

Robert Knox, Clerk of the Township of Clarke, produced a doctor's certificate, signed by Dr. Aldrich, which said the deceased had died from inflammation of the lungs and typhoid fever.

Col. John Hughes said that Dr. Hilliard called on him and reference was made to Mr. Jones; he said, "Do they want that man to die up there?" to which witness replied in a jocular manner, "I guess so. He could not recall Dr. Hilliard's exact words but they left the impression of his previous statement."

Col. Hughes testified the deceased on the day previous to his death. He saw Dr. Aldrich with him. He saw Dr. Aldrich take his brother's watch and private papers and Mr. Jones said he had the money in his pocket which amounted to twenty or twenty-five dollars.

Dr. Powers was called and said he had visited the deceased on the 19th of September and found him suffering from typhoid fever and congestion of the lungs. He was cured with the treatment. He saw him again on the 21st and he was sinking rapidly.

H. R. Jones, brother of the deceased, wanted the attending physician to use a stomach tube as suggested by Dr. Hilliard, but he said it was no use, he was dying. He also said his brother said he was suffering but he had given them all right.

Dr. Hilliard saw the deceased on the evening of Sept. 2. He was then in a dying condition. He found that he had congestion of the lungs. He had not been taking nourishment and he advised a stomach tube. He had a tube but Thomas Jones, brother of the sick man, objected to its being used. The brother said he did not wish to persecute him. He would not give any opinion as to whether or not the deceased had typhoid fever. He did not deny having made use of the expression which Col. Hughes attributed to him but did not remember having so expressed himself.

Joseph Thompson, a resident of Clark said shortly after Mr. Jones was taken down he asked Dr. Aldrich how Mr. Jones was. The doctor said he was badly shaken up and drowsy. Subsequently he heard Dr. Aldrich tell Dr. Hilliard that Mr. Jones had not been drowsy. He wondered at this.

H. H. Jones said he saw Dr. Aldrich at the funeral of Mr. J. Jones. The doctor said that he had been called to a general collapse of his system. Regarding the will, of which Dr. Aldrich was the sole executor, he said that the doctor told him that if there was anything in the estate business he might as well have it as anybody else.

The inquest adjourned until Thursday, December 5th, to receive the report of the physicians.

HOOPER SENDS HIS DENIAL.

Says He Has Not Been Refused a New Trial.

The Ottawa Free Press says: Another communication has been received from John R. Hooper, who is in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary. Like others sent out by him it shows that he is still full of hope of obtaining a new trial and ultimately his liberty. Today's letter reads as follows:

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, NOV. 30. Many thanks for your goodness. The telegrams sent out that I had been "refused" a new trial are not correct. I have now the report in front of me and the department of justice does not want to interfere in the matter of a new trial, leaving it solely to the province. I am now getting all my new evidence, certificates, etc., sworn to preparatory to placing them in the proper channels, through the trial judge to the Quebec attorney general. Kindly let my friends know that my petition ran up close on four thousand names. Including twenty clergymen. I have the best hopes that when my new evidence is reviewed that I will get the new trial. Respectfully, J. R. HOOPER.

P.S.—My new evidence has not been considered as yet by anyone for a new trial.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment. When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

A Small Fire.
The firemen were called out on Thursday to put out a fire in the second story of the brick building occupied by Mr. W. J. W. at the northwest corner of Sheridan and Hunter streets. The damage was slight.

An Appeal For Aid.
To All Whom It May Concern.

As there is a school in one of the back wards of this county in great need of clothes, boots, shoes, stockings or anything that children can use, the W. C. T. U. asks the aid of the ladies and mothers in this town to come to our help and assist us in procuring for the same. Any goods can be left at Mr. James Carey's store, George street, or at Mrs. George Patton, 302 Brock street.

Is it a True Report?
The motley, d. y. French tramps with the bears and monkeys that visited Campbellford three weeks ago, were no doubt a low type of humanity, and from what has been learned of them lately, would stamp them as being inhuman and degrading in the extreme. A report comes from the township of Annapolis that recently two babies belonging to the women of the gang became ill and died and their bodies were fed to the bears. At Havlock the tramps gave an exhibition of a bear and dog fight, on Sunday, as they did in Campbellford, and on Monday the constable ordered them to leave the village.—Herald.

Prosecution Under Game Laws.

On Tuesday last J. Workman and Andrew Morris were charged before Police Magistrate Fiddler in the Court House, Minden, with killing partridge out of season and judgment was reserved.
Messrs. R. Oswald and D. Ellis were charged with killing a deer on the 30th of October, to which they pleaded not guilty, but the information was amended by changing the date to the 31st, when the charge was admitted and each of them fined $30 and costs, $7.20 for killing two deer the day before the season opened.
There were six cases brought before Mr.
Fiddler yesterday at Glamorgan, four of the defendants were convicted and fined $30 each and costs, and the other two were dismissed; but there are two other persons from the front implicated who have as yet not received their sentence.

Death of Mrs. Grange.

At Napanee on Sunday evening the spirit of Jane Ann Grange, wife of John T.
Grange, winged its flight to the better land. Deceased had been an invalid for the past nine years, and all through her fine parts and a charitable disposition. She was a member of the Anglican church and a Christian in the true sense of the word.

During her life she made many friends and no enemies, and the news of her death will be received with deep regret by all.

THAT C. P. R. MATTER.

Editor Morning Times.

DEAR SIR.—THE TIMES is once more on the right track and fearlessly outspoken on a matter that affects the interests of the town in which we live. It is a long and weary task, but it is a task that must be done. As a ratepayer I am very much pleased to read the article in Wednesday's paper, in which you so ably set forth reasons why the Council should not badger the C.P.R. because their freight sheds encroach on Wolfe street.
As I understand the condition of things, there has been but one complaint sent in to the Council about these sheds, and this is from a ratepayer whose rights and property may be suffering by reason of the present location of the sheds; but the Council can settle the claim for a few dollars, and I submit that the town can well afford to do this and thus avoid open hostilities with a railway that has, as you say, been largely instrumental in making Peterborough the town it today is.

Your suggestion that the town give the C.P.R. the whole of Spaulding's Bay, is an excellent one. This property at present is of no practical value to the town, but on the contrary is a disease breeding stench hole, and if the C.P.R. will accept it as a gift, fill it in and erect suitable freight sheds upon the town's suitable freight way's debtor.

When I stop to consider the enormous sums of money the town has wasted in unsuccessful litigation already, and see our representatives again pursuing a course that means another expensive law suit, it makes me feel like selling my property and shaking the dust of the town from my feet forever. Thanking you for your valuable space, Mr. Editor.

Afflictions of the Throat.

GALT, Ont., Nov. 12, 1895.—My wife suffered with pain and distress from an affection of the throat caused by impure blood.
She was almost in despair but finally procured a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking six bottles of this medicine she was completely cured. John Weakner.

HIS FOOT FROZEN.

The Pitiable Plight of a Lumberman Seeking Relief.

Albert Wade, a very respectable looking man, who says that Belleville is his home, applied at the police station Thursday for relief.

Wade was in a pitiable condition his foot having been frozen for some days and he was suffering intense pain. It appears from his story that he had been working out in the woods for the Gilmour company and had his foot frozen. He started at Belleville, and before reaching Kinmount met a quack doctor, who examined his foot and told him it would have to be amputated. He refused to submit to this operation and was tramping on to Kinmount where he saw another doctor. The latter told him he would lose two toes and that unless he reached a hospital and had the foot attended to he would lose the entire foot.

Wade continued on to Lindsay and reached town Thursday without a cent.
He wanted to get in the hospital here or a ticket to his home in Belleville.

He was supplied with his fare to Belleville.

ST. LUKE'S AND SALE

The Attendance Was Good and the Sale
Was Encouragingly Brisk.

The annual tea and sale of work at St.
Luke's school house was as usual a great success. From about 5.30 to 8 p.m. there was a continuous flow of visitors to tea.
The members of the Young Women's Chapter waited on the tables. After tea the visitors inspected the useful and ornamental work offered for sale and a brisk business was done.

Mrs. John Burnham presided at the Ladies Aid table. Miss Maggie Calcutt at that of the Young Women's Chapter.
Miss Calcutt managed a very attractive corner at which Santa Claus who generally pays his earliest respects to St. Luke's dispensed a variety of surprise parcels.
Miss Gwendoline Meade presided at the candy table.

A short entertainment consisting of solos by Miss Vair, instrumental pieces by Mrs. Peck, and some humorous sketches by Mr. G. H. Adams was also given.

DR. SHAW'S FUNERAL.

An Immense Concourse of Friends Attend the Obsequies.

The funeral of the late Rev. Dr. Shaw took place at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Sherbourne street Methodist church, Toronto, where the casket containing the remains had been removed early in the morning.

Owing to the wishes of the relatives of the deceased, the church was undressed and no mourning decorations were in evidence. The service at the church was attended by nearly all the resident Methodist clergy and by many clergymen of other denominations.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland conducted the service, at which the Rev. Dr. Briggs, the Rev. G. J. Bishop and Rev. J. C. Spence also assisted. Brief heartfelt addresses were also given by the Rev. Dr. Parker, Rev. Michael Fawcett and Rev. Dr. German.

After the service the funeral cortege proceeded to Mount Pleasant cemetery, where the body was interred. The pallbearers were Rev. Peter Addison, Rev.
Dr. Barry, Rev. Dr. Young, Rev. Dr.
Briggs, Rev. Dr. Blackstock and Rev.
John Hunt.

COUNCILLOR CAHILL'S JOKE.

He Tells a Good Story on Councillor
Stone and a Ratepayer.

Councillor Cahill is telling a good story on his friend Stone—he of legal fame.
Councillor Stone is the worthy chairman of the Court of Revision on Wednesday night a ratepayer who lives on Sherbrooke street and who thought he was over-assessed for the engineer's costs in connection with the drain on that street, appeared before the court for redress. Chairman Stone with one eye on Councillor Cahill, asked the ratepayer what part of Ireland he came from, and the ratepayer was very wroth at the question, as he is not an Irishman at all, at all. He called at the Customs House Thursday morning, and Councillor Cahill said to him:

"That was a awful insult Stone gave you last night. Now, if I were you I'd go around and give him an awful lickin', so I would."
The finance chairman is authority for the rest of the story. He avers that the ratepayer proceeded to the lawyer's office and gave him a drubbing in good style.
Then the lawyer laid an information against the ratepayer, and the latter was in a terrible way until he saw Councillor Cahill again. The latter advised him to go and engage Mr. Stone to defend him, and he did so. After doing so, according to the finance chairman the case will be as famous as the Mason case, and like the Mason case
the lawyer will make something out of it.
Of course the story is only a joke, but it wouldn't do to tell Councillor Cahill that you don't believe it.

SPREADING DISEASE.

Proper Precautions Are Not Taken to Prevent Infection of Scarlet Fever.

THE TIMES has been informed that there are several cases of scarlet fever in town in houses which are not placarded, and that members of the families in question go about their daily work, mixing up with the general public.

These very infectious diseases are spread and it is to be hoped that the proper authorities will see to it that all proper precautions are taken in the cases mentioned.

We are informed that the father of one family, several of whom are now ill with scarlet fever, spent several days with his family and then attempted to resume work in the lumber camp where he had formerly been employed, but the foreman had learned that the man had been among scarlet fever patients and refused to let him mix with the other men.
This man then went to Lakeside and secured employment with the Trent Valley Canal contractors, where a large number of men are at work.
This is little short of criminal, and the man should be severely punished. We understand there are several similar cases in town.

A MUSICAL MEETING.

The Salvation Army Hold a Musical Festival Which is Much Enjoyed.

The musical meeting in the Salvation Army barracks last night was very well attended.

The musical selections were well rendered and thoroughly appreciated. Amongst them were two imitations of the bag-pipes, first by Captain Bearshall with a common whistle, and afterwards by Mr. Redner with his violin. With closed eyes one might almost imagine they were in "Bonnie Scotland."

The string band are well up both in tone and time, and they for opportunity for practising they render some fine music.

Those who were present say that those who were not present missed a treat.
The next event of note is the Junior's Rally, which takes place on Monday night, Dec. 11th.

A FEW INTERVIEWS.

Opinions of Citizens on Various Local Subjects.

"The secret of the whole thing is this,"
said a councillor Thursday speaking of the C.P.R. freight sheds on Wolfe street, "a few property owners on Wolfe street are trying to force the railroad to buy their lots. The town at one time passed a by-law giving the C.P.R. permission to occupy that street, but these property owners took the matter in their own hands, went to court and had the by-law annulled. However, the town is not going to be forced into an extensive lawsuit by a few property owners with axes to grind. The C.P.R.
will probably purchase the lots in question
if the owners do not ask exorbitant prices for them."

THE CAUSE OF HARD TIMES.

"We have had a month of unusual dullness as far as trade and business is concerned," said a prominent merchant yesterday. "This snow and sleighing, if it keeps up until Christmas, will enliven things up wonderfully. Why, already trade is becoming more brisk and collections better."

"What was the cause of this dull period," enquired THE TIMES man.

"The farmers," responded the merchant.
"The season has been so open that our agricultural friends have been working on their land later than usual, waiting for better roads and good sleighing to begin hauling their grain in. Then, again, a great many farmers are holding their grain for better prices and hanging on tight to what money they have on hand.
As soon as the grain begins to move, money will be easier and trade will pick up. Oh, there's a good time a'coming."

A RATEPAYER'S SUGGESTION.

A well known ratepayer and citizen told
THE TIMES man Thursday that the C.W.A. meet would do this town more good than the law of the land. "It will put the amount of dollars into circulation and will be the biggest advertisement Peterborough has ever had. Every citizen should work tooth and nail to bring the meet here," he continued, "and the council should make a suitable grant to help the thing along. The money might as well be spent for this purpose as in law costs and for rights a ratepayer has to see every councilman dominated for next year's council, pledged to make a grant towards the C.W.A. meet."

STORY OF A DOWNFALL.

How a Promising Career Was Ended in Its Beginning.

James Patterson, sentenced to five years in Kingston Penitentiary for robbing the Traders Bank at Stratford, of which he was teller, passed through Peterborough Thursday enroute to Kingston. Patterson appears to have thoroughly enjoyed himself with the $1,000 belonging to the Traders Bank, which he had in his pocket when he left Stratford on March 9th last. He went by as direct a route as possible to Arizona, stopping off at several places en route to see the sights.

At Santa Fe he met with his first exciting experience, being arrested on suspicion of being the runaway bank clerk, but he played the part of a cool and unperturbed man. Then he went to San Francisco, where he fell in with a travelling company. They soon convinced him that he was a "fine fellow," and continued making him believe that until his purse was nearly depleted.

With these people he came as far as Duluth and Port Arthur, but at the latter point he fell in with an estimable young lady, and it was returned with ardor. He resolved never to leave his lady love. His money was all gone, though, and he was obliged to go to work to earn enough to permit of their starting home keeping. That was three months ago. All went along well until a week or so ago, when he was recalled to his old position of being the ex--bank clerk. He had saved $70, which was deposited in a Port Arthur bank at this time.

Again he denied strenuously being the Patterson wanted, but when Constable Wilson, of Stratford, arrived he at once recognized him, and the young man then confessed. But his sweetheart refused to believe anything hard of him, and when the boat was about to leave Port Arthur for Sarnia a regular Romeo and Juliet scene was enacted. "I was undoubtedly a case of true love on the girl's part," said Mr. Wilson to a number of friends Thursday. Patterson takes his fate very coolly, and seems well satisfied that he is no longer a refugee from justice.

Keep Enemies Out.

All disease that lingers and finally kill are the effects of bad blood.
That is what the kidneys are for.
They have everything to do in filtering out the poisons.
This process of filtration may be interfered with by a cold.
Usually if there is any lack of good kidney work, is cold, or perhaps over eating or over drinking.
Nearly every acute ailment starts with a cold. So do the diseases that finally kill.
The thing is to keep the kidneys cool.
This brings us to the question—What is the best treatment for a cold? Experience teaches us, from the universal success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in all the forms in which disorders of the kidneys show themselves that there is no treatment known to man anywhere equal to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

DEATH OF JOSEPH HURLEY.

The Son of a Townsman Passes Away in Chicago.

News was received on Saturday night of the death, in Chicago, of Mr. Joseph Hurley, son of Mr. T. Hurley, Reid street, as a result of an operation performed for appendicitis. Deceased had only been ill a short time, and the greatest hopes were entertained for his recovery until peritonitis set in.

Deceased was taken ill on Dec. 13 and the operation took place on the 20th. On Friday evening his relatives here received a telegram stating that he was improving.
Then came a telegram on Saturday night, conveying the news of his death.

Mr. Hurley was well and favorably known in Peterborough having been engaged in the real estate business with his father. Three years ago he went to Galveston, Texas, but the climate not agreeing with him there, he went to Chicago to assume the position of head bookkeeper in a large firm.

The remains are expected to arrive here on the late train tonight. The funeral notice will be announced later.

THEY WON A VICTORY.

CHARGES AGAINST THE SALVATION ARMY PROVED FALSE.

Members of the Christian Workers' Mission Fall in a Jealous Attempt to Throw the Army Institutions into Disrepute—Hamilton Grants the Army $200.

The Salvation Army members in all parts of Canada are jubilant over a victory which they won in Hamilton. The case is explained by a Hamilton officer as follows. The case is somewhat lengthy, but very interesting reading:

"This way. We propose erecting a new barracks and shelter at Hamilton, and made application to the City Finance Committee for a grant. The committee viewed the application favorably at first, and recommended that a grant of $200 be made. When their recommendation came up for discussion, however, an opposition was made, consisting of Messrs. Albert Britnell, Mr. W. Frank Sexton, A. D. G. Halse and a Mr. Mackenzie, evangelist at the Christian Workers' Mission, Hamilton, appeared to oppose the grant. They made a lot of charges, of which the following are a sample:

"Money was begged for the social work and misappropriated;
"Self Denial Fund money had been used for buying printing presses;
"The S. A. turnes men away from its Shelter if they have a cent short of the price of a bed;

"The Army runs a sweat tailor's and printing shop in Toronto;

"The Working Women's Home, Men's Shelter and Prison Gate Brigade Home are all under one roof;

"The Army property is mortgaged to the highest bidder;
"All property is held in the name of the Salvation Army, in such a way that he can sell the property and pocket the money.

"That we collect stale meat and bread for consumption by the Shelter inmates, etc., etc.

"At the time these charges were made, Messrs. McLean, Treasurer, Provost, and Secretary Landers, our local representatives, who nobly did their part in the fight in the newspapers, were unprepared to answer them. They could only speak for Hamilton, so a fortnight's adjournment was secured, during which time we prepared our defence and were quite ready when the occasion offered.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE met on Friday, Nov. 22. The T. H. & B. Railway occupied the Committee's attention till 11 p.m., then came the Army's turn. Mayor Stewart said the Army should be allowed an hour and three-quarters, the same as the other side had had, as he wanted fair play. Then I opened the case. I affirmed that the charges were of a very serious and grave nature, that they not only affected the Army in the neighborhood but throughout our territory to a certain extent. We had come fully prepared to answer every charge but must make it a condition that the other side manufacture no new ones as the meeting went on. To this the committee willingly agreed. It will take up too much of your space, I know, to detail everything, but here are some of the explanations given:

"Respecting misappropriation of funds, our auditor, Mr. Blakely, fully explained the Army system of cash, showing how every cent has to pass through the books, and how impossible it is, with the Army's system of receipts and vouchers, for any money to be diverted from the purpose for which it was donated. He also produced our balance sheets for the past three years, proving to the satisfaction of every unprejudiced mind that our cash matters are kept in as good form as those of any business firm in the world.

"The charge of purchasing printing presses with self-denial money was refuted by documentary evidence proving that the printing presses were paid for out of the General funds.

"As to the property being mortgaged to the top notch, Mr. Blakely showed that quite the contrary is the case, proving conclusively that while the property had increased in value, the mortgage debt had gone down considerably.

"Respecting the property being held by the Commandant so that it could be used for personal ends, it was clearly shown that the property is held by the Commandant, or whoever may be the Commissioner for the time being, only as a trustee, that while he can sell the property, he can only do so in the interests of the Army, and he cannot touch the money for any personal purposes without being liable to prosecution for misappropriation of funds; that the declaration of trust signed by every chief officer before coming into the country is so binding that even the individual's own personal property is declared to be the property of the Army until he can conclusively show that he purchased it with money belonging to himself as an individual, and not as an officer. The letter from Messrs. Hoskin, Ogden, and Hoskin, solicitors, Toronto, conclusively settled this matter.

"That the Printing House was not a sweat shop was proved by the following letter from the Toronto Typographical Union, No. 91:

Toronto Typographical Union, No. 91
Office of the Corresponding Sec'y,
Toronto, 13th Nov., 1895.

We hereby certify that the Salvation Army Printing House in Toronto is conducted under strictly union rules, those employed in the composing room being all members of Toronto Typographical Union, No. 91, in good standing; and furthermore, that there has never been any trouble between the Salvation Army Printing House and this Union.

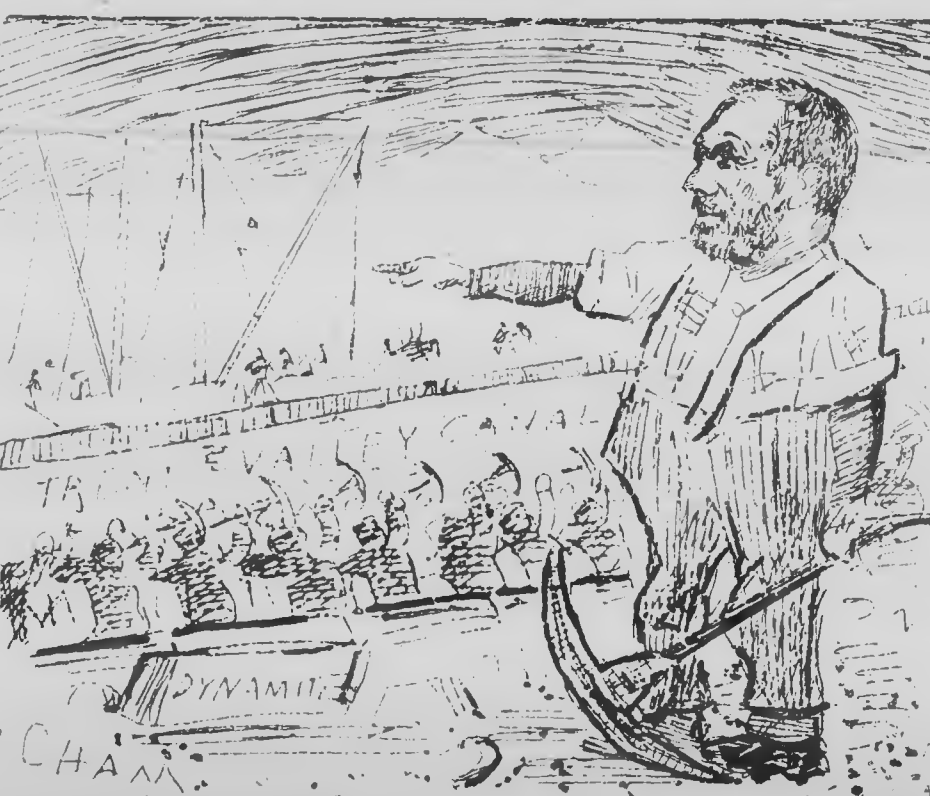

WM. J. WILSON, President
T. H. FITZPATRICK, Cor. Sec.
I. T. U. No. 91.

"The 'sweat tailor shop' was just as clearly disproven.

"The statement made by Mr. Mackenzie that the Shelter, the C.P.H. Home, and the Refuge were all under one roof, I also denied. The Refuge was for women, and men were never taken in under the same roof. The C.P.H. Home and the Shelter were combined under one roof after the civil grant was cut off. As to men being turned away from the Shelter because they had only six cents, Major Collier denied this. Our Army officials, however, knew that people with six cents were sent round as spies, and they give that sort of satisfaction, but genuine cases were never refused, although they were expected to earn the price of their lodging next morning.

"It was 12.30 when we finished. There was a pause; then up rose Mr. Mackenzie (who, it may interest our readers to know is a brother of ex-Colonel Mackenzie), with a pile of affidavits and some questions he wished to ask me. The first question was on a new matter, which I, of course, refused to answer. In this the committee supported me. The affidavits he professed to support the charges that we refused men at the Shelter unless they had the necessary seven cents, and that the Army paid starvation wages, or no wages at all, to its men. I explained that when I explained that two of them were from people we had discharged for very good reasons, I explained one, and there was increasing bitterness in the face of the opposition when I told the little incident of our wood-yard had being made intoxicated by some one in order to get information

IT'S A SURE THING.

THE PEOPLES' JIMMY—I promised my constituents this canal would be built and by gingers its going to be or I'll bust my pick.

from him that could be twisted against the Army.

"Mr. Britnell denied that he had made the man drunk. I did not affirm that he had done so, but it appeared as if some person had done so, as our poor fellow said these words to Major Collier, 'they made me drunk to try and get out of me all they could.' He repeated some charges, and practically abandoned others, but the best efforts of the opposition had very little weight. We had so cleared up every one of the charges laid against us that they must have felt queer, at least they looked so, and when Alderman Watkins moved that a grant of two hundred dollars be made the Army Shelter it did not take the members long to make up their minds. I tell you it was a sweeping victory."

Letters from the Chief of Police of Toronto, members of the city council, testifying to the order and usefulness of the Army and its several institutions, were put in as evidence in refutation of the charges made.

MOOSE PLentiful.

The Toronto News says: Owing to the strict enforcement of the game laws, moose is growing plentiful in Ontario, where they formerly showed signs of extinction. This is notably the case around Peterborough, where more moose have been seen this season than in many years back.

WHAT CAUSED HIS DEATH?

The Inquest on the Body of John Jones Continued.

The inquest into the death of Mr. John Jones, who died on Sept. 24, was continued yesterday. Sensational evidence was given by Wm. Freebourne, who told how Dr. Hillard wanted to use a stomach tube on Jones as the only possible method of saving his life, and Thomas Jones objected to it. Henry Jones had said: "Then Tom wants him to die."

Deceased made his will in favor of Thomas Jones five days before his death, which Dr. Aldrich, his executor, says was caused by inflammation of the lungs and typhoid fever. Mr. Thomas Jones swore he did not object to the use of the stomach tube. He did not know the value of his brother's estate, and did not see the will till after his brother's funeral. He fainted while under cross-examination.

W. H. Jones reacted with deceased, who, he said, always wanted Dr. Waters, but Dr. Aldrich persuaded him Dr. Powers would do. Deceased had a chill after he changed a flannel shirt for a lighter one at the order of Dr. Aldrich. Before Dr. Powers came Dr. Aldrich removed the medicine he had been giving deceased. Witness summoned Dr. Hillard at deceased's request, and this physician advised the stomach tube, which was refused. He regretted not sending for Dr. Waters. Two of his brothers had died insane.

WORK ON THE CANAL.

Going on at a Steady Gait—The Coffey Dam Completed.

Although the weather has not been of the best for working on the canal the work still proceeds steadily on, and the vicinity where operations are being conducted will soon have a new and strange look to the residents of this section of the country. The Coffey dam, which workmen have been building for some weeks past, is now completed, and a steam engine and steam pump is on the ground in operation. The engine and pump will be used for keeping the rock inside the dam clear of water, so that blasting can be proceeded with without interference from that element. A gag of men will be moved from the lower works to this place, and in a short time it will present a lively scene. A blacksmith shop has been built at this place, which is only a short distance from the village. A big lot of blasting will be done at this place as the bed of the river has to be lowered about four feet. The work at this place will have to be finished this winter, as in the spring the high water will seriously interfere with the blasting.

The first of the locks will be built at the bend of the river just below Mr. S. Nelson's residence. The lock being built there will not affect the mills with back water, as the level of the river will not be raised to any extent. A quantity of material has already been placed on the ground for operations on the cut through the village.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF.

It is a grievous crime in the eyes of ultra-Americans for one of their public men to be even suspected of sympathizing with the British nation, whose meteor flag has apparently the similar effect on the genuine out-and-outer that a red rag is said to have on an infuriated bovine of the male sex. It is a matter of record that some of their statesmen have severely paid the penalty of even being under suspicion of not being anti-English, and no senseless election cry is more successfully raised in political conflicts against an opponent than that he is favorably inclined towards Johnny Bull. This absurd accusation is brought against President Cleveland, as it has been against several of his predecessors in office, and probably with as little foundation. There is nothing at all new in it. The first occupant of the presidential chair was assailed with a storm of vituperation, which for offensiveness is scarcely paralleled by the attacks upon Mr. Cleveland. According to Moore's History of the American Congress, recently published, George Washington was even subjected to greater insults. Scandalous articles about his conduct of public affairs filled the newspapers of the time, and vile calumnies upon his private life and character were openly uttered upon the streets and at public meetings by the indignant and excited opponents of jury treaty with Great Britain. The "father of his country" was charged with a violation of the constitution, and even threatened with impeachment; he was called "a panderer to the evil designs of England," a traitor, a hypocrite, and impostor, and an apostate. And our friends across the border are making history repeat itself, by treating Grover Cleveland as their forefathers treated George Washington.

HOW REFORM WILL COME.

We agree with our contemporary the Toronto Telegram that trouble over educational affairs among the Roman Catholics of Ottawa is only another illustration of the tendency to reform abuse from within when the pressure of outside hostility is removed.

So long as aggressive Protestantism was threatening to reform these schools, Roman Catholics—French and Irish—banded together in defence of the system. Now that the system is admitted to be safe in Ontario, the Irish Roman Catholics of Ottawa are attempting to correct abuses which they overlooked in their enthusiastic defence of the privileges of their Church.

So it is with the abuses our French-Canadian fellow-countrymen fail to groan under in the province of Quebec. The effect of Ontario's efforts to remove these abuses, with a friendly hand is to make the French-Canadian hug his chains. As soon as he understands that Ontario is not trying to relieve him he will begin to realize that the chains hurt, and then will come reform.

All this is without prejudice to the truth that toleration of evil in Quebec, a province which nurses evil, is not identical with the re-establishment of evil in Manitoba, a province which is struggling for freedom.

Look out for colds at this season. Keep yourself well and strong by taking Hood's Sassafras, the great tonic and blood purifier.

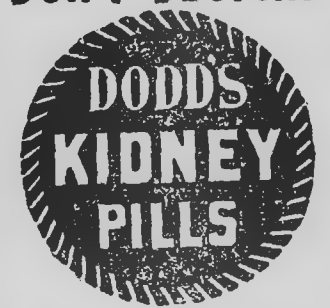

W. B. Willoughby, the Conservative candidate in Cardwell, has followed in Major McGilivray's steps as faithfully as the Government could desire. He will wait till the shackles have been placed on the wrists of Manitoba and then he will do something or other—probably protest against it in an Orange lodge.

It is reported that the Chinese government has asked Russia to send an army corps into China to assist in putting down a rebellion. If the Russian army gets such a good excuse for entering the country, the probability is that Russia would put down much more than a rebellion; she would swallow as much of the celestial country as she could conveniently bite off.

Capt. Oscar Taylor, the veteran who, in the fall of 1863, captured the Confederate ranger, Mosby, for whom an offer of $100,000 had been made by the United States Government, died at his home in Brooklyn on Tuesday. Mosby escaped by a clever ruse, and Taylor and his men did not get the reward which they thought was theirs. In after years he said it was the narrowest escape he ever had.

John Robinson, of London England, one of the wealthiest retail merchants of the great metropolis, died the other day leaving nearly the whole of his fortune of $6,000,000 to his mistress and her children. By his will he cut off his legitimate wife without a cent. The English laws provide no remedy for the injured wife; she is condemned to poverty, while her husband's paramour receives his millions from his dead hands. Such cases as this make one doubt whether the axiom that a man has a right to do what he will with his own is absolutely just.

In December, 1894, his Endowment matured, and he received a cheque from the Company for $1,364.70, being a return of all the premiums paid, and in addition, $665.70. That is to say Mr. Murray got back all the money he invested, with about 4 1/2 PER CENT. COMPOUND INTEREST, and had his life assured for $1,000 for twenty years free of charge.

It is needless to say that Mr. Murray was much pleased. You may gather that fact from the perusal of his letter here appended. QUERY.—How many of the people of Peterborough invests their money to better advantage?

N. B.—This is an example of profits paid under our Five Year Distribution plan. The results under our Reserve Dividend (or Semi-Tontine) policies may reasonably be expected to greatly exceed that realized under the above plan.

KINCARDINE, Jan 6th, 1895.

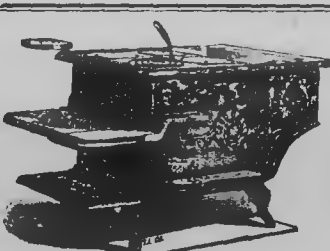

GENTLEMEN.—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your cheque in full settlement of claim under my Ten Payment Twenty Year Endowment policy, No. 1406, and I desire to express my satisfaction with the result of my investment. I paid to the Company an annual premium of $69.00 for ten years, making a total of $699, for which I now receive a cheque for $1,364.70, being a return of all I have paid the Company, and in addition, $665.70, besides having had my life secured for $1,000 during the twenty years. This I consider very good indeed, and I have pleasure in giving my testimonial to that effect.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed,) REV. J. L. MURRAY.

FISHING FOR COD.

A TRAMP PRINTER'S VOYAGE TO THE BANKS OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

Fog and Fish Were Plentiful—Ward's Sentences Experienced Alone in the Mist. The Dangers of Setting the Trawls Are Many and Serious.

There are few situations in life, however strange and precarious, in which the tramp printer is not to be found; but, save myself, I know of none that has been fool enough to try his luck as a "roustabout" on a banker or fishing craft bound for the "stormy Georgias."

One day, weary of the monotony of typesetting, I went on board the 103 ton sloop Trident lying off Spruce street wharf and was hailed by Captain Sam Mayo, a tall, bony Yankee in red cap and rubber boots.

"Want to ship for the grand banks fur cod? Ever tried fishing, hey? Well, I want a 'gutter' and will give $22 a month. Get yer plunder aboard. We sail tonight."

So on a very cold and windy night the sloop passed Black light with a stiff wind astern. We had a crew of seven men, four of them Finns. After standing my watch I went into the little fo'c's'le. Going to bed on a banker means lying down on some one else. After a minute's trial I crawled from under a big Finn and finished my 40 winks on the wet deck, the waves flying over our low rail. For four days we did nothing but boat on and three days more jumping the seas the Trident anchored in Machias harbor, Maine.

A cloud of gray mist, and this our vessel entered as through a gateway, and then it closed, so thick that the man at the wheel could not see the jib, 80 feet away. Groping our way, we anchored in 80 fathoms. Around us the toll of ship bells is plainly heard, and soon comes a hail. We are 40 yards away from old friends and yet cannot see them. Around us is one gray waste of water, breaking into short waves. The fog thickens, and in the northeast it is getting black, and by night the storm comes on, and for 40 hours we are fairly pinned to the deck by the wind.

It was my task to toll the bell. I grew dead weary and pulled the cord mechanically. How sweet to close one's eyes and dream! The sloop rises and falls with a falling sea, and I am a thousand miles away. Suddenly a deep boom awakes me. All the crew rush on deck and unite in one loud yell, "What's the matter?" I see a huge black wall hanging over the sloop, a glare of scorching light and a rush like a million of Tartar cavalry. It is gone. Captain Mayo walks aft and says: "A close call. You must keep your eyes open. That was a Cunauder, blast her!" An ocean liner had swept by us 50 feet to leeward.

And now we commenced fishing for cod. Each man had three lines, and these were pulled every minute, the fish reeled with a jerk and the boat halted and thrown in. The cook and I opened the fish and put a handful of salt inside, while the captain packed them away. The cold was intense, and so we worked for 18 hours, and then came dinner and supper in one. I was too tired to eat, although the food was good and plenty of it.

Then came laying the trawls, the most dreaded work of all. Two men got into a dory—double bowed skiff like a big dish—and lay out a mile of line baited and hooked every two feet. Ten feet from the sloop the mist closed around us like a pall. We had a compass, a keg of water and biscuits. After six hours' work we found the sloop and next day started again to overhaul the trawl—most exhausting work. One man hauls into the heaving boat the line. Halibut weighing 200 pounds are on the hooks, and these must be gutted and as the boat rises the haul is thrown overboard. Often the specks and then good by. Sometimes men lose their bearings, and ships often find the dories drifting in midocean, with the shrunken and blackened remains of the occupants in the bottom. For 29 days we worked, the only intermissions being when the storm swept down on us. Once a steamer passed so close that her wake dashed the white water over our boat. Every day hails came to us through the blinding fog. "Ahoy! Seen anything of your dory?" Captain Mayo had lost three sons and a nephew on one voyage two years before and in the terrible "Lord's day gale," August, 1873, 200 of the New England fishing fleet were dashed to pieces.

On Fridays we rested, mended our clothes, smoked, spun yarns and slept. Nothing was more surprising to me than the strange shapes taken by the mist when blown by a gale. It rolled up like rolls of women with floating garments and trailing hair or swept by for hours the semblance of an army of horsemen breaking, uniting and again forming in ranks.

Our Finns were very superstitious and full of curious old sea lore. Every move of the fog and wind had a significance and once the whole crew was raised to listen to the wall of women far off to the windward. Heard in the silence of night it was very impressive. It was seals coming from the north on floating ice.

Our cruise had been very successful, and our hatches were loaded down over a splendid catch of halibut. So one morning we raised our anchor, struck our bell three times—the signal of departure—and this was answered, and under a chorus of goodbyes the jib and mainsail were hoisted, and in 90 hours the Trident entered Gloucester harbor. Our destination was New York, but I had enough of it, so the captain paid me, remarking graciously "that I wasn't as big a fool as I looked."—Philadelphia Times.

Telegraphic Abbreviations. Soon after the advent of typewriting machines in telegraph offices about five years ago senders of news messages began to abbreviate, and the manager of one of the news associations invented a code of abbreviations which is almost as intricate as the sign code itself. For instance, the under telegraph "hag," and the receiver writes it on his typewriting machine "in consequence of." Likewise "pep" means principles, "ayd" means anywhere, "ano-by" authenticity, "sum," sales unlimited, "abgon," small business, prices exchanged; "fpabd," full prices asked, but no demand; "ar," excites; "wars," with amendment; "uay," under the circumstances; "twp," tomorrow afternoon; "pep," presented a petition; "ag," on the ground that; "acotus," supreme court of the United States; "kaw," adjourned sine die; "chw," either of which; "okz," committed suicide; "old," covered by insurance.—Troy Press.

TAMWORTH SWINE.

A Short Description of the Modern English Bacon Breed.

The breed is practically unknown in this country. It is in every respect so totally unlike the kind of hog which it is the ambition of the swine breeder to produce that many will be surprised to learn that the accompanying cut is an excellent illustration of the type most popular among the English, being considered a very fine specimen of the breed.

The explanation of their popularity lies in their thin, long bodies, which supply great quantities of well-streaked bacon, the inevitable dish at every English breakfast table. Indeed, in the production of this article they are without a rival save the improved Yorkshire, which they greatly resemble in many ways.

a sandy red, though some are a dark gray with black spots. They are hardy and prolific and have been improved so that they are now an early-maturing breed. The long, deep sides, light shoulder and jaw make them an ideal bacon hog. The flesh is lean, pink and well-flavored.—N. Y. World.

Protect Sheep Against Rabbits in the Head.

Many American shepherds advise smearing the salt trough with tar, but this is seldom thorough enough. A practice to be recommended, where the flock is not too large, is to smear the noses of the sheep periodically, at least once a week, during the season of greatest activity of the fly, with a mixture of equal parts of tar and grease, or of tar and fish oil, or of tar and whale oil. Some have used whale oil alone with good results. A brush will be found convenient to apply these mixtures. A reliable authority speaks in flattering terms of the use of an ointment made as follows: Rosin wax, one pound; linseed oil, one pint; carbolic acid, four ounces. Melt the wax and oil together, adding two ounces of resin to give body, then, as it is cooling, stir in the carbolic acid. The same authority mentions the use, by some breeders of choice stock, of a canvas face cover smeared with this mixture, or with one of eucalypti and tallow, which may be adjusted in such a fashion as not to interfere with the sight or with grazing, and yet protect the lambs against the fly that lays the eggs from which the grub hatches. Some farmers plow a few furrows in the pasture so the sheep may put their noses in the fresh earth and thus keep the fly away.—American Agriculturist.

Feeding Grit to Poultry.

Get a box about one foot square and eight or ten inches deep, remove the top, and place it inside at an angle from one corner of the bottom of the box, leaving about three quarters of an inch space from the bottom and one side, and the other side of the board about two inches from the other side to allow space to fill; or it may be filled tight, and the side of the box removed and hinged so as to open and fill. Place a strip of wood about one inch square, and two inches from the three-quarter inch space at the bottom of the box, to keep the grit in place. Bore two small holes in the bottom of the box near what is to be the top, and hang on nails so as to raise the box a few inches from the ground, to prevent the chickens from scratching dirt in. Put in the grit, oyster shells, charcoal, etc., and the fowls will have it fresh and clean, as it will drop down as they eat about the ground or in open boxes. The same arrangement may be used for feed when it is desirable to keep feed before the poultry all the time. The device is shown in the cut.—Rural New Yorker.

Live Stock Notes.

Of all the meats, mutton is the freest of disease. As much as breeding and growing animals need exercise for their prosperity, the hogs for fattening need rest and quietness.

The quicker the sheep reaches maturity the less food it consumes, and the more it produces, therefore, means lower cost of production.

If wool is low in price it will add something to the profits of sheep husbandry. But now, as never before, mutton is the standby.

The cheapest food for hogs that we can raise is clover or grass, and in corn we have perhaps the best food for fattening that can be found.

The best thing the sheep breeder can do is to recognize that conditions affecting sheep have changed and prepare to conform to them.

As the American people come to use their brains more and their muscles less fat meat—mutton included—goes out of favor. People want flesh and not fat more and more.—Farmer's Voice.

Sows Mating Their Young.

To prevent sows eating their pigs, give the sow two to three lbs. of salt pork (cut in pieces half an inch thick) immediately after farrowing, provided there are any signs of trouble that way. This has proved a sure remedy in many cases, we having had letters from thirteen farmers to this effect since the subject was mentioned in our veterinary department recently. Feeding sows mostly on wheat chaffing often avoids this trouble. Fresh beef may be used instead of salt pork, and raw potatoes may be fed with both. Give soppy or cooling food just before parturition.—American Agriculturist.

Unsound Horses in France.

The French law enumerates the various forms of unsoundness to which a horse is liable, and provides that an animal found to be suffering from any of these within nine days after his sale may be returned to the seller. Such a law in this country would do much to protect buyers, and it would also be welcome to the reputable men who are engaged in selling horses.

I have been using Pond's Ex-tract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the ex-perience you mention of drug-gists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't be-lieve it. I use Pond's Extract a great deal as an antiseptic in combination with glycerine and carbolic acid. I think it far su-perior to any antiseptic known.

POLITICAL POT POURRI.

KEEN FIGHT GOING ON IN THE QUEBEC CONSTITUENCIES.

The Bye Elections in Cardwell and North Ontario—J. A. Deschamps Will be the Conservative Candidate in Jacques Cartier.

Special to The Times.

MONTREAL, Dec. 7.—Hon. Wilfred Laurier, who arrived here last night, will this evening hold a big mass meeting at St. Anne's de Bellevue, in Jacques Cartier county, while the Conservative leaders will meet in St. Laurent to choose a candidate for the coming bye election.

The fight in Jacques Cartier county will be a closer one than is generally expected. Mr. Charbonneau, the liberal nominee, has his old-time well organized in his favor, but Mr. J. A. Deschamps will be se-lected by tonight's convention, will prove a strong opponent, as he now represents the county in the Provincial Legislature, having been returned by a large majority.

LAURIER AND ONTARIO.

There is a good deal of talk among local Conservatives and no little amusement over the fact of Mr. Laurier's having felt it incumbent on him to leave Ontario just at present. The reason is obvious. Mr. Laurier, who insists on sticking so closely to Mr. Laurier, does not "take" among many of the Ontario electors, and as the Opposi-tion leader cannot get rid of him, he had to return to Montreal, or at least that is what is stated freely among local politi-cians. Mr. Laurier will hold some big meet-ings in Mr. McShane's support next week.

CARDWELL AND NORTH ONTARIO.

SERIES OF MEETINGS IN THE TWO CON-STITUENCIES.

CANNINGTON, Dec. 7.—Major McGillivray addressed a crowded meeting here last night. He said he believed that all chil-dren should be educated within the limits of one school, but denied that he wanted to abolish Separate Schools or had ever been an equal righter. He refused to com-mit himself upon the Manitoba school question until he knew what the Govern-ment was going to do and took the same stand with regard to the temperance question and the compensation to brewers and distillers. He said he had been a testifier all his life but refused to go to Parliament a slave.

Hon. John Costigan followed. He scored Patron Lockie Wilson and the Liberals. The latter he described as dragging the fair fame of Canada in the dirt. He compared the vote catching tactics of the Grifts with the fixed and progressive policy of the Con-servative Government. Hon. T. Mayne Daily closed the meeting.

IN CARDWELL.

ORANGEVILLE, Dec. 7.—Hon. Dr. Mon-tague and Hon. Geo. E. Foster spoke last night in support of W. H. Willoughby, the Conservative candidate. The latter spoke briefly, proclaiming himself a supporter of the N. P. and declaring that he would not be a party to the restoration of inefficient schools in Manitoba.

Hon. Dr. Montague exposed the attempt to divide the Conservative party in the present fight. People were asked to drop party politics and vote for an independent candidate. With all its faults, the party system was the best statesmen had ever been able to devise. Filled parties were useless. He then eulogized Sir Mackenzie Bowell as compared with Mr. Laurier, who during the one year in which he had been a Crown Minister had shown him-self to be utterly incapable. The Secretary of State next devoted himself to the Lib-eral party. It had opposed the establish-ment of a fast Atlantic service, the de-velopment of the butter export trade, and every measure of public utility which the Government had brought forward.

Hon. G. E. Foster compared the balances of trade under the Conservative and Lib-eral regimes and declared that the farmers' home market was better by $45,000,000 now than it was in 1878. Since that time the exportation of farm products had risen from $30,000,000 to more than $52,000,000. He then passed on to public expendi-ture, debt and taxation, which latter he said was constantly decreasing.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purify-ing and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Hood's Sarsaparilla. Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sen-sations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." Mrs. DALTON, 64 Alton St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

READ WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY OF POND'S EXTRACT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29, 1894. I have used "Pond's Extract" for many years and always insist upon my patients getting "Pond's," not the ordinary Extract, which is often a very poor article. W. K. BROWN, M. D.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9, 1895. I use Pond's Extract a great deal in my practice. I think it very valuable in all venous enlargements. J. L. BRADFORD, M. D.

SANTA BARBARA, CAL., Nov. 27, 1894. I have been using Pond's Extract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the experience you mention of druggists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't believe it. I use Pond's Extract a great deal as an antiseptic in combination with glycerine and carbolic acid. I think it far superior to any antiseptic known. F. G. TLOURNOY, M. D.

POLITICAL POT POURRI.

KEEN FIGHT GOING ON IN THE QUEBEC CONSTITUENCIES.

The Bye Elections in Cardwell and North Ontario—J. A. Deschamps will be the Conservative Candidate in Jacques Cartier. Special to The Times.

MONTREAL, Dec. 7.—Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, who arrived here last night, will this evening hold a big mass meeting at St. Anne's de Bellevue, in Jacques Cartier county, while the Conservative leaders will meet in St. Laurent to choose a candidate for the coming bye election. The fight in Jacques Cartier county will be a closer one than is generally expected. Mr. Charbonneau, the Liberal nominee, has his districts well organized in his favor, but Mr. J. A. Deschamps, who will be selected by tonight's convention, will prove a strong opponent, as he now represents the county in the Provincial Legislature, having been returned by a large majority.

LAURENCE AND ONTARIO. There is a good deal of talk among local Conservatives and no little amusement over the fact of Mr. Laurier's having felt it incumbent on him to leave Ontario just at present. The reason is obvious. Mr. Tarte, who insists on sticking so closely to Mr. Laurier, does not "take" among many of the Ontario's electors, and as the Opposition leader cannot get rid of him, he had to return to Montreal, or at least that is what is stated freely among local politicians. Mr. Laurier will hold some big meetings in Mr. McShane's support next week.

CARDWELL AND NORTH ONTARIO. SERIES OF MEETINGS IN THE TWO CONSTITUENCIES.

CANNINGTON, Dec. 7.—Major McGillicuddy addressed a crowded meeting here last night. He said he believed that all children should be educated within the limits of one school, but denied that he wanted to abolish Separate Schools or had ever been an equal righter. He refused to commit himself upon the Manitoba school question until he knew what the Government were going to do and took the same stand with regard to the temperance question and the compensation to brewers and distillers. He said he had been a testifier all his life but refused to go to Parliament's slave. Hon. John Diefenbaker followed. He scored Patron Lockie Wilson and the Liberals. The latter he described as dragging the fair name of Canada in the dirt. He compared the vote catching tactics of the Grits with the fixed and progressive policy of the Conservative Government. Hon. T. Mayne Daily closed the meeting.

IN CARDWELL. ORANGEVILLE, Dec. 7.—Hon. Dr. Montague and Hon. Geo. E. Foster spoke last night in support of W. B. Willoughby, the Conservative candidate. The latter spoke briefly, proclaiming himself a supporter of the N. P. and declaring that he would not be a party to the restoration of inefficient schools in Manitoba.

Hon. Dr. Montague exposed the attempt to divide the Conservative party in the present fight. People were asked to drop party politics and vote for an independent candidate. With all its faults, the party system was the best system that had ever been able to advise. Third parties were useless. He then eulogized Sir Mackenzie Bowell as compared with Mr. Laurier, who during the one year in which he had been a Crown Minister had shown himself to be utterly incapable. The Secretary of State next devoted himself to the Liberal party. It had opposed the establishment of a fast Atlantic service, the development of the better export trade, and every measure of public utility which the Government had brought forward.

Hon. G. E. Foster compared the balances of trade under the Conservative and Liberal regimes and declared that the farmers' home market was better by $45,000,000 now than it was in 1878. Since that time the exportation of farm products had risen from $30,000,000 to more than $52,000,000. He then passed on to public expenditure, debt and taxation, which latter he said was constantly decreasing.

PERJURY CHARGED. GUELPH, Dec. 7.—The preliminary investigation into the charge of perjury laid by Mr. Geo. Tucker, the recently unseated Patron candidate for West Wellington in the Ontario elections, against Geo. Ross of the Township of Minto, was held before Police Magistrate Saunders, and decision reserved until Monday.

NOMINATED FOR ANTIQUARIAN. HALIFAX, N.S., Dec. 7.—Mr. Joseph A. Chisholm, who was defeated by Mr. McIsaac, has again been nominated for the Commons by the Conservatives of Antigonish, N.S.

WEST HURON ELECTION. OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—The next writ to be issued will be the one for West Huron. The vote is polling in that constituency will in all probability be Thursday, January 9th, a week after the opening of Parliament. Nominations will therefore be made on January 2nd.

MOOSE ARE PLENTIFUL.

The Beneficial Effect of the Provincial Game Laws.

The beneficial effect of the Provincial game laws is already beginning to make itself felt, more particularly in the increase of moose. This species of game was at one time somewhat scarce, but is now in abundance in comparatively thickly settled and southerly portions of the province. As an instance the following extract from a letter received by a gentleman in the Crown Lands Department from a friend in Burleigh, may be of interest. "I see by the papers that a moose has been seen far south in Muskoka, but I am sure still, a large bull moose crossed the Burleigh road one mile south of our house on Saturday evening about dark. It was seen by a friend of mine who keeps store in Akeley, who was driving a team loaded with flour. He told us of it and on the next day some of the family went out to see. They found the tracks—measured them—six inches in length, four in breadth—and covered them to preserve them. Two weeks after a neighbor, going from his residence on the Burleigh road to his place at Jack's Lake, got within 70 yards of the animal, quite unobserved, as he was walking in a small lake—Marl Lake—pulling up and eating the water lily pads. He was covered with white mud all over and had considerable difficulty in getting out up the bank. Nothing more has been heard of it up to date."

Great Anxiety Prevailing.

Now that the award in the Milne vs. Corporation case has been filed in the County clerk's office at Peterborough many are anxious to know the result. On Tuesday the complainant and defendants were notified that the award had been placed in the County clerk's hands and that the following costs were attached thereto: Mr. McClelland, $74.75; Mr. Brown, $74.75; Mr. Sherry, $156.50; and Mr. Alex. Downey, $54.53. Stenographer $54.53; paper supply, $1.10.—Havelock Standard.

Affections of the Throat.

GALT, Ont., Nov. 18, 1895.—My wife suffered with pain and distress from an affection of the throat caused by impure blood. She was almost in despair but finally procured a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking six bottles of this medicine she was completely cured. John Weckman.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

WHAT THE END WILL BE.

Out of the war of words and suggestions which has arisen over the Manitoba schools question one or two things stand out with unmistakable clearness says the Hamilton Herald. The first is that Premier Greenway will not be a party to any compromise of any nature or form whatever. He will stand exactly where he has stood from the first. The second, and the most unfortunate, is that at the forthcoming session of Parliament the Government will introduce a remedial measure which will likely be passed.

The policy of the Government was indicated beyond all doubt by a speech which H. G. E. Foster delivered in Chatham the other day. After saying that the Government intended to re-organise the Separate Schools in Manitoba, he said: "It is not the intention of the Government to put one single inefficient school in operation in Manitoba or anywhere else. The Government does not intend to make a reasonable solution of the problem, but that the schools should be put back to where they were in the first place. I am a member of the Government, and all the members of the Government are of the same opinion. The system of Separate Schools is the only one in operation in Manitoba, and it is equal to the task of educating the children of the Province. There is no other way."

The Owen Electric Belt is like it, but it will be found to bear it. The system of Separate Schools is the only one in operation in Manitoba, and it is equal to the task of educating the children of the Province. There is no other way. According to a Constantinople despatch, the Sultan has gone crazy. This is what come of a fellow being a harem-scurum sort of a fellow.

Mrs. Anna P. Aspinwall, who died in Edinburgh on Tuesday, was an American who had many of the characteristics of Hetty Green. She was worth about $3,000,000. She was the widow of George R. Aspinwall, who perished at sea 50 years ago. Much of her fortune was made by the Aspinwall line of ocean steamers. Mrs. Aspinwall's mansion was an old place tightly fenced up. She allowed no one to see her.

Russia proposes to celebrate Jenner's discovery of vaccination, the 100th anniversary of which occurs next year, by offering prizes for works on vaccination, by publishing histories of the practice of vaccination in Russia and in western Europe, and by a commemorative meeting and exhibition of objects connected with vaccination.

A late census of the "big trees" of California shows that there are 2,675 of the giants still standing, the largest being thirty-three feet and six inches in diameter.

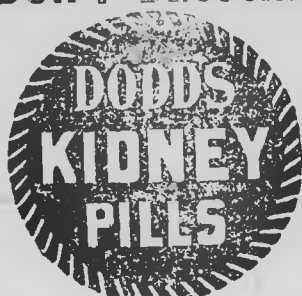

The fact that Lord Salisbury, in his note on the Venezuelan situation in reply to Secretary Olney, puts forth a defense of Great Britain's claims and has backed it up with legal proofs, causes surprise and indignation at Washington. That Salisbury should presume to reject Secretary Olney's views respecting this dispute is in itself almost enough to warrant the immediate dispatch of a Yankee gunboat to Caracas.

A. D. Penfold, general auditor of the Merchants' Dispatch Company, has made a standing statement in an address before the Young Men's Christian Association of Troy. "If the devil," he said, "ever comes out of a vehicle to carry his virtues to Hell it is the bicycle. In New-York I saw many on Sunday who would not get out of the country on the day after the next, but they are no better than heathens."

The first and only systematic census ever taken throughout Brazil was completed in 1850, but the work of compilation is not yet finished and the totals are just now being published. The population of the whole Republic is found to be 1,000,000, and the area 3,370,000 square miles. Rio de Janeiro, the capital, has 522,371 inhabitants, of whom 327,789 are whites, 64,538 blacks, 17,445 Indians and 11,799 mixed. There are 225 cities in Brazil, 300 villages, 684 municipalities and 1,553 parishes.

Churches on wheels are a feature of one department of the religious work of the American Baptist Publication Society. Four evangelist railroad cars are in service, and a fifth is soon to be added through the efforts of the good people of Detroit. The first car was placed in operation five years ago. Its success was so much so great, that another was ordered for the following year, and a third for the year following. Every year since then, the Society has ordered a new car, which has been placed in operation. The cars are used for the purpose of evangelizing, and are found to be very successful in their work.

.. ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA ..

The Rev. J. L. Murray, of Kincardine, Ontario, assured in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, in December, 1874, under Policy No. 1406, on the Twenty Year Endowment plan, paying an annual premium of $69.90 for ten years. He paid into the Company in all $699. In December, 1894, his Endowment matured, and he received a cheque from the Company for $1,364.70, being a return of all the premiums paid, and in addition, $665.70. That is to say Mr. Murray got back all the money he invested, with about 4% PER CENT. COMPOUND INTEREST, and had his life assured for $1,000 for twenty years free of charge.

It is needless to say that Mr. Murray was much pleased. You may gather that fact from the perusal of his letter here to appended. QUERY:—How many of the people of Peterborough invest their money to better advantage?

N. B.—This is an example of profits paid under our Five Year Distribution plan. The results under our Reserve Dividend (or Semi-Tontine) policies may reasonably be expected to greatly exceed that realized under the above plan.

KINCARDINE, Jan 6th, 1895.

The Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, Montreal.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your cheque in full settlement of claim under my Ten Payment Twenty Year Endowment policy, No. 1406, and I desire to express my satisfaction with the result of my investment. I paid to the Company an annual premium of $69.90 for ten years, making a total of $699, for which I now receive a cheque for $1,364.70, being a return of all I have paid the Company, and in addition, $665.70, besides having had my life assured for $1,000 during the twenty years. This I consider very good indeed, and I have pleasure in giving my testimonial to that effect.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed,) REV. J. L. MURRAY.

SMALL WONDER.

"Tis the woman of thirty whose reign has begun.
And the child of sixteen's but a bore.
The debutante's day in the world is done.
Ingenues are amusing no more!
These the words overhead in a flower girl's hall
At a typical end of the century ball.
And the listener smiled as he wondered who
Had discovered the words that were penned
When the century and Balzac were new.
On this day—at the century's end.
And then for a glimpse of the speaker sought he.
He smiled again. 'Twas a woman of forty!
—J. P. Pollard in Kate Field's Washington.

SEEN IN A STORM.

Some of us said that our friend Cecil Wake was the most nervous man they had ever known. And yet his health seemed always good, although the susceptibility of his temperament was such that it appeared as though the wear and tear of existence must soon prove too much for him.
He was temperate—very temperate—and yet the amount of twitching that his facial muscles underwent when he was moved and excited made one fear that the next thing he would do would be to weep.
Circumstances that did not affect other men produced an amount of moisture, especially in the corner of his right eye, which soon culminated in an actual tear-drop, always hastily brushed away before it fell. The Germans, in whose country he had been for some years of his youth, have a saying of such a man that "he is built near the water." Now, emotion on certain occasions is always permissible, even to the male sex. When, for instance, a favorite daughter or niece is married,
the "God bless you!" uttered by the master of the deserted home is apt to be gutturally and even chokingly—nay, often inarticulately—expressed.

Perhaps it has been observed by those who do not go down themselves to the sea in ships, but who like to see a ship launched for the purposes of those who intend to indulge themselves such discomfort, that when the salt ship is launched, men among the crowd of witnesses of the operation blow their noses, and their eyes become watery. Cecil Wake's always became watery on such occasions. The cheering of the men on board of a ship of war, the march past of troops, even the hurrying of firemen to a conflagration, made his vision very misty. Some said that this was to the credit of his heart; others said it was not to the credit of his nerves.
Did he ride? Yes, sometimes and well.
The successful termination of a fox hunt and the tragic death of the fox were events which were alleged by gossips to produce much the same effect upon him as the above mentioned cases of marriage, lauching, cheering or fire extinguishing, but then fox hunting takes place when the air is cold and eyes are apt to be moist from intense sympathy with an east wind.
Nothing tangible on the nerve subject could be fairly deduced from such knowledge. What are nerves? Nobody knows.
Husbands agree that they are rubbish.
Wives declare that their whole being consists of nothing else. What is certain is that they sometimes show themselves, or rather their influence shows itself, all of a sudden.

A danger is laughed at and defied, but in a moment, although the danger may not be there, the mere imagination that it is present makes us feel uncomfortable.
The boldest men are not always quite sure of themselves. One, a general, who had faced fire over and over again, laughed at the idea that he could feel anxious when taken down a steep toboggan slope. "No, no, never felt nervous in my life." And he took his place in front of the person who was to steer him down the ice. But he had hardly seated himself before he felt an irresistible impulse not to go forward, but to hang back. "Stop one moment—are you quite sure you can steer?" was the question in which his nerves unexpectedly betrayed themselves. We truly do not know what is going on within us, and it would not surprise any doctor to be told confidentially by any one that a discovery had been made that the nerves were giving way.

Imagination has a great responsibility in these matters. Men of little imagination are not "given to give way." So, if you have to do anything which is trying and requires an assistant or companion, don't take a man endowed with imagination.
Look rather for a fool than a clever man.
At all events, do not attempt anything risky with a man who thinks too much.

All these sapient thoughts arise because of Cecil Wake, who, although an excellent fellow, thought too much. Perhaps it was because of this that he had become better than any barometer for telling a change in weather. Snow always gave him headache, thinner always gave him headache, but he bore these afflictions uncomplainingly. But we know in summer from an extra twitch about his mouth that we should have thundery weather.
In winter snow faithfully followed the same signals. We discovered another peculiarity in him, and some of his friends declared that they had found a treasure in him at last, because he had one gift that could be usefully employed for money. He was a marvelous water finder. For this he employed the time honored instrument, the hazel fork. He held the two ends of the hazel between his thumb and forefinger, the fork turned downward, and whenever he came anywhere near running water the fork end of the hazel rose in the air, and the stick not only did this, but twisted and turned in his hand as though in agony. It made his arms ache, he said, and he described the sensation as especially unpleasant along the nerves and muscles of the forearms.

In an African desert he would have been invaluable, and we often told him that one of the African companies should give him a salary and employ him to find water in dry places. When he walked with us, often and often he has told us that water ran somewhere far down under his feet.
We believed him or disbelieved him, as we liked, for it was only when we knew that a stream was close at hand that we could test him. He had also a sensation when placed near certain metals. Whether all this arose from magnetism or from some electrical affinities we were not wise enough to determine.

To electricity I ascribed his sensitivness. Others called it by other names. At all events, there it was, a most palpable fact, showing itself with a power so strong that if, for instance, he grasped our wrists we became aware of a force running into our being, and it lifted hazel twigs in our hands when he was thus holding us; so that we felt the wood pressing itself against our fingers if we resisted the impulse given to it by him through our bodies.

Why should persons formed exactly alike so far as the mere presence of blood, bone, sinew and nerve is concerned be so variously affected? If there be such forces at work, why do they not pervade all sen-

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment. When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

WILDCATS CAPTURED.
An East Luther Farmer Traps Two Fine Specimens in the Great Marsh.

Wildcats have been creating havoc for some months past in the vicinity of the great marsh in East Luther, says the Orangeville Advertiser. The depredations of two of them were very suddenly stopped one night recently, when a neighboring farmer placed a couple of traps on the carcass of a dead horse, and some hours later found them occupied by two large wildcats, a male and a female. The male was of extraordinary size, measuring about 5½ feet from tip to tip, but was so fat that he could not be taken alive. The other was secured in a box, and was uninjured, except where the jaws of the trap had closed on her leg.

DIAGNOSIS BY WIRE.

Unquestionable Advantage of Having a Telephone in Every Household.

The beneficial uses of the telephone are not as yet fully understood. The other night young Smythe awoke about 3 a.m. with an excruciating pain in his stomach. The more he quivered the worse he grew. Finally the terrible thought flashed upon him that he had been poisoned. In a moment he dashed out of bed, downstairs to the telephone and demanded to be switched on to his physician's number without delay.

"For heaven's sake, doctor, come at once! I'm poisoned!"

The M.D., who had also crawled out of bed to answer the summons, growled back: "What makes you think so?"

"Frightful pain—awful cramps—insides on fire—hurry up, or I'm a dead man!"

"Humph! Does—or does your stomach make any noise?"

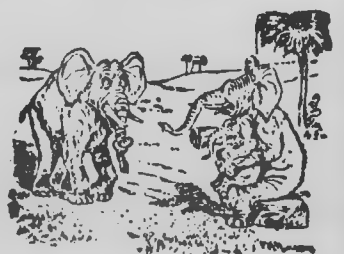

"Yes! Kinder growls—must be arsenic, or something."

"Growls, eh? Just put the phone against the pit of your stomach. Ah! I thought so—you've been to the French Hospital lately this evening, haven't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Exactly. You're suffering from a general fermentation of lemons, crab salad, fruit cake, pickled oysters and Roman punch. You're all right. Just take a little peppermint and ginger, then go to bed and grin it through."—San Francisco Examiner.

Helps to Memory.

Mrs. Elephant (after tying knot in her spouse's trunk):—There, now! I guess you won't forget again to bring the baby home some of those coconuts when you go down to the jungle.

A Young Example.
"Jedidiah," asked Mrs. Jiggs, "what do you think the baby has done?"
"I dunno," replied Mr. Jiggs. "Something smart, I'll bet you."

"No. It's stupid. Do you remember the gold dollar you laid on the parlor table?"

"Yes."

"The baby swallowed it."

"You don't say so."

"And that isn't the worst. It found a silver three-cent piece in my work basket and swallowed that, too."

"Aha—didn't I tell you that it was something smart? That baby's got brains. Its heard me talking on the currency question, and he's a good bimetallicist."

And Mr. Jiggs smiled as only a proud father can.—Washington Star.

A Slight Offense.

An English tourist arrived in an Irish town where a man was about to be hanged for shooting his landlord, ignorant of the cause of the gathering, he questioned one of the peasants.

Englishman—What is going on to-day, my man?

Peasant—They're going to hang a man, sir.

Englishman—What is he to be hanged for?

Peasant—Just for a bit of a joke, sir.

Englishman—Hang a man for a joke? Absurd! What did he do?

Peasant—He just made game of his landlord, sir.—Life.

Juvenile Theology.

A Washington woman is the happy mother of a bright boy, whose only failing is his boylike propensity to be mischievous. After doing some annoying thing yesterday, his mother called him to account and remonstrated with him for being naughty.

"Nobody saw me, mamma," said the young hopeful.

"Yes, my son," said the mother, "God saw you."

The little fellow looked up at her with a thoughtful expression, and said:

"God won't tell."—Washington Post.

A Gunning Patient.

Muller meets his friend Nagel at the Turkish baths. Each is troubled with a gouty foot and has been ordered massage by his doctor. During the operation Muller cried lustily with pain, while Nagel maintained a stolid composure, greatly to Muller's astonishment, who afterward asked him:

"How could you stand the rubbing so quietly? Didn't it hurt you atrociously?"

"Nothing of the kind," smilingly replied Nagel. "I simply held out my healthy foot."—Lustige Elster.

Scared Them Off.

Friend—How is this? I thought you were to be called as a witness in that trial. Sharp—I got out of it.

"Eh? Why, I heard that both sides were after you!"

"I scared them both off."

"Cracky! How?"

"Told 'em that if I was called I would tell the truth."—Punch.

AWFUL STATE OF AFFAIRS

THE DESTRUCTION IN ARMENIA FULLY VERIFIED.

Armenian Homes Burned and the People Verging on Starvation—Wm. O'Brien Tells of a Ready-made Army to Oppose Britain—Cable Letter Which Was Not Written to Please Loyal Canadians.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Consular reports and other information received at the Foreign Office confirm the worst fears of the destruction of the Armenians within the area from Trebizond southward to Van and from Alexandretta northward to Karahissar. Whole Christian towns and villages have been pillaged and burned and their inhabitants massacred. Those who have been left alive have been forced to abandon their faith and turn Mohammedans. Accurate details concerning the condition of affairs in the districts beyond the immediate spheres of the consulates remain wanting, but there is no reason to doubt the reports derived from fugitive survivors and the better sort of Turks, who have not shared in the outrages, that a similar condition of affairs exists in those places.

The correspondent of The Speaker, the paper which first gave publicity to the Armenian outrages, is now known to have close relations with the consulates in Constantinople, and from information derived from them, he estimates that no less than 500,000 persons have either been killed or are now dying of starvation, beyond the chance of timely relief. He says that after the soldiers had sacked the Armenian towns and villages, the Kurds completed the plunder. The latter mixed what grain they could not carry off with dung and set fire to the houses, leaving the people with no food, and their homes heaps of smouldering ruins.

The Ambassadors have advised the Porte to permit the Red Cross Society to enter the relief of the distressed people, but the presence of hundreds of Red Cross agents would reveal horrors that the Porte must conceal. This fact debars the possibility of the Government giving its assent to the plan.

"WE ARE ALIVE, PRAISE THE LORD." The representative of the United Press in Constantinople has received a letter from the Hagia Sophia, which begins with the words: "We are alive, praise the Lord." The letter refers to the prominent part that Circassians have taken in the atrocities around Hagia, and says that 10,000 Circassians and Turks were actively employed in sacking the Christian villages. The Governor did nothing to protect the Christians, and even refused them permission to defend themselves. He did, however, promise the aid of regular Turkish troops, who, the writer states, were of the same feather as those engaged in the murders and pillage.

In the face of these statements, the official Turkish statements, repeatedly communicated to the press, that order has been restored everywhere, become worthless. If the Foreign Office published all information, says the Speaker, Lord Salisbury would not dare to appear in public. He would be mobbed in the streets.

MR. O'BRIEN BREAKS LOOSE AGAIN.

An article written by William O'Brien for the Revue Politique, on "The European aspect of the Irish question," has attracted attention, owing to the developments in the Irish case, which began with the Irish bond of sympathy with England's enemies has not disappeared. The new movement begun in Chicago ought to be for statesmen a matter of study. The Irish-Americans have sufficient influence with the United States to stop the progress of a family enterprise between the two great English-speaking nations. They have also the power to arouse an enemy that England has the most reason to fear in the world. The Foreign Office of the Celtic association, he says, would form a ready-made army for a French or Russian expedition, which would put rifles in their hands, and they would capture Cork and Limerick and hold them long enough to allow Irishmen to round their flag. Mr. O'Brien is of the opinion that the English fleet watching the channel could not prevent a landing in Ireland.

BRITISH GREED AGAIN.

The latest instance of British greed for new territory is the proposed protectorate over Lower Siam, which would place the whole Malay peninsula, from Singapore to Burma, under British rule. The Westminster Gazette states that the extension has been on the cards for years, and has been clearly explained to France. Such a protectorate, it is claimed, would be welcomed by the Malays who are only nominal tributaries of Siam, while the mineral and other resources of wealth in the country are of great importance to Great Britain.

The other papers curtly refer to the acquisition in a similar strain, as it is the natural consequence of the position of the territory between countries already held by England.

Scrofula lurks in the blood of nearly every one, but Hood's Sarsaparilla drives it from the system and makes pure blood.

STORMS IN BRITAIN.

Numerous Wrecks and Considerable Damage to Shipping.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The unexceptionally heavy weather which has prevailed during the past week over the British Isles has done today. There have been numerous small wrecks reported and considerable damage has been done to shipping, but the loss of life has been small. The lightship at the mouth of the river Dee was blown away this morning with her crew of five men.

The telegraph lines in the northern part of the country have been damaged and communication is interrupted.

IN THE NORTH SEA.

The gale is very violent over the North Sea and it is feared that the number of wrecks will be considerably increased.

A despatch received here from Antwerp says that traffic in the streets of that city has been stopped and that navigation of the Scheldt is impossible. The Red Star line steamer Friesland for New York was the only steamer able to leave port.

MANY WERE DROWNED.

Several ships were ashore on the Dutch coast and the German bark Leier from Kotka, has been wrecked near Nieuwediep. Only two of the crew were saved, the remainder being drowned after the bark was driven ashore, where she soon became a total loss.

READ WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY OF POND'S EXTRACT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29, 1894.
I have used "Pond's Extract" for many years and always insist upon my patients getting "Pond's," not the ordinary Extract, which is often a very poor article. W. K. BROWN, M. D.

I have been using Pond's Extract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the experience you mention of druggists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't believe it. ## The Times

DR. FRANCY IS FREE.

Arrested on a Charge of Abduction Near Sault Ste. Marie.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—A despatch from Lindsay announces that Dr. C. H. Francy, who was the chief witness for the Crown in the Alger Insurance case, recently tried at Whitby, was arrested some days ago at Blind River.

Dr. Francy left Toronto with the intention of taking up a practice in the Blind River district, which is 50 miles this side of Sault Ste. Marie. On Dec. 5 he was arrested by Constable William Coxworth, of Stouffville, on a charge of having committed a criminal offence, the date of the alleged crime being placed in April, 1894. The warrant for Dr. Francy's arrest was issued by Magistrate Benjamin Parker of Uxbridge township.

Immediately after the arrest had been effected Inspector Murray was informed of the fact, and he communicated with the County Crown Attorney at Whitby advising him of the circumstances, and stating that Dr. Francy being a witness for the Crown in the cases of the Queen against Alger, Horner and Brown and a possible witness in other cases yet impending, was in this country under protection. It is understood that Dr. Francy, having been given a pledge of freedom while in the Dominion in his character as a witness for the Crown, will not be prosecuted on any charges.

Dr. Francy was brought before a magistrate on Saturday and was released on instructions from the Attorney-General because he had been quarantined from arrest. The Crown holds that while in this country under the circumstances he cannot be prosecuted.

GIVEN UP TO DIE.

Shop Closed Up Two Months—The Patient Takes Dose of Kidney Pills.

Special to The Times.

RICHMOND, Dec. 9.—A correspondent at Ottawa, of a Toronto paper investigating alleged cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills found himself here among ardent friends of this great kidney treatment. Seeing McCarthy at work in his shop after being closed for two months in expectation of death from Bright's disease, that friend referred him to the man who advised him to use the Pills. This was Wm. McCord, a farmer who had been helpless and bed-ridden for twenty-seven months with what was said to be "Incurable Diabetes." On calling the correspondent found Mr. McCord ploughing in the field. A few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills had worked the cure. It was a matter of no surprise as they always cure.

TORONTO FORGERY CASE.

A STRONG OPINION IS BEING MADE FOR THE PRISONERS.

Investigating the Alleged Forgery of Dominion Bank Bills—The Bills Were Very Clumsy Forgeries.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—The feature of the trial of the alleged counterfeiters Crawford, Kramer and Smith, is the manner in which enterprising firms are taking advantage of the case to advertise themselves. The Court-house officials, the lawyers and even Judge Falconbridge have been sent advertisements in the form of checks and bills in the hope that the firms would be mentioned. E. F. Johnston, Q. C., received a $2 bill advertising cider, while His Lordship Judge Falconbridge got a check advertising ready-made pants. The closing stages of the Crown's case for in favour of the defence. Col. Feller, Controller of Finance, stated that he did not understand how any man who had ever seen paper currency could be deceived by such clumsy forgeries.

W. J. Dixon, who printed 4,000 of the labels, said it was done openly, no attempt being made at concealment, and the bills were lying about his place where anybody could see them.

The defence instructed Sheriff Brodie, Kenneth Chisholm, ex-M.P.P., W. A. McCulla, ex-M.P.P., all of Brampton, and James Proctor, all of whom gave Crawford an excellent character.

FOR CHAIR LABELS.

Mrs. Crawford then took the stand and said that the bills were struck off for use as labels on cigar boxes. She admitted, however, to Mr. Barron that she did not recall a case where they had been used for such a purpose.

Willie, Smith, a 13 year old boy, son of the prisoner, said that they kept and sold crayons in their store. He stated that he had never seen the counterfeit bills before and denied that his mother had posted him.

IN HIS OWN BEHALF.

Then W. J. Kramer took the stand. He said he has worked as a wood engraver here for 12 years coming here from New York where he worked for Harpers. He was shown a bundle of genuine notes and stated that it was impossible to imitate them by wood engraving. He said he charged $14 for the work which Crawford brought him. This was three years ago. Crawford told him that he wanted to use the imitation bills as labels. Kramer was afraid so he consulted Lawyer Lake who stated that as long as the bills could not deceive anyone he, Kramer, was not amenable to the law. The work was done, he gave the $12 bill plate to Crawford and saw nothing more of the work for three years. The plate was returned and remained in his possession ever since except when Phillips & Smith, the printers, borrowed it from him to print advertisements for some one on Yonge street.

A $1 PLATE.

This year Crawford asked him to make a $1 bill plate for cigar box labels. He refused to make the plate as the price ($13) was too low and he got the bill done by electrotype process. He engaged W. J. Mole to do the drawing and waits did the photo engraving. When accused of being concerned in the trouble he was shown a $2 bill and asked if he had made it. He recognized that it was not one of the labels and said he knew nothing about it. He then took the detectives down and showed them the plates he had made.

T. M. Stewart, of Miller & Richards, followed and gave Kramer an excellent character, after which the defence put Detective Harrison into the box. He gave Crawford an excellent character. The latter, however, did not take the stand, neither did Smith, of whose character no one spoke either one way or the other.

E. F. B. Johnston then addressed the jury.

BLUE JACKETS LANDED.

In Constantinople to Guard the British Embassy—Russia Takes Firm Ground.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The Chronicle publishes a despatch from Constantinople which says that sailors from the guardships Cockatrice and Imogene have been landed to protect the British Embassy. The Daily News' Constantinople correspondent says: "It is probable that as a result of negotiations said Pasha will voluntarily quit the British Embassy. Lord Salisbury has telegraphed his approval of Sir Phillip Currie's conduct. Meantime the gates of the Embassy are closed and the force which was landed from the Ambassador's yacht Imogene patrols the ground."

Russia's hesitation has ceased. It is currently reported that M. Nelidoff, the Russian Ambassador, today gave the Sultan the Czar's message, insisting upon the entry of the guardships. Nothing is known of the Foreign Office of the report that the Sultan had determined to issue the firmans asked for by the powers for the passage of extra guardships through the Straits of the Dardanelles.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—A despatch to the Herald from Vienna says:—The Cabinets of St. Petersburg and Berlin will agree to a compromise policy with regard to the Eastern crisis. They regard said Pasha as simply a rebel, and the asylum given him in the British Embassy at Constantinople as a violation of the rights of the Sultan.

STORMS AND EARTHQUAKES.

Immense Damage Occasioned Throughout Italy and Switzerland.

Special to The Times.

BERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 9.—The severe storms which have prevailed over Switzerland during the past few days and throughout Europe in general have caused great damage, especially in the villages in the mountain districts of Switzerland. An earthquake shock was felt at Hasli, also known as Ober Hasli, in this canton.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—A special despatch from Rome announces that numerous wrecks have occurred during the great storms which have swept over Italy. Much damage has been done, especially along the coasts.

VENEZUELA GETS ENGLAND'S NOTE.

It Demands $60,000 Indemnity, Which Will be Refused.

Special to The Times.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Dec. 9.—The English note is said to have been received here today. It is now in the hands of the German Minister. He will deliver it today to President Crespo when the latter comes to the capital to appoint a new Cabinet and to relieve Vice President Acevedo, who has been Acting President during the absence of Gen. Crespo.

The British Government demand $12,000 ($60,000) for the arrest of Venezuelans of Englishmen in English territory, the disputed region on the borders of British Guiana. Venezuela will not pay it.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. T. great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had another sensation. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." Mrs. DAIKIN, 55 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. TOOK FIRE AT SEA.

Stannard, from Shields Nov. 13, via Dundee Nov. 16, for New York, took fire in the fore hold when about 40 miles north of Cape Wrath, on the northwestern extremity of Scotland. She ran for one of the Forne Islands, struck a rock and went down with 27 of her crew, only one being saved. A passenger named Jackson was also drowned. The Principia was a barkentine rigged vessel under charter to the Arrow Ship. She was owned by the Arrow Ship. She was registered 1,700 net and 2,740 gross tons. Simpson, Spence & Young are the New York agents of the line.

ALIVE IN HER COFFIN.

Narrow Escape of a Woman From Being Buried in Pit.

Special to The Times.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 9.—The mining settlement of Duryea, located two miles above here, was the scene of a sensation caused by a supposed dead woman reviving just as the undertaker was about to close the lid of the coffin. The woman was Mrs. Romaniski widow of 40. She was suddenly taken ill on Monday and on Tuesday grew worse, and then apparently died. Yesterday an undertaker proceeded to arrange the preliminaries for the funeral. Upon going to the coffin to fasten down the lid, to his horror the supposed corpse opened her eyes and glanced about the room. While her astonishment was great that of the guests was far greater, and many of the women present became greatly excited. The funeral was postponed and a doctor summoned. He said the case was one of suspended animation. Mrs. Romaniski will live.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 11, 1865.

The Quebec legislature made a mistake when it refused to abolish its second chamber. Ontario is a bright example of the wisdom of single chamber government.

The insurgent raids are approaching constantly nearer to Havana, despite the exertions of the Spanish commanders. The war in Cuba, however, continues to have the character only of a succession of raids. No real campaign has been fought yet, nor do the insurgents seem to contemplate any.

If any one thinks that Clarke Wallace means to let go of that $5000 a year job of his just because the Government means to introduce remedial legislation, he is making a sad mistake. Clarke Wallace is not that kind of a Clarke Wallace.

The next important piece of news from Constantinople is not unlikely to be that the Sultan has met one of the two fates which are open to Eastern rulers at such crises—assassination or deposition. With a new Sultan, the Eastern Question could be kept closed for an indefinite time to come.

The solicitor generalship does not seem to be a very important matter in our political administration. There is no hurry in filling it up anyway. Perhaps it might be dispensed with altogether. There are severe applicants for it, however. It is said it has been "promised." Will the "promised" one get it?

Supreme Chief Ranger Oronhyatekha has also entered the field in support of his Forensic colleague. He endeavors to make his influence felt by issuing a manifesto setting forth the excellent parts of J. A. McGillivray, which it is evidently expected will influence the brethren to cast their votes for the Supreme Secretary.

The local politicians are taking things coolly. Although an election is certain within a few months at farthest, no nominations have yet been made in West Peterborough by either party. Mr. Stevenson will undoubtedly be the Conservative candidate. It is said that Mr. Richard Hall will be urged to accept nomination and should he not be prevailed upon to accept, the nomination will be tendered Mr. R. S. Davidson.

San Francisco is glorying in the thought that it will soon have the largest store in the world. A big department store to be called the Emporium is now being built there which will cover 6,000 feet more space than the noted Bon Marche in Paris. It is to contain, besides the multitudinous departments found in the big stores of most big cities, a cycling school a barber shop, a bank and a candy factory.

Alexander Graham Bell's latest mechanical device is intended for the fishermen who are frequently cut off from their vessels by fog, and lose their lives as frequently by lack of drinking water as by exposure. The invention consists of a glass cylinder or bottle, through the neck of which his small rubber tube. The glass is submerged, and a brass cylinder, acting as a bellows through the rise and fall of the waves, pumps the atmosphere into the submerged bottle. There it becomes condensed, and a supply of fresh drinking water is always to be obtained.

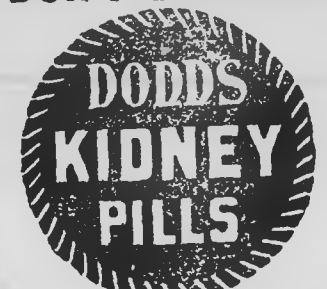

A niece of Charles Kingsley is one of the lions of London just now. She is an African explorer and has won laurels of which any man might be proud. She returns to England with a collection of fresh-water fish for the British Museum. During her travels she ascended the Cameroon Range, living among cannibals, and one of her exploits was to shoot a big gorilla, the two front teeth of which she wears around her neck. She will write a book and then back to her dear wilderness will she be, for she does not like London.

Governor Matthews of Indiana is making a record as a pardoner. In less than three years he has held the office he has released 196 prisoners, against a record for the previous four years of some two hundred pardons. "I would never pardon a man who stole for himself," says the governor, "but when it can be shown that a man through misfortune is brought face to face with want, and he steals in order that his wife and children shall not go hungry, I will pardon him every time."

The report of the sanitary inspector of the city of Glasgow indicates that the killing of the horse for food has evidently become quite extended as business in Scotland. That document, after stating that the so-called Horse Flesh act, requiring all knackers and sellers of horse meat to take out a license, has been strictly obeyed throughout Glasgow, and that no sellers have applied for a license, sets forth that two knackeries are located in that city alone and that they do a good business. Their products are exported to Antwerp. Other large places in Scotland are supposed to have slaughter houses devoted to the same animal.

A census is to be taken in France next year, and for the first time in history it is expected the population of that country will be shown to be smaller than that of the British Isles. When the last census was taken, in 1891, there was a difference about half a million, but in the meantime the British have been gaining, while the French have stood still. The favorite argument of the Gallic writers on population, such as Lavasseur, has been that a small number of births to a family is a characteristic of a high state of civilization. Small families mean a greater participation of the members in the fruits of progress. There is less poverty and misery, they say. Whether Frenchmen can extract enough comfort from this view to compensate for the knowledge that they are rapidly running behind their rivals Germany and Great Britain, in effective resources in case of the war which they are understood to be looking for is a question which they must determine for themselves.

The Rev. J. L. Murray, of Kincardine, Ontario, assured in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, in December, 1874, under Policy No. 1405, on the Twenty Year Endowment plan, paying an annual premium of $50.00 for ten years. He paid into the Company in all $500. In December, 1894, his Endowment matured, and he received a cheque from the Company for $1,364.70, being a return of all the premiums paid, and in addition, $865.70. That is to say Mr. Murray got back all the money he invested, with about 4 1/2 PER CENT. COMPOUND INTEREST, and had his life assured for $1,000 for twenty years free of charge.

It is needless to say that Mr. Murray was much pleased. You may gather that fact from the perusal of his letter here to appended. QUERY:—How many of the people of Peterborough invests their money to better advantage?

N. B.—This is an example of profits paid under our Five Year Distribution plan. The results under our Reserve Dividend (or Semi-Tontine) policies may reasonably be expected to greatly exceed that realized under the above plan.

The Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, Montreal.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your cheque in full settlement of claim under my Ten Payment Twenty Year Endowment policy, No. 1405, and I desire to express my satisfaction with the result of my investment. I paid to the Company an annual premium of $50.00 for ten years, making a total of $500, for which I now receive a cheque for $1,364.70, being a return of all I have paid the Company, and in addition, $865.70, besides having had my life assured for $1,000 during the twenty years. This I consider very good indeed, and I have pleasure in giving my testimonial to that effect.

Yours sincerely, (Signed) REV. J. L. MURRAY.

SEEN IN A STORM.

appeal forcibly to your gastronomic tastes, Bob."

"I think I like orates better," said Bob.

These small relatives of mine were devoted to me and my conversation, principally, I think, because I used large words. They were very fond of those and understood them well enough. What they didn't understand they enjoyed more, on the same principle that their elders enjoy Wagner or Browning, I suppose.

When we reached the sound, I tied Prince to a fence in the shade and settled myself in the shadow of a clump of bay bushes, where I could see the children down on the beach.

The tide was out, and Bob and Bess scrambled down the cliff to the water's edge, where they amused themselves "scrunching" barnacles on the wet rocks and seeing how far they could walk without slipping in, which they did every three or four steps, with shrieks of laughter.

When lunchtime came, I whistled on my fingers for the children, a useful accomplishment taught me by Bob. They came climbing up, dirty, hungry, with handkerchiefs full of skates' eggs, periwinkle spawn, pebbles and sea moss.

I wiped their faces and set about laying the table. Bob decorated the cloth, and Bob turned handsprings in the grass. I had packed rather more lunch than usual, and the sight of two fried cake men elicited shrieks of delight from Bob. He insisted on saying grace, which he did with one hand on the bigger man, for fear Bess should snatch it while he was engaged in religious observance.

When we opened our eyes, there stood the milkman watching us. He had a book in his hand and looked even more surprised to see us than we were at his appearance.

"Won't you take supper with us?" I said, forgetting that he was a milkman. He hesitated a moment, then accepted. Bess looked at him for a moment, for she was rather shy with strangers, but was soon amiably off her feet as an arm of her friend man.

While he was dismembering the victim I stole a glance at him. He looked thoroughly high bred. His clothes were loose, but of fine material and unquestionably well cut. His shoes and the feet within them were faultless in size and shape, though the shoes were rather the worse for wear.

"Pretty old, aren't they?" said he. He had a way of divining my thoughts which was to me marvelous.

"Not very," I returned, smiling, and he again turned his attention to Bess.

When the children had finished lunch, nothing could keep them beside me, though I tried my best, for without the excuse of the milk I found conversation with the milkman embarrassing.

"Miss Russell," he said, looking away from me over the water, "I am going away tomorrow. Won't you try to forget I am the milkman and remember me only as a friend who—likes you very, very much?"

"Tomorrow?" I echoed. "Surely not tomorrow!"

"Yes, tomorrow!" He was looking at me keenly. "You will miss our little chats over the milk?"

"So much." I was beginning to realize how much, now I knew he was really going.

"And now you will talk to Smith?"

"You know I will not." My eyes filled with tears. I looked away from him to conceal them.

"You will let me thank you for the happiness knowing you has been to me," he went on after a moment's pause. "I shall miss you so much."

"It has been a pleasure to me, too," I replied a little formally.

He leaned toward me entreatingly. "You have been so good, so sweet, to me all summer, won't you forget I am a milkman just for this little half hour?"

"I always forget it," I said gently.

"You never do. You talk for a few moments, and then you remember, and you freeze at once. I don't blame you, but tell me—is that the only reason? If I were not a milkman, would you despise me still?"

"I don't despise you now."

"But I mean, do you think—do you think you could like me a little, Miss Russell—Sybil—I must tell you—I have no right—but I love you. Don't be angry with me. I am going tomorrow. I could not help speaking—but you won't look at me any more?"

"I am going to see you," he said, and he put his hand pleadingly on my shoulder. I could not answer him. I was so surprised, so happy. I only turned my cheek against his hand. He seemed astonished for a moment, then caught me in his arms.

"Sybil, Sybil, darling!"

We didn't say much for awhile, but by and by he said:

"Sybil, do you think you can bear a severe blow?"

I thought I could endure anything with his arms around me, but a vision of the widow and nine children suddenly loomed up in the distance, and I said faintly:

"I don't know."

"Try, dear. It's this: I don't think you quite understand about me. Sybil, you see, I'm not a milkman."

"Not a milkman?" I echoed.

"You see, I offered to drive the milk wagon one day when Smith was ill. I board there, you know. It wasn't much fun until a little woman, with an asparagus plume in her hair, came prancing down the path for the milk."

"But, but—afterward?"

"Oh, afterward, I borrowed the milk wagon at the corner every morning and drove it a block. I waited a great deal of Smith's time, Sybil."

"Then what are you?" I gasped, holding his arm tightly.

"Only a professor," he said, with mock humility.

"Of what?"

"Mathematics."

"Where?"

"At X. college."

"Then you have cheated me. I'll never forgive you." I drew away from him and began to sob.

"Please forgive me."

"A professor!" I repeated amid my tears.

"Sybil, don't cry! What is the trouble? I thought you would be pleased, Sybil."

He was plainly nonplused.

"A professor of mathematics, and I offered to help you with your sums!" How could you?" I wailed.

"And so you shall, Sybil. You shall do them all if you like. Don't be angry any more, Sybil. I'm going tomorrow."

"Must you go?" I cried, putting out my hand to him, and so I tacitly agreed to help him with all his sums.

When the children came from the shore, the ex-milkman packed a couple of very sleepy children, a very empty hamper and a very happy girl into the phonon ready for the drive home.

"I'll see the judge in the morning, sweetheart," he said and gave my hand a tiny squeeze as he handed me the reins and bade me "Good night."—Kate Gray Richardson in Short Stories.

HOME, SWEET HOME.

REMOVAL OF THE REMAINS OF JOHN HOWARD PAYNE.

Brought From Tunis to His Native Land. Pathetic Scene in the Little Protestant Church—Something About the Last Days of the Sweet Singer.

I chanced upon Mr. John Worthington the other day just after his return from Tunis, where he has been United States consul since his appointment to that position by President Arthur in 1882. From time to time I have noticed extracts from his consular reports in the newspapers but I particularly remembered his connection with the removal of John Howard Payne's remains to this country from Tunis at the instance of Mr. Corcoran of Washington.

Mr. Worthington said that one of the earliest and most interesting duties he had to perform as consul was to go to Tunis and exhume the body of John Howard Payne, the author of "Home, Sweet Home." This was on Jan. 6, 1883. Payne had been the American consul at Tunis and died there in 1838. His body lay in St. George's cemetery, in the heart of the town of Tunis, for 39 years, when Mr. Corcoran, the Washington banker, obtained permission from the state department to take it up and bring it to America.

"When I arrived at Tunis," Mr. Worthington continued, "it was noon—the exhumation was to take place at 1 o'clock. At the grave I found assembled Sir Thomas F. Head (the British consul general), one or two gentlemen connected with the American consulate and about 20 other gentlemen, some of them Tunisians, dressed in the costumes of the country. Among the latter was an old dragoman, who had been present at his death and funeral.

"There was nothing whatever left of the body except the skeleton, and in removing this skeleton from the grave to a coffin we had to put some of the earth in with it, as the coffin in which the body had been buried had crumbled away, the earth and bones becoming mixed.

"In stooping over the grave I noticed that the root of a tree—a poplar tree—had just begun to creep over the forehead. This I pulled away, and in so doing exposed a piece of bone as large as a ivory, which, together with a branch of the poplar tree, I sent to Mr. Corcoran at Washington. I also obtained five or six brass buttons from the uniform in which Payne had been buried, one of which I sent to Mr. Corcoran, one to the secretary of state—in fact, I gave them all away, not keeping even one for myself.

"The body was then taken to the little English Protestant church at Tunis, where, the coffin having been covered with an American flag, we placed it on a table at the foot of the chancel and directly under a window which had been erected to Payne's memory by English and American residents, and on which was inscribed: 'To the memory of John Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home."'

This was just about sunset. The ceremony which took place was of a simple nature. An English naval officer played the air of "Home, Sweet Home" on a little American melodeon which stood there, and after considerable urging I induced my wife to sing the words. This she at last consented to do, and standing there in the beautiful twilight singing helped to make one of the most pathetic scenes I have ever witnessed. At first she sang in brave tones, but gradually as she began to think how this little scene might some day become historic, her voice trembled and trembled—which only added pathos to the scene—until there was not a dry eye in the church. Arabs, foreigners and all were wiping away the tears. It was simply overwhelming.

"There we left the body all night. The next day, at noon, we again assembled, when the coffin containing all that was left of Payne was carried to the Marliana, whence it was put aboard a French ship bound for Marseilles. It was then transferred to a ship coming to the United States, where it was taken to Washington and buried.

"Over the grave in Washington Mr. Corcoran dedicated a handsome monument, with appropriate ceremonies.

"The people of Tunis, as I learned afterward, felt aggrieved that even the old tombstone which had covered the grave for 80 odd years had been taken away to America. This was done by a mistake. Mr. Corcoran wrote me, and when he was informed of their feeling he at once authorized me to have a monument put up over the empty grave in Tunis. This I did, duplicating the one in Washington, except instead of putting a bust, as on the Washington monument, I had a little group of symbols cut for the top, one a ribbon, on which were carved the first few notes of "Home, Sweet Home," and the inscription from 2nd Ray Riley Smith's poem, "Sometime," "Then Be Content, Poet Heart," and the other a laurel wreath.

"I suppose Mr. Worthington, who obtained considerable information regarding Payne's life in Tunis."

"Yes, I did, particularly from a Mr. Alfred Chappillie, the present United States vice consul in Tunis. He knew Payne very well and was very kind to him. It was through Mr. Chappillie largely that Payne was enabled to receive the assistance which made his last days comfortable without Payne knowing that it was charity. He was proud, he fancied—and his friends led him to believe—that the money he was living on was his own, whereas, as a matter of fact, his friends were helping him. He supposed it was his money which had been saved for him out of his own income.

"Payne lived in a fine large house in Tunis, which he had succeeded in getting the key to let him occupy in his capacity as a servant of the United States. As he began to fail he staid in the house a great deal, sitting in a large chair, well wrapped up, with a hot fire burning—this, too, in the hot climate to be found there—contenting himself with brandy and soda. He finally died from exhaustion from inability to eat or retain anything, lying on brandy altogether during the last few days of his life."—Philadelphia Press.

TORONTO FORGERY CASE.

A STRONG DEFENCE IS BEING MADE FOR THE PRISONERS.

Investigating the Alleged Forgery of Dominion Bank Bills—The Bills Were Very Clumsy Forgeries.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—The feature of the trial of the alleged counterfeiters Crawford, Kramer and Smith, is the manner in which enterprising firms are taking advantage of the case to advertise themselves. The court house officials, the lawyers and even Judge Falconbridge have been sent advertisements in the form of checks and bills in the hope that the firms would be mentioned. E. F. Johnson, C.C., received a $2 bill advertising elder, while His Lordship Judge Falconbridge got a check advertising ready made pants.

The closing stages of the Crown's case told in favor of the defence. Col. Toller, Comptroller of Finance, stated that he did not understand how any man who had ever seen paper currency could be deceived by such clumsy forgeries.

W. J. Dixon, who printed 4,000 of the labels, said it was done openly, no attempt being made at concealment, and the bills were lying about his place where anybody could see them.

The defence first called Sheriff Broddy, Kenneth Chisholm, ex M.P., W. A. McCullagh, ex M.P., all of Brampton, and James Proctor, all of whom gave Crawford an excellent character.

FOR CLEAR LABELS.

Mrs. Crawford then took the stand and said that the bills were struck off for use as labels on cigar boxes. She admitted, however, to Mr. Barton that she did not recall a case where they had been used for such a purpose.

Willie Smith, a 13 year old boy, son of the prisoner, said that they kept and sold crayons in their store. He stated that he had never seen the counterfeit bills before and denied that his mother had posted him.

IN HIS OWN BEHALF.

Then W. J. Kramer took the stand. He said he had worked as a wood engraver here for 12 years coming here from New York where he worked for Harper's. He was shown a bundle of genuine notes and stated that it was impossible to imitate them by wood engraving. He said he charged $14 for the work which Crawford brought him. This was three years ago. Crawford told him that he wanted to use the imitation bills as labels. Kramer was afraid so he consulted Lawyer Lake who stated that as long as the bills could not deceive anyone he, Kramer, was not amenable to the law. The work was done by Phillips & Smith, the printers, borrowed from him to print advertisements for some one on Yonge street.

A $1 PLATE.

This year Crawford asked him to make a $1 bill plate for cigar box labels. He refused to make the plate as the price ($13) was too low and he got the bill done by electrotype process. He engaged W. J. Lake to do the drawing and Watts did the photo engraving. When accused of being conceivably in the trouble he showed a $2 bill and asked if he had made it. He recognized that it was not one of the labels and said he knew nothing about it. He then took the detectives down and showed them the plates he had made.

M. Stewart, of Miller & Richards, loved and gave Kramer an excellent character, after which the defence put Detective Harrison into the box. He gave Crawford an excellent character. The latter, however, did not take the stand, neither did Smith, of whose character no one spoke either one way or the other.

E. F. Johnston then addressed the jury.

BLUE JACKETS LANDED.

In Constantinople to Guard the British Embassy—Russia Takes Firm Ground.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The Chronicle publishes a despatch from Constantinople which says that sailors from the guard ships Comatrice and Imogene have been landed to protect the British Embassy.

The Daily News' Constantinople correspondent says: "It is probable that as a result of negotiations said Pasha will voluntarily quit the British Embassy. Lord Salisbury had telegraphed his approval of Sir Phillip Currie's conduct. Meantime the gates of the Embassy are closed and the force which was landed from the Ambassador's yacht Imogene patrols the ground."

Russia's position has ceased. It is currently reported that M. Nelidoff, the Russian Ambassador, today gave the Sultan the Czar's message, insisting upon the entry of the guardships.

Nothing is known at the Foreign Office of the report that the Sultan had determined to issue the firmans asked for by the powers for the passage of extra guardships through the Straits of the Dardanelles.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—A dispatch to the Herald from Vienna says:—The Cabinets of St. Petersburg and Berlin will not consent to any aggressive policy with regard to the Eastern crisis. They regard said Pasha as simply a rebel, and the asylum given him in the British Embassy at Constantinople as a violation of the rights of the Sultan.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, taken at this season, will make you feel strong and vigorous and keep you from sickness later on.

CONFESSED TO MURDER.

The Times

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 11 1895
TERRORS OF THE SEA.

THE WELFLESS CONDITION OF THE S. S. MANHATTAN IN A STORM.

While a Hurricane Raged Her Tall Shaft Was Broken—The Martello Towed Her to Halifax Last Night—Six Lives Snapped Like Threads.

Special to The Times.

HALIFAX, N.S., Dec. 10.—The steamer Martello, Captain Rae, from Hull, east bound to New York, steamed slowly up to the city this evening, having in tow the steamer Manhattan with her tall shaft broken. The latter steamer is bound to New York from Boston, and is almost a flying light, having only a couple hundred tons of cargo on board. Her experience while lying helpless and at the mercy of the sea is a thrilling one. The ship's captain makes the following report: "We left Rotterdam Nov. 23rd for New York, and almost from the out-set met with strong gales from the east which continued to the 29th, when the weather moderated for a time, only to spring up again. Then it again eased up and remained fairly good to Saturday, 30th. Then, a gale of wind increased to a gale from S.E., and continued all next day, when it veered to the north-west and moderated. Dec. 2nd there was a light breeze from the south-west, which by evening had increased to a moderate gale. On the 3rd, the gale increased until it was blowing a perfect hurricane, with a tremendous south-west sea, causing the ship to roll and pitch in a frightful manner.

THE SHIP BROKEN.

"The engines were running badly, and at 11.30 a.m. the steamer pitched so badly that the tall and shaft broke in the tube. This left us entirely helpless and at the mercy of the storm. The ship almost immediately fell off into the trough of the sea. Her rolling and pitching was terrible and we thought she would certainly turn over. A huge sea came crashing aboard, flooding the cabin and deck and carrying off everything movable. It is impossible almost to stand on deck without being lashed, and the crew had many narrow escapes. After a night of anxiety and peril the weather moderated, and next morning sails were put up and the steamer made. The ship drifted too leeward. At 7 o'clock on Thursday morning a large steamer responded to our signals for assistance. She was the Martello, and her captain agreed to tow us to Halifax, that being the nearest port. At 9 o'clock an attempt was made to pass lines between the ships, but, owing to the heavy sea running, this was not accomplished until 11 a.m., when 90 fathoms of 4 1/2 inch steel hawser and 45 fathoms of cable were made fast between the two ships and a start was made. The wind at this time was north-east and the sea still heavy.

THE TOWLING PART.

"The ships made nine knots, notwithstanding. At 9 a.m. the towing parted and we were again left helpless. It was dark and raining and blowing. During the night an attempt was made to pass lines, but on Friday a heavy gale was raging and by noon it had assumed the proportions of a hurricane from the south-west. The Martello was still standing by, but the hawser was pitching and rolling in a terrific manner and shipping seas fore and aft. To add to the danger the propeller and broken shaft began turning and grinding as though they would tear the stern out of the ship. The hawser continued till midnight, when it was cut. The stores had broken apart during the day and were all broken and destroyed, it being impossible to secure them.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

"On Saturday morning, the gale having subsided considerably, the Martello attempted to lower a lifeboat in order to pass the lines. While this was being done the bow slings suddenly dropped from the davits, and the boats crew were nearly precipitated into the sea. It was 11 o'clock before the lines of 60 fathoms of cable were again put out and secured between the ships. To do this the captain of the Martello very skilfully manoeuvred his steamer across our bow, when the heavy line was thrown aboard us, to which the cable was secured and thus hauled aboard. The ships again started ahead, but at 1.15 p.m. the towing again parted. At 5 p.m. another attempt was made to get the lines passed, and finally the Martello put out one of her boats and passed the 30 fathoms of hawser, to which was attached 30 fathoms of wire and 30 fathoms of chain cable. There was still a heavy sea running, but we came ahead at the rate of four knots, and reached Halifax without further mishap.

The Martello called again to-night. No agreement was made for towage and the question will likely be settled between the owners. The Manhattan will be detained here for several weeks.

GIVEN UP TO DIE.

Ship Closed Up Two Months—The Patient Takes Doctor's Kidney Pills.

Special to The Times.
RICHMOND, Dec. 9.—A correspondent at Ottawa, of a Toronto paper investigating peculiar cases by Doctor's Kidney Pills found himself here among ardent friends of this great kidney treatment. Seeing McCarthy at work in his shop after being closed for two months in expectation of death from Bright's disease; that friend referred him to the man who advised him to use the Pills. This was Wm. McCord a farmer who had been bedridden and bed-ridden for twenty seven months with what was said to be "Incurable Diabetes." On calling the correspondent found Mr. McCord pleading in a very field. A few boxes of Doctor's Kidney Pills had worked the cure. It was a matter of no surprise as they always cure.

CALLED IT ATROCIOUS CRIME.

The Seething Words Used by the Judge to Denounce the Murderer.

Special to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—In denying the motion for a new trial of W. H. T. Durant, convicted of murdering Blanche Lamont, Judge Murphy said:

"No fair consideration, and honest jury could have arrived at a different result. In the justice of your conviction the court expresses its full and entire concurrence. Indeed, the verdict thus rendered was the necessary and inevitable conclusion resulting from the evidence of your guilt as disclosed at the trial."

"There is no circumstance to mitigate the atrocity of your crime, it stands almost without parallel and without the semblance of palliation. It is claimed by the prosecution, you caused the death of the deceased in a furious attempt upon her virtue, then, addressed to you, I firmly believe, the punishment to be awarded against you."

Durant listened without a twitch of a muscle. His lawyer saved notes of an appeal.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness leads to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. T. Hood's Sarsaparilla is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." Mrs. DALTON, 66 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 13, 1865.

It is about time the Ottawa Citizen was organizing its military expedition to conquer Manitoba.

The Hamilton Spectator puts it this way: Sultan Abdul Hamid has yielded to the demands of the powers, but Sultan Greenway still remains obstinate."

Mrs. Maybrick's case is going to be re-investigated by the British home secretary, and there is a prospect that we will yet see the delectable lady on the lecture platform.

The resignation of Clarke Wallace has set the political pot a-boiling in earnest. When the head of the Orange order in the Dominion throws up a job that nets him $5000 a year for the sake of principle, it means that the brethren, who have no personal sacrifices to make will vote only for candidates who are pledged to oppose interference with Manitoba Schools.

Toronto wants the Prince of Wales to open its exhibition in 1897. In that year the meeting of the British association for the advancement of science will be held in the Queen city, and it is expected that its fine new court house and city hall will be ready for inauguration, so that there will be plenty for a royal visitor to do. It is thirty-five years since the prince was in Canada, and he might be instructed, as well as pleased, by the change he would note. Like himself, Canada has broadened out a good deal since 1860.

The Toronto Star has heard from The Khan, who has been looking after the pigs and poultry of the farm for a protracted period. One would judge by the following introductory remarks that The Khan is determined to fill up, if at all possible:

I'm here to-day and tomorrow
The same diabolic man,
Your scorn will fill me with sorrow,
Your laughter will fill up —
—The Khan.

The one redeeming feature about the matter is that laughter is a cheap line of imbibition.

Affections of the Throat.

CANADA'S IMMEDIATE DUTY.

"Get population," and all else shall be added unto you," is the message of the Colonial Secretary to the colonies. This indicates a sensitive appreciation of the colonial situation on the part of the man who is now launching an aggressive Imperial policy from the Colonial Office. It is not fleets and established battalions that he would have us get first, but population.

We who are in the colonies know perfectly well that population is our prime need. It is pure folly for Canada, for instance, with her five millions of people scattered from sea to ocean, to talk of maintaining a navy or even an army which would be felt in the shock of serious European war. We might—as Dr. Grant urges—take our militia more seriously; but any conspicuous attempt to burden Canada with the maintenance of a military force in the European sense of the term, would mainly serve to keep immigrants away from our shores.

This is right well understood in the colonies; and it is reassuring to be told that the Imperialistic Colonial Secretary thoroughly understands the situation. Britain is now proposing to spend a good deal of money colonizing parts of Africa; not because she hopes that these colonies will immediately produce an army, but because her traders want markets. All the life of the world is not war. It is, of course, absolutely necessary that Britain remain mistress of the sea and maintain a force sufficient to guard her outermost borders—nay, even the limits of her prestige—in all parts of the world. But she can do that now; and any immediate taxing of the colonies to supplement her already sufficient force would be a waste of energy that might be far more profitably employed in building up the population and business life of the colonies. The time will come when Canada will be a fighting force in the Empire, should the need for such assistance still exist; and it will come all the sooner if we do not stunt our growth and frighten away European immigration by advertising a standing army as one of the charges on our revenues. Should sore necessity come sooner, we must do what we can sooner; but at present it is our business to drill for the commercial victories of peace. As Mr. Chamberlain says: "Get population."

The comments of United States journals on the Venezuelan question have all been based upon information supplied by the Venezuelans. The British side of the question, as set forth in Lord Salisbury's note in reply to Secretary Olney, will, it is said, place the matter in a new light. There is a sensible old saying to the effect that the one side is good until the other side is heard; but unfortunately. In all matters in which Great Britain is concerned, there is only one side in the opinion of United States editors and politicians; that side is the side opposed to the interests of Great Britain.

A WESTERN ROMANCE

was breaks over these unwritten laws of cow puncher etiquette, and one infraction usually suffices to teach the transgressor his lesson.

"I allow it's about second drink time," observed Pinto Dan lazily as he watched his victim's retreat. "an I moves that we adjourn this here meetin' to the Round Up," and the cowboy congress forthwith adjourning to meet at the saloon.

The Long Horn, toward which the doctor wended his way, was the one poor excuse for a hotel in the little town. He entered the parlor, which was on the second floor, where he found a lot of hysterical women, wildly anxious to be of some assistance, but actually doing more harm than good. They fell back as he entered the room, and he saw the strange woman whose arrival had set the tongues of the town wagging.

She sat in a low chair by the open window. Her wan, white face was beautiful and refined, despite its pinched and pained expression. Her bosom was bare, and a curl from the end of the collar of heavy black hair had slipped down, just touching the head of the baby, which she was frantically urging to nurse. The child's lips were blue, and as she pressed them apart disclosed tight set pearly teeth.

"Mamma, precious little one must be hungry," she urged, with pathetic ton-derness. "Louie! Louie, little man! Look up at mamma, just once, darling!" The agonized tones fell on deaf ears. Then, with a startled upswing of her mournful dark eyes, she cried out bitterly: "He won't look at me! My God, will he never open his eyes again!"

Hugging the limp form close to her breast, she sprang to her feet and started nervously down the room, meeting the doctor almost at the door.

"Let me take the child," he said, reaching out his hands.

"No, no! He is mine,—all mine! You shall not touch him!" she cried angrily.
"Everybody tries to get him away from me, but I will not give him up. There, there, darling!" she crooned soothingly to the dullest ears as she laid her face caringly against the child's. "Mamma will shield you from harm." And she began to hum a croon song as she pressed the length of the narrow room, while the curious, frightened women huddled in a corner, mentally characterizing her as "crazy as a loon."

The doctor was nonplussed for a moment. Then he said gently: "Perhaps I can do something for your baby."
"Oh, you must be the doctor they sent for. Why didn't you say so at once? You must pardon my abruptness. My baby is so very ill, and I—I am so nervous." And she loosened her clasp that he might see the child. She watched his face anxiously as he laid his fingers on the tiny wrist.

He had seen at a glance that human skill was powerless, but had not the heart to tell the mother so just then. He took the little one from her arms, and placed it on a shawl on the piano, then, turning to the landlady, who had followed him up, ordered several articles and requested the crying women to vacate the room for the present.

"Now, madam," he said as he turned to chafe the tiny blue hands, "how did this happen? What have you given this child?"

"He was suffering so much pain and cried so hard, and a woman on the train said if I would give him some opium it would quiet and help him. She said she had some and insisted that I should try it, so I did."

"How much did you give him?"

"All she gave me—a piece as big as a peppercorn, I guess."

"Good heaven! Why, that much crude opium would kill a man. Did you want to get rid of the child?" The doctor was actually brutal in his astonishment.

"Get rid of him?" she echoed piteously as she caught the little form in her arms and hugged it to her heart. "Kill my baby, the one thing that holds me in this fence called life? Louie, look up at mamma just once, precious, and let your present tell her that you don't believe the foul slander. Louie! Oh, my darling, just one little look, or mamma's heart will break!"

The tender, agonized tones seemed to pierce the deadened hearing, for the heavy white lids swept up from the big brown eyes so like his mother's. A smile of in-effable sweetness passed over the pinched features; then, with a long, fluttering sigh and an almost imperceptible thrill the little form straightened out in her arms, and the child was dead.

Instead of the outburst of frenzied grief naturally expected, the mother stood pressing at the lifeless form, and the doctor saw steal over her countenance an expression of peaceful resignation that he could not comprehend. Without sob or moan the great tears gathered in her eyes dropped on the dead baby's face. Alarmed at last, he touched her, and she responded instantly.

"You may take him now, doctor. He will never need mamma again. Where his little feet now wander she cannot guide them. Hunger and cold cannot reach him, and there shall be no more pain, except for me," she murmured drearily as she pressed long kisses on the still smiling mouth. Then she laid the child in the doctor's arms.

He straightened the little form out upon the piano, and turning to Mrs. White, the landlady, who had just come in, followed by two or three women, he bade them array the child for burial. As the month was June and the weather oppressively hot, he felt the necessity for haste. Before leaving, however, he drew the landlady to one side and asked her what she knew of the woman. She replied that she had asked her no questions.

"She was a woman and in trouble, and I didn't need to know nothing more," was her sturdy response. It was enough. Western etiquette never questioned the unfortunate—never attempted to analyze grief.
They were drafts honored on sight. Fraud was sometimes practiced, but western heart and hospitality argued that it was better to lend the helping hand to ten impostors than to risk passing the Le-Vite, on the other side of one deserving of succor. Blasting winds and consuming drought often devastate and destroy the results of a whole year's labor, Texas fever kills the cattle, and the scab lays low the sheep profits, but the milk of human kindness, instead of souring, seems to raise purer and richer cream than ever for the Victims through which the tried hearts pass. The doctor knew that in Mrs.
White's house the desolate stranger would find shelter, and telling her that he would make all the burial arrangements he left the Long Horn on his errand. Being himself the corner and a law to himself, he felt that an inquest was unnecessary.

Just across the street from the Long Horn was the one saloon in the town, kept by an Irishman, Dennis O'Brian.
O'Brian was one of those characters peculiar to the west, between whom and his former life everybody knew a stone wall had been dropped. The whyfore nobody questioned. Nobody really cared to know, and then safety lay on the side of silence.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your cheque in full settlement of claim under my Ten Payment Twenty Year Endowment policy, No. 1406, and I desire to express my satisfaction with the result of my investment. I paid to the Company an annual premium of $60.00 for ten years, making a total of $600, for which I now receive a cheque for $1,364.70, being a return of all I have paid the Company, and in addition, $665.70, besides having had my life assured for $1,000 during the twenty years. This I consider very good indeed, and I have pleasure in giving my testimonial to that effect.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed,) REV. J. L. MURRAY.

Electrical Treatment

810 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way
that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape
of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 12, 1865.

THE COLONIAL SECRETARY.

The manner in which a strong and able head of a department can bring the interests entrusted to his care to the front and force the recognition of their value upon those whom they affect has received no more thorough exemplification than in the case of the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain's tenure of the Colonial Secretaryship. Before the Birmingham Dictator took hold of colonial affairs the office was considered unimportant as compared with other Cabinet positions. The attention of the British nation was taken up with the European situation, Russian intrigues in Afghanistan, French intrigues in Egypt, or commercial relations with the United States. Little or no attention was given to the colonies, whose position was extremely indefinite and whose affairs were regarded as worthy of concern when they called for the intervention of British diplomacy. Now all this has been changed. In spite of the Jap-Chin trouble, the Turkish embroglio and the possibility of a big European war Britons have been forced to admit that their kinsmen beyond the seas are of some importance after all. They are learning quickly that there are advantages to be derived from cultivating closer relations with the colonies, both from a strategic and commercial point of view. They find those same colonies are fast rising in importance and strength and are extending their relations with foreign powers in such a manner as to disturb lines of policy which the mother country has laid down in her treaties.

These facts are fast being crowded upon British comprehension and the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain is helping the process might and main. He is recognized as a power in British politics and his course is being closely followed by the public. What he says and does is regarded as worthy of note and when it is seen that colonial affairs are considered by him to be matters of vital importance it is only natural that other people should take that view. He is placing the British Empire under a huge obligation to him and the time will come when that obligation will be recognized.

After another careful survey of his cards, Premier Greenway has decided to sit it pat.

Several esteemed contemporaries are trying hard to work up a boom for Emperor William of Germany as King of England when the time comes to have a king. The boom is based on the alleged discovery of James Anthony Froude that in England the sons do not have precedence to daughters in the heirship to the throne. As the Prince of Wales was not born until 1841, his sister, the Empress Frederick of Germany has a year the best of him, and, it is claimed, the succession descends through the Empress. Young William of Germany is reported as knowing his rights and determined to have them, even if he has to scare the English off the battlefield by singing his own songs to them.

Affections of the Throat.

GALT, Ont., Nov. 12, 1865.—My wife suffered with pain and distress from an affection of the throat caused by impure blood. She was almost in despair but finally procured a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking six bottles of this medicine she was completely cured. John Weikner.

HOOD'S PILLS cure all liver ills.

THE I. O. F. AND POLITICS.

The Hamilton Spectator is right when it says that when Mr. McGillivray, supreme secretary of the Independent order of Foresters, become a party candidate in North Ontario, he should have resigned his office in the Foresters' organization. He should have done that if there was no other reason than the fact that the order was paying him $6,000 a year for his service—a sum that is intended to, and ought to pay him for his whole time. While campaigning for weeks in North Ontario Secretary McGillivray cannot earn his salary as secretary or any part of it, and if he chances to be elected his duties as member of parliament will interfere very much with his duties as supreme secretary of so extensive and important an order as the Independent order of Foresters. Another reason why Secretary McGillivray should have resigned is that the order is strictly non-political, and it cannot afford to have its supreme officers dabbling in party politics, making enemies of persons of other political proclivities. No matter what the facts may be the candidature of Mr. McGillivray has given rise to the statement that the members of the order generally are aiding him in his campaign, and, true or false, this statement will go a long way to prejudice a great many people against the order. It is much to be regretted that Dr. Oronhyatekha, the head of the order, has rushed into print to aid and encourage Mr. McGillivray in his candidature. The Independent order of Foresters is most generous in its salaries to the supreme officers, and they should be very careful not to alienate half the people of the country from the order, by rushing into political contests with which, as Foresters, they have nothing whatever to do.

The Hamilton Herald puts it this way: "They say that Clarke Wallace's resignation will be in the hands of the Government by the end of the week. And what about that staunch old Orangeman and defender of the open bible, Sir Mackenzie Bowell? Is he going to step down and out too?"

The seizure of Africa has gone bravely; and successfully on Great Britain, it is said, owns an area amounting to 2,500,000 square miles, France one covering 3,000,000, Germany 825,000, Belgium, through the Congo free State, 850,000, Portugal 900,000, Italy 600,000, Spain 250,000, Turkey, through Egypt and Tripoli, 840,000, leaving outside of Morocco, Liberia and the Boer republics, which cover about 500,000, an unappropriated territory of only 1,600,000 square miles, and this consists largely of either desert land or territory so far in the interior that access to it cannot be secured, and in fact, could not be secured without passing through some of the possessions of the various European nationalities.

A Nice Quiet Chat

ON this occasion we are going to use our space in THE TIMES to talk to you about our GENTS' FURNISHING DEPARTMENT.

There are lots of people in Peterborough who do not know what a fine class of goods we have in this line, and customers we cannot suit are as rare as hens' teeth. In TIES for winter wear, we have them in all kinds—Checks, Stripes, Plain or otherwise, at all prices, and a large assortment to choose from.

Also, we excel in GLOVES, BRACES, UNDERWEAR, SHIRTS and FANCY SHIRTS, &c., and our motto is "Shirts that are Shirts." As we are cranks on the subject of Shirts, we are bound to do the trade in this line.

We also wish it to be known as loudly as we can proclaim it, that we have a very fine stock of HATS and CAPS in the latest styles, made by the best makers, and we positively state that we can suit the most exacting customers that ever walked in shoe leather, in Fedoras and Stiff Hats in all shapes and styles. Caps of all kinds from the cheapest to the most expensive.

To the gentlemen of the city who wish to look always neat and dressty we would say that you ought to procure one of our fashionable

DOLL FURNITURE.

How to Make Little Beds, Chairs and Sofas Out of Old Corks.

A child is happiest when he is busy, and the mother who can invent little pastimes and everyday amusements will greatly add to the happiness of the nursery. One of the most ingenious and at the same time one of the simplest and easiest amusements is the manufacture of cork furniture for dolly's housekeeping. The first thing to do is to collect a number of old corks. These may be of various styles and sizes, from the tiny stopper of the diminutive medicine vial to the large and ungainly cork of each two gallon vinegar jug or the large flat mushroomlike cork of the marmalade jar.

These will all come in request for the different styles and sizes of furniture, and the cork and household should have instructions to lay them aside in a little box that they may afford material for the children's playhouse.

Perhaps the simplest article, and therefore the one on which the children should first try their skill, is the doll chair. The cork can either be taken in its natural shape, in imitation of one of the old fashioned, round parlor chairs, or the sides can be trimmed into an almost cubical form. In either case the side of the cork and the top should be covered with small pieces of bright colored cloth, cut to the proper shape and size, and fastened down with a little muslin or paste.

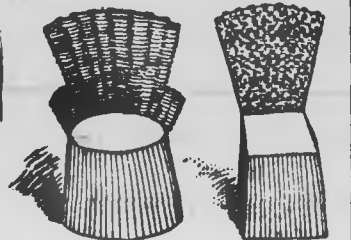

It is advisable to put on the circular or square piece of cloth for the seat first and then fasten the longer piece around the sides. Great care should be taken to have it fastened neatly with the gum. If the child processes a box of paints, he can vary the style of his furniture by substituting a coat of paint for the cloth. And now to construct the chair back. This is done with pins, sticking them carefully into the back of the seat, arranging them to have the heads all even and as close together as possible.

Naturally, if your chair was left like this, the pins would come out more easily than if they were tied together. At this stage you will also need a good supply of some crocheted cotton, which should be the same color as your cloth. Take the crocheted cotton and wind it in and out of the pins, first securing the end to one of them.

Have your rows of cotton close together, and of course begin at the bottom and work upward, fastening the thread securely at the top.

This gives you an ordinary sitting room chair. To make an armchair it is better to leave the cork in its natural round shape. The bottoms of the chairs must be quite flat, or else they will not stand properly. For the armchairs the pins must be put in a half circle. The thread is wound on the same way as on the other chairs. To make a sofa requires more time, and more difficult winding must be done. A long fresh cork must be used for the foundation.

Cut two slices, one larger than the other, off the two sides lengthways, and you will have a flat side for it to stand on, while the broader flat piece will form the seat of the sofa. Cut off a piece of cloth large enough to cover both the seat and side of the sofa and stick it on with gum, tucking in the corners neatly. Now get some small pins and stick them into one side of the seat and get some larger pins and put them at one end for the "head" of the lounge and wind the cotton in and out, as in the chairs.

A little bed is made in much the same way as the sofa, covering it with cloth, but the pins must be put in at each end and not at the side.

To make a washstand the cork must be cut in half and the sides cut off, as in the bed and sofa. Cover it with cloth and stick a pin in each corner to serve as the legs.

By this time you will think of other things you can make out of cardboard and colored paper which will make the nursery, and your dollhouse will be handsome enough for the most fastidious doll in doll-don.—Kindergarten in New York Mail and Express.

Little Milton and the Clock.
Little Milton, aged 4, inquired what time his grandma could get there. His mamma told him at 6 o'clock.

"Well, where will the hands of the clock be, then?" he asked.
His mamma pointed out the respective positions of the hands to indicate the sixth hour. Some time after the mother chanced to look at the clock and was surprised to find it all wrong. Remembering her conversation with Milton the week, she called him and inquired what had happened to the clock.

"Why, mamma," explained the boy, clapping his hands, and his eyes dancing with expectation, "I just run the hands around, so grandma would come right straight off!"

The same bright boy tells time in an entirely original way. He looks carefully at the clock and stretches out his little arms in the exact position of the hands. He will go to his mamma and say, "The little hand is here and the big hand is there." And so accurate is he in imitating that one can tell the time to a very few minutes.—Newark Call.

On His Hobby Horse.
From morning till evening a stout little man keeps riding to horse and back as he can. He rides on a horse that he never can tire. On a road that's kept warm by the nursery fire.
And when he arrives with the fairy he'll talk, And in garden of candies and gingerbread walk.
And that's why so brightly this stout little man keeps riding to horse and back as he can.—P. McArthur in Independent.

It appears that he went out hunting some time since and was not heard of for some time, when his family, becoming uneasy, his son went in search of him, with the result that he was found on the lake referred to about half submerged in the ice. It would seem that he must have got hurt and not being able to proceed across the ice, perished through cold and exposure. The body when found was hard frozen in the ice. The quarrel ensued over Smith's boast that he could throw Jones out of the room, and Jones' stubborn resistance.

WILL BE OPPOSITION.

No Chances of Mr. Cahill Being Elected by Acclamation.

Councillor Cahill, who will be brought out for the majority contest by a large number of friends, will not be elected by acclamation, it is said.

His election will be strongly opposed by another candidate whose name will be withheld until nomination day. Then a strong fight will be made for his election. It is stated that an evening paper will strongly support the "dark horse," who is widely known and very popular.

Councillor Cahill will be a strong favorite, and outside of the "knowing" few, it is generally believed he will be elected by a strong majority. His long record and faithful service in the Council will be urged as a reason why he should be honored with the mayor's chair.

His opponents will oppose his candidature on his recent vote in the Council in favor of releasing the Carbon Works, of the $4,000 mortgage which the town held against that company.

The outlook is that the majority contest will be extremely lively.

AN IMPORTANT CAPTURE.

Detective Ross Arrests a Man For Stealing a Ride Who Is Wanted.

On Monday morning C. P. R. Detective Ross was riding No. 5 express at Streetsville going north when he noticed a well dressed man get on at the end of the baggage car next to the engine. When the train stopped at Milton Mr. Ross ran to this car and met the man who pointed a revolver at him full in the face. Detective Ross arrested the stranger, took the revolver from him and took him to London, where he was charged with stealing a ride on the train.

He was tried before J. B. Smyth, J. P., convicted and sent to goal for 10 days. The stranger told the detective that he came from Kemptville Junction and from some remarks which he let slip, the detective became suspicious that the overcoat which he wore had been stolen. Kemptville Junction was wired to and in reply a message was received from the agent there stating that a farmer had been burglarized and an overcoat, suit of clothes, watch and revolver stolen on Saturday. The description tallied with the clothes and revolver in possession of the stranger, whose name is Charles Ames. He will be taken to Kemptville and charged with the burglary.

Ames told Detective Ross that his father lives one mile north of Schaw station. He was on his way home to spend Christmas. He said he left his home 5 years ago, and had not been there since. He left home when he was 17 years old, and said the reason for his leaving was because of a serious prank he had played. One day at school he placed a revolver cartridge on a hot stove. It exploded and the bullet entered the eye of a young girl causing the loss of her sight. Fearing punishment he ran away from home.

A Very Interesting Evening Spent By Its Members.

The second regular meeting of the Natural Science Association was held at the home of Mrs. Marks, Murray street. After important business had been transacted, the president, Mr. Jas. A. Fife, delivered a very interesting address, outlining:
1st—The object of the Association.
2nd—The benefits and pleasures to be derived from a study of Natural History.
3rd—The reasons for forming a society to prosecute the study of natural phenomena. The society then adjourned to the home of Mr. Elcombe, taxidermist, for the purpose of viewing his fine collection of birds, etc. Mr. Elcombe gave the society a very cordial welcome and in a very interesting manner classified his large collection of birds, noting the peculiarities of each class. In all a very pleasant and profitable evening was spent.
The next meeting of the society will be held on January 14th.

THE SESSIONS OVER.

Two Cases in Which Both the Plaintiffs Won.

When the sessions opened yesterday morning the grand jury handed in the following presentment:
Your grand jurors are pleased to have the opportunity of congratulating Your Honor upon the fact that there are no criminal cases on the docket, indicating as it does, that so far as the jurisdiction of this Court extends the country is free from crime, and although other Courts in the county have the power to deal with such cases as already pointed out by Your Honor, and may have done so within the term covered by this session, still we consider the absence of criminal cases from the docket of this court a matter of gratification.

Your Grand Jurors visited the county goal and have to report that they found everything in good order and the prisoners properly cared for.
Your Grand Jurors also visited the Nicholls hospital, the Protestant Home and the St. Joseph's hospital, and have to report that they found each in an excellent state of order and efficiency and in that condition which is calculated to best serve the purposes for which they exist. The various appointments of the two hospitals are good, contributing in a high degree to the curing, the comfort and the safety of the patients in this connection. Your Grand Jurors have to report the addition of three new fire escapes to the St. Joseph's hospital at an expenditure of some $200. All such improvements for the good convenience or safety of the public are of the utmost importance and we submit are worthy of commendation.

Your Grand Jurors also desire to point out as a result of their visit to the county goal, where a number of poor are at present lodged—and the same matter has been referred in like manner by preceding grand juries—the necessity there is for a proper home or refuge for the indigent and poor of the county, who are not criminals in the accepted sense of the term, but who are at present compelled to be confined with that class. Your Grand Jurors would urge the procuring of proper premises for the same at an early day, believing, as we do, that the expense of maintaining such an institution would add but little to the present cost of supporting the poor in jail.

In the case of Walsh v. Geo. Matthews Company, the jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $100.
The case of Blaine v. Peterborough Navigation Company resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $164.45. An appeal will be entered.

Wedding Bells.

At St. Johns church yesterday afternoon Rev. Basil Andrews was married to Miss Annie M. Rackham, daughter of Mr. W. H. Rackham, Brook street, by His Lordship, the Bishop of Toronto, assisted by Rev. J. G. Davidson. The bride was gowned in blue tulle cloth with velvet sleeves, and the bridesmaid, Miss Mamie Rackham, sister of the bride, was attired in gray tulle. The Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, A., curate of St. Johns, attended the groom. The impressive ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of guests and spectators, and afterwards the wedding party repaired to the residence of the bride's parents where the wedding feast was spread. In the afternoon the newly wedded pair left for the west. The groom was formerly assistant curate of St. Johns and is now curate of Holy Trinity, Toronto.

INS AND OUTS.

The fight over the division of the territory of Turkey will not be a patch to the squabble over the division of the harem.

Some of the councillors are going to show a spark of intelligence, which they did not show during the present year, by retiring from the field.

This is the season when the fool who rocks the boat is displaced in the obituary column by the fool who tries to prove that he dares to skate on thin ice.

This great journal has not lent its support to any mayoralty candidate, announced or unannounced. We propose to support a man who has backbone; a man who doesn't have to wear a high collar to keep his head straight; a man who can squint straight down the municipal gun barrel and draw a dead head on the skulking forms of extravagance, intrigue and "pull" and who has nerve enough in his index finger to pull the trigger when he sights the quarry. He must have an ounce of sense—this is below the average quantity accredited to all men, except municipal candidates. He must be opposed to legal waste and the illegal bonusing of every clap trap manufacturing concern that is hunting for a soft berth. He must be a man of enough leisure to allow of conscientious attention to the affairs of the town, and he must be independent enough to act on his convictions without outside or "inside" influences. He must be opposed to the "you vote for this to please me and I'll vote for that to please you plan." When such a man is nominated for mayor, this paper will support him with both feet, regardless of politics, religion or color.

We believe there are such men in this town, and they haven't been looked up since birth, either. Such a man will steer the municipal ship into the clear and shoalless waters of the Trent Valley Canal of prosperity.

A Counteracting Influence.

In the lists of the Thistles' rinks published in yesterday's issue, the name of Rev. J. J. Rae was omitted from Mr. R. S. Davidson's rink. ## A Hotelman Done Up.

A clerk in one of the leading hotels in the city, says the Ottawa Citizen, will be mighty particular henceforth as to the character and reputation of those for whom he cashes cheques. Only a few days ago a party with good address, and a neat in the hotel, filled out a cheque for $75 on an alleged bank in New York, and presented it to the clerk. It was accepted, and the money paid over. The cheque was addressed to the bank mentioned, but was returned. Upon further enquiry it was learned that no such bank existed. The case, it is said, was placed yesterday morning in the hands of the police, and telegrams sent to chiefs of police in the principal Canadian cities to be on the look out for the slick individual.

Police Court Notes.

William Lunn was charged with endeavouring to entice a witness to absent himself when summoned on a liquor case. Yesterday morning Lunn was absent at Millbrook and the magistrate enlarged the case. Richard Tice, an old gentleman was, at his own request, sent to the county goal for 6 months. This is his third term. Mrs. Margaret O'Shea, who holds the license for the Commercial hotel, was charged with allowing people in the bar on Sunday who were not her servants. The defence is that the parties were cleaning up and arranging the bar. Judgement was reserved. In the County Police Court Magistrate Edmison fined Charles McDonald, of Otonabee, 25 cents and costs for not feeding his horse. The defence was that the animal strayed away and could not be found.

Might Have Been a Tragedy.

An alarm of fire was sounded about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, and it was ascertained that the cause of the alarm was in a room on the second floor over Brand's hardware store, used as a club room by the members of the Gun Club, from the windows of which smoke was issuing in dense clouds, says the Fort Hope Times. The waterworks were soon turned on, and the fire extinguished. The damage to the building was slight, although the furniture in the room, which was not injured by the fire, was damaged more or less by water. As soon as the firemen gained access to the room, they found a young man there by the name of William Milne lying upon the floor, which was on fire. He was dragged out in a half suffocated condition, but revived when taken out to the fresh air. The young man had no rights in the room, and it is supposed he gained admission by some means, lay down on the couch to smoke and went to sleep, and a spark from the cigarette set fire to the couch, or else came in with those who were first in the room, became overpowered with the smoke and fell down in a semi-conscious condition. However he got there, had he not been discovered just when he was, a tragedy would have been the result.

AN ARMENIAN UPRISING

PANIC STRICKEN, THE ARMENIANS

A Circumstance Which Indicates How Great a Conflagration a Little Spark Will Kindle
In Turkey.

Special to The Times.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 12, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 13.—There was a disturbance in Stamboul today and it caused the spread of rumors so alarming that Calata and serious outbreaks were threatened. This, in view of the passage through the Danube canals of the British gunboat Dryad and the Italian gunboat Archimede, the extra guardships for the British and Italian embassies, formed the basis for the reports that the riot predicted by the Yiddishe Klok couriers actually commenced; but happily the trouble wasn't of a serious nature.

Stamboul quarter during which they came to blows and attracted a large crowd about them. Finally, one of the Armenians drew a revolver and fired at his opponent. The shot was the signal of an uproar, a stampede of the people, and, eventually, a panic which spread far and wide, from one end of the city to the other until matters began to look very serious indeed.

FRISH MASSACRES FEARED.
To the Armenians and the other Christians, terrified by the shouting and yelling, the rushing here and there of excited crowds, naturally imagined that a fresh massacre had commenced. They hurriedly closed their shops and houses, barricaded the doors and windows, concealed their most valuable belongings in various ways and made all the preparation possible for their defence. The women as well as the men armed themselves, as best they could after the recent domiciliary visits of the police, who searched for the Armenian residences, high and low for concealed weapons and left these unfortunate people very little to fall back upon for defence in case of an uprising of the Mussulmen. The example of the Armenians at Stamboul in their closing their shops, etc., was followed on street after street until in the briefest period of time imaginable every shop was shut and nearly all the houses were barricaded. Crowds of people male and female shut and nearly all the houses were barricaded. Crowds of people, male and female, old and young, were seized with a feeling of terror which grew in strength as time were on and the confusion increased. Large numbers of people fled hither and thither aimlessly, helplessly, apparently unaware of what they were doing, not knowing what had actually happened, dreading the worst while fearfully hoping for the best. Here and there excited people cried to seek other information. What had happened; where was the rioting; nobody seemed to know. But, there was a general impression that a massacre was in progress somewhere.

EVERYBODY LOST THEIR HEADS.

It is difficult to describe to those unacquainted with the vagaries of the population of this city and who are not familiar with the state of nervous tension which has existed here for months past, the scene of incredible alarm and disorder which prevailed here at the time of the excitement this morning. Every man seen in the streets seemed to have lost his head.

for the time and it would not have needed much more to actually precipitate a terrible outbreak.

From Stamboul the wave of terror swept to Galata and to Pera, carried onward by the panic-stricken fugitives from the first named quarter who were evidently under the impression that they were fleeing for their lives. The inhabitants of Galata quickly caught the lever of alarm and in turn shut their stores and houses and joined in the scene and the noise of the rushing multitude. Those who did not join in the stampede barricaded themselves within their houses and prepared to see their most horrible fears realized. The Armenian porters when the alarm first spread, hastily dropped their load in the streets and fled to the nearest place of safety. Drivers deserted their horses, mules or donkeys; servants ran away from their employers, many sought refuge in churches and mosques; the old and feeble were trampled upon; many were injured during the reign of terror. Women sobbed and children cried with fear and the men, as a rule, were quite as badly scared. Some English ladies ran, crying for protection, into the British embassy, while about 50 Armenians, chattering with terror, fled to the residence of the first secretary of the British embassy; the Hon. Michael Herbert and begged for shelter until all danger soon caused a majority to return to the usual occupations somewhat disgusted, having been so needlessly frightened.

Seeing people fleeing through the streets in terror caused others to do the same until the air was filled with excited cries.

WALLACE'S EXPLANATION

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN THE MANITOBA SCHOOL CASE THE CAUSE.

The Controller's Resignation and How it is Viewed—Conflicting Opinions on his Action—The Position Assumed by Wallace.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—Hon. Mr. Wallace last evening furnished the following statement to each of the city papers:

"Yes, it is true that I have forwarded my resignation to the Premier. I have been moved to take this course by recent developments in the Manitoba case. This was the remark made yesterday afternoon by Hon. N. Clarke Wallace to the question whether the report was true that he had resigned the Controllership of Customs. 'I may 15th of July speak at Ottawa,' he continued, 'I indicated my views on the question. I said: Now, for my part, and I speak under a full sense of the responsibility of my utterances, I have to say frankly but firmly that I favor the maintenance of a non-sectarian school system in Manitoba, and that if our constitution permitted I would advocate with the same fervor a similar system throughout the Dominion. More than that, I have to say, that if the occasion should arise to require a declaration to this effect on my part, or my voice and vote in Parliament, I will not hesitate one moment to give effect to the view which I have just announced.'

"Having given expression to my opinion in these terms, I had to consider whether in view of the declaration made by the Government in Parliament, I would continue in my office or not."

MR. BUTT, said the reporter, "you were a member of the Government which pledged itself at the last session of Parliament to introduce remedial legislation in the event of the Provincial authorities not finding a solution."

"No, you are mistaken," Mr. Wallace replied. "I was a member of the Government but not of the Cabinet. I had not therefore the privilege of sitting at the council board and of determining the policy that should govern the Ministry on the question. So I was not responsible as the members of the Government were, and thus had no responsibility for the course that was announced last July. At that time, however, I was assured that the representations about to be made to Manitoba would remove the question from the Federal arena. Being satisfied now that the Manitoba Government will take no action, and Parliament having been called to meet on the 2nd of January, I have thought it proper to give effect by my resignation to the opinions which I have just expressed, and which I have given utterance on several occasions. It had been my hope that the Provincial Government of Manitoba would deal with this question in a way to remove it from the arena of Federal politics, to which it does not at all belong. But that hope being disappointed, by other course consistent with my opinions and what I conceive to be my duty was open to me. I am bound to accept the statements of the Premier and of the leader of the House of Commons that under the circumstances which now present themselves their pledge will be carried out, and for that reason you can readily understand why as a life-long Conservative and as one who intends to remain of the same party it is an obligation resting upon me to state publicly the position of the day know precisely the course I intend to pursue rather than to seem by longer retaining the Controllership of Customs to be in sympathy with their policy on this question."

MR. WALLACE TO VOTE AS HE PLEASES.

"I am, you will see, as a result of my resignation, free to vote on this question when it arises in accordance with what I believe to be the sentiments of the Province of Ontario upon it. I am bound to myself, I shall, however, be found in the future, as I have been in the past, a firm supporter of the general policy of the Conservative party. I recognize fully the seriousness of the step which I have taken. It certainly cannot be charged against me that it is a selfish one. But I have felt so strongly under the necessity of interfering with the Province of Manitoba in the control of its educational affairs, and so strongly against imposing the Separate school system on that province against the will of its people as to convince me of the propriety of the step I have taken and I look for the confidence and good will of my friends in that step."

"Will not your course be damaging to the Conservative party?" the reporter asked.

"No, quite the contrary, as I look at it. My opinion is that the best interests of the Conservative party are to be promoted by permitting the provinces to control their educational affairs."

HON. JOHN COSTIGAN ON THE SITUATION.

Hon. John Costigan, who has just returned from the seat of political war in North Ontario, was seen at the Queen's this morning by a press representative in regard to the resignation of Mr. Wallace. In the opinion of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Mr. Wallace made big mistake in resigning the Controllership of Customs, and he does not think he would have done so had not strong pressure been brought to bear upon him. If he thinks that a man holding a position which Mr. Wallace held has no right to resign unless he cannot conscientiously support the policy of the Government of which he is a member. This was not the condition of things in Mr. Wallace's case, said Mr. Costigan. He was, and is in thorough accord with the Government on everything excepting remedial legislation, and he has not acted fairly with the Administration in sending in his resignation at this particular time. Mr. Costigan does not say that Mr. Wallace's indiscreet move will embarrass the Government in the least and the effect will not militate against the chances of Major McGillivray in North Ontario. He expects to see the Mayor returned by a good majority, but the Patron candidate will undoubtedly make a good run. Mr. Costigan had no idea who would be appointed to the position of Controller of Customs, but there would likely be a number of Ontario members after the place. In regard to the rumor that Mr. Willoughby, the Conservative candidate in Cardwell, would retire, Mr. Costigan said he did not believe there was any foundation for the report, as the Government expected to be able to carry the constituency.

AN OPINION FROM OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—Already the air is full of speculations as to the future. The most unlikely suggestion is that Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Wallace will join forces. Those who witnessed the attitudes of the two gentlemen last session towards each other will realize the great gulf that lies between them. It was the Controller who led the assault on Mr. McCarthy, and who attracted the attention of his enemies in dealing with this question. The charge Mr. Wallace then made against Mr. McCarthy was that he was speaking in the paid advocate of Manitoba. Apart from the personal quarrel, there is a difference of opinion between Mr. Wallace and Mr. McCarthy on the fiscal question which makes any union of action even more impossible. Mr. Wallace holds firmly to the protective policy of his party, which Mr. McCarthy has abandoned. A coalition on anything like a lasting basis seems therefore out of the question. Sir Mackenzie Bowell was asked if Controller Wallace had resigned. The Premier replied that when he had got the resignation he might have something to say about it, but so far he had received no resignation.

THE DICKS MURDER TRIAL

CONDITION OF THE CORPSE OF THE WOMAN WHEN FOUND.

Did Death Take Place Before the Fire—Evidence of the Family Physician and Prof. Caven Who Held the Post Mortem.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—The last witness called for the Crown in the trial of A. A. Dicks for murdering his wife on June 2 before adjournment yesterday were P.C.'s Samuel McGee, O'Donnell and John Tracey. McGee testified as to finding the blackened body of Mrs. Dicks. The flooring north and west of the body was gone and the joists charred. The lower part of the limbs were burned away. P. C. O'Donnell said the body was frozen to the floor and had to be removed with shovels. Mr. Tracey spoke as to the behavior of Dicks on the morning of the fire and in cross-examination said the couple appeared to be on affectionate terms.

When the court resumed this morning the cross-examination of the witness by Mr. Johnston was continued. Tracey said that neither the pipe leading from the furnace to the shop, upon which the coal oil can was found nor the floor above it was burned. There was evidence of flames on the ceiling of the bedroom over the shop.

FIRE FIRED IN THE SHOP.

Richard Scholes was the foreman of the Ossington avenue section of the fire brigade on the morning of March 2, when the firemen arrived at St. Helen's avenue. The flames were coming out of the front windows and through the roof. Dicks told the witness that his wife was in the building that she had either fallen or been carried downstairs. After searching the whole building the body was discovered in the shop. It was lying with the head to the east and the legs to the west two or three feet from the western door. The fire seemed to be the strongest in the northwest corner of the shop near this door. The floor was burned in holes and very unsafe.

In the bedroom over the shop were a mattress and some articles of clothing. To Mr. Johnston the witness said Dicks appeared to have got out of bed suddenly. During the early part of the fire before the windows were broken the body would probably be full of thick smoke caused by the searage. The firemen said that the pressure of water in the locality of the fire would probably be about 45 pounds to the square inch. Mr. Johnston enquired if such a stream from the hose would suffice to knock a person down. The witness answered in the affirmative but did not know whether a reclining body could be moved by the stream. His suggestion was that the body had been removed from its original position by the stream playing on the fire.

John F. Taylor of the Dundas street fire hall and the first person who saw the body, corroborated the last witness. He could not swear positively as to the distance of the body from the door.

James Brennan, another fireman who was present at the finding of the body also corroborated Scholes.

In cross examination Brennan was not certain as to the exact position of the body with regard to the western door and hall.

THE CONDITION OF THE CORPSE.

Dr. Caven, who the day after the fire made a post mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Dicks, testified that it was greatly damaged by fire and covered with ice and clinders. The only part of the body which had not been charred was a small portion (8x4) on the breast. Both feet were completely gone. The left leg was gone from above the knee downwards. Of the right leg the knee joint remained. The body was in such a condition that marks of violence would have been effaced and had apparently been lying on its face. The doctor described the contents of the stomach which were not advanced to the process of digestion. Of course, continued the doctor, there are many conditions, both bodily and mental, which would delay the process of digestion.

MR. JOHNSTON OBJECTS.

Mr. Osler was proceeding to ask the doctor as to the length of time occupied in digestion in a healthy person, but Mr. Johnston objected, urging that some evidence should have previously been presented as to the condition of Mrs. Dicks' health at the time.

Mr. Osler said he proposed to offer evidence as to her being in a generally healthy condition at the time. He considered if any abnormal state of health existed the onus of proof was on the defence. This evidence was always admitted in similar investigations. His Lordship considered the point most material, and reserved his ruling until after adjournment. It was a question, however whether he should exclude testimony which, coupled with later evidence might tend to the determination of the issue.

IN FAIRY GOOD HEALTH.

Dr. C. R. Dickson who treated Mrs. Dicks from February to September 1894, testified that her general state of health was pretty fair although she had undergone severe treatment. He performed a slight final operation on February 1, 1895 and it would take her three or four weeks to be completely restored. She was practically cured in the September previous. The effect of the failure upon his patient was in increasing the action of the heart.

To Mr. Johnston the witness said it was probable that after undergoing the treatment mentioned there could be a difference between Mrs. Dicks' state of health and that of a perfectly healthy person.

McMILLAN GUILTY.

Convicted of Setting Fire to the Osgoody Building.

THE JUDGE'S CHARGE.

IT WAS STRONGLY AGAINST THE PRISONER—THE VERDICT A GENERAL SURPRISE.

Special to The Times.

Toronto, Dec. 11th.—The Jury in the McMillan arson case brought in a verdict of guilty. The verdict was a surprise to everyone.

All the evidence in the case of the Queen v. Wm. McMillan, the alleged incendiary of the Osgoody building, was concluded yesterday. County Crown Attorney DeWart terminated his cross examination of the prisoner who adhered substantially to his original story. Then the defence called three witnesses as to Rosenthal's reputation for veracity and closed their case. Several witnesses in rebuttal including the wife of Caretaker Caven having given evidence for the Crown, Mr. St. John addressed the jury for two hours on behalf of the prisoner during which the Jew was handled unmercifully being styled "a miserable cowardly wretch; a man, yet not a man."

AGAINST THE PRISONER.

When the court resumed this morning Judge McDougall commenced his charge to the jury, which was strongly against the prisoner. He referred to the large number of fires which have occurred recently and the lack of explanation as to their origin. His Honor asked the question whether the re-occurrence of these fires is an instance of the tendency which induces the criminal classes so often to imitate notorious deeds. In reviewing the evidence of Caretaker Caven and other witnesses spoke as to the first outbreak of the conflagration the judge inclined to the opinion that the fire commenced in the building of the Osgoody in the neighborhood of McMillan's office.

His Honor then dealt with the financial condition of the prisoner and his employers prior to the fire, and the transactions with Rosenthal. He considered it established that the prisoner owed the firm something like $800 at the time of the fire. It was important to follow up the prisoner's statement that he had no transactions with Rosenthal during the summer of 1894. The facts did not bear out this statement. It had been admitted by the prisoner that Rosenthal had visited his office as often as twice a week during that period. The prisoner's evidence in this respect could hardly be given credence.

NO EVIDENCE OF A GRUDGE.

Dealing with the evidence of Rosenthal his Honor said that no successful attack had been made upon the Jew's credibility, neither had it been shown that he owed the prisoner any grudge. The police record showed that McMillan had been ignominiously discharged. His evidence as to Rosenthal's ill-will to McMillan the judge considered uncorroborated and not in accordance with the actual facts. This witness spoke of an interview with Rosenthal in September, when the latter said he was going to be discharged and turn Crown witness.

As a matter of fact, Rosenthal had already been discharged, if the time fixed by McMillan was reliable. The judge went on to point out that the accounts given by McMillan and Rosenthal as to the former's movements on the night of the fire were almost exactly identical except that the prisoner denies that they were made in company with Rosenthal.

AN IMPORTANT CONSIDERATION.

The Crown had brought out a significant fact. When Rosenthal told McMillan that he had made a statement accusing the latter of starting the fire, the prisoner did not adopt the course of an innocent man and indignantly deny the charge, but simply said: "There is enough to talk about that when we've got to."

It was a question, the judge continued, whether Rosenthal could be accused of being an accessory, unless it were proved that he conspired with McMillan to start the fire, and this had not been done.

In regard to an offence the commission of which occupied only the smallest fraction of time the fine questions of time are immaterial.

ST. JOHN TAKES EXCEPTION.

The charge being concluded Mr. St. John took exception to the address on the ground that reference had been omitted to numerous points in the prisoner's favor.

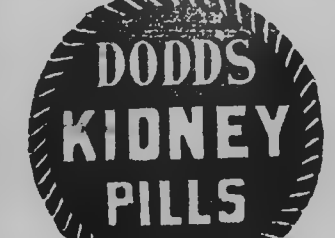

The judge detailed to the jury the points omitted and took occasion in doing so to emphasize his view as to the prisoner's guilt.

The case was then given to the jury.

A LAY OLD BOY.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Wm. Cadman, 74 years old, was sentenced in the Old Bailey Court today to 7 years' imprisonment under conviction upon a charge of polygamy. Since 1870 Cadman has married seven women, by whom he has twenty-three children. Some of his victims were rich when he married them, but they did not long remain so. When arrested he had a large quantity of forged railway tickets in his possession.

REFORM.

Rev. W. Galbraith, L. L. B., Pastor of Elm Street Methodist Church, Toronto, has a Good Word to Say of Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder.

The Rev. Wm. Galbraith, L. L. B., is one of the thoughtful preachers of the day. The active interest he has taken in questions of social reform has given him wide influence outside of his own church, where his influence is undisputed.
His mind is of the kind that thinks out a problem, and then he is able to speak with force and intelligence. He is to be credited with examining into merits of Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder, with the same bent of mind. And what does he say? That in this medicine he has found a remedy that gives quick relief for cold in the head, which is so uncomfortable to everybody, and giving relief there it helps, perhaps, more than any other remedy to stave off the ill effects that come from catarrhal trouble.

One short puff of the breath through the Blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder, diffuses this powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use, it relieves in ten minutes, and permanently cures catarrh, hay fever, colds, headache, sore throat, tonsillitis and deafness.
Sixty cents. Sample bottle with blow-er sent on receipt of 10c in stamps or silver, S. G. Deitchon, 44 Church Street, Toronto.

"Sold by H. S. McDonald."

Catarrh can be successfully treated only by purifying the blood, and the one true blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Salisbury on Protection.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—A deputation headed by the Earl of Winchester waited upon Lord Salisbury today and urged that the Government re-adjust the duty on beer, so as to encourage the growth of English hops and barley. Lord Salisbury, intimating that the proposal submitted by the delegation meant protection, said he believed that public opinion was not at all changed upon that question. Protection, he said, would not return at any period which the present generation could look for.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB.

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF THIS CHASTE SOCIETY.

A Literary Treat Which Induced Much Enthusiasm—Large Number of Visitors in the Gallery.

The regular weekly meeting of the Lime Juice Club took place last night, and as usual the Hall of Wisdom was filled to overflowing. The visitors' gallery was also well crowded with prominent citizens, amongst whom we noticed Coming Mayor Cahill, Councillor Stone and Brady, and Messrs. T. E. Boddy, W. Croft, Harry LeBrun, J. Crane, W. H. Bradburn, W. A. Sanderson, R. Gough, R. H. Kells, G. W. Hutton, J. W. Brish, Adam Hall, E. F. Mason, W. F. Johnston, P. Simons, A. Gibson, W. H. Hill, Sam Ray, W. J. Ferguson, R. S. Davidson, Dickson Hall, M. Wilson, George Matthews, and many others.

Amongst those from a distance we noticed Messrs. E. S. Miller, St. Thomas; J. D. Baptie, Belleville; Mayor Walters, Lindsay; John Gall, Keene; Major Howard, Hastings; Robt. Ruddy, Millbrook; and many others.

A LITERARY TREAT.

Hon. Darkness Craig nearly swallowed a brass button he was holding in his mouth to cure the earache in his haste to get his jaws open to announce that Prof. Razor Reynolds, of Port Hope, was in the ante-room waiting to deliver his celebrated lecture on wealth. Darkness said that the Professor was the only man in Canada besides himself who could make as stew out of a small can of oyster, and whistle five different tunes at the same time on his thumb nails.

HE BEGINS.

As the lecturer entered it was seen at a glance that he was built after the fashion of Laurier, Montague, Stratton and other distinguished orators. He skipped playfully up to the platform, bowed right and left and then began:

"My dear friends, I am delighted to appear before you, and deliver my celebrated lecture on 'Wealth.' Now what is wealth? You can't tell. Wealth my friends, consists in being rich. If you are rich you ain't poor. If you are poor you ain't rich. This has been my experience for the last 15 years, and while it has cost me a good deal of money, I am willing to give it to you for nothing. [Whoops from Whalebone Weir and Sawmill Wynn.] We have liberal men in this country, worth more than two thousand dollars. They wallow in riches, but how about their happiness? There must be some consolation in being able to walk into the Times Bookstore and telling them to send up a million dollars worth of Christmas presents, but does that rich mogul sleep any sounder than that night Bro. Croft there for instance, or 'Man that drank fifteen cent tea for supper? [Hard looks at Bro. C. who sat beside Bro. Ed. Brown]. Of course he don't. In all probability he dreams of them very million dollars worth of presents. [Sensation.] The rich man walks on velvet carpets, and he sits down on stuffed chairs and has the best lemonade to drink at all time. [Great snacking of lips all over the Hall]. He just lies in ham and eggs and he just walks all over roast chicken and turkey. The poor man walks on a bare floor, and sits on a bare chair, and his potatoes are boiled with their hides on. Yet who are the happiest? You will say the rich man, of course, but that's where your toes turn in. When night comes the poor man is afraid of burglars, the newspapers don't pitch into him, his wife ain't going to sleep with anybody, his son ain't going to be expelled from college. He just sets there and eats apples and such like, while contentment drips all over him. [Wild cheer by mistake from Bro. John Mervin, who narrowly escaped a fine of $200].

The rich man wears broadcloth, and he rides in a carriage and goes to the Opera. Sometimes he runs for Parliament, and then he would give bugs of gold to be known as the poor man's friend. [Un-easy feeling in the vicinity of the stove where Messrs Stevenson and Burnham sat].

"Yes my friends," continued the orator, after getting away with another drink, "you may envy him when you see him drive past in his fine carriage, but what poor fools you are! All the time he is doing this he is expecting the small pox will break out in his family, or some one will run off with his daughter and marry her. The poor man goes on foot, wears plain clothes, and he don't know what the inside of the Opera House looks like. As a reward he is always healthy. [Chuckles of satisfaction, during which a rotten apple core hit Jamfed Jones on the nose]. On every hand you hear the expression: 'Poor but Honest.' [Loud applause].

It is only poor folks who live from hand to mouth who are honest. Every honest sentiment in the human breast teaches us to be poor. When your wife, dressed in plain calico, and wearing her last summer's hat, sees a rich lady sailing past her, harnessed up in silks, diamonds and seal skin, she may for a moment feel envious. But my friends when she comes to reflect that rich women have to wear shoes one size too small, and stockings with stripes all up and down the legs, and have dressmakers and hair-dressers and gin balls and parties, she feels to pity them with all her noble heart. [Sensation].

If I was asked to advise a young man," continued the orator, as he paused to straighten a cramp out of his leg, "I should warn him against struggling for too much wealth. It stings like an adder and bites like a serpent. Riches are the cause of jealousies, envy, and crimes of all kinds. There can't be no comfort for the rich man. He is worried about clothes, his horses run away; the bank in which he has his money is certain to burst. After he has suffered and suffered, along comes death and takes him away. [Applause].

"If there are any men in this Great Club who sigh for riches he is the subject of my pity. I warn you in the most solemn tones to quit this sighing. True happiness is worth more than all the gold ever dug out of the earth. [Thunders of applause, during which seven links of stove pipes fell down].

"Gentlemen, I had intended to include the garden of Eden in my lecture and to bring in the pyramids, the coming elections and the Matitoba schools question, but the hour is late and I must elongate this oratory to a prolonged quietus. Wishing you all possible health and happiness I will now determine my desideratum and bid you a kind farewell."

CARRIED.

A vote of thanks was moved by Bro. Ed. Brown.

Bro. Boddy objected. He said the theory of the speaker was all wrong, and that his command of language scarcely entitled him to appear on the front platform of a meat wagon.

However, a vote was taken and the thanks of the Club were extended by a vote of 1763 to 9.

MUSIC.

The Harmony Club now secured the floor and rendered the following original lines dedicated to the Great and Only Lime Juice Club, by a Toronto admirer:

Behold the wonderful array
Of sage younging and hoary
Let up your voices and be gay
It's better than a circus-day
To witness this pitiful display
Of intellectual glory.

The men who now behold the bright Beams from his humble station,
Forbear the ploughshare with its shaft,
Its spoked wheel and twinkling lights,
To witness this mental calcium light
Shine out upon a nation.

Though dull the sky and black the air,
The burning thought which centres there Must kindle soon a splendid glow,
And cause posterity to stare
At history's bonfire.

During the excitement which followed Bro. Roszel accidentally shoved his elbow through a pane of glass and was fined $1200 and costs.

INTERNAL ECONOMY.

Sodawater Carrol, chairman of the committee on Internal Economy and Physiology, submitted the following report:

"1. Plain lemonade should be taken slowly and deliberately, the chin well wiped off with a red napkin as soon as possible afterwards, and the victim should beware of mental excitement or physical exhaustion for an hour or two.

"2. Sodawater with a stick in it should be paid for in advance. This gives the barkeeper a chance to look at the money and find out if it is all right, and saves the customer any fear of having to take to his legs and outrun anybody. We don't specify as to the quantity that can be safely surrounded. Some persons can hold a barrel, while others can stop at a gallon."

"3. Apples and bananas have slayed ten thousands of innocent people. While we don't believe either harmful, it will be well to eat slowly, chew the rinds and cores very fine, and sit in the woodshed half an hour after eating.

"4. We do not recommend too much washing and cleaning. The Indian is the dirtiest person on this earth, and nobody ever knew an Indian to have cholera or small-pox. Wash up now and then, and scrub up a little extra on Sundays, and trust the rest to carrying an onion in your pocket."

IT WAS CARRIED.

Henroost Bell moved that the report be adopted, and the suggestions printed for gratuitous distribution.

Bro. Tiedup Garley objected. He would not feel safe from yellow fever without instruction from the Board of Health. He would cast no slur upon the honorable committee but what did a man like Jamfed Jones, who drove a fast horse, Nutmeg Cunningham, who sold codfish, or Anvil Davis, who mends bob-sleighs, know about epidemics? Any man in this club was liable to be attacked with cholera at any moment, and not ten minutes before he had witnessed a sample case of cholera morbus in the blue ante room. Bombshell McNaughton had mixed apples, oranges, ice-water, ginger ale, sold old cabbages, old strawberries, and the co-coconut crop of 1893 together, and the result was he was still calling for some lawyer to come and make his will.

"Bro. Guley," replied Sir Richard, "the matter was given to that committee to investigate. They are supposed to have Performed their duty. Until the cholera lifts some member of this club we have no right to go back on the report. It is therefore adopted."

SOME LETTERS.

Applications were received from 391 members for the position of Superintendent of the Museum—Referred to the Committee on Economy.

A letter was read from Bro. Cripes Mulcahey, explaining that he was not able to be present on account of his having to play off a tie in a curling tournament with Bro. Ferguson for a bag of onions.

Bro. Smith, Chairman of the Committee on Electrical Phenomena and Astronomy, wrote to say that he had discovered a brand new comet, and he and Bro. Tom Forty were making thorough investigation through smoked glass from the sky window of the Chemung Park Hotel. He would not present his report until after he followed up his discovery.

Bro. Whalebone Wells, of Bobcaygeon, wrote stating that he had discovered a sure remedy for cholera morbus, and that if the club would forward him $1.25 he would send along three barrels by Conductor Morris's fast freight.

Bombshell McNaughton moved that the money be forwarded at once.

"The money will not be sent, not just yet," said the President. "We will wait till the green fruit season comes in; besides three barrels will barely pull us through—let the secretary offer him $1.50 for four barrels."

AN INVITATION.

A letter was handed in from the proprietor of THE TIMES Bookstore, inviting the club to visit the premises and view the magnificent display of holiday goods.

On motion of Bro. Snowden, the generous invitation was accepted by a vote of 1912 to 1. Bro. Croft having inadvertently awoke in time to vote on the wrong side as usual.

THE CLOSE.

The balance of the business was placed in the refrigerator and the meeting took short cuts for home.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. and strictly new laid at 20c.

Potatoes.—The market is quiet at 20c to 22c for car lots on the track here and 25c to 30c for potatoes out of store.

Poultry.—The receipts are light and prices are firm. Commission houses think that shippers are holding stock back for the Christmas trade. They believe that if this is the case the market will be glutted and slaughter prices will prevail. Chickens sell at 25c to 30c, ducks at 25c to 30c, geese at 5c to 6c and turkeys at 8c to 7c.

Baled Hay.—The offerings are more liberal and the market is well supplied. Car lots on the track here sell at $14.50 to $14.75 for No. 1 and $13.25 to $13.75 for No. 2. Baled Straw.—It is being offered more freely. Prices are steady at $7.50 to $8 for car lots on the track here.

Dressed Hogs.—The receipts of hogs have not been so large, and local packers think that their prediction of last week that shippers would hold in case of cold weather has come true. They are adverse to the practice as held stock is not as good as fresh hogs. Prices remain steady at $4.50, with $4.55 for choice lots delivered here.

FARMERS' MARKET.

Receipts of grain on the local street market were small this morning. Red wheat was a cent easier, and barley was a little firmer, as the offering were of an extra good quality. White wheat continues firm.

Wheat.—Steady, 150 bushels of all kinds selling at 72c for white and 67c for red. A load of spring wheat sold at 67c.

Barley.—Steady, 800 bushels selling at 33c to 34c.

Oats.—Firm, 400 bushels selling at 27c to 28c.

Buckwheat.—Firm, one load selling at 37c.

Hay and Straw.—Hay was not received in very large quantities this morning and prices were a little higher, ten loads selling at $10 to $11. Three loads of baled straw sold at $11 to $13. There is a small demand for pea straw for packing purposes at $6 to $8.

Dressed Hogs.—The offerings of hogs were not large this morning and prices were steady at $1.50 to $1.60 for hogs of good quality. Dealers think that farmers are holding hogs during the cold weather. Small lots of dark car hogs and culls were brought at $1, but they are not much wanted.

A STRIKE IMMINENT.

Trouble in the General Electric Works at Schenectady, N. Y.

There is trouble brewing between the General Electric Company, of Schenectady, N. Y., and their employees. The latter have organized for mutual protection. Something of the feeling that exists can be surmised from the following items clipped from the Schenectady papers:

(From the Schenectady Daily Gazette.)

Whether or not the officials of the General Electric company will admit it there is serious discontent among the workers in its city in this city which may show itself openly before the winter is over. Last evening a large meeting was held in Trades Assembly hall by those employees of the works who are entitled to belong to the trade unions. At a former meeting an organization had been formed and it was perfected last evening.

A prominent labor union man who is also an employee of the works said yesterday that the object of the new union was to enroll among organized laborers all the employees of the works, without trades as well as those with them. Soon, he said, this result will have been accomplished.

A man who attended the meeting last night said that the feeling of dissatisfaction was very high. "The men are tired of the way the works are run," he said, "in the characteristic language of an agitator. 'Am still the work is done on the co-operative plan and it is next to impossible to turn out satisfactory work. In one of the shops they posted a notice awhile ago that any one getting injured would be discharged. Very often, in that shop, men are hurt because of some defect in the machines and in addition to being injured they lose their jobs. I know a man who had his finger hurt and, rather than admit it, hid the injury and asked to be excused on account of sickness to escape being discharged."

When asked if the trouble was liable to terminate in a strike the man said: "It looks as though it would eventually do so. When our organization is complete a joint meeting of all the unions represented at the works will be called and then some definite action will probably be taken."

When the reporter suggested that the beginning of winter was a bad time to originate a strike the man said: "We know that. So do the bosses. That is the reason they treat us so hard now. They think we can't help ourselves."

(From the Schenectady Evening Star.)

The rumors which have been in circulation that a strike was contemplated by the employees of the General Electric works and that a material reduction of wages was the cause now seems to have some foundation. Such a report was circulated some time since and General Manager Enmons and a prominent labor leader employed at the works both denied it.

Last night, however, a large meeting of workmen employed at the General Electric Works, and who are not entitled to membership in any of the trade unions was held in the Trades Assembly Rooms. An organization formed not long ago was perfected and it takes in nearly every workman who was not already a member of some union.

Some of the workmen say that they have been cut in their wages so that they can hardly earn a living. A few of the men are in favor of calling on the entire works to go on strike when a complete organization is effected. A well known leader in labor circles and one who is very conservative was questioned concerning the situation today. He said:

"It is true that a great deal of dissatisfaction exists among the employees of the works, but I do not think a general strike will ensue unless we are forced to it. Many of the men are working for wages which barely support them and the fact may as well be known."

"The men are organizing simply to protect themselves so that if the decrease in wages continues they will be able to meet the situation. The labor union does not advise a strike and that will be a last resort, for we all know that such a step means much suffering and we would rather adopt other measures. We think that by thorough organization we can prevent any further reduction of wages and this is the reason for the movement last evening."

CAST IRON RULES.

The Football Union Wants to Make Colleges Play Students only.

The annual meeting of the Ontario rugby football union will be held at the Roslin House, Toronto, on Saturday, 14th inst., at 2 o'clock p.m. Quite a number of amendments and additions to the constitution will be introduced at the meeting. One is to disqualify any player from playing with an intermediate or junior team who has played one match with a senior team, and also to make a rule to the effect that no player shall be added during the first half for one of the players injured. The most important contemplated addition is the following: "No person shall play on a university or college team in any championship match who is not a bona fide student in actual attendance at lectures at that university or college, or unless he is a graduate of such of not more than one year's standing, and all persons playing with such teams shall be actually resident during the academic year, in the city or town in which said university or college is situated. And no person shall play on a city or town team who does not reside in such, nor unless he has resided in such city or town for a period of at least two weeks immediately preceding the match in which he is to compete." Furthermore, it is mentioned to make a rule to read "that no protest shall be allowed unless notice shall be received by the secretary within 48 hours after the match." Queen's players at least, some of them, only laugh at the proposed amendments, and say they will not carry, as every university representative will vote against their adoption.

Completely Run Down.

"Last summer I was in very poor health. I was troubled with diarrhoea and indigestion, and also with loss of appetite. I was completely run down. I decided to take Hood's KIDNEY PILLS and after I had taken a while I felt much better." LESTER A. RASSELL, Old Chelsea, near Ottawa, Que.

LOST HIS OVERCOAT.

A Commercial Traveller Has His Coat Stolen at the Depot

The police are on the lookout for a man who stole a valuable overcoat belonging to a commercial traveller on Wednesday night. The traveller boarded the train for Peterborough at Toronto and took a double seat in the car, throwing his overcoat over the back of the seat. A stranger occupied the seat with him until he went into the smoking car, leaving the stranger in possession of the coat.

When the train reached Peterborough the traveller came to the car to get his coat and found both it and the stranger gone.

The stranger was seen at the depot by several who recognized him by the description given by the traveller. It is thought he is still in town and the police are on the lookout for him.

The traveller put up at the Grand Central.

Items of Interest Intelligently Presented for Busy Readers.

A large gang of destitute and depraved vagrants passed through our village last week en route for Peterborough. They had several covered wagons, old horses, bears, etc.—Westwood correspondent.

Mr. Archie Bradshaw, Dominion Fishery overseer, is now on his annual tour over the sections under his watchful care. The object of the trip is to ascertain, as far as possible, the amount of fish caught during the season. This will take careful research, and Mr. Bradshaw is the man to make it.

When the breezy blooming bloomers are universally the go, how will tailors press the creases in them, we should like to know. Why the baby's head is nodding and wants to take a nap, how can mamma lull her baby in a bifurcated lap? How can Bridget shoot the chickens with no skirts to flop and flap, when the creature is in the garden in the spring? But the question most annoying that our speculations catch: Can she vie men in action when she goes to strike a match?

THE SESSIONS OVER.

Two Cases in Which Both the Plaintiff's Won.

When the sessions opened Thursday morning the grand jury handed in the following presentment:

Your grand jurors are pleased to have the opportunity of congratulating Your Honor upon the fact that there are no criminal cases on the docket, indicating as it does, that so far as the jurisdiction of this Court extends the country is free from crime, and although other Courts in the county have the power to deal with such cases as already pointed out by Your Honor, and may have done so within the term covered by this session, still we consider the absence of criminal cases from the docket of this court a matter of gratification.

Your Grand Jurors visited the county goal and have to report that they found everything in good order and the prisoners properly cared for.

Your Grand Jurors also visited the Nichols hospital, the Protestant Home and the St. Joseph's hospital, and have to report that they found each in an excellent state of repair, efficiency and that the condition which is calculated to best serve the purposes for which they exist. The various appointments of the two hospitals are good, contributing in a high degree to the curing, the comfort and the safety of the patients in this connection. Your Grand Jurors have to report the addition of three new fire escapes to the St. Joseph's hospital at an expenditure of some $300.

All such improvements for the good convenience or safety of the public are of the utmost importance and we submit are worthy of commendation.

Your Grand Jurors also desire to point out as a result of their visit to the county goal, where a number of poor are at present lodged—and the same matter has been referred to in like manner by preceding grand juries—the necessity there is for a proper home or refuge for the indigent and poor of the county, who are not criminals in the accepted sense of the term, but who are at present compelled to be confined with that class. Your Grand Jurors would urge the procuring of proper premises for the same at an early day, believing, as we do, that the expense of maintaining such an institution would add but little to the present cost of supporting the poor in jail.

In the case of Walsh v. Geo. Matthews Company, jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $100.

The case of Blaine v. Peterborough Navigation Company resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $164.45. An appeal will be entered.

NEW G.T.R. SWITCH SYSTEM.

Four Points from Which Every Movement Can Be Directed.

With the advent of the new year the Grand Trunk authorities of Toronto will have in operation one of the most perfect systems of switches and signals. The system is known as the interlocking signal system, and is the same that was ordered by the English Government to be used on every line and station throughout the United Kingdom.

The whole of the work is under the direction of Mr. P. F. Hodgson, signal engineer, of London, Eng., who claims that no mistake can be made under the new system if the engineers on locomotives will adhere to the signals.

The principle of the system is as given by the engineer, that no train can move without the signal being given and the switches properly set. Thus a train entering either from the east or west end of the Union station, even on the same or intersecting track, would be protected and all possibility of a collision or other accidents avoided.

All signals and switch lights are lit by electricity from their own dynamo, and to prevent an accident should anything occur to their own machine, they have a switch in connection with the city plant. In foggy weather the light can be turned on at each cabin by the man in charge. This is found to work very satisfactorily over the old system of sending a man from one lamp to another to light it.

Each pair of switches are protected by a train protection bar, which has to be lifted above the rail during the travel of the switch. The benefit of that is that a train running over a switch cannot be divided if the switchman hurriedly throws the switch back before the train is clear. Under this system, if he tried to throw it back he would of necessity have to lift the whole of the train. The protecting bars are 45 feet long, or 3 feet longer than the longest space between wheels.

Each pair of switches is provided with a signal detector. This apparatus is so constructed that the signal for the route that the switch is set for cannot be given until the points are perfectly set so that on any obstruction getting in between the cabin would at once know and could immediately have it removed.

On each siding leading to the main line a Scotch block is placed to prevent cars standing on those sidings from fouling the main line. The signals are worked by wires attached to levers in the cabins and the switches are worked by iron bars.

"This system," said Mr. Hodgson, is a great saving to the company and labor is not displaced to any great extent. Another advantage is that trains can be handled with more despatch. In the old days a man had to run from one switch to another, which, of necessity, caused considerable delay. The long distance signals are provided with wire regulators, so that in case of a change in temperature they can be adjusted by the signal man without leaving his cabin.

In addition to this the company will shortly provide cabins A and B with what is known as the loud telephone, which will require no ringing, and will have direct connection with the station agent at the Union. By this means he can by speaking a little above the ordinary tone, direct the man in the cabins which track he desires them placed.

AN IMPORTANT CAPTURE.

Detective Ross Arrests a Man For Stealing a Ride Who Is Wanted.

On Monday morning C. P. R. Detective Ross was boarding No. 5 express at Streetsville going north when he noticed a well dressed man get on at the end of the baggage car next to the engine. When the train stopped at Milton Mr. Ross ran to this car and met the man who pointed a revolver at him full in the face. Detective Ross arrested the stranger, took the revolver from him and took him to London, where he was charged with stealing a ride on the train.

He was tried before J. B. Smyth, J. P., convicted and sent to goal for 10 days. The stranger told the detective that he came from Kempsville Junction and from some remarks which he let slip, the detective became suspicious that the overcoat which he wore had been stolen. Kempsville Junction was wired to and in reply a message was received from the agent there stating that a farmer had been burglarized and an overcoat, suit of clothes, watch and revolver stolen on Saturday. The description tallied with the clothes and revolver in possession of the stranger, whose name is Charles Ames. He will be taken to Kempsville and charged with the burglary.

Ames told Detective Ross that his father lives one mile north of Schaw station. He was on his way home to spend Christmas. He said he left his home 5 years ago, and had not been there since. He left home when he was 17 years old, and said the reason for his leaving was because of a serious prank he had played. One day at school he placed a revolver cartridge in a hot stove. It exploded and the bullet entered the eye of a young girl causing the loss of her sight. Fearing punishment he ran away from home.

POLITICAL WARFARE.

IN FIGHT IN NORTH ONTARIO AND CARDWELL WAXES WARM.

IN the Patron Win-A Triangular Meeting at Beverton at which Representatives of the Three Parties Deliver Addresses
Special to The Times.

BEAVERTON, Dec. 10.—All three parties are represented at a meeting here last night. Hon. Geo. E. Foster led off by scoring Liberals and Patrons for their want policy, and proceeded to scold the National Policy, which has developed both one and foreign trade. He defended the superannuation system, the subsidization of steamship lines, the rebate granted to manufacturers on their exports. He concluded by showing that on the count of taxation the farmer has less right to grum-le than any one, as he is the lightest taxed man in the country.

AUTRULIAN MUTTER.
Lockie Wilson followed. He complained that the subsidization of steamship lines helped Australian mutton producers to climb the tariff wall, and stated that the Patron policy was a tariff for revenue only. That would give manufacturers incidental protection, while luxuries should be taxed to the hilt.

FRANK PEDLEY'S VIEW.
Frank Pedley complained that the Minister of Finance shirked the school question. He declared that the Minister intended to introduce remedial legislation at the coming session, and therefore, there had to be a right to know his views on the subject.

LIBERALS IN DISGUISE.
Hon. Dr. Montague was the last speaker. He declared that an understanding existed between Patrons and Liberals, defending the existence of the Senate, pointed out that the Governor-General's salary was fixed by the Imperial Parliament and showed how subsidization of steamship lines and railways enabled the people to compete with other countries in the free markets of the world. He concluded by criticizing Lockie Wilson's tariff utterances and by defending the National Policy.

ANOTHER AT UXBIDGE.
Uxbridge, Dec. 10.—An enthusiastic meeting was held in Scott town hall, at which Edward Cochrane, M.P. for East Northumberland; W. H. Bennett, M.P.
for East Simcoe, and Hon. Dr. Montague were the principal speakers. Mr. Bennett dealt with the finances of the country, our credit and the trade question; Mr. Cochrane scored the Patron movement and Dr.
Montague touched upon the Canadian Senate, the salary of the Governor-General, the superannuation system, the taxation system, the experimental farms and all the lines on which the Government had been working for the farmers' interest.

BRACEBRIDGE, Dec. 10.—A meeting was held in the interest of Mr. Gillespie at Braceville at which Frank Denton and Andrew L. Ogilvy were excellent addresses. Another meeting was held in Macanville Town Hall, at which A. P.
Cochrane, ex M.L.A., and Frank Denton spoke.

A number of Torontonians have spread themselves out over the country, among whom G. F. Marter, M.P.; Robert Birmingham, Harry Collins, G. C. White and a number of others.

NEWARK OF THE PATRON.
SUNDERLAND, Dec. 10.—The Conservative meeting on behalf of Major Geo.
Gillivray was opened by ex-Reeve George Shier, who eulogized the efforts of the Government on behalf of the Canadian farmer. He was seconded by Major Sam Hughes, who predicted that much good would arrive out of the Ottawa Colonial Conference despite the fact that Patrons might say to the contrary. He next devoted his attention to the Patron policy, and made way for Hon.
Geo. E. Foster, who warned the farmers against the Patron movement, and showed what the Conservatives had done for the country. They had created a united Canada, established rail and water communication from one part of the land to the other, and developed the industrial life of the country by the N. P. He showed that the Intercolonial Conference had already borne fruit in the form of a fast steamship line to Great Britain. He next took up the question of rebates and denied that the Massey-Harris Company was the recipient of Government favors.
Then the development of the better and cheaper trade was shown and the Finance Minister concluded with the statement that the Conservative party was true to the policy of Sir John Macdonald—a policy which had created a united Canada.

TERRORS OF THE SEA.

THE HELPLESS CONDITION OF THE S. S. MANHATTAN IN A STORM.

While a Hurricane Raged Her Tall Shaft Was Broken—The Martello Towed Her to Halifax
Last Night—Tow Lines Snapped Like Threads.

Special to The Times.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 10.—The steamer
Martello, Captain Rae, from Hull, east bound to New York, steamed slowly up to the city this evening, having in tow the steamer Manhatset with her tall shaft broken. The latter steamer is bound to New York from Rotterdam, and is almost flying high, having only a couple hundred tons of cargo on board. Her experience while lying helpless and at the mercy of the sea is a thrilling one. The ship's captain makes the following report: "We left Rotterdam Nov. 23rd for New York, and almost from the out-set met with strong gales from the east which continued to the 25th, when the weather moderated for a time, only to spring up again.
Then it blew heavy up to the 27th, when it again eased up and remained fairly good to Saturday, 30th. That night the wind increased to a gale from S.E.-E., and continued all next day, when it veered to the north-west and moderated. Dec. 2nd there was a light breeze from the southwest, which by evening increased to a moderate gale. On the 3rd, the gale increased until it was blowing a perfect hurricane, with a tremendous south-west sea, causing the ship to roll and pitch in a frantic manner.

THE SHIP BROKEN.

"The engines were running badly, and at 11.30 a.m. the steamer pitched so badly that the tall and shaft broke in the tube.
This left us entirely helpless and at the mercy of the storm. The ship almost immediately fell off into the trough of the sea. Her rolling and pitching was terrible and we thought she would certainly capsize. A huge sea came crashing aboard, flooding the cabins and deck and carrying off everything movable. It is impossible almost to stand on deck without being lashed, and the crew had many narrow escapes. After a night of anxiety and peril the weather moderated, and next morning sails were put up and this stead-her some, but only slight headway was made. The ship drifted too leeward. At 7 o'clock on Thursday morning a large steamer responded to our signals for assistance. She was the Martello, and captain agreed to tow us to Halifax, that being the nearest port. A 9 o'clock attempt was made to pass lines between the ships, but, owing to the heavy sea running, this was not accomplished until 11 a.m., when 60 fathoms of 4 1/2 inch steel hawser and 45 fathoms of cable were made fast between the two ships and a start was made. The wind at this time was north-east and the sea still heavy.

THE TOWLINE PARTS.
"The ships made nine knots, notwithstanding. At 9 a.m. the towline parted and we were again left helpless. It was dark and raining and blowing. During the night an American liner bound west was sighted. On Friday a heavy gale was raging and by noon it had assumed the proportions of a hurricane from the southwest. The Martello was still standing by the Manhatset, was pitching and rolling in a terrific manner and shipping seas fore and aft. To add to the danger the propeller and broken shaft began bumping and grinding as though they would tear the stern out of the ship. The hurricane continued till midnight, when it moderated. The day had been broken adrift during the storm and was all broken and destroyed, it being impossible to secure them.

A NARROW SQUARE.
"On Saturday morning, the gale having subsided considerably, the Martello attempted to lower a lifeboat in order to repass the lines. While this was being done the bow slings suddenly dropped from the davits, and the boats crew were nearly precipitated into the sea, and it was 11 o'clock before the line of 60 fathoms of cable was again got out and secured between the ships. To do this the captain of the Martello very pluckily manoeuvred his steamer across our bow when the heavy line was thrown aboard to us, to which the cable was secured and thus hauled aboard. The ships again started ahead, but at 1.45 p.m. the towline again parted. At 3 p.m. another attempt was made to get the lines passed, and finally the Martello put out one of her boats and passed the 30 fathoms of hawser, to which was attached 30 fathoms of wire and 30 fathoms of chain cable. There was still a heavy sea running, but we came ahead at the rate of four knots, and reached Halifax without further mishap.

"The Martello sailed again to-night. No agreement was made for towage and the question will likely be settled between the owners. The Manhatset will be detained here for several weeks.

TUPPER TO BE PREMIER.

THE LONDON GLOBE SAYS HE WILL BE, AT ANY RATE.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell to Step Down and Out-
The Report Circulated at Ottawa and is Doubtless Without Foundation.
Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The Globe this afternoon says it is rumored that Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian High Commissioner, will not return to London after his visit to Canada. In addition the Globe says it is believed that the Hon. Mackenzie Bowell will resign the Premiership of the Dominion and that Sir Charles Tupper will assume that office.

NOT CREDITED AT OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, Dec. 10.—The rumor that Sir Charles Tupper, High Commissioner, is coming out to accept the Premiership is discredited here. Just before the last two general elections Tupper came to Canada and took his official life in his hands to help the Conservative party. Possibly he may do the same thing again, but his friends say he is physically unfit for return to active political life. There are many here who think that Sir Charles will make a lengthened stay in the country and will speak in the principal cities on behalf of the Administration. His return at this junction is undoubtedly looked upon as very significant despite the explanations that have been given of his visit. Those who say that the High Commissioner is prepared to come and make a stand against remedial legislation do not know the man.
He holds stronger views as to the necessity of Federal action than are credited to any English member of the Cabinet. Sir Charles will be here on Saturday. He does not come to supplant Bowell, but to help him, if his assistance is required.

DEMANDING BIG DAMAGES.

Venezuelan Complications Have an Unpleasant Appearance.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The manner in which the authorities in Washington are flustered over Lord Salisbury's reply to Secretary Olney on the Venezuelan question is causing amusement in diplomatic circles.
If the United States espouse the cause of Venezuela she at once antagonizes Great Britain, and if she remains passive, which is more probable, politicians here want to know what she is going to say about the Monroe doctrine. There is a strong suspicion that by intermeddling in this Venezuelan question the United States has got herself between the devil and the deep sea.

Upon authority which cannot be questioned, it is learned that the contents of the note mailed by the Marquis of Salisbury to Secretary of State Olney is in substance a refusal to arbitrate any of the territory eastward of the Schomburgk line. Moreover, Lord Salisbury raises a new case. He now contends that the Schomburgk line was not arbitrarily run;
that it was, in fact, located upon authentic data and that it can be proved by records, treaty, descriptions and maps that it correctly represents the western limit of the territory which Great Britain acquired by cession from Holland. A controversy between the two Governments over the historical records and the topographical facts, such as this statement of the case opens up, might run an indefinite length of time.

Should this Government refuse to be drawn into the meshes of this net?

SLOCUM GOES BACK.

He is Wanted at Peoria, Ill., for Attempted Murder.

Special to The Times.

HAMILTON, Dec. 10.—The extradition warrant in the case of Sidney Slocum, who is wanted in Peoria, Ill., on a charge of attempted murder, arrived from Ottawa this morning and Detective Dundas, of Peoria, will leave for that place tomorrow with Slocum. The charge is the outcome of a shooting affair which occurred in a beer garden in Peoria in August of last year.

The Dundas street Centre Methodist church has engaged W. H. Hewlett, of Toronto, as organist and choirmaster.

WILL LIKELY GET OFF.

STRONG DOUBT AS TO THE GUILT OF WILLIAM McMILLAN.

The Prisoner Accounts For His Movements on the Day of the Osgoodby Block Fire—Slim Chances of Conviction.
Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 10.—The case against Wm. McMillan, the alleged incendiary of the Osgoodby building, is drawing to a close. The feature of yesterday's sitting of the General Sessions was the appearance of McMillan in the witness box to give evidence on his own behalf. The prisoner denied emphatically the statements attributed to him by Rosenthal, who, he said, was a liar. McMillan gave a circumstantial account of his movements on the evening of the fire, saying that he left the Osgoodby building about 6 o'clock and went to the Headquarters saloon, where he remained until 7 o'clock, the time of the fire alarm. He never saw Rosenthal once that day. Joseph McMillan, prisoner's brother, spoke of a threat by Rosenthal to get even with McMillan if it cost him his life.

The cross-examination of the prisoner McMillan was continued by Mr. Dewar when the court resumed this morning.
The prisoner admitted that his employers remonstrated with him for borrowing money to pay the rent, but he said he did not care. He went on to deny the numerous cardboard transactions sworn to by the witness Charlton. The evidence of Detective Slemm, that the prisoner said him that he stopped at the corner of Bay and Melinda street on the evening of the fire was entirely untrue. He had not seen Rosenthal for fully three weeks previous to the fire. Prior to this Rosenthal visited his office at least twice a week after the office was taken in June, 1894. At the time of the fire he had no knowledge that the latter bore him any ill will. The prisoner said he never told Rosenthal his movements on the evening in question, nor had he the slightest conversation regarding them with any other person before his arrest.

SENT HIS ADDRESS TO THE POLICE.

The first intimation that he was suspected was from Victor H. Ross, who came to Detroit. McMillan then wrote to Mr. Patterson, of Kerr, McDonald & Co., the latter in his reply refused to do any such thing and told the prisoner to remain where he was. It appears that McMillan was in Detroit a report appeared in the papers that he had been killed in a railway accident. The prisoner admitted receiving a letter from his brother in Toronto advising him not to confront Rosenthal, but denied having any conversation with the latter about the fire before leaving the city.

Paul Saalaski, a comrade of Rosenthal was called to speak to the character of the Jew, whom he met first in September, 1893. For a time reports regarding him were good but afterwards became unfavorable.

HAD FAILED TO PAY HIS RENT.

Mrs. Armstrong said the witness Rosenthal lived in one of her cottages and she would not believe him if he swore on a stack of Bibles. She did not know his reputation, but he had promised to pay his rent and failed.

A. P. Read a clerk in the employ of the Copp, Clark & Co., spoke of a parcel of playing cards shipped in mistake to that firm from the Union Card & Paper Company of Montreal.

Ernest Harcourt, a buyer for the Copp, Clark & Co. for fifteen years, was called to testify to transactions of the firm with Rosenthal, but the prosecution objected that the Jew was not on trial and the evidence was dropped.

"That's the defence, your Honor," observed Mr. John St. John.

EVIDENCE IN REBUTTAL.

The Crown then called Nightwatchman
James Chambers to rebuttal. Last Friday night Caretaker Caven held a lantern out of the rear of the Osgoodby Building and the witness, who was standing on the steps of 82 Bay street, could see the reddication through the third flat of the Canada Saw Company's premises. This evidence was in explanation of his former testimony, contradicted by the defence.

George Smith, an employee of the Canada Saw Company, was called in corroboration.

Geoffrey Burland, manager of the Union
Card & Paper Company, of Montreal, testified as to the prisoner's dismissal in April and his signing of the insurance statement as to stock, which the Crown says is incriminating.

Then Nelly Weale, a pretty maiden of fourteen, with flaxen hair, testified that she lived with her uncle, Caretaker Caven, in the Osgoodby Building, and attended to the prisoner's room until the middle of November, 1894. On the shelf in the warehouse were stacks of cardboard and blue paper hanging over an inch and a half.

Mrs. Elizabeth Caven, who has not yet recovered from the effects of the night of January 10, next gave evidence and corroborated the evidence of the witness Nelly Weale as to the contents of the shelf up to November 15, 1893. After that day McMillan told them to cease cleaning the office.

McMillan when in the box swore that there was nothing but cabinet mounts on the shelf.

VERDICT TO-NIGHT.

This concluded the evidence in reply and the court adjourned. Mr. St. John announced his address to the jury on behalf of the prisoner when the court resumed at a quarter to two. The case will go to the jury this evening.

TWO GUILTY, ONE INNOCENT.

Conclusion of the Counterfeiting Case—Sentences Not Yet Pronounced.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 10.—The addresses to the jury in the Crawford-Smith-Kramer forgery case lasted from 11.30 yesterday to 5.40
At 8.30 last evening a verdict was returned finding Crawford guilty on the three charges, Smith not guilty of forgery, but guilty of uttering and having counterfeit money in his possession, and Kramer not guilty.

Kramer was at once liberated on his own bail. The others were not sentenced, because Mr. Justice Falconbridge granted the prisoner a reserved case; the grounds are that the general circulation of the bills was not proven against the prisoners, that the evidence concerning Cooper is not admissible against the prisoners, because

Rome, Dec. 10.—Five companies of Italian soldiers, comprising the column under the command of Major Tosselli, operating in Abyssinia, were surprised and surrounded by a force of 25,000 natives and only a small portion of the command escaped, the rest being massacred. Fourteen Italian officers and 700 men were killed and 300 are missing.

U. S. Officials on Great Britain's Demand on Venezuela.

Special to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—State department officials are confident that a mistake has been made in the assertion that Great Britain has presented a peremptory demand on Venezuela for $12,000. They are disposed to doubt altogether that any so-called ultimatum such as that presented to Nicaragua has been sent to Venezuela, but if a note demanding redress for a supposed indignity has been addressed to President Crespo, it is regarded as incredible that it should ask for such an exorbitant amount as $12,000. The highest figure given at the time of the drafting of the so-called ultimatum last October was $1,000.

Employment.

Special to The Times.

ORILLA, Dec. 9.—Robt. Marshall, bartender at the Grand Central Hotel, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. It is supposed to have happened Saturday evening, as that was the last time he was seen alive. He has been out of employment for some time, and became despondent. His wife was visiting his parents in Mara for a few days, and on her return this afternoon found the house closed up. She forced open a door and was horror-stricken to find her husband dead in a chair, with his head lying on the table in a pool of blood, and a revolver beside him.
The coroner was notified, and after viewing the body, considered an inquest unnecessary. Marshall leaves a wife and a child a few months old.

THE PROPHECY OF M. ZOLA

WILL THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH BE RE-ORGANIZED

And a New Religion Established to Suit the Democracy? The Pope is Now Making all the Concessions Possible to Prevent Schism.

Special to The Times.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—London cable to the Sun—M. Zola prints in Paris this week a remarkable article upon the Roman Catholic Church. The novelist pictures France Catholic of liberal ideas making a journey to the Eternal City, visiting prelates, being received in audience by the Pope, and amazed at the unexpected world which he has seen. He enters Rome full of the religion of his country, a militant faith for it is still trying to prove, in the teeth of ablest and God exists and it struggles desperately for its existence. In Rome all is different, for religion is no longer discussed there. God is their goal, and as an antique machine whose existence no one dreams of doubting.
This religion, moreover, is not of one country, but of humanity. The French Catholic is, therefore, smiled at for his zeal. He discovers that if France be the eldest daughter of the Church, she is not the whole family; that the Pope and his Cardinals have to look after the whole world and are indifferent to aristocrats and royalties so long as God lives.

Referred to the proposed Congress of Religions on the Chicago plan, to be held at Paris during the Universal Exhibition, the novelist believes that the Pope would like to organize it in Rome, and to preside over it. Patriarchs, Schismatics, Anglicans, Rabbis, and even the idol worshipping priests of India and China thither invited.
His Holiness has faith enough to believe that Catholics will one day absorb all these religions. In conclusion, M. Zola attributes the Pope's opportunism, as he calls it, to his fear of a threatening schism. All his concessions to the French Republic and his relations with the Catholics of the United States are based on this, and he is prepared, in the novelist's opinion, to proceed to the utmost limit of concessions possible for Rome in order to prevent this schism, which, according to M. Zola, is inevitable, and likely to begin, according to the under the banner of a rich bishop Ireland.
The new religion would be patiently awaited by the democracy, and if the Christianity of Rome were to revive like the autumn tint, it would do so on lines less identified with history.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

A Painful Accident.

Mr. Roger Davidson met with a painful accident at the mills of Davidson & Munroe Monday. Four fingers of his hand were badly lacerated and bruised, and while amputation will not be necessary, it will be a long time before he will be able to use it. The accident will prevent him from playing hockey this winter.

Diphtheria Outbreak.

A lumber camp in Hardy township, on the French river, is suffering from an outbreak of diphtheria. The case of the sick man has been forced upon the municipality of Powassan, and a supply of antiseptic has been sent, with instructions to take every possible precaution to see that the men are not dispersed and keep the disease contained.

To Improve the Park.

The Property Committee has made the following recommendation to the council in regard to improving the land given to the town by Mr. A. E. Dixon for park purposes. Your Property Committee, which Mr. A. E. Dixon's letter was referred, beg leave to report and recommend that this council guarantee to expend $500 next year on the ground given by Mr. Dixon to the town for a park, the terms of the guarantee in accordance with the terms in the deed conveying it to the town.

Advertising a Failure.

Advertising a failure, at least it has proved so in its having failed to bring forward one bid out of the large number of Ridgway Pennsylvania axes sold by us last year for which we have offered in the Times for some weeks two new ones for each. Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of crosscut saws this year for which we claim that they will save faster, keep sharper longer and give better satisfaction than those of any other make. George Stethem & Son, next door to Post Office.

Alleged Pickpocket.

A youth named Brydon Weese, a Peterborough boy who now resides at 21 Nelson street, says the Toronto News, has been seen several times in the city, and about the T. Eaton Co.'s store, and it is alleged that a week ago Friday he was observed attempting to pick the pocket of a woman who was looking in the window. He has been seen there repeatedly since then and Detective Harrison was on each occasion summoned to arrest him. Before the officer could arrive Weese had always vanished, but on Saturday Harrison met him and seized him. He was remanded until Friday.

A Big Lumber Firm Stops Cutting.

A report reached town this morning, says the Lindsay Post, that the Gilmore Co., operating in the townships of Peck and Hunter, bordering on the Algonquin Park game reserve, have decided to stop cutting on their limits for this season and that 400 men would lose their winter's employment in consequence. In conversation with a well known lumberman, he said the rumor was no doubt correct, as 50 men had arrived in town from that district within this morning and he was in a position to know that the company had a huge stock of lumber on hand at Trenton for which they could not find a market. He did not think that the company contemplated a complete cessation of work but the fact that they have already over 100,000 logs ready for the dump ought to be the early coming of the snow has prompted them to stop cutting. The shut-down will mean a serious loss to the farmers of the north country.

A Drain on Lindsay Charity.

From the Haliburton train the other day, says the Lindsay Post, there alighted a poor fellow named Geo. Cody, who, after hobbling down to the Daily House, hunted up Mayor Walters and told a sad story. He said that he had been hired by one of Hovory & Co's agents in Saginaw to work in the lumber woods up north, and that he received $15 a month if he remained all the winter with the firm, his fare to be stopped from his wages. He reached camp Nov. 17, about 10 miles from Gooderham, last Saturday and went to work Monday morning with the road making gang. On Tuesday afternoon he got his right foot wet while working in the swamp, and the weather being very cold he was soon in great pain and realized that if he did not return to the shanty, about two miles away, for dry socks, the consequences might be serious. Upon asking the road foreman for permission he was denied it, and was compelled to work till midnight. Next morning he was unable to use the foot, which had been badly frozen, and on Thursday Mr. Green, the foreman of the shanty, told him that if he was not able to go to work he must leave the camp. He did so and got a lift on a sleigh as far as Gooderham, from which distance he walked to Fenelon Falls, crippled as he was, with the exception of four miles, when he was carried on a hand car by a sympathetic section man, when he arrived at Fenelon Falls last evening charitable citizens of that village paid for his board and night's lodging, and bought him a ticket into Lindsay this morning. Mayor Walters furnished him with a ticket as far as Toronto, and the poor fellow appeared very grateful. This is the fifth or sixth time Hovory refugees have been assisted out of the town funds.

Attentions of the Throat.

GALT, Ont., Nov. 18, 1895.—My wife suffered with pain and distress from an affection of the throat caused by impure blood. She was almost in despair but finally procured a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking six bottles of this medicine she was completely cured. John Weckner.

THE DOCTOR CENSURED.

John Jones Died From Natural Causes—The Jury's Verdict.

The inquest on the body of John Jones, of Newtonville, has been concluded. The evidence of the last witnesses and the jury's verdict are given below:

The Rev. Wesley Down said that he was one of the witnesses to the will of the late John Jones. He was requested by Dr. Aldrich to attend him on Tuesday, 15th of September, to act in this capacity, which he did. The other witness was John Bradley. The deceased man seemed to be quite satisfied that those present should be the witnesses. The will was not read in their presence. He did not hear the will read to Mr. Jones.

Dr. Aldrich was the next witness. He was duly sworn, and said he had attended Mr. Jones during his illness. He was first called in on the 9th of September, when he found him in feeble health, suffering from partial consolidation of the right lung. The left lung was rather peculiar, and he could not exactly make out what was the matter. The breathing was high and heart sounds feeble. The lower extremities were cold. There was slight distention of the bowels. His patient told him he had not been well for some time. Upon further examination, he found the patient suffering from partial paralysis of the throat. He swallowed with great difficulty. He could only take nourishment a teaspoonful at a time, and was much emaciated. The condition of the heart made the case dangerous. He diagnosed the case as typhoid fever and inflammation of the right lung. He ordered the patient milk and beef tea and whiskey.

He gave him two mixtures, one smother carb potash, iodide, pinch digitalis; the other, quinine sulph., nitro-muriatic acid and liquor strychnine. He put a fly blister on his right lung. He had to reduce the dose, as the stomach of his patient would not retain it. Dr. Powers saw Mr. Jones with and approved of my treatment. When he first went to see Mr. Jones he asked him why he had not consulted a doctor before, when he was answered that he did not want to have much to do with doctors. He also said he would have gone down to see Dr. Waters if he had been able. The witness offered to send Dr. Waters, but he would not consent. I asked Mr. Jones to allow a consultation frequently, but he would not allow it. Finally he consented to Dr. Powers' plan of my treatment. G. W. Jones came to him and summoned him to attend Mr. John Jones, whom he found in a state of collapse. The witness wished Dr. Powers to be called, but his patient again declined to follow his advice. He advised his patient to allow him to use a stomach tube, but the sick man would not hear of it. He considered the use of the tube would be ineffective, and merely suggested it because some people of the village had spoken of it.

J. R. Jones came in to his office on the Monday previous to the death of John Jones. He asked him if he would object to Dr. Hilliard, of Bowmanville, being called in. He had no objection. He subsequently met Dr. Hilliard, who seemed to be satisfied with him. When he asked him afterwards why he had been on his dignity with him, he said he had been told that he had refused to meet him. Dr. Hilliard did not make a careful examination of Mr. Jones, but examined the chest chiefly. He proposed the use of a stomach tube. The witness told him to suit himself, he did not think it any use. He took charge of the case of the deceased when asked to do so by Mr. Thos. Jones. He did not say that Mr. Jones was delirious at any time. S. W. Jones two or three weeks ago had threatened unless a sharp knock was given him, that he would leave the town. Mr. Jones estate claimed by his mother was settled, he would make it dirty for witness and throw the whole estate into chaos. He paid no attention to this season and examined, he said he always removed flannel shirts from patients suffering from typhoid fever. There was no one in the room when he spoke to John Jones about making his will. It was on Tuesday, John Jones asked witness if he could make his will, and he told him he could. I have printed forms of will. After he made it he hid it in his pocket. Jones requested him to draw the will, but as he did not want any one to know he had made a will.

Dr. Douglas, of Cobourg, was the next witness. He read a report of the case conducted by himself and Dr. R. T. Corbett and prepared by them in a clear and careful manner. In order to place the result of their investigations as plainly as possible before the jury. They found the heart had lost its normal shape, and was somewhat flattened. There was no fatty degeneration of the heart but the walls were weaker than those of a healthy heart. This condition they attributed to muscular degeneration of the walls of the heart, resulting from continued high temperature. Clots of blood were found in the heart, indicating that John Jones' death had been by a slow process, the clots being formed just previous to death, and were the result of feeble circulation. Deceased undoubtedly suffered from double pneumonia. The lung trouble was the immediate cause of his death and in their opinion existed in complication with typhoid fever. The left lung was more extensively involved than the right. There was no evidence of disease of the throat. The conclusion was that John Jones came to his death from an attack of double pneumonia, complicated with an attack of typhoid fever.

They returned the following verdict after being out three hours: "That the said John Jones came to his death from an attack of pneumonia, developed in an attack of typhoid fever. We are of the opinion that there was a necessity for this inquest in this case, owing to the very suspicious circumstances and severely condemn Dr. Aldrich for making the will of the deceased and allowing himself to be appointed sole executor of the said will while he was medical attendant on the deceased, such conduct, in our opinion, has greatly been the cause of this inquest causing a large expense on these United Counties."

COUNTY COURT.

Judge Weller Addresses the Grand Jury—Two Actions Only.

His Honor Judge Weller opened the December Sessions at 1 o'clock yesterday. The Grand Jury was empanelled as follows: Jos. E. Cobb, foreman, Louis Croly, Frank Mercer, Robert Fair, Charles Miller, F. B. Knowles, Wm. Thistlethwaite, Charles Dawson, Miles Froese, John Kinds.

In his address to the Grand Jury His Honor said it was their privilege to visit the gaol, hospitals, Protestant Home and public library, and they had a right to expose anything in these institutions that was wrongful or irregular. The county would be free from crime, there being only two actions to deal with. That the present court had so few cases was due partially to the fact that criminals were well dealt with by those two able magistrates, Messrs. Dumble and Edmondson.

RUFUS WAS TAKEN IN.

HE STOPPED TO BET WITH THE TRICK-KNIFE MAN.

This Story Tells How Rufus Holmes of York County was Swindled out of $20 by a Bogus Reporter and a Bogus Detective.

"Excuse me, but will you give me a chew of your tobacco?"

The young man who said this was dressed neatly, but not flashily. He was short, stout and dark-skinned. He had a black moustache and a round, puffy face. The man he approached was sitting on a bench in the C.P.R. station yesterday afternoon. He looked to be about 35 years old, was plainly dressed and bore the general appearance of a countryman. Rufus Holmes is his name, and he lives in the country near Markham.

"Certainly," said Holmes, hospitably. He drew from his pocket the big brown plug from which he had taken a bite a few moments before. The stranger took a seat beside him, took out a pocket knife and out of a moderate sized chunk and he tucked away in his mouth like an adept. Then he closed the knife. He held it in the palm of his hand and gazed at it admiringly for several seconds. "Did you ever see a trick knife?" he asked Holmes.

"No, I can't say as I have," said the man from the country, looking at it curiously. "Well, sir, there's a knife I wouldn't sell for $25," said the stranger, still gazing at the new looking pearl handled beauty in his palm. "It's a knife that you can't open unless you know how. I bought it from a stranger who told me it was a good one, and wouldn't believe it, but it took me a month to learn how to open it."

"How does it work?" inquired Holmes, interestedly. The stranger opened the blade by catching the groove in the ordinary way then closed it again, pried a spring at the butt end of the handle, then handed it to Holmes to open. Holmes couldn't do it. The stranger looked on either side of him, showed him how to manipulate the spring so that the blade could open. Holmes took the knife again, and doing as directed, set and unsaid the spring just as easily, if not quite so readily as the stranger. "By gee," said Holmes, "that's a good one." He handed the knife back to the stranger, who put it in his pocket and asked as in friendly interest:

"Which way do you go?" "I'm going to Markham, down in York county," said Holmes.

"What time do you leave here?" "On the 4.49 train."

"I leave at 4.49 also. It's only 3 now," said the friendly stranger, looking at his watch. "You have got an hour to wait. Let us go down and see the explosion."

"Where?" asked Holmes. "Oh, didn't you hear about it? Why, it's a wonder only a couple of blocks. It just happened a few minutes ago. I hear three men have been killed. Let's take a walk down."

Holmes assented with eagerness. He could tell the folk who he was looking for. What an awful explosion there'd been in Peterborough and how he had seen the bodies of three men taken from the ruins.

They started at a brisk walk down George-street. The stranger acted as guide and led him down Charlotte street. In front of the fence which incloses the G. T. R. grounds they met a smooth faced young man, who was walking as fast as his legs could carry him without running. He carried a bunch of blank paper in his right hand and newspapers were sticking out of his overcoat pocket on either side.

"Hello, Jackson!" exclaimed Holmes' companion, stopping abruptly in front of the hurrying young man, bringing him to a halt. "What's the matter? Is this explosion?" "Are you reporting it?"

"Yes, my paper is going to get out an extra edition on it this afternoon and I've got to write a couple of columns about it. And what's the matter, where's your pencil? Hurry up! I've got to get there before they get the injured men away."

Tom handed him the trick knife. The professed reporter tried to open it. He couldn't. The spring was fastened. After breaking a thumb-nail, he exclaimed: "What kind of a knife is this, anyhow?"

Tom smiled and winked at Holmes. Holmes understood the joke and laughed. The supposed reporter looked up from the trick knife and indignantly demanded: "What are you laughing about?"

"Why, 'cause you seem to hev'n some trouble openin' the knife."

"No more trouble than you'd have," retorted Jackson. "Well, I guess you're wrong about that," said Holmes, still smiling good naturedly. "I kin open it in about two jerks of a loose joint."

"No, you can't," said the other, warmly. "I'll bet you $30 you can't open it in a minute!"

Holmes emitted a loud ruff and said: "I'll bet I can open it in a minute!" He commanded, briskly diving into his trousers pocket and fishing out a well-worn pocket book.

He drew out an equally convinced manner, drew a roll of bills from his pocket and deposited four $5 bills in Tom's hand. Holmes intrusted two 10's to the same stake-holder and took the knife.

He smiled and shyly touched the spring at the butt of the handle, then clutched the groove in the blade and gave it a confident little jerk. His nail slipped. He tried it again with a better grip on the blade. Again his nail slipped. He touched the spring again and looked at it this time to be sure that he had fixed it all right. Another tug. His smile vanished. In its place came a puzzled frown. He tugged again. Once more his grip failed. The blade seemed to be glued or riveted to the handle. But he knew that he knew the secret and he kept at it determinedly, shifting the spring back and forth and pulling at the blade.

"The minute's up!" exclaimed Tom who was holding the watch. "You've won the bet, Jackson. The money's yours." And he handed the $40 to the alleged reporter. Just then it dawned upon Rufus Holmes that he had been swindled in some way. He grabbed the professed newspaper man by the arm as he was about to hurry away, suddenly remembering that he had to get the story about the explosion. "Hold on," said the countryman, "that's your money."

The fake reporter was protesting angrily, when a big, dark-visaged man with a slouch hat stepped up and said, in tones of authority: "What're you fellows doing here? Gambling? I arrest you in the name of the Police Force." He grabbed both Holmes and Jackson, while Tom escaped.

"We wasn't gambling," protested Holmes desperately. "No, we weren't, officer," said the other. "I am a reporter and I was just on my way to write up the explosion when I met this man and simply offered to bet that he could open that knife." He pretended to think that the knife was still in Holmes' hand. Tom had hastened to take the knife from the countryman as soon as he learned over the money.

The supposed detective let go of the fictitious reporter for a moment, as if in doubt. The fake writer immediately broke into a run. The dark-visaged man made a dash to pursue, but, seeing that he was grabbed his other prisoner, he turned about and grabbed him with a tighter hold than before, while the bogus newspaper man skeddaddled down Aymer street at the top of his speed.

"Don't arrest me, officer," begged Holmes. "Stop him," pointing to the fleeing crook. "He's robbed me of $20. He snatched it out of my hands just now. That's what we were quarrelling about."

"Robbed you? Well, why didn't you say so before?" said the supposed officer. Then he broke into a run in the same direction as the fleeing crook, calling back: "Stay here until I go after him."

Holmes stayed—that is, for several hours. Poor Rufus! He hung about on the corner of the street until he was blue with the cold. He strained his eyes anxiously up and down as if expecting that the fake detective would return with the prisoner at any moment from any direction. He told the small crowd which gathered when the two men were seen running down Aymer street after the fake arrest that a man had snatched $20 from his hands and that a detective was trying to catch him. There was a railroad man in the crowd who smelled a mouse. He made a show of sympathizing with the countryman and by adroit questioning finally got the true story of the affair from him. "Dear what I thought," said the experienced conductor. "The old trick knife game. There's two springs in it. The other one, which he didn't show you, locks the blade with a bolt, and the one he did show you is only a fancy figure. When the other one's on. The fellow with the knife was what the police call a stealer. He took you to see the explosion when there wasn't any explosion. He steered you up against the fake reporter and when you were about to make trouble for the reporter crook, the other man in the game came out and played detective. The game is as old as the hills. Better run along now, Rufus, before you get lost."

Rufus took the next train for Markham.

There were 25 clubs represented, showing an increase of about 50 delegates from the previous year. Those present were: Toronto Athletic Club, P. C. Stephenson, W. P. Matthews, Guelph, A. E. Kemp, A. W. S. Langtry, Victoria, C. F. Kemp, A. W. S. Langtry, Seattle, R. C. Cook, H. N. H. Kenner, Boston, C. B. Fox, Peterborough, H. B. H. Kenner, W. Phelan, Stratford, McFadden, Victoria, C. Good, A. Whitely, Victoria, Kingston, J. Berwick, C. Kerrigan, Wellington, Toronto, E. P. Brown, C. F. Hill, Petrolia, G. Moncrief, J. B. Noble, Limestone, S. Storey, Volts, Peterborough, S. Beecher, Granites, Toronto, J. Bain, F. Somerville, Varsity, F. H. Scott, H. Little, London, Beecher, J. McDougall, Berlin, F. Anderson, Norway, F. W. Oretter.

An amendment to section five was carried, and made to read: "The entrance fee to be paid at or before the 1st of January each year." It was moved and carried that the secretary be presented with $50 for his work for the year. The treasurer's report was received and read, showing a balance of $50. The following officers were elected: President, C. A. Brown; vice president, M. McFadden; second vice, W. A. Gilmour; secretary, F. W. Tiffin; Osgood, treasurer, A. C. Creelman; committees, A. F. Martin, Osgood, Geo. J. Horkins, J. Beeten, Queen's, J. Baine, Granites, H. Southern, Trinity.

It was decided to leave it to the Executive whether the be a league series established or not. A vote of thanks was moved to Mr. Magan.

The meeting proved to be the most enthusiastic in the history of the H.A. about 50 per cent more delegates being present than in any previous year. The Peterborough Hockey club was represented by Bicycle Jockey Turtle Soup Horkins, Manitoba, P. C. Cook, H. N. H. Kenner, who also attended to the representation of the Volts, Lindsay and Norwood by regular delegates or by proxies. The president, vice-presidents, secretary and treasurer was re-elected without opposition but a very stubborn fight took place over the election of the Executive Committee.

B. J. T. S. Horkins and his colleagues by clever electioneering succeeded in getting Peterborough represented on the Executive. Fifteen or more names of gentlemen belonging to the most important hockey clubs of Ontario came before the meeting of these only six could be elected and B. J. T. S. Horkins was one of the lucky six, polling the second highest vote. Alex. Martin in the committee's report recommended the division of the clubs into seniors, intermediates and juniors and this was referred by the delegates to the incoming executive with full power to act thereon. Mr. Horkins opposed this in committee and was successful in having the same division as last year. The Peterborough District will consist of the Peterborough, F. Volts, Norwood and Lindsay. The schedule will be arranged at a meeting of the executive to be held a week from Wednesday. The Peterboroughs should at once get to work to try and secure the trophy for a third time. The local delegates were very abundant at the Royal Canadian Yacht Club on Saturday night at a smoking concert and shell oyster supper.

Messrs. Phelan, Kenner and Horkins returned from Toronto last night and report that the meeting was one of the most enthusiastic and satisfactory ever held by the association.

FOR BREACH OF PROMISE.

Ex-Reeve Findlay the Defendant in a Suit for Damages.

Mr. G. J. Sherry, solicitor for Mrs. O'Neil, Norwood, on Friday issued a writ of summons out of the office of the Registrar of the High Court of Justice, against Mr. John Findlay, ex-revee of Norwood and senior member of the firm of Findlay & Son, claiming $3,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage. The plaintiff is the widow of Mr. O'Neil, the late collector of customs at Campbellford. Mrs. O'Neil has been a resident of Norwood for some time, where she has been supporting her family as a music teacher. She claims that shortly after the death of his wife Mr. Findlay persuaded her to give this up. She retired into private with the understanding that she was to become the wife of Mr. Findlay, he having made promises to her to that effect. But by the marriage of the abundant to the widow of the late Dr. Scott, which was celebrated last November, she saw that he had no intention of keeping his promises to her, and therefore she brought this present suit to recover damages for breach of promise and for the giving up of a lucrative means of support under the inducements of marriage made by the defendant. Both parties are well known in Norwood. The plaintiff is a handsome and refined widow and is well liked by all who are acquainted with her. Mr. Findlay has resided in Norwood for many years. He is a successful manufacturer and is also well liked as is exemplified by his being elected for several terms. He is prepared to have a jury decide the question as he says the accusation is false.

The coroner's jury at Cleveland has failed to find any one guilty in connection with the recent street car catastrophe, in which 17 lives were lost.

Electrical Treatment

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

110 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shrivelled up, and as thin as lime could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well.

SCIENTIFIC HOUSE DECORATION.

A Young Woman of Observation Speaks of Color Schemes For Rooms.

"I have been helping an old school chum to refurbish her house," said a young woman of observation, "and I have learned more about color effects in one week than I ever knew before. You see, houses are not painted or papered as they used to be, on the old, simple plan of 'that will look well here,' and 'such a pattern will be all right there,' but according to settled laws, canons and rules. It's quite a scientific matter now, I assure you.

"Yellows, for instance, are all right for a hall or vestibule, but they must not be used in any room in which one rests or reads or works. Why? Because yellows do not absorb any light, but are strong reflectors, and the reflected rays of light are not only trying to the eyes, but positively affect the brain and the spirits, creating a distinct disturbance of the nervous centers. So the modern scientific decorator, at any rate, tells us, and we believe him.

"On the other hand, buffs and creams are recommended for the nursery and children's sleeping rooms because of their tonic qualities. They are better than white, which is apt to disturb the young optic nerves by its brilliancy, and are calculated to impart a cheerful but not too boisterous temperament as well as a good complexion to the youngsters.

"For the library or workroom there is no color like coffee. Coffee, in fact, is the most soothing thing in the color world, it seems. It induces a pleasant nirvana feeling, such as nothing else does. It conduces to habits of speculative thought. It produces a philosophical calm, and it is eminently successful as a mild incentive to literary efforts. Indeed there seems to be some delicate and abstract connection between coffee as a beverage and coffee as a color for domestic decoration. I suggested something of this sort to the handsome and interesting young artist who was superintending the decoration, and he descended to agree with me.

"I have learned one really important fact about colors, however. I used to imagine that there was no color so cool as white, but I have been taught that, to the contrary, the coolest of all colors is red—not the flaming, glaring red, but the dull Pompeian red and terra cotta. These are cool because of their peculiarly absorbent qualities. It is almost impossible to light or warm them, and I had today a most convincing object lesson of this fact—that while the cool white room of the Wordsworthian poem is all very nice to read about, and does at first sight impress one as being such, it does not begin to compare in coolness with one in dull red. A visit to the two rooms had just the same cooling effect on me that is produced by passing from sunshine into shadow. Of course you know I am speaking all the time of interior decoration, although I am not sure whether a terra cotta town would not be considerably cooler than a whitewashed one.

"So you see the old Pompeians were right when they cooled off their atria and patios by painting the town red. The only other color which approaches Pompeian red for coolness, so the elegant and artistic young workman told me, is dark green, but it has been found to have so depressing a mental effect on most people that it is very sparingly used. Then I was told lots about mass effects, distance shadows and length lines, and I don't know what else, but quite enough to convince me that the decoration of our house interiors is conducted upon a plane so lofty that it is impossible to say whether it is an artistic science or a scientific art."—New York Sun.

About the Same Thing.

She was trying to explain to her class of east side children the meaning of "sinecure" without mentioning the word.

"Now, children, if a man should pay you $1 a day just to sit at the window and look out, what would that be?"

"That would be bully!" cried a little girl.

"Hush, dear. That is slang, and you mustn't use slang. Why, it would be a-s-i-n."

"Oh, teacher, I know!" shouted a 10-year-old boy. "It would be a cinch."

And the teacher was fain to acknowledge to herself that it might come under that head.—New York Recorder.

Whittier's Way.

John G. Whittier was greatly loved by strangers, who not only called on him, but thrifly insisted on putting up with him all night. "There has no idea," said his sister, "how much time Greenleaf spends trying to lose these people in the streets. Sometimes he comes home and says: 'Well, sister, I had hard work to lose him, but I have lost him. But I can never lose a her. The women are more pertinacious than the men. Don't these find them so, Maria?'—San Francisco Argonaut.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

The town cannot afford to lose the services of Councillor Best, and it will be in the best interests of the town if he can be persuaded to run for the council of 1896. The chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee and the Sewerage Committee is inclined to retire from municipal service, but we do not believe the voters of his ward will allow him to do so. Councillor Best has a thorough grasp of the work directly under the supervision of his committees, and his foresight and judgment has undoubtedly saved the town a great deal of money. At this time, when permanent improvements are just commencing his knowledge of street and bridge work and sewerage construction and the experience which he has gained, renders his services invaluable to the town, and we rest in the selfish hope that he can be persuaded to continue in the direction of these important works.

The question of permanent improvements in Peterborough cannot be agitated too quickly. Take a look at the streets of this town to-day, and we find they are simply turnpikes, uneven and during some periods of the year, muddy and almost impassable. The council cannot too quickly take the question of permanent roads into serious consideration, for every year that goes by under the present system of street patching, adds to the enormous sum which is actually being wasted. Ten years ago the question of permanent roads should have been taken up. In ten years the enormous sum of $100,000 has been expended on the streets, and today they are in the same condition as they were then—not better and not worse. In 1885 $12,000 was spent on the streets, or nearly that amount, there being a small asset in the broken stone which could not be used, but which will be eventually wasted next year. These sums represent a forced expenditure—an expenditure which must be made, and which will be equalled in the next ten years with the same result unless permanent improvements are made.

Of the town macadamized streets, and the sum of $100,000 will cover the cost of permanent streets for the central portion lasting in durability with a trifling yearly expenditure for repairs. It would be wise to issue debentures for this amount next year, and construct such roads at once. The money which is frittered away each year would nearly pay the interest on the debentures, and in the end we would have good streets and something to show for the expenditure.

Councillor Best is strongly in favor of this plan and he should be returned to the Council and supported to carry it out.

Doubts have been expressed as to the correctness of the paragraph in this journal of Thursday in regard to the "dark horse" in the coming municipal contest for the mayor and alderman of the council, which an evening contemporary is likely to pursue in reference thereto. We got out information from a gentleman whom we have reason to believe is well posted in the confidence of the paper referred to. We shall be pleased, however, to know that our informant is mistaken, as we are inclined to think that the veteran councillor for ward one is entitled to the position, over any person so far named for it, on account of his long experience and faithful service.

THE TIMES published the business transaction by the Street and Bridge Committee on Wednesday night, in yesterday's issue, and we now voice our regrets for doing so. It appears that the committee intended to advertise for tenders for hauling and spreading the gravel on the street railway allowance. In publishing the figures at which Mr. Blodgett offers to do the work, we spoiled this plan. The figures were intended to be kept quiet, and the members of the committee were bound over to secrecy, but when they heard news of this journal is always the first to get it.

THURSDAY NIGHT'S FIRE.

The Fruit Store of Frank Anthony Burned Out.

Frank Anthony's fruit and candy store on Aylmer street between Simcoe and Hunter streets, caught fire shortly after 7 o'clock last night. The firemen responded to the call but mistook a burning chimney on the Commercial hotel for the scene of the conflagration and went there first. The mistake caused a delay which enabled the fire to get well under way, and it was only by hard work that the fire was confined to the immediate premises. The store is a rough cast structure with a frame addition. The latter was burned to the ground and the former was badly gutted. The stock was utterly destroyed and will be almost a total loss as there was very little insurance on it. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars.

Wedding Dells.

At St. John's church Wednesday afternoon Rev. Basil Andrews was married to Miss Annie M. Rackham, daughter of Mr. W. H. Rackham, Brock street, by His Lordship, the Bishop of Toronto, assisted by Rev. J. C. Davidson. The bride was crowned in a beautiful lady's cloth with velvet sleeves, and the bridesmaid, Miss Mamie Rackham, sister of the bride, was attired in gray tulle. The Rev. E. V. St. John, curate of St. John's, attended the groom. The impressive ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of guests and spectators, and afterwards the wedding party repaired to the residence of the bride's parents where the wedding feast was spread. In the afternoon the newly wedded couple left for the west. The groom was formerly assistant curate of St. John's and is now curate of Holy Trinity, Toronto.

The first man to make the crossing on the ice between Sturgeon Point and Pleasant Point this season was Joe Lytle. Leaving the former point, leading a spirited young horse, he struck out for the southern shore. The ice was thin and covered with snow, and before he was half over Joe wished he had never started. However, he kept right ahead, and reached terra firma in safety. On the return trip he took another route, going around by Fenelon Falls.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 14, 1895.

THE HOCKEY CLUB.

The Season Will Be Here Soon For the Rubber to Glide.Our hockeyists are just commencing to loosen up their joints for the winter's battles. Last year our ice pats won the championship by several lengths. This year they intend to retain it for Peterborough and in this determination they deserve the support and encouragement of all good people.HURLEY AND HORKINS SAY THE TEAM IS A WINNER.The rink is in better shape than it was last winter. Those posts which barked so many shins and elbows and caused so many a wailed head have been taken out and converted into kindling wood. So this year there is no danger of the hockeyists beating their brains against them, and they can devote their brains exclusively to new combinations and new methods of swiping the rubber.

MONTGOMERY WHOOPS 'ER UP.

The team will be somewhat changed this year. Woulton has gone to other parts and his place will have to be filled.
Davidson, who has gone through many a scratch, has had his hand badly hurt, and he will not be able to play, it is feared. We are informed, however, that his vocal cords came out of that mill catastrophe all right, and he will be saved to the team for shouting purpose, which is sometimes the whole thing.

PARSONS LOOKS DETERMINED.

King is in good trim this year. He has been wearing a board up his back all summer to keep his shoulders from coming together and he will be able to lay on the rubber as of yore.
Phelan will be the strength of the team this year as he was last year. He developed his leg muscles this summer playing tennis, and he will be very much in evidence in the "rushes."

KING BREATHES HARD.

Parson still knows how to hold a stick.
He has been practicing with a one this fall, and he can be counted on to do his duty at critical moments.
Messrs. Hurley and Horkins will look after the interests of the team. Mr.
Hurley says the team will be the senior

PHELAN ON HIS METTLE.

champions yet, and Hurley ought to know.
The team is now looking for a man with big feet to play goal. Adams and Wason are spoken of for this important position.
In the meantime THE SATURDAY TIMES
urges the boys to Practise!! PRACTISE!!
PRACTISE!! This is where they will catch the Toronto clubs napping, for there the players haven't the time.

A RESOLUTION.

City Lodge I. O. G. T. Oppose Mr.
Cahill's Candidature.City Lodge, I. O. G. T., No. 404, has passed the following resolution:
Whereas, we have learned that it is the intention of Thomas Cahill, Esq., to offer himself for the position of Mayor of Peterborough, and
Whereas, we believe that, while in the council, his vote has ever been raised in favor of the liquor interests, and against the moral improvement of the town to such an extent as to render him, in spite of his other good qualities, unworthy of the position to which he is said to aspire; and Whereas, we believe there are men who could fill the position just as well and with honor to the town;
Therefore, it is resolved—That we, the members of City Lodge, No. 404, I. O. G. T., are most emphatically opposed to Mr.
Cahill's candidature, and we urge upon every moral person in the town the duty of striving their utmost to have a man elected to their Chief Magistrate's chair, who will not only serve the town faithfully and well, but would also seek to maintain the highest standing of morality.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.

Held in Aid of the Children's Aid Society.There is no institution in Peterborough more deserving of the support, assistance and sympathy of the public than the Children's Aid Society, nor one that is accomplishing more good, or more useful or needed. A few have successfully fostered the society and in their hands it has become an important factor in Peterborough and along its own lines, has accomplished great good.That the aims and objects of the society meet with the hearty approbation of citizens was evidenced by the large audience which filled the Opera House last night at the concert held in aid of the society.The entertainment was undoubtedly one of the best of its kind ever held in Peterborough. The singing of Mr. Harold Jarvis fairly took the audience by storm and in his Scotch numbers he was enthusiastically cheered. Mr. Jarvis was suffering from a cold, but his recent appearance here, which prevented him from doing his magnificent voice full justice, but last night he surpassed himself.Mr. Thomas Dunn, who is always well received by a Peterborough audience, gave his numbers in splendid voice and was encored repeatedly.Mr. Le Stimpie, whose fame preceded him, did not disappoint his audience, and his violinello solos were received with enthusiasm.Mrs. Blight and Mrs. Thos. Dunn were the accomplished accompanists of the evening.

DISLIKES BEING CANVASSED.

A Candidate Caught Him in a Bad Time to talk Politics."Say, Mr. Reporter, you can put it in the paper that this canvassing business is a nuisance. A night or two ago, just as I was preparing to retire, in popped a council candidate and discussed municipal politics, sewerage and a dozen other questions for nearly the space of an hour. Of course I could not order him out of my house, common courtesy prevented me, but I wished him a warm hereafter in return to the freighting he occasioned me.
Now, I am only an ordinary working man, but I read THE TIMES and kept posted on matters that are moving. I think I have common sense enough to vote for the men I consider are going to do the city the most good without having them come to me and beg for my vote. It is hard to tell a candidate you cannot vote for him. Besides, the unpleasantness of such action is likely to make him your enemy. As far as I am concerned, I do not want to be canvassed. It is a nuisance, rather than strengthens my opinion of a candidate."

HARD AT WORK

At the Trent Valley Canal Along the River—A Deal of Rock Excavated.Snow and rain and slush are hard to combat and make much progress but under the fine weather of the past week things are going along very merrily on this section of the canal, if hard work can be said to proceed under such circumstances.Early in the season the surface soil and such earth as was easily removable was taken to form the embankments of the approaches to the lock chambers. The line of the canal was scraped down to the rock, which along the shore is of a loose character, though a good deal comes out in large pieces. At the rock nearest Peterborough—No. 5—the chamber is now clearly defined and men are busy getting out the rock and deepening the excavation.
The approach to the upper end is now down to the bottom level, for the surface of the river will be raised some sixteen feet after the dam is built. At several points blasting is going on to loosen the rock. As fast as the gangs at the drilling prepare the holes they are charged and at noon hour and when quitting work the greater part of these charges are let off. The rock comes up in big flakes.
With the river on one hand and the only place of refuge is to take to the woods. The blasts do not scatter the rock, but fragments are driven up to astonishing heights in the air to come down long after the spectator is feeling assured that all have fallen.Dynamite is the explosive used and it does its work well. It is fired by an electric battery and wire from a safe distance. A gentleman who is treated with the profound respect is the man carrying the dynamite in a canvas bag slung over his shoulder. He has enough of the stuff about him to make a big gap in the population but handles it serenely though carefully.The rock excavated is drawn on stone boats and piled along the centre line of the pit. The waste rock and debris is hauled to one side and dropped over the river bank. A week's work will see the excavation of the upper approach finished and when the putting of the concrete lining along the slides is begun the machinery will get to work. The stone is crushed by powerful breakers and mixed with a proportion of sand and Portland cement.When the mass is thoroughly mixed it is taken to the moulds and rammed in. A large number of cars or trucks are the ground ready for use as soon as a temporary railroad is laid down. The moulds are frames to confine the concrete while it is solidifying—a setting, as termed. Layer after layer is added and the wall, when finished, will be capped with a course of cut stone. The wall lining the slides of the approaches will be from 6 to 10 feet thick, but those of the lock proportionately thicker.The site of the dam at lock 5 has been cleared and the shore of the river at this point denuded of timber. When the water is raised it will cover what is now the river bank, and extend to the east to the foot of a big bill on the Smith side, making the river practically about four times as wide as it now flows.
At lock No. 4 half a mile above No. 5, a deal of heavy work has been accomplished. The locality, to one who remembers it as it was last year, is unrecognizable.
A great trench has been scooped across a point, while an embankment, technically known as a puddled wall, nearly a third of a mile long has been built. The slide in the form of a bow and will hold back the water from flooding the land adjacent to the new road which was built. The quarrying going on here is a "cut-out,"
the material to be used being thrown down from the side of the bank. The blasting going on is done at the south approach to the lock chamber. Another dam site is cleared opposite the upper end of the lock.Some work is going on at lock 3, known as "Girvin's" while a lot of men are at work below Lakeside where the bank a week's work is an unrecognizable embankment. A coffer dam is being constructed and a pump well made to allow of the space enclosed by the dam being pumped dry. When this is done the river bed for a sufficient way will be blown up and removed, making a channel with a clear depth of water up to Lakeside lock. About three thousand yards of the river channel will be improved.
The work now in hand is such as can be carried on during the season and will facilitate next summer's operations. It takes a large number of men to make the change that is being made at this point, and it is hoped that the weather will continue mild that all may be fully employed for as long a period as possible.

A BUSY CORNER.

It Was the Subject of a Cartoon in the News.The Toronto News this week published a scene from the corner of King and Yonge streets, Toronto, under the caption of "The busiest corner in Toronto." The picture outlined the ticket offices on three corners and the large emporium of W. & D.
Dineen, and the well known furriers and hatters on the north west corner.Without a doubt this corner, at this period of the year, is the busiest of any in the Queen City, for besides the regular street traffic and the masses of people at this point, there is a steady stream of people passing in and out of this acknowledged headquarters for furs.W. D. Dineen has occupied this historic corner for years and it has become historic as the leading house in the city. Dineen's sets prices so low that others have to take a second place. This is well known not only in Toronto but all over the province.
Citizens visiting the Queen City will be courteously received at this emporium, and the proprietors respectfully solicit an inspection of their fare and prices."How to Cure All Skin Diseases"

I. O. G. T. AND THE MAYORALTY.

At a recent meeting City Lodge, No. 404, I. O. G. T., passed a resolution in which Mr. Cahill was roundly condemned as a champion of the liquor interests of this town, and his candidature for the mayoralty strongly opposed. The resolution calls upon "every moral person in the town the duty of striving their utmost to have a man elected to the chief magistrate's chair who would not only serve the town faithfully and well, but would also seek to maintain the highest standard of morality.

The I. O. G. T. takes a broad view of the mayoralty—a view as broad as the diameter of a green pea—and its conception of the relation of the Chief Magistrate's office to the liquor interests are so broad that it might just as well included in the resolution that Councillor Cahill should be condemned for present hard times, the price of coal, or the resignation of Clarke Wallace. The Mayor of this town has just about as much control over these things as over the liquor interests.

Except in the matter of granting licenses up to the limit fixed by law—not by the council—the council has nothing to do with the liquor interests of this town. The license act says so many licenses shall be issued. The council keeps within the limit. How, then, can the council favor the liquor interests of the town or the Chief Magistrate who presides over the council?

We have followed the course of the council and have on record the polled vote of the councillors on all important matters, covering a period of several years, and we cannot see wherein Councillor Cahill has favored the liquor interests even in the narrow confines that it would be possible to favor them in. On one occasion he voted for the increase of hotel licenses, but this was done, as he explained at the time, to enable the farmers to secure stabling accommodation, there being inadequate accommodation at the hotels carrying licenses. This met with the hearty support of the whole council, with one or two exceptions, and was carried. However, the Mayor did not vote on this matter, and had Councillor Cahill been mayor, he would have been denied the privilege of voting, therefore it would be wise—to follow out the reasoning of the I. O. G. T. to place Councillor Cahill in the mayor's chair, where his views on the liquor question would not carry the weight of a vote.

The I. O. G. T. should remember that the license inspectors and not the town council, have all to do with the liquor interests of this town, and they are ably abetted by the town police force, which evidently acts without the fear or favor of the council, as some councillors know only too well. Let the I. O. G. T. strike at the root of the liquor question if it desires to stop its growth. And to do this it must strike deeper, even than the license inspectors. It must strike at the government and pledge its support to prohibition parliamentary candidates. Let them do this and they will traverse a circle that will bring them right back to where the temperance question of this province stands to-day, i.e. has the province the right to pass a prohibitory law? Will the province grant such a law if it has that right?

The I. O. G. T. is an organization that is far reaching in its influences; and these influences are for the betterment of the people, the extermination of a curse, the cause of temperance. The organization has no right, however, to place its ban upon any man, who acting within his individual rights—rights which are the free given gifts of the constitution of this country—may hold an opinion contrary to theirs—may act contrary to their teachings.

We are not supporting Mr. Cahill for the Mayoralty, but this scurrilous attack upon his character as a moral, law-abiding citizen, should not go unnoticed, and we believe it will secure him the votes of many people who believe in fairness and clean fighting; who detest that lowest of weapons, innuendo.

Completely Run Down.

"Last summer I was in very poor health. I was troubled with dizziness and tired feeling; also loss of appetite. I was completely run down. I decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and after I had taken it a while I felt much better." Lizzie A. Russell, Old Chelsea, near Ottawa, Que.

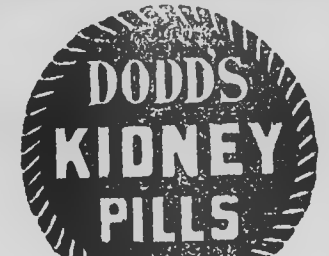

HOOD'S PILLS cure biliousness, indigestion,

General Coxey, whose ragged army marched hilariously to Washington, and then resumed its normal occupation of tramping around the country promiscuously, has dropped out of public sight since his candidacy for the Governorship of Ohio on the Populist ticket last month. Although not treated seriously abroad, and of such little consequence at home that no mention was made of him in the election returns, the irrepressible General was, it appears, somewhat of a factor in the campaign after all. He received 46,000 votes in a total poll of 850,000. While completely snowed under the number of ballots cast for him is a matter of surprise to those who looked upon him as a standing joke.

Now is the time to make Christmas purchases. Thrifty buyers who can do their shopping now will get the pick of the goods; they will escape the Christmas crush, and they will avoid the trials of their patience that are inseparable from a shopping tour a day or two before the holiday.

From the Regina Leader we gather that Mr. Davin has left the tory ranks and now upholds the banner of the patriots. As the patron platform is practically the reform platform, this means that Mr. Davin is now in opposition to the policy of the government.

.. ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA ..

The Rev. J. L. Murray, of Kincardine, Ontario, assured in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, in December, 1874, under Policy No. 1406, on the Twenty Year Endowment plan, paying an annual premium of $69.90 for ten years. He paid into the Company in all $699. In December, 1894, his Endowment matured, and he received a cheque from the Company for $1,364.70, being a return of all the premiums paid, and in addition, $665.70. That is to say Mr. Murray got back all the money he invested, with about 4 1/2 PER CENT. COMPOUND INTEREST, and had his life assured for $1,000 for twenty years free of charge.

It is needless to say that Mr. Murray was much pleased. You may gather that fact from the perusal of his letter here to appended. QUERY:—How many of the people of Peterborough invest their money to better advantage?

SCIENTIFIC HOUSE DECORATION.

A Young Woman of Observation Speaks of Color Schemes For Rooms.

"I have been helping an old school shunt to furnish her house," said a young woman of observation, "and I have learned more about color effects in one week than I ever knew before. You see, houses are not painted or papered as they used to be, on the old, simple plan of 'that will look well here,' and 'such a pattern will be all right there,' but according to settled laws, canons and rules. It's quite a scientific matter now, I assure you.

"Yellows, for instance, are all right for a hall or vestibule, but they must not be used in any room in which one rests or reads or works. Why? Because yellows do not absorb any light, but are strong reflectors, and the reflected rays of light are not only trying to the eyes, but positively affect the brain and the spirits, creating a distinct disturbance of the nervous centers. So the modern scientific decorator, at any rate, tells us, and we believe him.

"On the other hand, buffs and creams are recommended for the nursery and children's sleeping rooms because of their tonic qualities. They are better than white, which is apt to disturb the young optic nerves by its brilliancy, and are calculated to impart a cheerful but not too boisterous temperament as well as a good complexion to the youngsters.

"For the library or workroom there is no color like coffee. Coffee, in fact, is the most soothing thing in the color world, it seems. It induces a pleasant nervous feeling, such as nothing else does. It conduces to habits of speculative thought. It produces a philosophical calm, and it is eminently successful as a mild incentive to literary efforts. Indeed there seems to be some delicate and abstract connection between coffee as a beverage and coffee as a color for domestic decoration. I suggested something of this sort to the handsome and interesting young artist who was superintending the decoration, and he condescended to agree with me.

"I have learned one really important fact about colors, however. I used to imagine that there was no color so cool as white, but I have been taught that, to the contrary, the coolest of all colors is red—not the flaring, glaring red, but the dull Pompeian red and terra cotta. These are cool because of their peculiarly absorbent qualities. It is almost impossible to light or warm them, and I had today a most convincing object lesson of this fact—that while the cool white room of the Wordsworthian poet is all very nice to read about, and does at first sight impress one as being such, it does not begin to compare in coolness with one in dull red. A visit to the two rooms had just the same cooling effect on me that is produced by passing from sunshine into shadow. Of course you know I am speaking all the time of interior decoration, although I am not sure whether a terra cotta town would not be considerably cooler than a whitewashed one.

"So you see the old Pompeians were right when they cooled off their atria and patios by painting the town red. The only other color which approaches Pompeian red for coolness, so the elegant and artistic young workman told me, is dark green, but it has been found to have so depressing a mental effect on most people that it is very sparingly used. Then I was told lots about mass effects, distance shadows and length lines, and I don't know what else, but quite enough to convince me that the decoration of our house interiors is conducted upon a plane so lofty that it is impossible to say whether it is an artistic science or a scientific art."—New York Sun.

About the Same Thing.
She was trying to explain to her class of east side children the meaning of "sinecure" without mentioning the word.

"Now, children, if a man should pay you $1 a day just to sit at the window and look out, what would that be?"

"That would be bully!" cried a little girl.

"Hush, dear. That is slang, and you mustn't use slang. Why, it would be a sinecure."

"Oh, teacher, I know!" shouted a 10-year-old boy. "It would be a cinch."

And the teacher was fain to acknowledge to herself that it might come under that head.—New York Recorder.

Whittier's Way.

John G. Whittier was greatly loved by strangers, who met only called on him, but thrifly insisted on putting up with him all night. "There has no idea," said his sister, "how much time Greenleaf spends trying to lose these people in the streets. Sometimes he comes home and says: 'Well, sister, I had hard work to lose him, but I have lost him. But I can never lose a her. The women are more pertinacious than the men. Don't they find them so, Maria?'"—San Francisco Argonaut.

AN ARMENIAN UPRISING.

PANIC STRICKEN, THE ARMENIANS ARM THEMSELVES.

A Circumstance Which Indicates How Great a Conflagration a Little Spark Will Kindle in Turkey.

Special to The Times.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 12, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 13.—There was a disturbance in Stamboul today and it caused the spread of rumors so alarming that Calata and Pera were soon in a state of panic and serious outbreaks were threatened. This, in view of the passage through the Dardanelles of the British gunboat Dryad and the Italian gunboat Archimede, the extra guardships for the British and Italian embassies, formed the basis for the report that the riot predicted by the Yildiz Kiosk couriers actually commenced; but happily the trouble wasn't of a serious nature.

Simmered down to bare facts the cause of the panic was, on the face of it, a fierce quarrel between two Armenians in the Stamboul quarter during which they came to blows and attracted a large crowd about them. Finally, one of the Armenians drew a revolver and fired at his opponent. The shot was the signal of an uproar, a stampede of the people, and, eventually, a panic which spread far and wide, from one end of the city to the other until matters began to look very serious indeed.

FRESH MASSACRES FEARED.

To the Armenians and the other Christians, terrified by the shooting and yelling the rushing here and there of excited crowds, naturally imagined that a fresh massacre had commenced. They hurriedly closed their shops and houses, barricaded the doors and windows, concealed their most valuable belongings in various ways and made all the preparations possible for defence. The women as well as the men armed themselves as best they could after the recent domiciliary visits of the police, who searched the Armenian mansions high and low for concealed weapons and left these unfortunate people very little to fall back upon for defence in case of an uprising of the Mussulmans. The example of the Armenians at Stamboul in hurriedly closing their shops, etc., was followed on street after street until in the briefest period of time imaginable every shop was shut and nearly all the houses were barricaded. Crowds of people, male and female, old and young, were mixed with a feeling of terror which grew in strength as time wore on and the confusion increased. Large numbers of people fled hither and thither aimlessly, helplessly, apparently unable to do anything for themselves. What had happened; where was the rioting; nobody seemed to know. But there was a general impression that a massacre was in progress somewhere.

EVERYBODY LOST THEIR HEADS.

It is difficult to describe to those unacquainted with the vagaries of the population of this city and who are not familiar with the state of nervous tension which has existed here for months past, the scene of incredible alarm and disorder which prevailed here at the time the excitement broke out. Every man seen in the streets seemed to have lost his head for the time and it would not have needed much more to actually precipitate a terrible outbreak.

From Stamboul the wave of terror swept to Galata and to Pera, carried onward by the panic-stricken fugitives from the first named quarter who were evidently under the impression that they were fleeing for their lives. The inhabitants of Galata quickly caught the fever of alarm and in turn shut their stores and houses and joined in the scene of confusion, an example which was promptly followed by the people of the Pera quarter.

A RUSHING MULTITUDE.
Seeing people fleeing through the streets in terror caused others to do the same until the air was filled with excited cries and the noise of the rushing multitude. Those who did not join in the stampede barricaded themselves within their houses and prepared to see their most horrible fears realized. The Armenians dropped their lead in the streets and fled to the nearest place of safety. Drivers deserted their horses, mules or donkeys; servants ran away from their employers, many sought refuge in churches and mosques, the old and feeble were trampled upon, many were injured during the reign of terror. Women sobbed and children cried with fear and the men as a rule were quite as badly scared. Some English ladies ran, crying for protection, into the British embassy, while about 50 Armenians, chattering with terror, fled to the residence of the first secretary of the British embassy; the Hon. Michael Herbert, and begged for shelter until all danger was passed.

HOW THE RIOT WAS QUELLED.
Eventually, the police regained their presence of mind and desirous of putting an end to the panic, they circulated the report that the stampede from the Stamboul quarter was occasioned by the escape of a lion from a menagerie and that the animal having been killed there was no occasion for any further alarm. This report spread quickly and the disturbance began to subside. Finally the gendarmes circulated among the people and explained to them the real state of affairs, which soon caused a majority to return to their usual occupations somewhat disgruntled at having been so needlessly frightened.

The Barred Boy's Death.

OVER SEVEN. Dec. 13.—The trial of Miss Helen Findlay for the manslaughter of Geo. E. Green, a boy from the Barnardo Home, was begun yesterday. Helen Findlay is charged with having caused the death of the boy by her ill-treatment and lack of proper attention. The evidence taken was very similar to that given at the preliminary investigation.

Whittier's Way.

John G. Whittier was greatly loved by strangers, who met only called on him, but thrifly insisted on putting up with him all night. "There has no idea," said his sister, "how much time Greenleaf spends trying to lose these people in the streets. Sometimes he comes home and says: 'Well, sister, I had hard work to lose him, but I have lost him. But I can never lose a her. The women are more pertinacious than the men. Don't they find them so, Maria?'"—San Francisco Argonaut.

 because O'Brian was quick and true as the trigger.
 Nobody knew that he had any notions on his gun barrel, and certainly he had never evinced any bloodthirsty designs in his few months' residence in the obscure frontier town, but on the few occasions when he was matched with the crack shots his steady hand and unerring aim had displayed skill beyond the best of them. He was a saloon keeper, but so far as correctness of habits was concerned he might have been a Sunday school superintendent. He was strictly temperate and never played any of the games of chance that were on night and day in the Round Up. He never had been known to touch tobacco in any form, and his language was absolutely free of profane or slang embellishments. He was a big, handsome fellow, with the face of a man not yet in middle age, and his mouth, expressive as a woman's, was shaded by a heavy black mustache, in striking contrast with the masses of waving snow white hair above dark eyes, in which a sorrow seemed ever present. Children adored him, and theirs was the only companionship he ever sought. With men and women he was generally reserved, though always genial and companionable to a certain limit.
 It was in the barroom of the saloon owned by O'Brian, which was always full of loafers, that the doctor made his way. He was overwhelmed with questions.
 "Was the kid shore enough gone over the range, doc?" asked Vasquez Jack.
 "Yes, the child is out of its misery."
 "D'ye reckon it was a maverick?" called Poker Dave as he put down his empty glass and ordered "more of the same."
 "I don't know, Dave, and I know you don't care," replied the doctor. "The mother loved the child, whether born in or out of wedlock. It is dead, its mother penniless. Who will help her in her hour of trouble?"
 Poker Dave lowered his half emptied glass, and dashing the remainder of the beer on the floor dropped a gold dollar in the dripping receptacle.
 "I ain't very flush, pard, this here's a 'loaf of o'clock days,' as poets state, but the parson's been somewhat sudden. I ain't no chance to draw on my bank account. Here, you sots, chip in!" And he passed the beer mug around the room. They "chipped in" right royally. Gold, silver and greenbacks, not one in the crowd failed to add his mite. The last piece laid on the hooped up pile was a silver dollar, old, dented and black, and had a big hole in it.
 "It's shore all I got, pard," said B'Jo, flushing strangely as Poker Dave held it up gingerly between his fingers and the boys set up the laugh.
 "I reckon it ain't much good, but it helps all the same. I—I've bid it a mighty long spell's what makes it so black. I don't s'pose you'll believe me, but I had a wife once, back on earth, a—real good woman, an a kid got big nuff to call me daddy. It's a fact, pard," he said earnestly as he saw the incredulous looks about him. "on that kid cut his teeth on this here cart wheel. Him an his ma is planted in the same grave long of the fever. I kinder keep the tin long of the kid. I wouldn't never stake it ner change it for a ticket, 'cause over time I'd tock it I'd soo the little kid's purty face, an it seems like a part of him. But—oh, well, I ain't no use to go on keepin' it." An B'Jo dashed outdoors, where nobody would see his tears.
 Nobody said anything, but Cactus Bill took the bent, blackened coin from Dave's fingers, and a shining yellow half eagle took its place in the glass. A day or two later the doctor stumbled over B'Jo in a drunken stupor in the shade of the saloon, and hanging over his head from a leather string was a silver dollar full of dents, as though made by a child's first tooth.
 When the glass would hold no more, Dave poured the princely collection into the doctor's hat, and a cabined worker who was deep in the mysteries of a game of "draw," flung his cards aside and offered to make a coffin. O'Brian stood in his billiard room door, looking up at the parlor windows of the Long Horn, and mechanically added a gold double eagle to the pile in the doctor's hat. He could see the little form stretched out on the plane, and he could see, too, the bowed head of the mother as she sat motionless beside her dead. The utter desolation of the mourner touched him.
 "Come, boys, vamoose," he said promptly, turning on the crowd.
 "I reckon as this air congre' has an pernicious sudden, I app'ints myself a investigating committee to enquire why for you evicts this here crowd, which air quiet an still able to pay for the drinks, and don't give 'em no show for to talk back?" asked Big Mike scottily.
 "Faith, and who's boss of this shebba, I'd like to know!" demanded O'Brian sternly. "I said vamoose, and I meant it. Why should we add to the heartache of that poor creature up there by clacking billiard balls and your senseless mithering and singing? Now, line out!"
 When O'Brian adopted that tone, it means as much as a fusillade from any other man's gun, so the saloon emptied, double quick.
 "Here, doc, take these with you," said Dennis when the last loafer had gone. "Maybe they will comfort that poor mother a bit." And into the doctor's arms he filled a load of flowers, which he hastily cut from the handsomely blooming plants in the big south window of the barroom. They had been his special pride, but he sacrificed every blossom.
 "If there should be anything else I can do, be sure to let me know," and the key clicked in the latch as the doctor left with his burden of blossoms and money.
 Just as the sun was slipping down behind the western sand hills the people gathered in the cramped little parlor, half curious, but altogether sympathetic, and listened to the itinerant preacher read the burial service. True Christian that he was, he had not asked for marriage certificates nor baptismal registers. The women, with an eye to the conventionalities, had arrayed the mother in black, and covered with her veil she sat beside the coffin, her head bowed upon her hand, a picture of desolation.
 "For I am a stranger with thee and a sojourner," read the burial service. "Oh, spare me a little, that I may recover my strength before I go hence!" droned the preacher.
 "Good Lord, spare her," said a voice softly, and there was comfort in the mother's hand laid upon the tight clinched ones under the veil.
 Just as the doctor was about to enter the parlor Mrs. White beckoned him into the hall. "I got her to talk a little," she whispered. "Not that I care, but I reasoned maybe she might have some folks somewhere that ought to know about her. The poor thing was married fast enough. Both families were opposed to the match, so they just naturally got married anyhow and was thrown overboard by all their folks. They went to boardin. When they had been married about six months, her husband was called suddenly east on business (Continued in our Next.)

 Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shrivelled up, and as thin as a limb could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the base of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

The Times

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 16 1895

WHIPPED HIM ONCE.

Fitz Don's Relish Fighting Maher the Second Time.

Special to The Times.

Houston, Tex., Dec. 14.—When W. K. Wheeler, secretary of the old Florida Athletic Club, interviewed Julian and Fitzsimmons regarding what they were going to do concerning a match with Peter Maher, Fitz said: "What's the use of fighting him again? I whipped him once. We can't wait here until February 14, under heavy penalties. Why not fight on January 14th? If not on that date why not postpone it until April 14th?"

Wheeler said: "I am authorized to say for Mr. Stuart that $10,000 is the best purse that he can offer and that the date must be extended to February 14th."

Fitzsimmons grew very red in the face, and answered hotly: "I will not fight for $10,000. If a fight between Corbett and myself was worth a purse of $40,000 then Maher and myself should be given the same purse. The championship fight is worth $20,000 if it is worth a cent. If Maher wants to fight at 150 pounds, then I'll fight him for the $10,000, but never for the championship; and I must get to New York to protect my San Francisco friends who advanced half of the stake money, which was attached while in the hands of Stakeholder Phil Dwyer."

THE STRIKE STILL ON.

Glasgow Shipbuilders Decline the Terms Offered by Employers.

Special to The Times.

Glasgow, Dec. 14.—The engineers, by ballot, have rejected the employers' terms and, therefore, the strike in the shipbuilding circles, which was believed to have been settled by arbitration, will now be continued.

The previous report of settlement was in anticipation of a supposed acceptance of the terms offered the strikers' delegates.

Last night N. R. E. Minney, dean of the Kansas Medical College and Dr. M. R. Mitchell of the faculty were arrested on a charge of receiving bodies stolen from the cemeteries. The prosecution will be pushed.

DUNRAVEN RETURNS HOME.

Will Make a New Arrangement Relative to His Presence at the Inquiry.

Special to The Times.

The Liverpool correspondent of the Central News says that Lord Dunraven will make a new arrangement with the New York Yacht Club relating to his presence at the inquiry into the charges made by him against the Defender syndicate.

CALLS IT UNSEEMLY.

Lord Aberdeen is Outspoken Against New Year's Eve Festivities.

Special to The Times.

OTTAWA, Dec. 14.—Lord Aberdeen has set the seal of his disapproval on the charity ball to be held here New Year's Eve to raise funds for the children's hospital. Replying to an invitation to attend the ball, he said he would not be in accordance with the principles of himself and Lady Aberdeen to participate in such festivities on New Year's Eve and adds that the parties intending to take part should employ themselves in a more worthy method on such an occasion than indulging in the pleasures of the dance. The general opinion is that this ensures the success of the ball.

Bad blood has been aroused in Hintonburg, a suburb of this city, over the municipal contest. In the town hall last night Mr. S. Waggoner took the platform and made remarks reflecting adversely on Reeve O'Meara's behavior on a certain occasion. These utterances caused the Reeve to rush at the speaker and slap him in the face. A scuffle ensued but the county constables separated the participants. The meeting then broke up in confusion.

FIVE YEARS FOR COOPER.

George Brown is Allowed to go on Suspended Sentence.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 14.—Judge Rose this morning pronounced sentence upon George Brown for cleaning postage stamps, and David Thomas Cooper, for having in his possession forged bank notes, who were convicted by Justice Falconbridge. Considering his age and other mitigating circumstances the judge allowed the old man Brown to go upon suspended sentence, while Cooper, who pleaded guilty, was sentenced to five years in the Provincial Penitentiary.

Albert Victor's Lucky Trip.

Cecil Rhodes, Robinson, the South African millionaire, and several other important personages in the South African market are said to have given his Royal Highness valuable tips at the proper time.

At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. ### CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Weather.

Probable.—Southeast to southwest winds; mostly fair and milder.

Council meeting Tonight.

The town council will hold its statutory meeting tonight. There will not be much business transacted.

Strayed Sheep.

Strayed in the premises of the undersigned, lot 4 in the 14th concession of Smith, on or about the 5th of November, 1895, a yearling ram. The owner is requested to prove property, pay expenses and take it away.

Fowler's Corner P.O. His Arm Injured.

A painful accident happened Mr. Robert Dobbin, a North Monaghan farmer last week. He was operating a chopping machine when he got his right arm caught in the knives and before the machine could be stopped the flesh from the elbow to the wrist was horribly lacerated. Mr. Dobbin will likely lose his arm as the muscles are terribly mangled.

Deeds and Bookcases.

At Clegg's, a large assortment of secretaries and bookcases. A splendid line of hall racks, no end of parlor furniture, the largest line of bedroom furniture we ever offered. See our pictures—cheaper than ever. The balance of our stock of window shades will be cleared out at cost. All the cheaper lines always in stock. Bedsteads, good chairs, B.C. Springs, mattresses, pillows, etc. A. Clegg, 472 George street.

Bully Hunt.

A son of Mr. Louis Parker, of Harvey, came home on Monday from the lumber camp, with a badly injured head and face. He was engaged in felling a large pine tree, and in its descent a small dry spruce pole flew back. He saw it coming but was unable to get out of the way, and the pole struck him on the top of the head, and another one cut his nose, and bruised the eye. The blow knocked him down with great force and stunned him for a short time. It was a narrow escape from instant death. The wounds are healing satisfactorily.

Advertising a Failure.

Advertising a failure, at least it has proved so in its having failed to bring forward one bad axe out of the large number of Hildway's Penetrating Axes sold by the last year for which we have offered in the Times for some weeks two new ones for each. Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of axe that they will cut faster, keep sharper longer and give better satisfaction than those of any other make. George Stehms & Son, next door to Post Office.

Put Away the Guns.

The sporting season closed Saturday night. Taken altogether it has been a fairly good one, grouse having been more than usually plentiful. The early snow has had a bad effect on hare shooting and this class of game has escaped with a few half its usual loss. Ducks were of course scarce on account of the want of water in the marshes, but where there was water some fair bags have been obtained. Black squirrels seemed to be confined to certain localities, but there they were numerous and good bags were secured on bright days. However it is over now, and nothing remains but to oil up the guns and put them away until the last of next September.

E. B. A. Officers.

The E. B. A. has elected the following officers for the ensuing year:—

The Howry Men.

Correspondents throughout the northern districts continue to send this journal reports regarding the men who seek relief, and claim to come from the Howry camps. The criticisms could not be published and indeed, after the explanation of the Messrs. Howry, given in issue of week before last, those criticisms would scarcely be just. It certainly must be annoying to those who are so frequently called upon for relief, but they must bear in mind when speaking someone upon whom to heap their maledictions, that the Messrs. Howry assured this journal, in a manner that cannot be doubted that "the large proportion of men reaching their camps are hired by employment bureaus outside the province, and for whose action the Messrs. Howry are in no way responsible; that the fees of these bureaus being obtained from the men depend to a large extent upon the number sent forward; that many of the men so hired are without knowledge of work in the woods, and wholly unfit for such work, and could not be employed by the Messrs. Howry unless they proposed to run a charitable institution instead of a lumber business.

With this assurance from a firm whose respectability is unquestionable, it is evident that the blame must rest upon the bureaus of Montreal and elsewhere. It cannot be expected, as the Messrs. Howry state, that they will run their lumber business as a charitable institution, and the actions of the bureaus must be as annoying to them as they are to the people of the district. As to what steps should be taken, about the only suggestion that offers itself is that the Messrs. Howry send a statement of the facts as already given by them, together with a general statement of the opinions of the public, to the Mayors of Montreal and Saginaw, and a hint from those officials to the proper quarters, might insure in the future a supply of men as trustworthy men, and thus save the unit from painful necessities, the Messrs. Howry from what must be a disagreeable duty, and the people of the district from a general source of complaint.—Hobson's Independent.

THE ARABS ARE HERE.

A Filthy and Vicious Aggregation in Camp Near Town.

A number of filthy and vicious looking Arabs reached town on Saturday night and went into camp near the waterworks dam on the east side of the river. They came in covered wagons, and consisted of dozen men and women and about twenty children ranging in ages from 5 to 16 years.

A more filthy looking aggregation never struck this town. They were dressed in filthy rags and were covered from head to foot with dirt and grease. The children were chewing tobacco and smoking cigarettes and cigars, and the women smoked and drank and used an unintelligible jargon among themselves, but they displayed a knowledge of English by begging tobacco and money from the group of boys and young men who went out to satisfy their curiosity. The begging was also extended to the houses in the immediate vicinity of the camp.

With the aggregation are four bears and several dogs. The dogs and bears are made to fight and wrestle for and for this performance a collection is taken up. The police have notified them to leave the town at once.

AT THE CHURCHES.

Mr. Graham Preaches at St. Andrews—

George Street Methodist Anniversary

Last evening St. Andrews church was filled with an appreciative audience who listened to the eloquent words of the Rev. Mr. Graham, of St. John's, N.B. He preached for his text Gal. ii. xx. "Not I but Christ." Mr. Graham started by showing the great influence of a motto upon the life. He also stated that his last night he treated the subject, also theologically, but then he would pass by and deal rather with the practical. He then showed that Paul's motto, "Not I but Christ," was synonymous with "Paul's life—moulding his character—an impulse to activity, etc." He then said that this motto had branches. Four of those he elaborated. The first branch was "that Christ was the sum total of Christian belief." He was the centre of the atonement, of faith, of justification, etc. Take Christ out and the whole system of theology collapsed. The second branch was "that Christ was the fountain of all permanent character, etc." "The third branch was, that in this motto we have the true motive to all effort. 'Not I but Christ.' The true object of an effort should be Christ, not self, etc." The fourth and last branch mentioned was, that in this motto we have the spring of all true joy. Such a life had its reflex action and led the soul which joy and led to the highest joy in the world to come. Mr. Graham is a rapid, fervid speaker, has a broad Scotch accent and is thoroughly in earnest. His lecture on Newfoundland in St. Paul's on Wednesday evening will no doubt be listened to by great numbers. His lecture will be illustrated by many views.

Rev. James Allen, M.A., pastor of the Metropolitan church, Toronto, preached the anniversary services in the George Street Methodist church yesterday. Rev. W. R. Young occupied the pulpit of the Metropolitan church, Toronto, at both services yesterday.

The choir and orchestra of St. Andrews Presbyterian church have been invited to spend a social evening at the manse on Tuesday night.

Rev. Mr. Graham, of St. John's, N.B., will lecture in St. Paul's church on Wednesday night.

Outing for November proves that fortune is smiling upon the world's magazine of sport and recreation. An unusual number of fine illustrations and many readable sketches made the current issue most interesting. ### MR. BELCHER AND THE SEWER.

We couple the name of Mr. J. E. Belcher, town engineer, with that of the town solicitor and submit to the patient ratepayer that these two should be placed on the list of municipal servants who should be removed from the town council. It is not necessary, so far as this statement applies to the town solicitor, to enumerate the reasons that demand his immediate decapitation; the ratepayers of this town know them off by heart and an increased tax rate for several years to come will not allow them to forget the costly sewer arbitration, or the Mason case. This article pertains more particularly to the town engineer, and let it be understood that we have the warmest regard for Mr. Belcher as a man.

Some time ago THE TIMES announced that Messrs. Belcher had been made in the levels of section No. 2 of the sewer, the portion for the construction of which Messrs. Rutherford and Bogue secured the contract. We stated at that time that the mistake would cost the town a large bill for extras and we waited to see what action the council would take in the matter. The announcement caused some of the councillors to interview Mr. Belcher and he was asked if there was a mistake in the levels. We are reliably informed that Mr. Belcher denied the accusation stating that merely a "hog's back" existed which would average up all right. The question was asked in the council, and Mr. Belcher made the statement there that the levels would average up all right. This point blank denial set the minds of the council at rest.

It now appears that the levels were wrong. There was a mistake of 3 feet in certain portions of the section. Let the seriousness of this mistake be made known to the public, and let the town be dug to the depth of the levels, and the excavations were walled up, when along comes Mr. Belcher with the astounding information that they must dig 3 feet deeper. Three feet more of earth must be excavated from the bottom, the planking must be torn down to allow of this, and put on again when the excavation is completed.

Then the water poured in and a gang of men were put at pumping it out. It came in so fast that the relays of pumpers made but little headway, and it was finally found necessary to take the steam fire engine down to pump the water out. Yes, Mr. Belcher, the levels averaged up well. Messrs. Rutherford and Bogue now have a bill of extras that may amount to $10,000, and possibly over that amount. The settlement may be made in the law courts, because the council may refuse to pay the bill. This opens up the possibility of another expensive law suit.

The whole matter leaked out at a committee meeting last week, and there was a lively time, it is said, when certain members of the committee had been invited from the town engineer that a mistake had been made in the levels. It would appear that he had endeavored to conceal the fact until the new council came in. It is also reported that Mr. Belcher was called in time in language emphatic by the chairman of the Sewerage committee.

Then there is another little matter that needs a little light of investigation. Mr. Belcher received the sum of $140 for work in connection with the Sherbrooke street drain, and the drain has not been built and will not be built. We do not say that Mr. Belcher is a dishonest man, but we do say that the other for $45 through any irregularity on his part, but we charge that there is a mystery surrounding the paying over of this money. Mr. Belcher says it is a question of opinion whether he was entitled to it or not. We have been informed by members of the Council that they did not know Mr. Belcher had received this money, and that they were not aware of it, and they cannot remember that the issuance of the two cheques was authorized by the Council.

The matter of the sewer blunder is another light of investigation. Mr. Belcher has been put to enough expense through errors of judgment on the part of his servants. The construction of sewers is a highly technical matter, and to avoid future blunders a competent engineer should be engaged. We submit that Mr. Belcher has demonstrated his inefficiency, and his reluctance to admit error puts a serious complexion on the matter.

THE C.P.R. FREIGHT SHEDS.

Editor Morning Times.

DEAR SIR,—I notice that the town solicitor has advised the town council that he has notified the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., that unless they remove their freight shed from Wolfe street, he will take proceedings against them to compel them to do so. This appears to me to be unequalled for and not in the interests of the town. No one is injured unless it be the owners of two lots of little value, which lots, I understand the Railway Co. are prepared to buy at a fair price. The Railway, which has not cost the town anything by way of money, has been of the greatest benefit to it, and might, if they wished, do the town considerable injury. Why should the town council go out of its way to harass the Company? The Grand Trunk Railway, occupying the whole of Bethune street, greatly injuring the property on it, and although it was agreed that the town should be paid a rent for this, that was in turn to be paid over to the property owners, it is not paid, and the town council, although repeatedly urged to collect this rent, have refused to do so. Why are the council so presumptuous in the case of the C. P. R. and so lax in that of the G. T. R.?

There is a matter in which the town council are in the wrong and yet the town council does nothing. We have often heard of the two acres of land owned by the town in the South ward, but the councillors know, or should know, that the C. P. R. have taken possession of a part of this, put up a building and over erections and may soon acquire a title by length of possession. Why do not the councillors take steps to prevent this? Yours, etc.,

CITIZEN.

Dangerous.

We often see this sign on roads or streets.

Any kidney ailment is dangerous.

Because you never know where it will end.

Suppose you feel languid, suppose you have feverish symptoms, there must be poison in the blood for these are the certain signs.

To the fact that poisons get past the kidneys, may be traced every sickness to which you are liable.

Treat the kidneys forthwith and first of all.

It is the safe and proper thing every time. Therefore do it promptly and well.

We are trying to teach people to turn to Dodd's Kidney Pills as the simplest and greatest treatment of kidney diseases on earth.

Can't you see the point? Every serious disease results from the kidneys being out of order. Dodd's Kidney Pills keeps on curing these diseases.

INS AND OUTS.

Why don't those juveniles of City Lodge No. four-O-four, put up a mayoralty candidate?

Those infant blue ribbonists who sharpened their little axes to chop down. Count Cahir's mayoralty hopes, should be soundly spanked by their mamma and kept in the house after this.

The cause of temperance is most sadly handicapped by the childish enthusiasm of some of its adherents. For instance, the resolution of the infants of City Lodge.

A Splendid Tea.

The public have for some years demanded a full round flavored tea of good strength and uniformity. The complaint is often heard that the flavor or strength of certain teas is not as good as former purchases. This objection is fully overcome and all requirements met in Grand Mogul Tea, which is noted for excellent flavor and great strength.

Whether you buy a package of Grand Mogul Tea in Great Britain, United States or Canada, the quality will be always, and everywhere the same.

This package is perfectly air tight and will keep the tea for years. Dampness or atmospheric changes do not affect it in the least. The package is not easily punctured like a lead package but is superior in every respect. The cost of packing is fully three cents a pound less than lead, consequently we give you a better tea for the same money.

This package is full net weight—marked on the end of each package—and the price is placed at the figure asked for some other teas on the market, many of which are rank rubbish. This is a trial. You cannot risk much by investing in a half pound package. You will be delighted with the purchase, the wholesomeness of the tea being the first consideration. Care is used in the selection and preparation of the leaf.

Tea that is heavily loaded with tannin and deficient in theine is rejected by the packers of this choice blend of tea, because oil of tannin (being of the nature of oil of tobacco) has a very injurious effect upon the system, deranging the stomach and nervous organs; whereas theine has an exhilarating effect, tonic and strengthening the whole system. Grand Mogul has all the attributes so highly prized by connoisseurs of the cup that cheers but not inebriates.

Follow directions on each package. Ask for a free sample tin.

A MIDNIGHT MARRIAGE.

How a Deaf Mute Captured her Husband—A Napanee Romance.

Special to The Times.

NAPANEE DEC. 14.—At 12.30 Friday morning a couple were married in the office of Messrs. Morden, Rutan & Morphy. In the afternoon the sheriff's officer secured a warrant to arrest a young man in the rear of the townships of Richmond, on the ground that he was about to leave the country, and in company with Constable Huff made the arrest at his father's house. At the lawyer's office he was confronted by the young lady who was the cause of his arrest, and accused him with breach of promise of marriage. Rather than be committed to jail he consented to marry her, and Rev. D. O. Crossley was called out of bed and married them. The couple are first cousins. The bride is a deaf mute, of rather prepossessing appearance and spent nine years at the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville. Some time ago she went to reside with her uncle, and intimacy sprang up between the cousins. Last week the lover took her to the General Hospital at Kingston, where he left her. Her brother, becoming aware of the circumstance brought her back to Napanee on Monday, and the warrant was issued as stated. When arrested the young man was preparing to take his departure and the officers of the law arrived in the nick of time.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 17, 1865.

THE FALLACY OF CHRISTIAN SOCIALISM.

We were interested in reading the report of a recent meeting of the Fortnightly Club at which the subject of Christian Socialism was the topic of the paper read by the Rev. Mr. Simonds.
The discussion which followed was a clear and unmistakable indication of the deep and lively interest that is taken in the social question. There is no gain-saying the fact that the present social adjustment is rapidly becoming the all absorbing and engrossing question of the hour. Notwithstanding the passive resistance of most churches towards matters having a social and political bias it is evident that the ever increasing strain and stress of the conditions under which the masses are laboring have at last aroused the thought and feeling of those who have persistently closed their eyes to the social problem. The contention that religion and economic science have no relation to each other is being rapidly abandoned, and the churches are tardily beginning to realize the close affinity that exists between Christianity politics and sociology. If clearer perception prevailed regarding the first principles of political and social science we should not hear gentlemen like Mr. Yokome lamenting the insufficiency of the remedies proposed by political economists for ameliorating the condition of the world, and then capping this remark by the statement, "that the basic principle of Christianity alone is able to succeed in accomplishing this end."

The basic principle of Christianity is truth; so also is truth the basic principle of political economy. Hence what is true in an economical sense cannot be religiously untrue. Volumes of insipid trash have been written and published which passes for political economy among the ignorant and thoughtless that is not worthy of the name. If Mr. Y. will, however, give a close study to the great masters of political economy he will find that its fundamental principles are in strict accord with Divine Law. A sound principle in political economy will always square with religious truth. There is never any antagonism between the two.
The one stands correlated to the other.
Let us further explain ourselves by giving Mr. Y. a concrete illustration of my meaning.

Political economy has fully and clearly demonstrated the unsoundness of the protective theory as applied to trade and industries. Now examine protection in the light of religious truth and you can just as easily demonstrate its immorality and wickedness. A clear and lucid American writer on Political Economy, dealing with the moral aspect of the protective theory says: "Imagine a Christian missionary expounding to a newly discovered people the sublime truths of the gospel of peace and love—the fatherhood of God; the brotherhood of men, the duty of regarding the interests of our neighbour equally with our own, and of doing to others as we would have them do to us.
Could he in the same breath go on to declare that by virtue of the laws of this same God, each nation, to prosper, must defend itself against all other nations by protective tariff? Religion and experience alike teach us that the highest good of each is to be sought in the good of others; that the true interests of men are harmonious, not antagonistic; that prosperity is the daughter of good—will and peace, and that want and destruction follows enmity and strife. The protective theory, on the other hand, implies the opposition of national interests; that the gain of one people is the loss of others; that each must seek its own good by constant efforts to get advantage over others and to prevent others from getting advantage over it. It makes of nations rivals instead of co-operators; it inculcates a warfare of restrictions and prohibitions and searchings and seizures which differs in weapons, but not in spirit from that warfare which sinks ships and burns cities. Can we imagine the nations beating their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks and yet maintaining hostile tariffs? No matter whether he call himself Christian or Deist or Agnostic or Atheist who can look about him without seeing that want and suffering flow inevitably from selfishness, and that in any community the golden rule which teaches us to regard the interests of others as carefully as our own would bring not only peace but plenty!

Can it be that what is true of individuals ceases to be true of nations—that in one sphere the law of prosperity is the law of love; the other that of strife? On the contrary, universal history testifies that poverty, degradation and enslavement are the inevitable results of that spirit which leads nations to regard each other as rivals and enemies. Every political truth must be a moral truth.
Yet who can accept the protective theory
as a moral truth?"

This is a terrible arraignment of protection from a purely ethical standpoint —but is it more than the iniquity of the system calls for? Just now however, it is not our purpose to enter into a discussion upon that subject, but merely to point out the perfect agreement between the deductions of political science and religious truth—and thus expose the weakness and fallacy of Mr. Y's argument that political economy has been a dismal failure in the past. It would be a particularly interesting performance for any Christian protectionist to try and bring his creed into line with his professions and practice as a politician.
We would ask Mr. Y. if he considers there is any reasonable prospect of Canadians becoming a prosperous, happy and contented people while they place upon their statute book laws which are a flagrant outrage upon "the basic principle of Christianity?"

We would like before closing this article to tell Mr. Yokome that political economists have demonstrated to a nicety the causes of the ever increasing poverty of the masses, and the periodic recurrences of depression in trade and commerce.
They have, moreover, supplied us with a sure and certain remedy for the cure and eradication of these evils. It is not, however, along the lines of Socialism, or of Christian Socialism, whatever that vague and indefinite expression may mean. The world's emancipation from poverty and distress will come from a fuller and freer play of individual freedom. Socialism is the most proven failure of the age. It has been tested time and again, and the results have always been disastrous to the promoters. Bellamy's scheme, the last one that was tried, ended, like all previous attempts at founding a Socialistic colony, in a complete and ridiculous fizzle. The teachings of political economists have from the first been dead against Socialism, and thus far the facts have been with them entirely. The Socialist's ideal in equality of results is a fanciful creation that does more credit to the heart than the head.

The equality that is possible and practicable is the equality of opportunity, which is attainable in one way only, and that is by giving to all men alike freedom of access to land.

That nearly all our present troubles have their origin in land monopoly, we propose to show in another article on the same subject which will appear in these columns tomorrow.

INDIAN LANGUAGES.

UNIQUE LIBRARY OWNED BY A WASHINGTON ETHNOLOGIST.

Evidence of Early Printing Done in Some of the Indian Tongues—Syllabary Produced by a Half Breed Cherokee—A Periodical Published by a French Priest.

Perhaps the most remarkable small library in this country is the property of James C. Pilling, the well known ethnologist of Washington. It is the largest collection of books in Indian languages, and of these languages there are no less than 55 in North America north of Mexico. All of them are distinct tongues, as different from one another as Chinese and English.

More than one-half of the 500 dialects into which the 55 languages referred to are divided are preserved in books. It is believed that the first book printed on this continent was in the Indian language—the "Nahant," published at the City of Mexico in 1539. The first Bible printed in America was in the Indian tongue—the celebrated Killok Bible. This is one of the most costly of all rare books. About 40 copies of it were specially prepared, with a dedication to Charles II. One of these, in good condition, is now worth about $2,000.

The first printing done west of the Rocky mountains was in the Nez Percé language. It was a primer for Indian children, turned out from the mission press at Clearwater, Ida., in 1839. The press that did the work had been brought by the missionaries all the way from the Hawaiian Islands.

The first book printed in Dakota was a dictionary of the Sioux language, produced in 1860 at Fort Laramie. It was prepared by two officers of the United States army, Lieutenants Hyde and Starling, to pass away the weary hours during a long and cold winter at the lonely outpost of civilization. They were aided in the work by an interpreter and by the Indians who lived about the fort. The type was set up on a crude hand press. Only two copies are now known, one of them belonging to General Starling of New York, a brother of the author, and the other to Mr. Pilling.

The only existing alphabet that is the product of one man's mind and in which a literature has been printed was the invention of a half breed Cherokee Indian. His name was Sequoyah, and he had no education whatever, but it occurred to him that he could express all the syllables in the Cherokee tongue by characters. Finding that there were 86 syllables in the language, he devised for each one of them a peculiar mark. For some of the marks he took characters of our own alphabet, turning them upside down. With these symbols he set about writing letters, and by means of them a correspondence was soon maintained between Indians of his race in Georgia and their relatives 500 miles away.

At present this alphabet, or more properly speaking, syllabary, is in general use among the Cherokees. The Cherokee language can be read by the learned so quickly. Whereas a fairly bright child learns to read well in English in 2½ years, a Cherokee youngster is able to acquire fluency in reading books written in this syllabary within 2½ months. In 1827 the American minister to the Cherokee country, Mr. McKay, he admitted impure food and unhealthy surroundings might develop the strumous and scrofulous condition. He would not be able to judge as well as he had seen the body on the 11th of November.

Later, in 1840, an improved syllabary was devised by the Rev. James Evans, a missionary among the Crees. It was phonetic, and the characters were simpler, being composed of squares and parts of squares and circles and parts of circles. The zealous clergyman out his type out of wood and made castings from the original blocks with lead from tea chests, which he begged from officers of the Hudson Bay company. He manufactured ink out of soot and on a hand press of his own construction printed many little tracts and leaflets for the benefit of the Indians. With some modifications his characters have come into general use not only with the Crees, but also among many tribes of the northwest which speak languages in no wise akin to that of the Crees, and scores of books have been printed in them.

The queerest periodical in existence is a weekly now published by a French priest at Kamloops, British Columbia. It is called the Kamloops Wa-Wa, which means "writing," and is in the Chinook jargon. This jargon is a sort of international speech, composed of half a dozen different Indian tongues, mixed with fragments of English, French and German. It is the language of trade intercourse among the people of the sparsely settled northwest as far as Alaska.

The mission field of the holy father who publishes this periodical extends over about 500 square miles. Much of his time is spent in making long journeys between distant settlements, and during his pauses for rest on the way he amuses himself with editorial work. The paper is written in three columns—the first column in jargon, the second in shorthand characters and the third in English. The matter is current news of the mission, sermons, prayers, etc. It is multiplied by the mimeograph and distributed among the priest's widely scattered parishioners. The paper on which the printing is done is blue, green, pink or yellow, according to the taste of the people who give it to the good father. The periodical is delivered free of charge, Mr. Pilling being in all probability the only paying subscriber.

The jargon was started by the early white explorers who visited the Pacific coast. Lewis and Clark, the first adventurers in that direction, were followed by the people of the American Fur company, sent out by John Jacob Astor. The passing of these commercial travelers among the tribes of Indians resulted in a composite vocabulary, which is now used by people who speak 30 different languages, not one of them like unto another. Yet they understand this common business tongue, which in a manner corresponds to the Asiatic "pigeon English." Every Washington and Oregon man talks Chinook.

THE BOY GREEN'S DEATH

MRS. FINDLAY IS NOW ON TRIAL FOR HIS MURDER.

Doctors Differ on the Theory of Starvation and Ill-treatment—Medical Testimony—The Boy Was 11 Used.

OWEN SOUND, Dec. 14.—When the trial of Helen Findlay, charged with manslaughter, arising out of the death of (Geo. E. Greene, the Barnardo boy, was resumed here yesterday morning, the examination of Alexander Gilchrist was conducted. The witness testified to having overheard the accused threaten on one occasion to push a pitchfork through the deceased until he could see it on the other side if he was not quicker in completing a piece of work that he had in hand.

Mary Brown swore that the prisoner repeatedly beat Greene with weapons such as axe handles, pitchforks and broom handles. To counsel for Miss Findlay the girl stated that the prisoner was kind to Greene, and always gave him plenty to eat.

Dr. W. G. Dow, who made the post mortem examination, described the condition of Greene's body. The corpse, he said, presented innumerable marks and sores, and was very much emaciated from the face to the feet. The color of the skin showed signs of insufficient nourishment. There were bruises on the left ear, the bridge of the nose, left cheek, and under the chin. Both feet were swollen and covered with large sized ulcers, the toes of which were gangrenous. All the remarks were ante mortem. The hands were pinched and drawn, lean and stiff. The finger nails were loose, and the end of the fingers were falling off, which could be accounted for by want of nutrition. The ends of the fingers were gangrenous, caused by extreme debility. He had not found any signs of disease. The gangrenous condition of the feet and hands was sufficient to cause death. Summing up his deductions, Dr. Dow expressed the opinion that the bad sleeping apartments, improper food, his general way of living, and being constantly abused caused death.

Dr. William H. Scott and Dr. Allan Cameron corroborated Dr. Dow. The trial was continued this morning. MEDICAL MEN DIFFER.

Mr. Alfred B. Owen, of the Barnardo Home, said the boy could read and write, and that he had received a postcard from him after his arrival at Miss Findlay's purporting to be signed by him.

Dr. C. M. Lang swore that on November 16th, with Dr. Middleton, he made a post mortem examination, after the body had been buried in damp soil for nearly a week. The shoulder and breast had a large number of bed sores. Purpurial spots, some as large almost as a five cent piece, extended nearly all over the body, particularly on the back and legs. He stated they could not be caused by insects, and said the condition of the body as regards nutrition was fair. Had cut into the bone and found the joints were tuberculous. The heart had not been cut into on the former examination but he cut into it and found clots. Death was due to stoppage of blood caused by these clots. He examined the lungs and found traces of pneumonia. There was no evidence of starvation. The disease was a late stage of tuberculosis, indicating tuberculous disease. He accounted for the bruises on the skin being post mortem changes, and said that lean porridge and milk, said to have been the boy's food, were nourishing. On cross examination by Mr. McKay, he admitted impure food and unhealthy surroundings might develop the strumous and scrofulous condition. He would not be able to judge as well as he had seen the body on the 11th of November.

WHIPPED HIM ONCE.

Fitz Don't Rollin Fighting Maher the Second Time.

Special to The Times. HOUNSLOW, TOWNSHIP, Dec. 14.—When W. K. Wheelock, secretary of the old Florida Athletic Club, interviewed Julian and Fitzsimmons regarding what they were going to do concerning a match with Peter Maher, Fitz said: "What's the use of fighting him again? I whipped him once. We can't wait here until February 11, under heavy expenses. Why not fight on January 14th? If not on that date why not postpone it until April 14th?" Wheelock said: "I am authorized to say for Mr. Stuart that $10,000 is the best purse that he can offer and that the date must be extended to February 14th." Fitzsimmons grew very red in the face, and answered hotly: "I will not fight for $10,000. If a fight between Corbett and myself was worth a purse of $40,000 then Maher and myself should be given the same purse. This championship fight is worth $20,000 if it is worth a cent. If Maher wants to fight at 150 pounds, then I'll fight him for the $10,000, but never for the championship; and I must get to New York to protect my San Francisco friends who advanced half of the stake money, which was attached while in the hands of Stakeholder Phil Dwyer."

THE STRIKE STILL ON.

Glasgow Shipbuilders Decline the Terms Offered by Employers.

Special to The Times. GLASGOW, Dec. 14.—The engineers, by ballot, have rejected their employers' terms and, therefore, the strike in the shipbuilding circles, which was believed to be settled by arbitration, will now be continued.

The previous report of settlement was in anticipation of a supposed acceptance of the terms offered the strike's delegates.

ROBBED THE GRAVES. Members of the Faculty Arrested for Receiving Stolen Bodies.

Special to The Times. TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 14.—It was current rumor yesterday that one of the 82 students of the college had made a confession, implicating several members of the faculty in connection with the graves desecration affair.

Last night N. R. E. Minney, dean of the Kansas Medical College and Dr. M. R. Mitchell of the faculty were arrested on a charge of receiving bodies stolen from the cemetery. The prosecution will be pushed.

READ WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY OF

POND'S EXTRACT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29, 1894.
I have used "Pond's Extract" for many years and always insist upon my patients getting "Pond's," not the ordinary Extract, which is often a very poor article. W. K. BROWN, M. D.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9, 1895.
I use Pond's Extract a great deal in my practice. I think it very valuable in all venous enlargements.

J. L. BRADFORD, M. D.
SANTA BARBARA, CAL., Nov. 27, 1894.

I have been using Pond's Extract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the experience upon mention of druggists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't believe it. I use Pond's Extract a great deal as an antiseptic in combination with glycerine and carbolic acid. I think it far superior to any antiseptic known. F. G. FLOURNOY, M. D.

COLUMBIA, PA., Jan. 18, 1895.
I have been a constant user of Pond's Extract since 1859, and do not expect to discontinue it while I live. S. ARMOR, M. D.

CHELSEA, MASS., Nov. 8, 1894.

I have made diseases of the skin a specialty for thirty years, and am free to say I know of no remedy that has given me such perfect satisfaction as Pond's Extract in cases for which it is recommended.

G. W. BABCOCK, M. D.
ASTHMA'S INSTITUTE, Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 8, 1894.
I know Pond's Extract to be a valuable remedy, and shall continue its use whenever the opportunity offers.

GEO. H. CALKINS, M. D.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 13, 1894.
I am pleased with the purity and strength of Pond's Extract.

J. L. DURYEE, M. D.

Amount of Roll.....$70,000 33

Amount collected to Dec. 14.....30,422 15

Unpaid Dec. 14.....$39,578 18

The Mayor congratulated the council on the report. The surplus was even more favorable when it was considered that the estimated loss on unpaid taxes had been placed at $3,000 and in former years at $1,200 or $1,300. The difference would go towards unforeseen expenses.

MINOR BUSINESS
A bylaw to appoint returning officers and polling places for the municipal election was passed.

Councillors Phelan and Mills moved that the present bond given by the town clerk be given up and a new bond satisfactory to the town solicitor and treasurer be given. Carried.
The account of W. S. Cocks for numbering residences was ordered paid.
Councillor Stone gave notice of motion to the effect that the town reimburse Mr. Henry Owens for the amount of the witness fees paid by him at the Whyte's dam investigation.

The question of purchasing a new snow plow for the present season arose and Councillor Smith suggested that the council procure a steel one, a model of which he submitted to the council for their approval. While the advantages of the steel plow over the old ones hitherto in use was readily recognized, the council thought it better to procure one of wood and steel of old, which could be made in the village. ##### A Baby in a Bag.

Jack Harkaway.

One of the best dramatic productions ever appearing on the opera house boards here was the "Jack Harkaway" company. Unfortunately the audience was small, but this did not deter the company from giving a highly creditable performance. The drama abounded in situations and climaxes and the dialogue was particularly pleasing, while the scenic effects and stage accessories have seldom been equalled on the play boards here. The actors took their parts with great credit, and the audience was delighted with the company and the play.

Advertising a Failure.

Advertising a failure, at least it has proved so in its having failed to bring forward one bad axe out of the large number of Ridgeway Penitents. We have offered in the TIMES for some weeks two new ones for each. Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of crosscut saw this year for which we claim that they will saw faster, keep sharp longer and give better satisfaction than those of any other make. #### Dangerous.

We often see this sign on roads or streets. Any kidney ailment is dangerous. Because you never know where it will end. Suppose you feel languid, suppose you have feverish symptoms, there must be poison in the blood for these are the certain signs. To the fact that poisons get past the kidneys, may be traced every sickness to which you are liable. Treat the kidneys forthwith and first of all. It is the safe and proper thing every time. Therefore do it promptly and well. We are trying to teach people to turn to Dodd's Kidney Pills as the simplest and greatest treatment of kidney diseases on earth. Can't you see the point? Every serious disease results from the kidneys being out of order. Dodd's Kidney Pills keeps on curing these diseases.

INS AND OUTS.

Lost—Two tempers. Finder will be liberally rewarded by returning to Councilors Dawson and Stone.

The financial statement of the year shows that the law expenses of the town amounted to over $800. This does not include the town solicitor's salary.

A CHILDISH EXHIBITION.

Councillors Dawson and Stone Lose Their Tempers in Council.

Both Councillor Dawson and Councillor Stone lost their tempers at the council meeting last night and for the space of five minutes things were exceedingly breezy.

Councillor Stone had moved that Mr. Henry Owens be reimbursed some $20 which sum he had paid out in witness fees at the White's dam investigation. Mr. Stone spoke earnestly for the success of his motion and when he sat down Councillor Dawson jumped up and opposed it.

In the course of his remarks Councillor Dawson said that Councillor Stone was no doubt talking for $5. He hinted that he was being paid for speaking in favor of the motion.

Councillor Stone sprang to his feet and exclaimed: "Mr. Mayor, I arise to a point of order. I am accused of accepting a bribe."

Councillor Dawson kept right on talking and Councillor Stone interjected: "You are a villain! The man who cries thief is the thief—is the man who will take bribes."

Councillor Dawson again jumped to his feet and exclaimed: "I have lived in this town for 30 years, and no man can point a finger at anything I have done, or say I ever accepted a bribe. And the people of this town know me and my record, and that is more than they know about you—"

"Oh, your a miserable scoundrel," broke in Mr. Stone.

The disgraceful scene was continued for several minutes, but peace was finally restored.

ANNUAL STATEMENT OF THE TOWN'S FINANCES PRESENTED.

The Town Council held its statutory meeting last night and received the financial statement for 1895. There were present Mayor Kendry in the chair and Councillors Cahill, Best, Denne, Mills, Phelan, Dawson, Cobb, Sowers, Stone, Mason and Brady.

From R. W. Haddy, asking for the privilege of making a skating rink on that part of the river between the C.P.R. spur line and the river bank, between King and Simcoe streets, and also of building a dressing room on the end of Charlotte street. The request was granted on motion of Councillors Dawson and Brady.

From Mrs. Trotter, asking for remittance of taxes. Court of Revision.

From E. B. Edwards, inclosing a bylaw to authorize the execution of the contract for the superstructure of a bridge over the creek on George street. Received.

From President Bradburn of the Street Railway Company stating that the closing of the line on Charlotte street south has had the effect of very materially diminishing the traffic receipts without any corresponding decrease in operating expenses, and as this result arises through changing the grade of George street, the company submits that the Council should afford some relief. The company suggests that the Council grant them permission to close down altogether until the spring, if they find it desirable to do so. Received.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 17, 1865.

THE FALLACY OF CHRISTIAN SOCIALISM.

In our issue of yesterday, we promised to show that nearly all our troubles have their origin in land monopoly. The foremost political economist of the present time dealing with the land question says:

"It is clear that in Great Britain to-day the right of the people as a whole to the soil of their native country, is much less fully acknowledged than it was in feudal times. A much smaller proportion of people own the soil, and then ownership is much more absolute. The commons, once so extensive and so largely contributing to the independence and support of the lower classes have, all but a small remnant of yet worthless land, been appropriated to individual ownership and enclosed; the great estates of the churches, which were essentially common property devoted to a public purpose have been diverted from that trust to enrich individuals; the dues of the military tenants have been shaken off, and the cost of maintaining the military establishment, and paying the interest upon our immense debt accumulated by wars, has been saddled upon the whole people in taxes upon the necessities and comforts of life. The crown lands have mostly passed into private possession, and for the support of the royal family and all the petty princelings who marry into it, the British workman must pay in the price of his mug of beer and pipe of tobacco. The English Yeoman—the sturdy breed who won Crecy and Portiers, and Agincourt—are as extinct as the mastodon. The Scottish clansman, whose right to the soil of his native hills was then as undisputed as that of his chieftain has been driven out to make room for the sheep ranges or deer parks of that chieftain's descendant; the tribal right of the Irishman has been turned into a tenancy—at will. Thirty thousand men have legal power to expel the whole population from five-sixths of the British Isles, and the whole vast majority of the British people have no right whatever to their native land, save to walk the streets or trudge the roads.

To them may be fittingly applied the words of a tribune of the Roman people: "Men of Rome" said Tiberius Gracchus—"Men of Rome, you are called the lords of the world, yet have no right to a square foot of its soil. The wild beasts have dens, but the soldiers of Italy have only water and air."

I will finish this letter by giving one other quotation from the same writer. This is a corollary of the first:

"Our social adjustment is a denial of justice. In allowing one man to own the land on which and from which other men must live, we have made them his bondsmen in a degree which increases as material progress goes on. This is the subtle alchemy that is extracting from the masses in every civilized country the fruits of their weary toil; that is instituting a harder and more hopeless slavery in place of that which has been destroyed; that is bringing political despotism out of political freedom, and must soon transmute democratic institutions into anarchy.

It is this that turns the blessings of material progress into a curse. It is this that crowds human beings into noisome cellars and squalid tenement houses; that fills prisons and brothels; that goads men with want and consumes them with greed; that robs women of the grace and beauty of perfect womanhood; and takes from little children the joy and innocence of life's morning.

Civilization so based cannot continue. The eternal laws of the universe forbid it. Ruins of dead empires testify, and the witness that is in every soul answers that it cannot be.

It is something grander than Benevolence, something more august than Charity—it is Justice herself that demands of us to right this wrong—Justice that will not be denied; that cannot be put off—Justice that with the scales carries the sword. Shall we ward the stroke with liturgies and prayers? Shall we avert the decrees of immutable law by raising churches when hungry infants moan and weary mothers weep?

Though it may take the language of prayers it is blasphemy that attributes to the inscrutable decrees of Providence the suffering and brutishness that comes of poverty; that turns with folded hands to the Almighty Father and lays on Him the responsibility of want and crime of our great cities. We degrade the Everlasting. We slander the Just One. A merciful man would have better ordered the world; a just man would crush with his foot such an ulcerous ant-hill!

It is not the Almighty, but we who are responsible for the vice and misery that fester amid our civilization.

The Creator showers upon us his gifts, more than enough for all, but like swine scrambling for food, we tread them in the mire—tread them in the mire, while we tear and rend each other.

In the very centres of our civilization today are want and suffering enough to make sick at heart whoever does not close his eyes and steel his nerves. Dare we turn to the Creator and ask Him to relieve it?

Supposing the prayer were heard, and at the behest with which the universe sprang into being there should glow in the sun a greater power, new virtue fill the air; fresh vigor the soil; that for every blade of grass that now grows two should spring up, and the seed that now increases fifty-fold should increase a hundred-fold. Would poverty be abated or want relieved? Manifestly, no! What ever benefit would accrue would be but temporary. The new powers streaming through the material universe, could only be utilized through the land. And land being private property the classes that now monopolize the bounty of the Creator would monopolize all the new bounty. Land owners would alone be benefited. Rents would increase, but wages would still tend to the starvation point.

This is not merely a deduction of political economy; it is a fact of experience. We know it because we have seen it. Within our own times, under our eyes, that Power which is above all, and in all, and through all; that Power of which the whole universe is but the manifestation; that Power which maketh all things and without which is not anything made that is made, has increased the bounty which men may enjoy, as truly as though the fertility of nature had been increased. Into the mind of one came the thought that harnessed steam for the service of mankind. To the inner ear of another was whispered the secret that compels the lightning to bear a message round the globe. In every duction have the laws of matter been revealed; in every part of industry have direction arms of iron and fingers of steel, whose effect upon the production of wealth has been precisely the same as an increase in the fertility of nature. What has been the results? Simply that land owners get all the gain. The wonderful discoveries and inventions of our century have neither increased wages nor lightened toil. The effort has been to make the few richer; the many more helpless!

What have the theological babblers and pedlars of creeds to offer us in the line of truths superior to this? Can they point with the same precision of thought and directness of aim to the evil that rests like an incubus upon the world at large? To most of us that would be more profitable than mere academic discussion upon a demonstrable impossibility.

Weak and Nervous

Whenever the body has been weakened by disease, it should be built up by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this:

"About two years ago I suffered with a very severe attack of inflammation of the bowels. When I began to recover I was in a very weak and nervous condition, and suffered intensely with neuralgia pains in my head, which caused loss of sleep, and having no appetite, I Became Very Thin. Fortunately a friend who had used Hood's Sarsaparilla with great benefit, kindly recommended me to try it. I did so and a perfect cure has been effected. I am now as well as I ever was, and I will not be without Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house for anything." Mrs. D. Kean, 245 Manning Ave., Toronto, Ont.

If We Only Could See.
Our best acquaintance with the wonders of the visible universe must always be held provisional. The organ wherewith we are aware of it is an imperfect one, insensible to colors beyond the red and the violet which certain insects appear to perceive. Light itself is nothing but a vibration of what we call, without understanding it, the ether, and sight is a sense easily deceived and of very feeble range. It is probable that only a slight exaltation of the power of the optic nerve would present the picture of the starry sky to us in a very different aspect.

To our vision the waste of space appears astounding, much as the Pacific ocean seems far too large for its archipelagoes. The boundless vault looks as though wasted in containing at such enormous intervals the tiny specks that are its worlds and suns. Would it wear anything like so open an aspect if we had better or different eyes? To see the stars at all it is necessary to wait for the darkness of night. To be aware of those crimson fountains of glory streaming into space from the sun we have to borrow the help of the moon's Interposed disk.

Since all heavenly bodies exercise an influence, gravitational and otherwise, upon all other bodies, it is conceivable that a kind of vision may hereafter exist to which their mutual contact and interaction would be perceptible. We see nothing now which is not of the nature of the moon or our retinas or to project upon them those light waves of which alone our light sense can take any cognizance. The fish which dimly perceives a star through the water composed of oxygen and hydrogen is not in a much worse position for reliable astronomical observations than man, with his limited visual spectrum, at the bottom of his ocean of oxygen, nitrogen and the new gas.—Sir Edwin Arnold in North American Review.

Indian Bargains.
Indian travel is full of surprises, pleasant and otherwise. A gentleman, wishing to purchase some of the beautiful cashmere shawls which are made not far from Delhi, went to one of the largest establishments in the city. The merchant showed him a book in which were written recommendations of his goods by General Grant and his son as well as by many others.

Among the recommendations was this one in German: "I have bought shawls of this man and think I got them cheap, but do not offer him a third of what he asks." The gentleman selected two very beautiful shawls and asked the price. The merchant, after a little consultation with his clerks, said:

"I have not sold a shawl to your party. I sell you very, very cheap. You may have these beautiful shawls for 1,400 rupees."

"Absurd!" Let us go!" said the gentleman, having in mind the German's advice, and he started for the door.

"Don't go," said the merchant. "Make me an offer."

"I will give you 400 rupees for both shawls."

To his astonishment, the merchant replied:

"Take them. I will send them to your hotel."

At Jaipur the same traveler lodged in a hotel conducted by a native, but owned by the rajah. He found the following amusing notices posted in various places:

"If visitors are not satisfied with the food or cooking, they can deduct from the bill what they consider fair."

"Guests are requested not to strike the servants."

"Guests wishing ice are requested to give a day's notice and name how much they require."—Youth's Companion.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Weather.

Prob.—Partially fair, and continued decidedly mild, with local showers.

Dropped Dead.

Mrs. Robert Gordon, of Tweed, dropped dead on the street there last evening. She was the wife of the manager of the banking house of Murphy, Gordon & Co., there.

Acknowledged with Thanks.

The committee of the P. P. Home acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the sum of $38.64, being their share of the collection at the Union Service on Thanksgiving day in the George street Methodist church. This should have been acknowledged at the time but was overlooked.

Endeavourers at Port Hope.

The local churches are represented at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Association of B. Y. P. U. of C. E. at Port Hope as follows:—Murray street—Rev. J. E. Trotter, Mr. E. A. Stanley, Mr. Louis Croly, Miss Mary Stratton, Miss Croly and Miss Perry. Park street—Mr. A. L. Grover, Mr. Plummer, Miss Hunt, Mr. Geo. Benton, Miss Pilling and Miss M. E. Mann.

A Kindly Remembrance.

Last night the aged and infirm inmates of the Protestant Home were cheered and brightened by the kind thoughtfulness of the members of the Christian Endeavour Society of the George street Methodist church, who repaired to the Home and rendered a short program of vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitations, etc. Refreshments were also taken to the Home by the Society.

The Fortnightly Club.

There was a good attendance at the fortnightly club meeting in Judge's chamber, Court house, last night. The paper of the evening was read by Mr. A. C. McCallum on the subject of "Mechanical Absurdities," and the author displayed a thorough knowledge of the principles underlying the question. The discussion which followed was interesting and was participated in by quite a number of the members present.

Another Post Office Burned.

Yesterday morning at Codrington, 10 miles north of Brighton, fire totally destroyed John A. Robinson's general store. The post office and Wade's telephone office were in the same building. Nothing saved. Insurance on stock $800, on building and building contents $300, in the British American. Cause of fire unknown. This makes the third post office inside a year that has been destroyed by fire on this route between Brighton and Campbellford.

"Outing" for November.

Outing for November appeals to all classes of readers. The sportsman, angler, athlete and traveler will find much to interest them, while the fiction department is up to the usual standard. Notable features are: "Rugged Labrador," by R. G. Taber; "Over the Border," by Jean Porter; "A Geylon Trekker," by E. Fitzroy Dixon; "A Roundabout Journey," by E. W. Sandys; "The International Athletic Match," by Wm. B. Curtis, and "Football of '95," a forecast, by Walter Camp.

Praise for Rev. W. R. Young.

Rev. W. R. Young, the popular pastor of the George street church evidently made a very favorable impression upon the congregation at Metropolitan church, Toronto, on Sunday. A gentleman who is in touch with the members of that church, received a letter from one of them yesterday in which he complimented him in having such an able and eloquent pastor. The writer goes on to state that both of Rev. Mr. Young's sermons evoked the most flattering comments from the congregation of the Metropolitan church.

Arrested for Theft.

John James Carson, alias Peacock, alias Fletcher, alias McDonough, was arrested at Newmarket yesterday on a charge of taking and carrying away a picture, frame and overcoat, the property of Mrs. Margaret McBurney and Wm. Duncan. On his disappearance the articles were missed and the Chief of Police was informed and as a result Chief Somerville, of Newmarket, captured the man yesterday. He will be brought to Peterborough to stand his trial.

His Feet Frozen.

Frank Johnston, of LaPeere, Mich., had his feet badly frozen while at work at the How's camp, about 40 miles north of Fenelon Falls, and passed through here on his way home. It appears that two weeks ago he got his feet wet and asked the foreman to allow him to return to the camp to put on dry footwear. He was refused and was compelled to hark the day's work in that condition. At night when he returned to the camp he discovered that his feet were frozen. However, he kept on working for three days but at last he had to quit. The physician who attended him says that it might be necessary to amputate one of the toes, but the patient would not consent and left town yesterday afternoon.

Morrison in Faust.

A large audience witnessed Lewis Morrison's original creation of Gosthe's Faust in the opera house last night. Mr. Morrison labored under the disadvantage of a severe cold which robbed his voice of the demoniacal ring that makes his Mephisto so effective, and he suffered when compared with John Griffith's Mephisto by those of the audience who witnessed Griffith's Faust. It may be attributed to that fact. Morrison's support was good. Mr. Edward Elmer made an excellent Faust, and the role of Valentine as assumed by Mr. White Whittesey was well and impressively interpreted. Miss Florence Roberts had the face, form and voice of an ideal Marguerite and that role met with a sweet and artistic characterization. The production was well staged and the comic effects were all that could be desired. The broken scenes possibly did not come up to the expectations of all, but in passing judgment upon this and "The Apothecary," it must be taken into consideration that the smallness of the stage prevented the setting of these scenes with all the accessories that are used in the large theatre. However, the play as produced by Lewis Morrison and his company, loses none of its sentiment or impressiveness, and the efforts of the actors were rewarded by generous applause last night.

BRYDON WEESE CONVICTED.

The Magistrate Gives Him 40 Days For Pick Pocketing.

"He does nothing but walk about our store looking for pockets to pick," said Geo. Maginnison, floor walker at Eaton's, referring to a young man named Brydon Weese charged with attempting to pick pockets. Mr. Maginnison swore he saw Weese put his hand in a lady's pocket, from which her purse was partially protruding, but as the lady turned around suddenly he drew it out again without any booty. Witness had noticed the man a number of times in the store, and had followed him about and put him out every time he caught him. Detective Harrison and Sgt. Reburn swore Weese gave a false name, and address when arrested and told conflicting stories as to his business and relatives. Weese's brother gave him a good character, and the Colonel sent the prisoner to jail for 40 days. —Toronto Telegram.

RUGBY UNION RULES.

What the Delegates Did at Conclave in Toronto.

Representative football men from all parts of the Province were present at the annual meeting of the Ontario Rugby Union in Toronto. Many amendments were made to the rules but none of a radical nature. Hereafter players on a college or university team, must be bona fide undergraduates in attendance on lectures or graduates of at least one year's standing, while those on a town team must live in the town or city or within seven miles of it. Junior players will be looked after more carefully and only those who have registered with the secretary of the union, will not, however, have to furnish birth certificates. The playing rules will not be changed, but an effort will be made to bring the style of play in Quebec and Ontario more into conformity, something which will make the inter-provincial matches more interesting. These officers were elected at the meeting: President—Mr. W. A. Loxie (Hamilton). First Vice-President—Mr. Walter Dick (Toronto). Second Vice-President—Mr. A. B. Ford (Queens). Secretary—Treasury—J. M. Mowat (Osgoode Hall and Queen's). Committee—Messrs. D. Barry Martin (Hamilton), W. D. Campbell (Trinity), Percy Eby (Lorne), Ross (Queens), Barr (Varsity), Bain (Osgoode), Osier (R.M.C.).

LOST ON A TRAIN.

A Clergyman's Wife Loses Three Valuable Diamond Rings.

Rev. Thomas S. McWilliams, of the American Presbyterian church, Montreal, arrived in the city last evening and reported to the police that three valuable diamond rings belonging to Mrs. McWilliams had been stolen. When the C. P. R. train was approaching Smith's Falls Mrs. McWilliams placed the rings on a ledge in the washroom while she washed her hands, and came away without them. Some time afterwards she thought of the rings and went to the ledge to get them, but they had disappeared. The conductor was notified and the place searched, but the rings were not recovered. The missing articles were valued at $100. —Telegram.

Immediately after the resumption of the session the call from Spencerville to Rev. Mr. Loxie was set aside owing to that gentleman having a call elsewhere. The congregation was therefore granted leave to moderate in another call when the people are prepared. Hobackson was also granted leave to moderate a call when prepared and to find its own pulp supply for six weeks. An arrangement was made from the resolution of augmented congregations.

The following exchange of pulpits will take place this term: Rev. Dr. Torrance will visit Spencerville, and Rev. A. McWilliams, Janville, Ballydug and Pontypool. Rev. J. F. Somerville, Havelock, Rev. ## TRY A BIT OF THIS.

It is interesting and, moreover, it is new and, Perhaps True.

It was a parlor match. It was made by man. In man's hand it was lighted, that it, in turn, might light the gas that was made by man and flowed from three gas jets at the will of man, who signified his wish by turning the keys that held the gas in check. The match was touched to the first jet and the gas flame flared up. And as it flared the match went out. Man touched it to the gas flame and once more the match flared, kindled by the flame which, by its own flame, had created. And thus the match was transformed into the outpouring of gas from the other two jets into flames like unto the first. And then it consumed itself entirely. And man, having no further use for it, threw it away. It is so with man's life with the parlor match! Man, made by God, in God's hands gives forth his energies and strength to render available to the great degree and order of the world. And the other man: does he never surpass the man who aided him? And does the man who aided him never go to the other man to give him of his plenty? The very thing the other man lacked until the man gave it to him, and in the giving lost it himself? And does the other man gladly give to the man that which he wishes? And does the man, taking that which he lost in giving to the other man, and which the other man gave again to him, again give to other men who are as the other man was before the man gave unto him? And after the man has given to all whom God intended he should give, does he not burn himself out? But after he is burned out, has not God some use for him even then, or if not, does God ever cast him aside, because he has burned himself out out in supplying light to his fellowmen?

It was a cigar. It was made of fine tobacco by skilled hands. It was rich in color and graceful in form. The fine quality of its bone and sinew stood forth clear and bright. It was wrapped in its wrapper. It was bought by a lover of tobacco, who gladly paid the price asked that he might enjoy it. The smoke curled and wreathed. Ashes appeared. The cigar gradually whitened, slowly losing its nucleus. Yet the smoker enjoyed not to the extent of his anticipation. He pondered and ceased to puff. He felt his anticipated joy was not. The cigar forced through the cigar air which in turn drove out the smoke nestling in the cigar. The fire then died out and the smoker waited until even the fire's warmth had vanished. Then he placed the cigar, cold and charred, between the lips and lighted it. Again the smoke curled and wreathed. Again ashes appeared. Again it whitened and decreased. But the smoker was content. His anticipations were matured—his expectations were realized. The cigar now no longer too fresh and free, but seasoned and delicious, was consumed in satisfaction.

It is so with man! Man, like the cigar, is of fine material, moulded by wonderful hands. He is superb. His little and his middle shine unimpaired. He is turned over to life. "The fire of endeavor consumes him, producing the ashes of expended energy, and the disappearing smoke of emotion. Life enjoys man but not to the extent of its expectations. Life ponders. Man's fire of endeavor burns low—then dies out. The smoke of emotion is forced from him. He feels dies out within him. Then life starts him again. Man burns anew. Life is content. Man changed by life, is satisfactory to his lord. But he is not the man who was first forced to endeavor. He is feeble, just as the cigar is no longer mild and gentle in its first flavor. But the smoker liked the cigar the better for the change. Does life feel, or can one who feels, like life?

INS AND OUTS.

Have not the Orangemen of this county one word of commendation for the Grand Master, N. Clarke Wallace, which they can embody in a resolution.

This is the time of year when the impecunious young man will pick a quarrel with his best girl, so that he will not have to buy her a Christmas present.

There was the death to pay at the opera house last night. We don't know how much Mr. Morrison got, but there was a good house.

Craig. V. C. R.—A. J. Mather. W. C. R.—A. T. Dugan. Rec. Sec.—Chas. B. Robertson. Fin. Sec.—A. W. Paterson. Treas.—E. Evans. Chaplain—D. Paterson. Sen. Woodward—John Rome. Jr. Woodward—James Hatcher. Sen. Beadle—R. Drew. Jr. Beadle—W. Stevens. Court physician—Dr. Greer.

Advertising a Failure.

Advertising a failure, at least it has proved so in its having failed to bring forward one bad axe out of the large number of Ridgway Pennsylvania axes sold by us last year for which we have offered in the Times for some weeks two new ones for each. Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of crosscut saws this year for which we claim that they will saw faster, keep sharper longer and give better satisfaction than those of any other make. George Stethem & Son, next door to Post Office.

3 WEEKS LEFT FOR BRISK BUSINESS

We have to crowd on steam during these three weeks. Trade must move at a lively pace. Goods must go and dollars must come, even if prices are clipped to a point where profit vanishes.

Friday and Saturday Our Bargain Days

Owing to the crowds we have extended our Bargain Sales to Friday as well as Saturday for the balance of the year.

WHAT THE BOMBS LOOKED LIKE.

The bombs were alike and each contained a pound of powder and an equal weight in lead. A small wooden packing box, such as is used in mailing samples, eight inches long by two and a half inches deep and the same in width, fitted with a sliding top, was used the framework of the machine.
Tightly fitting in the box was a package of oil paper, holding a quantity of loose powder grains of the size of granulated sugar, imbedded in the powder. A piece of lead pipe one inch in diameter, filled with powder and plugged at both ends, with a fuse running through one of the plugs.

Under the side of the sliding lid sandpaper was glued. Tied around the package of powder and the space between the package and the lid was filled with matches. Any attempt to slide the lid off would have resulted in the ignition of the powder and the explosion of the lead pipe bombs.

THE FIRST PACKAGE.

One of the packages was taken up by Philip H. Kirkwood, a cart collector, of Station L, at Cottage Grove Avenue and Twenty-second street, just before seven o'clock, from the mail box at Fourteenth street and Washington street. It was on top of the mail box, and was covered with common brown wrapping paper. It was tied with a string and addressed to George M. Pullman, at the Erie Hotel, New York. Kirkwood found the package to be a heavy one for its size, and it was nearly covered with two-cent stamps. The address was written in pencil, badly spelled, and on the corner was written,
"Contents wire."

LIKE THE FIRST.

When Kirkwood neared Twentieth street, in Washington street, he saw a man of rough appearance place a package on the top of the mail box at the corner of Twentieth street and Washington street. The collector found the package to be similar to that on the other box, addressed in the same hand to P. D. Armour, with the same stamps, and the same address. His suspicions were aroused, and he placed both packages under his blanket in the cart.

HAD BEEN WARNED.

Both Mr. Armour and Mr. Pullman were warned last night that an attempt would be made to assassinate them, but the informant did not demand any payment. The stranger, who was about 45 years old, called at Mr. Pullman's house about 11 o'clock, but he would not let him in. He called at Mr. Armour's home a few minutes earlier, and was not admitted.

The arrest of the man who warned Pullman and Armour was made by the United States Secret Police. The prisoner is S. A.
Owen, a metal polisher. He admitted that he was the one who gave the millionaires the warning and admitted in it. He denied he had mailed the packages to them.

MISS FINDLAY TO BE RETRIED.

The Jury in the Case Disagree—The Accused Held on Several Counts.

Special to the Times.

OWEN SOUND, Dec. 18.—The crowd that has thronged the court room here during the trial of Helen Findlay for manslaughter was as possible bigger than yesterday, and when the jury went out at 3.30, they clung to their places and waited for the verdict that was returned five hours later.

Judge Cressor listened to the Crown's evidence during the morning, and several statements made by medical men and by the prisoner herself were attacked. At half past ten the counsel for the defence began his address to the jury. He spoke for an hour and a half, giving a resume of the evidence, and making an argumentative, and at some points, eloquent plea for his client. Crown Attorney Mackay spoke for two hours, and reviewed the Barnardo boy's life in Canada in detail.

If half an hour was all the time taken by Judge Cressor in adding up the evidence, it was a long time for the prisoner. Then came the wait for the verdict. Out in the jury room an energetic debate was in progress, and it flagged not all the afternoon.

Dark came on and the lights were lit, but still there was no result. Finally at a few minutes after 10 o'clock the 12 jurors filed into the room, and in response to the usual questions, Foreman W. J. Symington said they had not agreed, and were not at all likely to. His Honor then discharged them.

Indictments are preferred against Miss Findlay for almost a dozen charges, which are dated during the past six months. She is upon bail in $2,000 on her own recognisance and $2,000 by bondsmen.

CRIPPLE POISONS HIMSELF.

Took a Dose of Rough on Rats—Died in the Hospital This Morning.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 18.—Frank Milloy, of 172 York street, a cripple, took a dose of rough-on-rats last evening while visiting in the east end of the city, and when near the corner of Queen street and Logan avenue was seized with violent convulsions.

Dr. Brown, Cleland and Rowan were summoned. They managed to give Milloy temporary relief, and ordered his removal to St. Michael's Hospital. He died shortly before 6 o'clock this morning.

Milloy lost both legs below the knees through frost-bites sustained in the Northwest some years ago. He kept the Army and Navy cigar store on Adelaide street for some time, but the last few months he spent in the House of Providence. He left that institution a short time ago.

"I am cured since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla," is what many thousands are saying. It gives renewed vitality and vigor.

INFERNAL MACHINES SENT TO MIL-LIONAIRES ARMOUR AND PULLMAN.

Both Intended Victims Had Been Told to Look Out By a Man Who is Under Arrest But He Now Denies Having Sent the Packages.
Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 18.—An attempt was made today to murder Philip D. Armour, the cattle king, worth $3,000,000 and Geo.
M. Pullman, the palace car magnate, who is worth $2,500,000 or more. The suspicions of a postal collector was aroused, however, and the packages intended for the victims were delivered to Postmaster
Heeling, and by him given to United States Inspector Stewart, who made an examination and found they contained infernal machines.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 17, 1895.

THE CABINET CHANGES.

This last little shuffle of the Control-lerships and ministerial portfolios results in adding a new Minister with salary to the Cabinet. This is not an item that over-governed and deficit-ridden Canada can pass with a light heart. When Sir John Macdonald died there were thirteen Ministers with and two without salary. To-day there are fourteen Ministers with salary (counting the vacant Anger's portfolio, which must be filled) and two without salary—not counting the Solicitor-Generalship. The serious point is the addition to the salaried Cabinet. Canada is too expensively governed as it is; and there had better be a reduction of than an increase to the Ministry. Another grave phase of the change is the giving of a portfolio to British Columbia. This will almost certainly become a permanent addition to the already unwieldy Cabinet, for neither party will like to offend the Pacific province by taking away its portfolio. Politicians all round will be apt to excuse this multiplication of the plums, but the taxpayers have interests in this matter at variance with the whole political class.

A WAR CLOUD.

Within another year all Europe will be entangled in a conflict, the final outcome of which is beyond the kin man—such is the opinion of Archibald Forbes, the veteran war correspondent, whose wide experience lends weight to his prophetic words. Should the Armenian massacres, which are now shocking the civilized world be followed by war, those horrible blots on nineteenth century civilization would be swiftly avenged but at a terrible cost of blood and treasure. Never were the implements of war so death-dealing as they are to-day and the punishment of the "unspeakable Turks" could probably only be accomplished by widespread disaster and bloodshed. Other nations than that of the Sultan's would experience the horrors of war, with the result of a radical reconstruction of the map of Europe.

Completely Run Down.

"Last summer I was in very poor health. I was troubled with dizziness and tired feeling; also loss of appetite. I was completely run down. I decided to take Hood's Sassailla and after I had taken it a while I felt much better." Lizzie A. Russell, Old Chelsea, near Ottawa, Que.

HOOD'S PILLS cure biliousness, indigestion.

CHRISTMAS NUMBER OF THE NEW YORK LEDGER.

The Christmas Number of the Ledger is a delight to the eye and a feast for the mind. The cover is a Winter forest scene, a beautiful girl is hiding a love-letter in the hole of a big oak-tree a post-office used by lovers from time immemorial. The title of the paper is visible in the branches of the tree-tops, covered with snow. The design is printed in blue on beautiful pink paper. The contents of this number of the Ledger are in keeping with the Christmas season; there are Christmas stories by Margaret Lee, Virginia Niles Leeds and S. Baring Gould. There are special articles and poems by Robert Buchanan, Mary Kyle Dallas, Rev. S. P. Cadman and Mrs. Kidder. There are serial stories by Edward W. Popkins, Effic Adelaide Rowlands and John R. Musick. In addition to the above there are all the usual attractions of the Ledger. The Children's Columns, the Correspondence and Science Columns, the Woman's World, Fashion Department, Editorials, Miscellaneous, and other seasonable and entertaining reading matter. It is impossible to match this table of contents in any other periodical in the world for five cents, the price of the Ledger.

A NEW CURE.

Dr. Cyrus Edson, an American physician, claims to have discovered a cure for consumption. It has also been found to be successful in cases of yellow fever and malaria. It is not a serum, but what the ingredients of his medicine are he refuses as yet to disclose. The new drug is administered hypodermically. It is intended to kill certain noxious bacilli that are doing their deadly work in the system. The doctor, we are told, "proposes to go on experimenting with the combination for thirty or sixty days longer. If at the end of this time its curative properties are confirmed, the entire matter will be given to the medical profession and the world at large. In the meantime he states that in case of yellow fever and malaria the new remedy has worked and almost instantaneous cure; and it has proven potent in cases of blood poisoning; and a case of tubercular hip disease was cured in three weeks; that a young man who was dying of consumption was so far improved in two or three weeks that is night sweats ceased his temperature fell, his weight increased and his sleep and appetite became normal."

It is to be hoped that this remedy on further trial will prove efficacious. Consumption is a fearful scourge, and medical science seems to have done little or nothing to lessen its ravages. Remedies and modes of treatment without number have been discovered and devised to lessen the mortality it causes, but all of them from some reason or another have failed. It is devoutly to be hoped that Dr. Edson is not about to add another to the long and sad list of failure to find a remedy to cure consumption.

Barney Barnato is said to be coming to America to size up the Cripple Creek Colorado gold mines. It might be a good idea to persuade Barney to take a look at the British Columbia mines and those at the Lake of the Woods. The British investors will be likely to pay a good deal of deference to Barney's opinions, although his opinion may not be much value.

Having cut from the Dominion Ministry, N. Clarke Wallace finds himself out of touch with all other parties, and for that reason unable to take a hand in the bye-elections. He has the satisfaction of having acted on principle, and the Orangemen will probably appreciate his step, if politicians do not.

MENIFEE'S FAST MAIL TRAIN.

Run Over Crossings Full Tilt—Interlocking Switches Were Later Developed.

There is an old engineer on the Vandalia road who is to some extent responsible for the erection of interlocking devices at railroad crossings throughout Illinois. It was he who opened the eyes of a good many interested people to the fact that fast government mail trains would not multiply until the laws regarding the stoppage of trains at crossings were repealed.

In 1886 one of Uncle Sam's "hummers" was run from the east to St. Louis and thence to Kansas City over the Missouri Pacific, at which time the writer was one of a party making the initial trip on the train.

The train from Indianapolis to St. Louis was hauled via the Vandalia line, and the first engineer to take a jerk at the string of postal cars was Tom Menifee with engine No. 183. There was one thing about Menifee's big iron horse that the people living within ten miles of the line will never forget. It had a whistle that would make a foghorn feel sick.

Illinois people always knew when No. 7, as the fast mail was called, was on the rails because of the continuous deafening snort of 183 upon nearing the numerous crossings. The capers that Tom Menifee cut with this train laid the foundations for a safe system of railroad crossings. The engineer had an utter disregard for such a trifle as a crossing when he had hold of the government's train and he went over it at a speed little less than that at which he approached one. On the slightest provocation he would do up 25 miles in 23 minutes, and he kept it up until a certain event took place.

The Ohio and Mississippi officials began to make strenuous objection to the manner in which Tom with 183 jumped over the track at Altamont. Repeated complaints were sent to the Vandalia officials, who always replied that there must be a mistake, as their engineers were required to stop at that crossing. But there wasn't any mistake about it, and the upshot was that Ohio and Mississippi people invited the Vandalia officials to meet them at Altamont on a certain day and "see what they would see."

"Well," said an Illinois railroad and warehouse commissioner who tells the story, "the two sets of officers spent a certain day agreed upon around the Altamont depot. Each of the Vandalia trains came to a full stop before going over, and the 'Van' people were continually asking 'What are we here for?'"

"Finally No. 7 was sighted, and the shrieking steam whistle made out at short intervals proclaimed to the Vandalia man that Tom Menifee was pulling the big load of Uncle Sam's mailbags. It happened that the train had dropped a little time and Tom was making it up. It was after midnight, and the big white eye, which 183 was casting between the rails, came nearer and nearer, passing the 800 foot post without the slightest hesitation, and in a moment had swept past the depot like a cyclone."

"Of course Tom got a chance to take a little rest, but there was not a man in the crowd who didn't admire the celerity with which Menifee hustled the mails."

Soon everybody began to see that the word "fast" connected with a train that was required to stop at crossings was a misnomer. There was a movement toward the erection of safety devices that would enable a train to go over without stopping. Laws passed in 1887 and 1891 permit a train to cross at a certain speed where there are interlocking devices approved by the state railroad and warehouse commission. Within the last six years over 100 of such crossing plants have been put up. In every portion of the state they are operated jointly by the roads that cross each other, under rules and regulations formulated by the consulting engineer of the state board of railroad and warehouse commissioners.—Chicago Tribune.

A Chain of Persecution.
George—No matter how things go, the poor always suffer.

Jack—Yes, the nabobs who own railroads think nothing of running over a poor man's horse.

"Yes, and the man who can afford to own a horse runs down a poor fellow on a bicycle."

"Just so. And the poor fellow on the bicycle runs down the poor fellow who has to walk."

"That's it. And the man who walks stumbles against the cripple who goes on crutches."

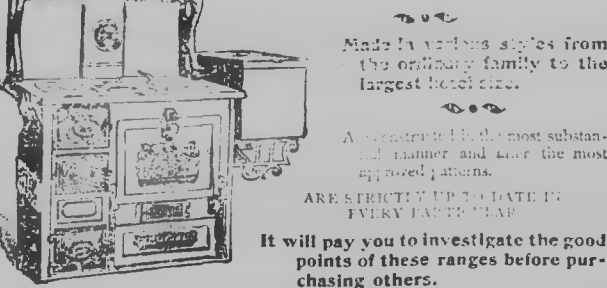

"That's the way. And the cripple on crutches spends most of his time jamming his sticks down on other people's corns. It's really a selfish world."—Clipper.

Mr. Parnell and His "Pack."

Somebody once said something about a certain Irish member to Mr. Parnell. I will remember the reply attributed to Mr. Parnell. "Don't believe a word he says," were his words; "he's about the faintest little bound in my pack."—Westminster Budget.

THE DEMERS TRIAL.

A New Witness on the Stand in the Case Yesterday.

Special to The Times.

MONTREAL, Dec. 18.—There was a new witness in the Demers murder trial this morning. This was Mr. Edward Masse, merchant tailor at Ludington, Mich., and a brother of the late Mrs. Demers. Considerable interest was manifested in his appearance, and more especially by the prisoner. Mr. Masse bears a striking resemblance to the unfortunate woman, and looks a typical American, after 20 years' residence across the line. After being sworn the witness identified an envelope addressed by him from Ludington to the prisoner. This envelope was found by Chief Massey in Demers' house, but the letter it contained had disappeared. Mr. Archambault proceeded to ask witness what this letter referred to, and he answered that it had been written because of trouble in the Demers household.

Mr. Demers was objected to this kind of evidence, which had no bearing on the case, as the letter was more than two years old, and the objection was sustained. Mr. Masse then stated that he had visited the Demers family four years ago, when they lived at Hochelaga, and he was asked what the relations were. Mr. Demers again objected, as the evidence did not relate to the general circumstances of the case, and was too far removed from the date of the tragedy. A lengthy argument ensued, during which Mr. Archambault stated that he intended going much deeper into the relations that had existed between the prisoner and his wife than at the first trial.

Judge Wurtzel, after consulting with some of his colleagues, held that it would be dangerous to allow this kind of evidence to go to the jury at the present stage of the case. If the Crown intended producing such evidence they would have to begin at or about the date of the tragedy and go backwards. To begin, he said, by relating what might have happened four years ago would not be proper, as a man might have changed his conduct since. It is understood, however, that Mr. Masse will be called again later on.

Silas H. Carpenter, superintendent of the Canadian Secret Service, then related his connection with the case. Yesterday afternoon Coroner McMahon and Cantlin, the milkman, occupied the time of the Court.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. Mr. W. S. Clouston and Mr. W. Turner, Inspector for the bank of Montreal, who have been spending a few days in town, entertained a few friends at dinner on Tuesday evening in the pretty private dining room of the Hoffman House. The pink and white decorations were in exquisite taste. The required light was furnished by candles with dainty pink shades. Mrs. Huffman was complimented on the success of her first private dinner.

Look Out for This Man.
Limbs of the law in this city and Hull are on the lookout for a man with legs who has been driving around lately with a boy under the pretence that he wanted to purchase a pair of wooden legs, says the Ottawa Citizen. As far as known his solicitations met with a generous response. The man is now missing, however, together with a horse and rig which he hired a few days ago from Mr. Wright in Hull. He was to have only kept the outfit for a short time, but has not returned with it. The boy is said to be a black cutter and a buffalo robe. The man is about forty years of age with a black moustache.

A quire of good note paper and a bunch of envelopes for five cents, at the Times Bookstore.

Almost a Fatal Accident.
About 4.30 o'clock on Saturday evening Mr. John Hore, local agent of the Singer Manufacturing Co., was driving down Cambridge street in a cutter, his spirited driver became restless and made determined attempts to run away, says the Lindsay Post. When he reached Matthews' packing house Mr. Hore observed a large crowd of people standing on the roadway opposite the market, and fearing that someone would be injured if he drove past he turned the animal's head to the west, hoping to run him against some obstruction on the market square. Unluckily, however, the beast got beyond Mr. Hore's control, and when turned off the roadway he tore madly across the square, the cutter upsetting near the rear driveway leading into the firehall. Mr. Hore was thrown with terrific force against the edge of the platform, the sound of the blow being distinctly heard fifty yards away. When picked up it was found that he had sustained several frightful scalp wounds, but the extent of his injuries could only be guessed at owing to the profuse bleeding. He was at once conveyed to Dr. Clarke's office, where the wounds were dressed, and later on in the evening he was conveyed to his home. Today we learn that he is progressing favorably—news that will rejoice many friends in town and country.

Dangerous.

We often see this sign on roads or streets.
Any kidney ailment is dangerous. Because you never know where it will end.
Suppose you feel languid, suppose you have feverish symptoms, there must be poison in the blood for these are the certain signs.
To the fact that poisons get past the kidneys, may be traced every sickness to which you are liable.
Treat the kidneys forthwith and first of all.
It is the safe and proper thing every time. Therefore do it promptly and well. We are trying to teach people to turn to Dodd's Kidney Pills as the simplest and greatest treatment of kidney diseases on earth.
Can't you see the point? Every serious case results from the kidneys being out of order. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep on bringing these diseases.

McDONOUGH'S STORY.

He Says He Borrowed the Picture Frame and Left it For Security in Millbrook.

Constable Adams returned from Newmarket last night with John McDonough, who was arrested there on a charge of theft. McDonough is charged with stealing a picture frame and overcoat.

He told a Times' representative last night that he had borrowed the picture frame and was carrying it in Millbrook when he ran short of money. He said some people owed him in Port Hope and he left the frame as security for the balance due on his board and went to Port Hope to collect it, intending to send for it as soon as he got the money. He failed to make any collections in Port Hope, and went to Newmarket where he says his parents live.

He denied using the alias and says his name is McDonough. When asked about the overcoat he had nothing to say. He says he sent for the frame and expects it today.

McDonough will be tried this morning.

HANDSOME BEQUESTS.

Many Contributions to the Methodist Superannuation Funds.

The Methodist body is again in luck. The Rev. John Hughes, who died at Colborne on Dec. 11 in his 90th year, bequeathed $1,500 to his former church. Of this sum $1,000 is to be devoted to superannuation purposes, the remainder going to the mission fund.

Mr. Hutchinson, of Chinguacousy Township, who died recently, left $1,000 to be divided equally between the superannuation and mission fund.

The Wesley Camp Ground Committee of Niagara Falls, have wound up their affairs and made a donation of about $3,000 to the superannuation fund.

THE CHRISTMAS BAZAAR.

The First Night of the Bazaar a Great Success—A Description.

St. Peter's Cathedral Bazaar was opened yesterday and last night, and a large number of citizens attended it. The opera house presented a unique and pretty scene; in fact it is like a glimpse into fairy land to enter the doors and wander around the gaily decorated booths and tables, laden with the numberless beautiful articles of art and fancy work which are offered for sale. These tables and booths, and tents and fish ponds and other novel and unique departments which go to make up a truly bazaar scene, are presided over by matrons and misses, who have most bewitching ways when the object in view is the sale of some article to an undecided purchaser, and last night they were kept very busy, for the crowd was large and business was brisk. In fact the first night of the bazaar was a most flattering success, and if the succeeding nights are its equal, the Christmas bazaar will indeed be a triumph and a matter of congratulation to the patrons and gentlemen who have so zealously worked for its success.

The booths and tables are presided over by the following ladies:
Table No. 1 and 2—Mrs. T. Henry, Mrs. H. Lebrun, Mrs. J. Dunn, Miss McCarthy, Mrs. H. Phelan, Mrs. M. Riley, Mrs. T. LePlante and Mrs. M. Halpin. On these tables are many beautiful articles and a unique feature is the character dolls representing the Irish, Scotch, Highlanders, African and the new woman. On these tables also are 25 beautiful prizes in silver and gold, which are to be drawn for. The tickets are placed at the moderate rate of 25 cents each.

Lottery Table—Mrs. Pope, Mrs. T. Cahill, Mrs. Leffane, Mrs. Clancy.
Fish Pond—Miss Annie Simons and Miss O'Neil. This mysterious pond is to the left as you enter the door and many mysterious articles were caught by the adventurous anglers last night.

The Sister's Table—Mrs. J. C. Sullivan, Miss Vincent, Mrs. P. Begg, Mrs. Dineen and Mrs. Getoux. This table is at the west end of the hall, occupying nearly the entire length and is laden with scores of pretty things.

Fish Pond and Hospitable Table—Miss Katie Lynch and Mrs. George Ball preside over these and last night they were kept busy attending to the wants of their many patrons.
Christmas Trees—Miss Agnes Vlnette, Miss Agnes O'Reilly, Miss Burks and Miss Macdonald.
Gypsy Tent—Seven charming young ladies presided over this most fascinating resort. They are attired in gypsy costume representing the following characters of gypsy lore:

Miss Annie O'Connell, Harra; Miss Maud Kelly, Sprig; Miss Maggie Lynch, Salt and for Miss Mabel Baker, Salt and for Miss Emily Carew, Soreto; Miss Lizzie Mahoney, Zingari; Miss Gertrude Muncester, Fakir. The ladies in charge of the tent are Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. John Mahoney. Within the mystic precincts of the tent your fortune is told, and on tepees you may recline and sip coffee served by the gypsy attendants.
The Art Museum—This most unique department is presided over by Miss Kate Simons and Miss Mamie Riley, and the collection of beautiful paintings, in oil and water, which are ingeniously arranged, are well worth the price of admission. The collection is composed of the following rare pictures:

A FINE ART EXHIBITION.
A Beauty from the Sunny South. The Poet's Bays, Drooping Lashes, Pledge of Affection. View of a well known Prison. The Light of Other Days. A Striking Scene. A Maiden's Prayer. S. Pinafore, A Rare Old Print, The Staff of Life on Point of Death, To Point a Moral, Adorn a Tale, A Noble Invention, (For great Steam and Electricity have been great aids to Human Progress this is greater.) Quiet Friend in the Evening, A Young Pickle, Cedars of Lebanon, Copies from Old Masters, Meeting of the Bishops, Bonnie Crossing the Rhine, The Shrine of St. Anna.—This is a most interesting feature and is presided over by Mr. Patrick Begley, who made the miniatures of the buildings which are shown exactly as they are. They are faithful representations of this historic place, and the different points are well explained by Mr. Begley, who is in charge.

During the evening an interesting entertainment was given. The calisthenic drill by convent pupils under the direction of Major Rundle was a splendid feature. Among those who took part in the entertainment were Miss A. Simons, Miss Primeau and Miss Lillie Simons.

THE NAIL ON THE HEAD.

The Toronto Evening Telegram comments editorially on the action of certain Orangemen of this county, as follows:

Those Peterborough Orangemen who proudly announce themselves as followers of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, make of him a pope and of themselves papists.

The word papist is not used offensively to Roman Catholics, in fact it is not applied to Roman Catholics at all. There are pope worshippers outside the communion of Rome, and their pope is a good deal lower than the Sovereign Pontiff of the Seven Hills.

Everybody who follows a man instead of principle is a papist in the worst sense. The excuse for the abasement of those Peterborough partisans is that in adhering to Sir Mackenzie Bowell they are not worshipping a man, but worshipping the offices which they hope the man will give them.

C. W. Savers writes the following letter to an evening paper, denying the statement made that the meeting consisted of only four Orangemen and was not a representative gathering. In view of this denial the comments of the Telegram apply with double force.

Sir,—In your issue of this evening appears a letter over the names of Edward Kemp and H. S. Armstrong and also a long editorial of your own commenting thereon with the view of leading me to believe that upon the nature and sacredness of their obligations.

As for Messrs. Kemp and Armstrong they have allowed themselves to be used by a certain Liberal Orangeman whose well known name appears in every line of their communication. Before replying to the said communication let me say a word or two in explanation of our meeting last Thursday.

It was called as early as last Monday, Capt. Miller and myself having charge of the arrangements. The writer attended the meeting of L.O.L. No. 321 on Tuesday and at its close spoke of the matter to many of the members, who expressed approval. However he met a "conservative" Orangeman who told him of the expected meeting, as did Capt. Miller. We could not make a public announcement, because elections, like horse races, are uncertain. And as it was not, nor was it understood to be, a meeting of those from the political friends of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, we, of course, did not wish to lead Sir Mackenzie or Mr. Armstrong, who are known to be Liberals, by inviting them. The resolution mentions no lodge, but expressly says "That this meeting is for the purpose of electing a member of the County of Peterborough, etc." These men, sir, are made to say that there were four present, only one of whom is now an active member. The writer was referred to as a fifth.

Mr. Editor the sight of the party who applied his eye to the key hole either failed him or he did not get the right focus, otherwise he would have reported that the room was crowded; and if the cold night air had not chilled his hearing he would have heard what it was said. The most harmonious, enthusiastic and largely attended gathering, and he would also have known that the writer of this matter of congratulation to the patrons and gentlemen who have so zealously worked for its success.

The booths and tables are presided over by the following ladies:

Quiet Friend in the Evening, A Young Pickle, Cedars of Lebanon, Copies from Old Masters, Meeting of the Bishops, Bonnie Crossing the Rhine, The Shrine of St. Anna.—This is a most interesting feature and is presided over by Mr. Patrick Begley, who made the miniatures of the buildings which are shown exactly as they are. They are faithful representations of this historic place, and the different points are well explained by Mr. Begley, who is in charge.

During the evening an interesting entertainment was given. The calisthenic drill by convent pupils under the direction of Major Rundle was a splendid feature. Among those who took part in the entertainment were Miss A. Simons, Miss Primeau and Miss Lillie Simons.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES.

The musical part of the services of St. Andrew's next Sunday will be exceptionally fine.

A Port Hope young man was held up on Friday night last when returning home from the country. He got rid of the desperado, who caught his lines, by striking him on the head with a whiskey bottle and fired a revolver at his companion. His horse was then released and he drove into Port Hope like a streak.

A chance to earn $250 is in the offer or reward made for the information that will lead to the arrest of John O'Neil, who absconded from Providence, R.I. a few days ago. The local police are notified that he is about 5 ft. 8 in. tall and weighs 100 lbs. He is an Englishman from Manchester and was treasurer of the shoe company. He is about 30 years of age.

Fatal Lamp Explosion

An old and respected resident of an adjoining county met with a sad death at his home last week. He was reading with a coal oil lamp near by, the lamp exploded, and the burning oil, running over the man, set fire to his clothes, his bed and the floor. A doctor was sent for but his services were of no avail. Had it happened at a later hour the house and the whole family might have been injured.

In a neighboring village a short distance from Galt last Sunday evening the Presbyterian clergyman made the following announcement at the close of the sermon: "Our fatherly elder, Bro. —, lies at the point of death; how long he may live we do not know." Then, continuing, as if he had created an innovation by imparting this information in the sanctuary, said: "I made this announcement as many will be glad to hear Bro. — condition."

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 20, 1895.

VAN HORNE AS PREMIER.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Hamilton Herald, is in favor of supplying the cabinet with new blood, and suggests inviting Sir William Van Horne to take a seat at the crown table. The idea is a good one. As our contemporary puts it, Sir William is one of the most capable business men in the country, he is a good Conservative and a shrewd politician. Moreover, he is on the point of resigning his connection with the C. P. R., so that in entering the Cabinet he would not be called upon to make any great sacrifices. He is a big man, physically and mentally, popular, far-seeing and one in whom the people of Canada have every confidence.

At this juncture he is just the man the party needs. What sort of a debater he would prove to be it is of course impossible to say, but there is no question, however, about his breadth of vision, his administrative capacity or his diplomatic qualities. Sir William would be a godsend to the party.

There never was a time in the history of the country when the Conservative party needed a Van Horne at its head quite as badly as it does to-day. Van Horne is a general. The present Premier is merely a camp follower pitchforked by chance and fate into a position where he is wrecking his party and doing his best to injure his country irreparably.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell was a compromise Premier. He was selected for his present post because of his negative qualities and general inoffensiveness. Sir William VanHorne possesses in abundance the qualities which are so conspicuously absent to Sir Mackenzie Bowell. His is a shrewd, bold, aggressive and dominating character and he can see as far through a stone wall as the next man. As a tactician and politician he is no longer an uncertain quantity. He is the very man the party needs at this juncture to help it out of the hole Sir Mackenzie Bowell has got it into.

WAR TALK.

Mr. Cleveland has plainly decided to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination next year. The prospect of a "triple crown" has turned his head. That the commercial common-sense of the American people would permit any set of reckless politicians to "hurrah" them into war with their best customer, is inconceivable. High sounding words may catch the votes of narrow forebears with little stake in the country, but the first deed that committed the nation with its defenceless Atlantic seaboard to open war with the mistress of the navy o'arries, would bury the party guilty of it under the indignation of the solid men of the Republic. War between Britain and the United States would be a crime against civilization, to say nothing of the Christian propaganda; and to imagine that it should come from a dispute over the application of a doubtful political doctrine to a few square miles of South American jungle, is to impeach the sanity of the English-speaking world.

It is a pity that American politicians may play to "the gods" every four years; but it would be sinning against knowledge to pretend to take them seriously.

Completely Run Down.

"Last summer I was in very poor health. I was troubled with dizziness and tired feeling; also loss of appetite. I was completely run down. I decided to take Hood's Kidney Pills and after I had taken it a while I felt much better." Lizzie A. Russell, Old Chelsea, near Ottawa, Que.

HOOD'S PILLS cure biliousness, indigestion,

Thirteen thousand schoolmasters in Germany have salaries of less than $300 a year. They lately met and resolved that they ought to have at least $300 to begin with, and a chance to raise to $600 by the end of twenty-five years. Their notions do not appear to be wholly unreasonable.

The Prince of Wales rides a wheel. So do the following big folks: Czar of Russia, Queen Regent of Spain, Empress of Austria, King of Serbia, Prince George of Greece, the "kid" King of Spain, King Humbert and Queen Marguerite of Italy, lively old King Leopold of Belgium, King George of Greece and several other royal people.

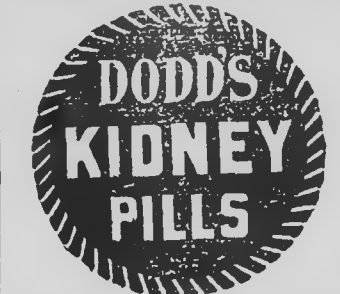

The latest reliable statistics are said to show that Russia has now in Europe 35,000 miles of navigable rivers and canals—that is to say, 6,000 miles more than in the rest of Europe—and that her river flotilla using these waterways is quite double that of Germany and Austria combined, and enabled her to carry during the last six months 30,000,000 tons more goods by water than by rail.

Mistaken for Santa Claus.

The late Senator Flint used to be mistaken for Santa Claus sometimes by children. One day when on his way to the senate to attend to his parliamentary duties a little girl rushed in front of him, throwing her arms around his knees stopping him in his walk. She looked up most imploring and affectionately in his eyes and without any expression of fear or doubt, said, "Bent you Santa Claus?" The senator's big heart was deeply touched at this little one's importunity and earnestness, and patting her cheeks, replied, "No, dear, but what do you want?"

"Oh, give me a present; you are Santa Claus," was the answer, as she clung more tenaciously to his knees. "No, I'm not Santa Claus, but you shall have a present, my little dear," he lovingly replied, and leading her into a toy shop near by, loaded her down with all she could carry. She thanked him, and with a face beaming with joy, hurried home to tell and show what the good Santa Claus had given her. Senator Flint often said he would never forget the expression of the child as she clung to his knees.

A JAPANESE HOME.

LIFE OF THE PEOPLE DESCRIBED BY A NATIVE YOUNG LADY.

How the Houses Are Constructed—Interior—Decorations—Walls, Floors and Furniture—How They Keep Warm—Kitchen and Cooking.

So much is said nowadays in the world's press about our people's warlike spirit and exploits, writes a Japanese young lady educated in Europe to a friend, that you, my sisters in the west, may perhaps like to have a true description of our homes and the peaceful pursuits of our life amid the family circle.

People say our dwellings are like the Swiss chalet in outward appearance. Possibly so, if the latter is built of wood, with three substantial walls and an overhanging roof covered with tiles. The south side is always open and has only sliding doors, consisting of thin wooden frames covered over with white paper, called "shoji," to shut out the wind and cold. Along this side of the house there is a highly polished wooden veranda, and as it is every mistress' aim to keep the wood as bright and spotless as possible it is wiped over with a cloth many times a day.

At night heavy wooden shutters are put up, which are fastened on the inside by means of a hook and ring. In front of the house we have a small sliding door of lattice work. When any one wishes to enter, he stands outside and calls out, "O tano moshi masu" (I beg for honorable admittance) and then waits until some one answers from the inside, "Donata samai?" meaning who may it honorably be. The visitor thereupon gives his name and is admitted through the little door.

In the interior there are rarely any walls, the rooms being partitioned off by means of sliding doors called "karakami." These differ from the "shoji," or white paper walls, which lead to the veranda, in generally being covered with thick painted paper, silk or other materials. Instead of a door handle, we have pretty little bronze indentations on either side of the "karakami." The floors of the rooms are covered with beautiful white mats, made of many layers of rice straw fastened together, on the top of which the fine white matting is placed. The whole is 2 or 3 inches thick and is generally bound round with black glazed cotton cloth. As these mats are always made 6 feet long by 3 feet wide, the size of a room is determined by the number of mats it contains. There is no furniture in a Japanese house. Chairs are unnecessary, for everybody sits on the floor in a kneeling position, with the feet crossed underneath him. Soft silk or crape cushions filled with cotton wadding are strewn around the rooms and are always offered to a guest, but not used in a general way. At night small tables are brought in for each member of the family, on which are placed the dishes containing each one's portion of the dinner, the soup bowl, rice cup and chopsticks.

As a rule, the foreigner will find none of the many things considered indispensable for a western home to make it attractive. The sole decorations are found on one side, where a dais is raised four to five inches from the ground and made of pretty polished wood, supported by pillars of pine or cherry tree. Upon this are placed quaint curios or vases of flowers and suspended on the wall over it a silk picture called a "kakemono." These pictures are changed according to the season of the year. In November, for instance, a "kakemono" with the picture of a chrysanthemum will be hung up, in March one representing a branch of cherry blossoms, others for any particular function, as funerals or weddings.

The raised dais, or "tokonoma," is the only place where we put our pretty ornaments, and then only one at a time, so that none of the beauty of the article may be lost by close connection with other things. Perhaps this is the reason why foreigners call out about our rooms being so bare and comfortable. So they are to any one accustomed to move about in an apartment filled with a variety of things. The same simplicity of decoration is observed in every Japanese house, whether the owner be as rich as Crassus or as poor as the proverbial church mouse.

As our houses are built of such light materials, it is very difficult to keep out the cold during the months of November, December, January and February. Besides this we have no means of heating our rooms, and even if we had the wind would still penetrate through the paper "shoji." The only way we do keep warm is by wearing many thickly wadded "kimono" dresses and holding our hands over the "hibachi" brazier, containing pieces of burning charcoal. We are not, however, quite so destitute of all comforts as the foreigner thinks.

The "kotatsu" combines warmth and comfort. For this purpose a square of matting is taken out, and a good sized brazier, filled with charcoal and protected by a kind of wooden cage, is let in the hole. Over this is thrown one of the wadded quilts. Each member sits on a small cushion, places his feet against the brazier and covers himself with the quilt. When the whole family is thus gathered round the "kotatsu," many are the tales of the great deeds of warriors of bygone ages, of fearful ghosts and monsters and such like subjects, which are told for the amusement of old and young. Here all meet together and rest from labor. The father has returned from business, the mother from her household work, and the children have finished their daily tasks, and all are free to enjoy a quiet hour.

From the sitting and reception rooms we go into the kitchen. Its floors are made of polished boards and are so constructed that they can be taken up at will. As the whole house is raised some 20 to 30 inches from the ground, the space between the floor and the ground is used to store away charcoal and other things. In the middle of the kitchen a square charcoal brazier is let into the floor, and much of the cooking is done over its fire, but the most important utensil is the "kama," or large iron boiler, in which the rice is boiled. It is placed in a stand made of clay. Wood is generally burned in the clay stand, or "hetsum," as it is inexpensive and gives an even heat. The art of boiling rice is brought to great perfection in Japan, and in most houses a servant is kept who attends exclusively to the preparing of that article of food.

Tables and chairs are conspicuous by their absence in our kitchen. In place of the former we use small boards, raised on two legs, called "mana-ita," upon which we put our vegetables, "okoro" (pickles) and other things, and the latter are not necessary, as every one sits on the floor—Baltimore Sun.

Flammarion says that the earth is cooling very rapidly. Europe has lost five degrees this century.

Electrical Treatment

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Bells, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the base of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well.

A Limited Engagement.

I asked her to be mine,
That love might have his way—
Nor thought she could decline;
I said: "Forever and a day,
Be mine, in rain or shine!"

And when she answered "No,"
I bowed without a sound;
But, as I turned to go,
She said: "Just bring your cutter round,
And I'll be yours, in snow!"

Labrador: Reindeer.

The deer visit the seashore regularly in the months of April, July and October, and during these migrations the E-quimaux often shoot them for the mere love of killing, allowing the carcasses to rot where they fall, without preserving even the hides. There is an E-quimaux at Nain who boasts of having killed 150 deer in one day's shooting. The deer are to the Indians what the seals are to the E-quimaux almost an indispensable necessity. They value them accordingly and are never guilty of such excesses in the chase. The skins both house and cloth them. The sinews answer better than any other possible substitute for thread. The spreading antlers, with their broad brow branches, ingeniously carved and fashioned, supply a variety of useful implements and their flesh is their staple and never failing food. —Outing for November.

Dangerous.

We often see this sign on roads or streets.
Any kidney ailment is dangerous. Because you never know where it will end.
Suppose you feel languid, suppose you have feverish symptoms, there must be poison in the blood for these are the certain signs.
To the fact that poisons get past the kidneys, may be traced every sickness to which you are liable.
Treat the kidneys forthwith and first of all.
It is the safe and proper thing every time. Therefore do it promptly and well. We are trying to teach people to turn to Dodd's Kidney Pills as the simplest and greatest treatment of kidney diseases on earth.
Can't you see the point? Every serious disease results from the kidneys being out of order. Dodd's Kidney Pills keeps on curing these diseases.

The strength and pure blood necessary to resist the effects of cold seasons are given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have for the last 25 years of my life been complaining of a weakness of the lungs and colds in the head, especially in the winter. Last fall I was again attacked. Reading of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was led to try it. I am now taking the fifth bottle with good results. I can positively say that I have not spent a winter as free from coughs or pains and difficult breathing spells for the last 25 years as was last winter. I can lie down and sleep all night without any annoyance from cough or pain in the lungs or asthmatic difficulty." E. M. CHAMBERS, J. P., Cornhill, N. B.

MR. VALENTINE SHORTIS.THERE IS SOMETHING PECULIAR ABOUT THIS YOUNG MAN.He is Very Unconcerned and Happy Notwithstanding the Fact that his Day of His Execution Draw-Near—He is a Puzzle.

Special to The Times.

MONTREAL, Dec. 19.—If the law is allowed to follow its course in the case of Cuthbert Valentine Shortis, now under sentence of death at Beauharnois, he has but fifteen days to live, and as the dreaded day approaches the interest in the unfortunate young man is deepening. This is more especially true as regards the county of Beauharnois, where the ultimate outcome of the greatest tragedy in its history is being eagerly discussed. If the execution takes place it will be the first to be recorded there. So far no hint of any kind has been received there as to the intentions of the Minister of Justice and no preparations of any kind have been made. Shortis still leads the quiet, unconcerned existence which has been his since the first days that he was placed behind the prison bars to answer for the terrible crime of which he has been found guilty.

He sleeps soundly, and often has to be awakened in the morning for his breakfast. The guards state that he gives them no trouble whatever. He eats three good meals daily, the jailer supplies him with whatever he asks for. The condemned man a few days ago wrote to a leading grocery firm here for a list of the fruits they had on hand. He reads the large New York daily papers, the only ones he is allowed to see, and spends much of his time writing to his mother and to others. Only a few days ago he wrote a batch of post cards to the leading bicycle firms of the United States asking for catalogues, a list of prices and commissions they allow on large sales.

Some time since he also ordered four novels from a Chicago firm, one of them a translation of Alexander Dumas, and received them. Only two days ago he ordered some more, and they will not reach him in the natural course of the mails. Shortis never refers in any shape or form to the momentous question as to whether he is to die on the gallows or not. Such a possibility does not seem to exist for him. To all who see him, he is quiet, civil, polite, and some who have seen him failed to realize that he could have been guilty of such a horrible crime as killing and attempting to kill some of his best friends.

To them he remains a puzzle, and one gentleman said he would be a great subject for physiological research. One portion of his brain seems brilliant, and the other obscured. He has been visited by Rev. Father Devine, S. J., several times and has attended mass in an improvised chapel in the prison corridor. The prisoner sleeps in his cell, but in the day time he circulates in the corridor. His father is expected to reach Beauharnois from Ireland the day after Christmas. Mrs. Shortis is still in Ottawa, pleading for the life of her only son. Deep sympathy is expressed for the sorrowing, devoted father.

THE POLITICAL HORIZON.THE FIGHT IN CARDWELL STILL BEING HOTLY PURSUED.

Harry Corby Resigns—Attorney General Sifton Returns to Winnipeg—Manitoba Cabinet to Meet in a Few Days.

Special to The Times.

CALCUTTA, Dec. 19.—The ministerial forces took possession of the town hall and addressed a large meeting last night. The speakers were the Finance Minister, Major McLennan, Mr. Willoughby and Mr. E. Cochrane, M.P. Mr. Cochrane made an able presentation of the Government's trade policy, and clearly outlined where the Cabinet stood on the school question. In his remarks upon the latter subject he said: "It is a difficult question for the Government to manage and settle. What we have done is to give the province a reasonable time to settle the question itself, if it will do so on a fair basis. If it does not do it, we say the constitution must be carried out, and the rights of the minority there, as well as in Quebec, must be respected."

Mr. Willoughby laughingly denied that politics with him were merely a stepping-stone to the urn. He said that the proposed commission will be requested firmly but politely to pursue their enquiries on the far side of the Schomberg line.

THE GOVERNMENT WHIP.

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 19.—Mr. George Taylor, M.P., the Conservative whip, was the chief speaker at a meeting held here last night.

Mr. Taylor devoted some time to a consideration of Mr. McCarthy's position in this campaign, which he showed by that gentleman's statements in the press that the Separate school case to be inconsistent with his expressed opinions on the school question. Mr. McCarthy had said that the Government would not touch the school in the condition in which they were prior to 1880. Such was not the case. If it were he would vote against them. It was possible that there might be a dozen bills introduced into the House at the coming session. He might introduce one himself, and if he did it would be a bill to provide for a secular system of schools, such as would contain an element that could give offence, either to Protestants or Catholics. (Applause.) The question could be settled equitably, and to the satisfaction of all parties, but Mr. McCarthy did not want that. He wanted a grievance, and a grievance he was bound to have.

MONTAGUE AT MONTAGUE.

ROSEMOUNT, Dec. 19.—Dr. Montague drove over from Orangeville to address a political meeting here last night. Mayor Bailey, of Orangeville, stated that the Government ought to be condemned on all lines of its policy.

The Secretary of State, who followed Mr. Bailey, took up that gentleman's statements one by one and analyzed them, much to the amusement of the audience and to the chagrin of the Mayor. The doctor spoke for two hours and a quarter. He dealt with the trade question, agricultural matters, the question of taxation and expenditure and closed with an earnest appeal to his hearers not to vote as Protestants or Catholics but as Canadians.

CARTWRIGHT IN CALCUTTA.

CALCUTTA, Dec. 19.—The electors of Calcutta and Alibon killed Banian's hall here last night, listened to the discussion of public affairs by Sir Richard Cartwright and others and cheered the Liberal standard bearer, Mr. Henry.

Sir Richard severely condemned the Government's course on the Manitoba school question, alleging that to treat such a question in the sixth session of a Parliament was to say the least, a strain of constitutional usage. Sir Richard took the position that either the school was an outrage on the minority that required instant disavowance at the hands of the Government or it was a matter fairly debatable on which the Government, before taking action should have conferred freely and fully with the Manitoba Government. As far as remedial legislation was concerned, said Sir Richard, the Government's action would depend upon which they considered more profitable to throw overboard their Orange friends on one side or their Catholic friends on the other.

Sir Richard made a vigorous presentation of many arguments against the trade policy of the Government and prophesied the usual blue ruin if it were continued. Col. O'Brien and Mr. Frank Denton addressed the meeting and the candidate, Warden Henry, claimed their votes because he was a farmer and a home man, and would be the first of that description to represent Cardwell for many years.

SIFTON BACK IN WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 19.—Attorney General Sifton has returned. He says the Manitoba Cabinet will meet on Friday or Saturday and a reply to the Dominion Government will be forwarded at once concerning Manitoba's refusal to establish separate schools.

JOHN BROWN WILL RETIRE.

It is said that Citizen John Brown intends to give up his Patron candidature in West York. It was suggested that he should run in Centre Toronto, but he said that the constituency didn't contain a single farmer, except perhaps a few retired ones.

NEW PATRONAGE COMMITTEE.

CHOSEN BY THE CONSERVATIVES OF NO. 2
WARD LAST EVENING.

At a meeting of the Liberal Conservative Association of Ward 2 last evening a new Advisory or Patronage committee was appointed, consisting of five members from each of the three old wards. The names are:

St. Thomas—T. R. Whiteside, J. A. Mill, Dr. D. Thompson, William Walker and W. A. Poole.

St. David—W. J. Hamby, Dr. Pyne, John Thompson, D. Lamb and Dr. Noble.

St. Lawrence—E. Westman, T. McMullen, T. Mitchell, W. Fitzgerald and W. Stewart.

THE AWFUL WAR CLOUD.NOT MUCH CAUSE FOR ALARM SAY THE OTTAWA AUTHORITIES.

The Minister of Militia and General Gascoigne in Consultation—The Force Canada Could Put in the Field.

Special to The Times.

OTTAWA, Dec. 19.—Mr. A. Prevand, member of the Imperial Parliament, who is here, does not consider that there is any need for a war scare. He believes that the business interests of the United States will yet assert itself and prevent conflict. The Ministers decline to be interviewed on the subject, but from conversations with officials it is learned that Canada could in twenty-four hours put 30,000 fully equipped men into the field and hold any force the United States is likely to oppose against this country in check for a couple of months at least. The situation is generally viewed as one of great gravity, calling for prompt preparations for defence, but not for any alarm.

In the event of hostilities, General Montgomery Moore, commander of the Imperial force at Halifax, would take charge of the defence as the senior Imperial officer in the country.

Maj.-Gen. Gascoigne and the Minister of Militia were in consultation this morning.

CLEVELAND'S RISKY BLUFF

WHILE LITTLE ATTENTION IS PAID TO IT BY BRITAIN THE PRESS COMMENTS ARE STRONG.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—There is a consensus of opinion among all classes and which finds expression in newspapers of all shades of opinion that President Cleveland has made demands which Great Britain will not assent to.

The Times says: "The concessions which this country is so imperiously summoned to make are such as no self-respecting nation, least of all one ruling an empire that has its roots all over the globe, can possibly submit to. If President Cleveland is serious it will be incumbent for us to stand up for our rights and protect our Imperial interests. We confidently predict that Great Britain will not admit the pretensions put forward by President Cleveland. No commission appointed by a Power which is not a party to a dispute will be recognized by us as having a title of any sort to pronounce upon a boundary question."

MUST KEEP OFF BRITISH TERRITORY.

The Globe says: "We trust that the proposed commission will be requested firmly but politely to pursue their enquiries on the far side of the Schomberg line."

The Pall Mall Gazette asks what President Cleveland would think if England appointed a commission to delimit the frontiers of the United States and Mexico.

The Sheffield Telegraph: "Mr. Cleveland's language is admirably calculated to induce England to bid the Yankees to their worst, which, as they would be the attacking power, seeing that they have neither army of navy to speak of, would incline to the ridiculous. Still, if the United States makes the light of the British will not by any means evade the challenge."

FRENCH OPINION.

PARIS, Dec. 19.—La Patrie says "that President Cleveland's message will diminish British prestige the world over. England must undertake an ultra-national adventure to bow to the American's haughty ultimatum. Submission is equivalent to humiliation and resistance is equivalent to war, in which Europe will not intervene."

The Journal des Debats says that President Cleveland must fight or beat an inglorious retreat. The Monroe doctrine cannot be entertained by the rest of the world as international law.

La Liberté says that if Lord Salisbury should pick up the glove thrown down by President Cleveland, England could organize a military expedition in a few hours, while the United States is unprepared.

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 19.—The Colonize Gazette says: "Against pretensions of this kind all Europe will stand by England, for it is a question to be decided once and for all whether unbridled claims of the United States shall be recognized or European civilization subordinated to North American civilization on the American continent."

CORRECTLY SIZED UP.

The New York Post, in its financial article says: "Of all telegraphs which were deemed inconceivable a week ago, prophecy of a 'war scare' on our own account, to disturb this week's financial situation, would have been reckoned most preposterous. Yet today Wall street was full of amateur diplomats, arguing that unless Europe backs down our nation must declare hostilities. The traditional month-piece of the British Ministry stated this morning as every experienced reader had expected that Great Britain will not yield to outside interference. With the opening of today's security market, 15,000 shares of our stocks were poured out by London houses, and sterling exchange forthwith began to creep up the scale again. These were the really serious developments."

People who don't indulge in haphazard talk of United States and semi-civilized South American communities, and who study facts, not vague conceptions, are well aware that even such a potential break in our relations with Great Britain is already partially in sight will serve to check absolutely English investment in our securities, will stimulate withdrawal of foreign capital, with the usual results of the gold export movement, and will probably block at once all plans for European co-operation in the Government loan, which is soon to develop as a necessity. Some people may perhaps remember what became of the Russian securities, public and private, when the Afghan dispute arose with England in 1885. It is quite true that another turn in events may relieve in some degree the embarrassment of this situation. But how this can be brought about nobody has the least idea.

U. S. SENATORS WANT AN EQUITABLE AD-JUSTMENT OF THE DISPUTE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The House Venezuelan resolution was laid before the Senate again, and Mr. Morgan (Dem.) moved to refer it to the Foreign Relations Committee, and was supported in this by Mr. Sherman (Rep.) Both made speeches supporting the President, but protesting against the action. Sherman also expressed the belief that there would be no war, and that the matter could be adjusted peaceably.

The fight lasted seven hours. The rebels fled leaving 46 dead on the field and carrying off many wounded. Thomas Petry Esq., Aymer, Que.: "I have been troubled for about five years with severe heart complaint. At times the pain was so severe that I was unable to attend to business. The slightest exertion proved very fatiguing, and necessitated a long rest. I tried Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and obtained immediate relief. I have now taken four bottles of the remedy, and am entirely free from every symptom of heart disease. I hope this statement may induce others troubled as I was to give this most valuable remedy a trial." Sold by H. S. McDonald.

No Trouble at Tokyo.

Letters have been received at the Methodist Church Headquarters from Rev. Dr. McDonald and Rev. J. A. McArthur, missionaries in Tokyo, Japan. Affairs in that country are quiet and missionaries are doing well.

A Fine Imposed.

The charges against Mrs. O'Shea, who holds the license for the Commercial Hotel, was taken up in the police court yesterday morning. Magistrate Dumble handed down a written judgement, imposing a fine of $20.00 and costs.

A Pin in Her Throat.

One day last week an old lady residing in the western part of the village, accidentally swallowed a pin which she had in her mouth, and it lodged across her throat, and it was feared she would choke to death. A physician was called soon after the occurrence and the pin was removed. —Campbellford Herald.

On the Way to Kingston.

Frank Smith and Wm. Broom, who were sentenced to the Kingston Penitentiary for fifteen and thirteen years respectively, for having caused the death of Mary Atkins, passed through town yesterday en route for that institution in charge of Sheriff's Officer P. J. McCormack and County Constables Burns and Brown.

Admission Refused.

An aged woman arrived in town Tuesday from Peterborough and made application for the admission to the new home for the aged. A careful investigation of the case was made, but as the old lady was not a resident of this county admission was very properly refused, and she was compelled to return to the cheery town from whence she came. —Lindsay Watchman.

Advertising a Failure.

Advertising a failure, at least it has proved so in its having failed to bring forward one bad axe out of the large number of Ridgway Pennsylvania axes sold by us last year for which we have offered the Times for some weeks two new ones for each. Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of crosscut saws this year for which we claim that they will saw faster, keep sharper longer and give better satisfaction than those of any other make. George Stethem & Son, next door to Post Office.

Stole an Overcoat.

Edward Blake Morden, of Brighton, was arraigned and committed for trial, charged with stealing Conductor Stewart's overcoat and bag of tickets from the platform of the station at Belleville on the morning of the 14th ult. It will be remembered Conductor Stewart was on the platform for a few moments and when returning, found they had been stolen. The bag was found near Elvin's grocery. Haynes went to Trenton and arrested Morden, who was snugly buttoned up in the missing overcoat, and brought him to the city.

An Evening With Tennyson.

There was a pleasant social gathering in the pretty drawing rooms of Mrs. F. W. Taylor, at the Hoffman House on Wednesday evening, when a party, numbering 40, spent an evening with Tennyson. The discussion of the works and reminiscences of the life of England's departed poet, provided subject matter for several hours of intellectual and profitable converse and those present spent a most delightful evening. This was the first of a series of six evenings which Mrs. Taylor proposes to give, at each of which the sublime life and sentiments of the poet laureate will be discussed. One meeting will be held each month. The success of the first of the series was most gratifying.

Look Out for This Man.

Limbs of the law in this city and Hull are on the lookout for a man without legs who has been driving around lately with a boy under the pretence that he wanted to purchase a pair of wooden legs, says the Ottawa Citizen. As far as known his solicitations met with a generous response. The man is now missing, however, together with a horse and rig which he hired a few days ago from Mr. Wright in Hull. He was to have only kept the outfit for a short time, but has not returned with it. It consists of a bay mare, a black cutter and a buffalo robe. The man is about forty years of age with a black mustache.

An Important Decision.

The editor of the Hastings Star lately resorted to the Division Court for the collection of two accounts due him for subscription to his paper. Judge Ketchum who presided, gave judgment in his favor in both cases, and in doing so said that along with Judge Benson he had carefully considered the law on defaulting subscribers, and had arrived at the conclusion that any person, after receiving from an office, a newspaper, any reasonable time, say 3 months, whether they had ordered it or not, became liable and that the non-refusal at the post office was conclusive evidence of their acceptance of the paper. The nature of the cases were, one had for four years regularly received the paper and the other five, at their respective post offices, for which they had paid nothing and claimed they supposed it had been as a compliment for municipal favors, or some friend had sent and paid for it.

HANDSOME REQUESTS.

Many Contributions to the Methodist Superannuation Funds.

The Methodist body is again in luck. The Rev. John Hughes, who died at Colborne on Dec. 1 in his 90th year, bequeathed $1,500 to his former church. Of this sum $1,000 is to be devoted to superannuation purposes, the remainder going to the mission fund.

Mr. Hutchinson, of Chinguacousy Township, who died recently, left $1,000 to be divided equally between the superannuation and mission fund.

The Wesley Camp Ground Committee of Niagara Falls, have wound up their affairs and made a donation of about $3,000 to the superannuation fund.

McDONOUGH'S STORY.

He Says He Borrowed the Picture Frame and Left it For Security in Millbrook.

Constable Adams returned from Newmarket last night with John McDonough, who was arrested there on a charge of theft. McDonough is charged with stealing a picture frame and a watch. He told a Times' representative last night that he had borrowed the picture frame and was carrying it in Millbrook when he ran short of money. He said some people told him in Port Hope and he left the frame as security for the balance due on his board and went to Port Hope to collect it, intending to send for it as soon as he got the money. He failed to collect his collections in Port Hope, and went to Newmarket where he says his parents live.

He denied using the alias and says his name is McDonough. When asked about the overcoat he had nothing to say. He says he has sent for the frame and expects it today. McDonough will be tried this morning.

A LITTLE GAME OF DRAW.

It Cost a Well Known Sport Nearly One Thousand Dollars.

A well known citizen on the line of the Grand Junction railway came to Peterborough a few days ago in search of a little sport. He was fairly itching for a nice little game of draw poker and as soon as he had eaten supper at the hotel and got a few "twenties" changed into "ones" and "twos" he started out to find some of the boys. He had no trouble in finding two local men who were agreeable, and the three adjourned to an out of the way room to flirt with the pasteboards.

The well known citizen was looking for sport. He got it. It is not known what the limit was, but the game lasted away into the night. The eastern sport had started out with $70 in his clothes but this only lasted an hour or so and his companions agreed to accept his cheques for his further losses.

The game went on and when the last pot had been raked in, he counted up his losses and found that he owed one of his companions $400 and the other $250. He wrote them out cheques for this amount and the game came to an end.

It may here be stated that although the local sports who held the cheques knew that the amount of the cheques, they lost no time in getting around to the bank in the morning, and with bated breaths presented them. Both cheques were honored and the money was handed over and pocketed.

It must have been an extraordinary game. The eastern sport who lost so heavily, afterwards confided to friends that he had lost "pots" twice when he held four aces, and any number of times when he held "full houses."

No one will be sorry for the eastern sport because he invited the others to play, still it will be a consolation to know that he is well able to lose the money. It will be a lesson to him, however, and to others to let all games of chance severely alone.

THE NIL ON THE HEAD.

The Toronto Evening Telegram comments editorially on the action of certain Orangemen of this county, as follows: "These Peterborough Orangemen who proudly announce themselves as followers of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, make of him a pope and of themselves papists."

The word papist is not used offensively to Roman Catholics in fact it is not applied to Roman Catholics at all. There are pope worshippers outside the communion of Rome, and their pope is a good deal different from the Sovereign Pontiff of the Seven Hills.

Everybody who follows a man instead of principle is a papist in the worst sense. The exact term for the base of those Peterborough partisans is that in adhering to Sir Mackenzie Bowell they are not worshipping a man, but worshipping the offices which they hope the man will give them.

C. W. Sawers writes the following letter to an evening paper, denying the statement made that the meeting organized by the Orangemen was not a representative gathering. In view of this denial the comments of the Telegram apply with double force:

Sir,—In your issue of this evening appears a letter over the names of Edward Kemp and H. S. Armstrong and also a long editorial of your own commenting thereon and even going so far as to lecture Orangemen upon the nature and sacredness of their obligations.

As for Messrs. Kemp and Armstrong they have allowed themselves to be made use of by a certain Liberal Orangeman, whose well known hand appears in every line of their communication. Before replying to the said communication let me say a word or two in explanation of our meeting last Thursday. It was called off as early as last Monday, Capt. Miller and myself having charge of the arrangements. The writer attended the meeting of L.O.L. No. 321 on Tuesday and its close spoke of the matter to many of the members, who expressed approval. Whenever he met a "Conservative" Orangeman he told him of the expected meeting, as did Capt. Miller. We could not make a public announcement, because elections, like horse races, are uncertain. And as it was not, nor was it understood, that a meeting of the kind would be held, the friends of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, we, of course, did not wish to insult either Mr. Kemp or Mr. Armstrong, who are known to be Liberals, by inviting them. The resolution mentioned no lodge, but expressly says "That this meeting composed of Orangemen of the County of Peterborough, etc." These men, sir, are members of the County of Peterborough, only one of whom is now an active member. The writer was referred to as a fifth.

Mr. Editor the slight of the party who applied his eye to the key hole either failed him or he did not get the right focus, otherwise he would have reported that the room was crowded; and if the cold night air had not chilled his hearing he would have heard that it was a most harmonious, enthusiastic and largely attended gathering, and he would also have reported that the writer took no part in the proceedings whatever, that eloquent addresses were delivered by Dr. Clarke, Col. Poole, Capt. Miller, Mr. Joseph Batten, Mr. J. Graham, Mr. Wm. as, Capt. Mr. A. V. Welch, and other prominent Orangemen in the County. Dr. Clarke, the chairman, is a Past Master and a member of L.O.L. No. 80; Col. Poole (the mover of the resolution) is not only an active member, but he is a member as well of the Supreme Grand Lodge of British America and an honorary member of No. 321. Moreover he was County Master for three years. Captain Miller (the Secretary of the meeting) is not only a member of No. 80, but also one of the past officers. The Joseph Batten, who is seconding the resolution made a rousing speech, saying that it was just what should be done, and that as Deputy County Master was proud to be present to do honor to Bro. Bowell, and that he had great pleasure in seconding the resolution, is an active member of 321. As to the largeness of the gathering, let me say that I attended, the meeting of the County and District Lodges this year, and also those for election of officers of Nos. 80 and 321, and of the Black Preceptory, and I have no hesitation in stating that our count of last Thursday evening was larger and more representative than any one of the others and that there were more in attendance than there were members present at the assemblies of both 80 and 321 together, or of 80 and the Black Preceptory together. There were present officers of the several Primary Lodges and of the Black Preceptory, the Past County Masters, the present Deputy County Master, and at least twenty five members of the District and County Lodges, besides a large number of rank and file. Should not they, I ask, be considered as a representative and largely attended meeting? And as for assembling in my office, is it not true, Mr. Editor, that in a rally of the great Reform party in West Peterborough is called, the meeting place is invariably the law offices of Messrs. Stratton & Hall?

The writers of the communication, who call themselves my brethren, go on to say that I have created great discord in the Order. Mr. Editor, facts are stubborn things. A vote by special request the new hall of No. 321 was dedicated by me. Last May, by special invitation, I dedicated the hall of No. 419. This last November the writer was the only Orangeman of the county invited to speak at the Guy Fawkes demonstration of No. 321. During the present month the members of No. 80, and of the Black Preceptory, did me the honor to unanimously elect me to a responsible office in each lodge. Is the above not sufficient evidence of the rank and standing as an Orangeman in this community.

Yours truly,

Labrador Reindeer.

The deer visit the seashore regularly in the months of April, July and October, and during these migrations the Esquimaux often shoot them for the mere love of killing, allowing the carcasses to rot where they fall, without preserving even the hides. There is an Esquimaux at Nain who boasts of having killed 150 deer in one day's shooting. The deer are to the Indians what the seals are to the Esquimaux, almost an indispensable necessity. They value them accordingly and are never guilty of such excesses in the chase. The skins both bones and cloth them. The Esquimaux never better than any other possible substitute for thread. The spreading antlers, with their broad brow branches, ingeniously carved and fashioned, supply a variety of useful implements and their flesh is their staple and never failing food. —Outing for November.

Dr. Bell thanked the deputation and said he would like time to consider the matter before he signified his willingness to become a candidate. In the meantime a requisition is being circulated and will be presented to Dr. Bell.

Dr. Bell was interviewed last night as regards his intentions. He said he had not yet decided. His acceptance would depend upon circumstances, but what the circumstances were, he did not state.

THE TOWN AND THE C.P.R.

THE WHOLE TRANSACTION OPENED UP FOR THE JUDGEMENT OF RATEPAYERS.

Has the Town Kept Faith With the Canadian Pacific Railway—All of the Correspondence Leading Up to the Agreement.

Editor Morning Times.

DEAR SIR:—Your readers will remember that in order to induce the Edison Company to locate their works in your town, it was necessary to provide that company with independent railway facilities from the lines of both the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific by means of independent sidings, leading from the main lines of these railways to the Edison Works. The Canadian Pacific having constructed such a siding, it was found that an independent siding from the Grand Trunk could not be laid into the Edison Works without interference with, or the use of part of the Canadian Pacific siding.

Mr. Stevenson, the then mayor, accordingly took the matter up with Mr. Tait, General Superintendent of the Canadian Pacific, at Toronto, and the following correspondence ensued:

Under date 7th January, 1891, Mr. Stevenson wrote to Mr. Tait as follows:

Thomas Tait, Esq., Superintendent C. P. R., Toronto.

My DEAR SIR:—I regret that I have been unable to send you a plan of the intended siding sooner, but unfortunately the Edison Company have signified a very decided desire to have the siding from the G. T. R. railway to their works on the line shown you, by which the town is to purchase a right of way and have a junction with the line you put in, and having branches into the company's works. The town has decided it must comply, and we are obtaining options for purchase of the right of way, and having plans prepared. I would like you to let me know what the cost is of laying down the line you put in, that we may pay your company for it and take a transfer to the town.

I need not say that I regret exceedingly the arrangement thus proposed, but your company cannot be carried out, but as you know, that it was not any fault of the town that it was not had to be changed, but as above shown, we wish to put the matter as favorably as we can for your company. Kindly let me hear from you early, as we wish to close a matter with the Edison Company that has given the town a great deal of trouble and anxiety.

Of course your company will be provided with proper facilities to the Edison Company's works. I am, my dear sir, Yours very truly, J. STEVENSON.

To which the following reply was made by Mr. Tait:

TORONTO, January 10th, 1891.

James Stevenson, Esq., Mayor, Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR:—I duly received your letter of January 7th, but delayed my reply waiting an accurate statement of the siding we built to the Edison Company's property. I have not even yet obtained this. My understanding of the arrangement you now propose is that the town of Peterborough should take over from this Company this siding built from its transfer track to the Edison Company's property, paying this company the entire cost of the same and maintaining it hereafter, giving this company the right to run its engines and cars over this track. I think I am safe in saying there will be no difficulty in carrying out this arrangement. We wish in every way to get the town of Peterborough out of the unfortunate position it is in in regard to connecting the Edison Company's works with the Grand Trunk and our own line, and we feel disposed to agree to the arrangement above outlined. At the same time we feel that if we do so we should receive some consideration from the town of Peterborough in one of two matters that are outstanding. I refer to the closing of Wolfe and Water streets across our tracks and property. We would like to have the charge of $200 a year which we are also understood that the town is to give this company deeds for any land owned by the town or held by the town commissioners which the company can occupy. Kindly let me know how you arrange this. It must be thoroughly understood that the Edison Electric Light Company are to give this company the same rights and rights as the same terms over the sidings owned or controlled by them as they may give to the Grand Trunk or any other railway company. We would like the Edison Company to be a partner in the agreement between the town of Peterborough and the railway companies, which I presume you will have drawn up for execution, and a clause to this effect inserted in that agreement.

Yours truly,
THOMAS TAIT,
Gen. Superintendent.

Mr. Stevenson then wrote to Mr. Tait on the 22nd of January, 1891, with regard to the charge of $200 a year which was being paid for the handling of Grand Trunk cars on the siding of the Canadian Pacific, asking for a reduction in this charge to which Mr. Tait replied on the 24th of January, 1891, declining to do so, and proceeds:

"If the town will officially close up Wolfe street and Water street across our property, deed this company half of lot No. 11 at the corner of Stewart and Rink streets on which our stock yard stands, pay the entire cost of the siding we built from our transfer track to the Edison Company's property and agree to maintain it and give this company the right to run its engines and cars over it for all time free of charge whatever, and further have an agreement drawn up between the Edison Company, the town and this company, under which this company shall have the same rights on the sidings owned and controlled by the Edison Company as that afforded to any other railway company an arrangement might then be made which the Grand Trunk should be able to shut its own cars to and from the Edison Company's sidings, pending the completion of direct connection from the Grand Trunk tracks."

Yours truly,
THOMAS TAIT,
Gen. Superintendent.

Subsequently Mr. Tait was interviewed by a delegation from the town, and the conditions in Mr. Tait's letter of the 24th January last quoted, were modified to the extent mentioned in Mr. Tait's letter of February 13th, 1891, to Mr. Stevenson, which is as follows:

February 13th, 1891.

Mr. James Stevenson, Esq., Mayor, Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR:—After an interview with your delegation from Peterborough on the morning of January 24th as follows: That we will not insist on the closing of Wolfe and Water streets across our property and that we will not insist on the closing of the Town of Peterborough will confirm the location of our freight shed and stand pipe as they now stand on Wolfe street and give us a perpetual lease of so much of the street as they occupy. We will have no objection to a small portion of our property near the upper end of the transfer track being used for the Grand Trunk siding, and we will leave it to the town at a nominal rental. We will agree to maintain the siding from our line into the Edison Company's works up to its junction with that portion of the siding owned by the town.

Yours very truly,
THOMAS TAIT,
General Superintendent.

To which Mr. Stevenson signified his assent on the 7th of February, 1891, as follows:

Peterborough, Ont., Feb. 7th, 1891.

RE: EDISON COMPANY SIDING.

THOMAS TAIT, Esq., General Superintendent C.P.R., Toronto, Ont.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 5th inst. received and I am glad to hear the matter is settled, although at considerable expense to the town which I had hoped could have been avoided.

I am pleased at once to acquire the right of way for the Grand Trunk siding and will send you a plan of the same. Will you, in the meantime, let me know the exact cost of the siding put in by your company and also notify your agent here to allow the Grand Trunk to use the siding and your transfer track in order to serve the Edison Company until the Grand Trunk siding can be built, as offered by your letter of the 24th January last.

Yours truly,
JAMES STEVENSON,
Mayor.

To which Mr. Tait replied on the 2nd of March:

James Stevenson, Esq., Mayor, Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR:—Referring to your letter of the 7th ultimo, I enclose you herewith a statement showing the cost of the siding built to the Edison Company's property from our transfer track at Peterborough, amounting to $14,693.81.

Will you please send me a certified copy of the resolution of your council agreeing to the arrangement conveyed by my letters to you of Jan. 20th and Feb. 6th.

I would like as soon as possible to get a deed of the half of lot 11 at the corner of Stewart and Rink streets and the portion of the town's land is required at the upper end of our transfer track in order to build the siding from the Grand Trunk I will arrange for a lease of it at a nominal rental in favor of the town.

I think that the agreement which I referred to in my letters of Jan. 20th under which this company will be guaranteed the same rights on the sidings owned and controlled by either the town or the Edison Company as that afforded to any other railway should be drawn up and executed as soon as possible.

If you will let me know how much of our land is required at the upper end of our transfer track in order to build the siding from the Grand Trunk I will arrange for a lease of it at a nominal rental in favor of the town.

Yours truly,
THOMAS TAIT,
General Superintendent.

The town council, then on the 6th of April, 1891, passed bylaw No. 641 to author-the mayor and clerk to execute a lease for ninety-nine years at a nominal rental to the company of that part of Wolfe street now occupied by the freight shed of the company and the second clause of this bylaw it was provided that the bylaw should not come into force until after the company shall have filed with the clerk a bond indemnifying the corporation against all suits and costs of whatever kind by reason of the passage of this bylaw.

At the same meeting the following resolution was passed:

"That this council request the commissioners of Peterborough Town Trust to convey for a nominal consideration to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company the north half of lot number eleven, south of Rink street and west of Wolfe street, in order to carry out the arrangement come to between the town and the railway company as to the Edison Company's siding."

On the 12th of April, 1891, the cheque for $14,693.81, the cost of this siding, was forwarded by the town clerk to Mr. Tait with the following letter:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR, PETERBOROUGH, April 12th, 1891.

THOMAS TAIT, Esq., C.P.R., Toronto.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your cheque for $14,693.81 being in full of your cost in putting in siding to the grounds of the Edison Company of the Town of Peterborough. The agreement between the G.T.R. and the Edison Company covering the points mentioned in your correspondence, I remain,

Yours very truly,
JAS. A. McDONALD, Town Clerk.

Mr. Tait then on the 15th of April, wrote to Mr. Stevenson, as follows:

Jas. Stevenson, Esq., Mayor, Peterborough.

DEAR SIR:—I have received from Mr. J. A. McDonald, town clerk of Peterborough, a cheque for $14,693.81, the cost of the siding put in from our transfer track to the Edison Company's property, as per my letter to you of March 2nd.

I have also received from him a copy of the bylaw No. 641 passed by your town council, and of a resolution approving the same. This bylaw is not quite satisfactory, as it does not confirm the location of our stand pipe on the line of Wolfe street, which you will remember it was understood should be arranged. It is also unsatisfactory in that it does not give the coming into force is that we shall give the corporation a bond of indemnity from damages of whatever kind by reason of their passing it.

This is entirely outside of the understanding; and this company cannot give any such bond.

Mr. McDonald has also sent me a copy of the resolution of the council requesting the Commissioners of the Town Trust to convey to this company for a nominal consideration, the north half of lot No. 11 at the corner of Stewart and Rink streets. Of course this is satisfactory as far as it goes. But we cannot consider the matter closed until we receive a deed from the Town Trust to give us a deed at an early date.

Until the above matters are arranged satisfactorily I will not give the cheque sent me, and if you prefer to return it to you.

THOMAS TAIT, General Supp.

To which Mr. Stevenson replied on the 23rd of April, 1891, as follows:

THOMAS TAIT, Esq., Superintendent, C.P.R., Toronto.

DEAR SIR:—Enclosed please find plan of G.T.R. siding into the Edison Works in reply to Mr. Moore's telegram.

The Town Trust Commissioners meet tomorrow (Friday) at 4 o'clock, when they will consider the plan of the siding. We also change the wording of the bylaw in accordance with your wishes.

Yours very truly,
JAMES STEVENSON.

Kindly return the enclosed to Mr. Stevenson.

Mr. Tait then on the 5th of May, 1891, wrote Mr. Stevenson, insisting upon the arrangement already made being carried out in its entirety. The portion of his letter dealing with this matter being as follows:

I understand your Council has had a meeting during the last few days. I am waiting to hear the result of the meeting, and to see if the siding built from our line to the Edison Company's Works, and agree to obtain from the Edison Company an undertaking to give us at all times the same rights on the sidings and their property as any other railway company.

I trust you will see that these matters are attended to as soon as possible, so that this vexatious matter may be disposed of at once and for all.

Yours truly,
THOMAS TAIT,
General Superintendent.

To which Mr. Stevenson replied on the 9th of May, 1891, as follows:

T. Tait, Esq., Toronto.

My DEAR TAIT:—I have just returned from Ottawa and find that the Council has under my name, been in correspondence with you this week.

Though the letters were written and signed in my absence I hope that they have been of a satisfactory nature to you.

There has been no Council meeting for some time, but the first meeting I shall endeavor to have our arrangement carried out.

Yours truly,
JAMES STEVENSON.

Mr. Tait then wrote the following letters without receiving any reply:

TORONTO, May 29th, 1891.

Jas. Stevenson, Esq., Mayor, Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR:—Will you kindly see that the arrangement between the town of Peterborough and this company in connection with the settlement of the difficulty in regard to the siding to the Edison Company's Works is completed?

We are yet to receive a certified copy of the bylaw or resolution in regard to the occupation of Wolfe street by our freight shed and stand pipe; also a deed for the north half of lot 11, on which our stock yards stand, and the undertaking from the town and the Edison Company to give us at all times the same rights and privilege on the sidings into and on the Edison Company's property as any other railway company.

I think you must be, as I am, sick of this subject, and tired of the endless correspondence which has taken place about it, and I trust, therefore, you will do what you can, to get rid of it.

Yours truly,
THOMAS TAIT,
General Superintendent.

TORONTO, October 3rd, 1891.

James Stevenson, Esq., Mayor, Peterborough, Ont.

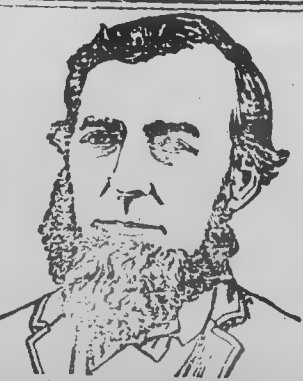

DEAR SIR:—I wrote you on May 29th asking you to see to it that the town of Peterborough carried out the arrangement made with the siding for the Edison Company's works. Will you please carry out the promise made by its representatives in this matter.

Yours very truly,
THOMAS TAIT,
General Superintendent.

I leave your readers to judge whether the recent action of your council in instructing their solicitor to enter a suit to compel this company to remove the small portion of their freight shed off Wolfe street is justified, and also whether the representatives of the town of Peterborough have in this matter acted in good faith.

Yours truly,
J. W. LEONARD,
General Superintendent C. P. R.

TORONTO, December 19th, 1894.

SUITABLE PRESENTS

Everybody knows the one great store which collects the largest quantities of new things for the Holiday season, and nobody ever stays away because we sell so much. The stocks, the service and the prices tell in our favor now more than ever before, and nothing can stop the surging crowd of shoppers. The store's advantages were never more apparent, and the immense trade of Holiday time is handled with perfect ease and absolute satisfaction.

You're puzzled to know what to give. This list may give the hint. At any rate it suggests the immense range of goods here to choose from:

NEW ERA IN LAW.

Reform in Procedure to go into Effect on Jan. 1.

The first of January will see in force a change in the law procedure in Ontario, which will have a tendency to greatly expedite the settlement of appealed cases. Heretofore, the Divisional Court, consisting of three judges, the last step before reaching the Court of Appeal, sat only once during each term, or three times a year. Now there will be a sitting every month, except during the long vacation, and beginning the first Monday of each month.

Heretofore, if a case were going on in a lower court during the sitting of the Divisional Court, if appealed, it would stand sometimes for months and when brought up had to be heard by the Divisional Court in the divisions in which it was first entered.

But that, too, is changed. The Divisional Court of the future will not, as now, be composed of judges of any one division, but any three of the ten High Court judges and cases shall then come before this court irrespective of what divisions they may have been entered.

Another change that is spoken of is that in the past an appeal from the County Court could only be heard by the Court of Appeal, but heretofore it is intended that the Divisional Court shall hear it and the decision in this case will be final.

And the abandonment of printed books of pleadings in the Court of Appeal and the adoption of typewritten pleadings, as in other courts, will somewhat reduce the cost of the law suits in the future.

At the present time, it is necessary to give $100 security for costs in appeals from the Divisional Court to the Court of Appeal, but it is not improbable that this too, will be abolished.

This act was passed at the last session of the Legislature, but was suspended indefinitely. Last Saturday Sir Oliver Mowat had a conference with the High Court judges, and it was decided to introduce the measure of reform at the beginning of the next year.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES.

Items of Interest Intelligently Presented for Busy Readers.

The grand lodge of the Sons of England meet in Peterborough in March next.

Lord Dunsen has cabled the New York News Bureau as follows: "In the event of a war between England and the United States, I sincerely trust that British war ships will not be interfered with by excursion boats."

On Wednesday night of last week the safe in the store of Gillards & Roberts, Grafton, was blown open by robbers. They got nothing for their trouble, missing all the cash in the safe, $12, which was in a bundle of business papers.

Some one is authority for saying that the winter will be a changeable one, as sportsmen have come across more squirrels this fall than they have seen for many years in the same season. Squirrels are still sporting about and if the winter is going to be severe, they get into their houses early in the fall.

An exchange says that "laying on of hands" for complaints, especially in children, is now taking the place of Christian science. A mother cured her boy of the cigarette habit with one dose. She laid her left hand on the boy's neck, her right hand on a substantial slipper and then laid the slipper where it would do the most good.

THAT ORANGE RESOLUTION.

(From the Evening Star.)
Last week I ridiculed a report from Peterborough that the Orangemen of that district had held a largely attended meeting and pledged their support to Sir Mackenzie Bowell. Yesterday's Mail and Empire contained a protest from those who had been maligned by the press despatch, and it was shown that there were only four people present at the meeting and that they were of the most obscure, unofficial and unimportant sort.

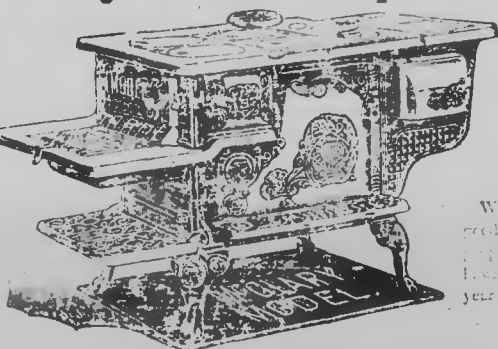

(From the Evening News.)
The five Peterborough men who, as an Orange lodge, passed a resolution approving Sir Mackenzie Bowell's course on the school question, were looking for a job from the Government, but they only got the contempt of their fellows.

DOES ITS WORK IN SIX HOURS.

A Medicine that will Relieve Distressing Kidney and Bladder Diseases in Six Hours Deserves Your Attention.

Those who suffer from kidney troubles suffer acutely. Where some kinds of sickness can be borne with fortitude, it is no easy matter to exercise this virtue when one is a sufferer from kidney troubles. Hope may sustain a person when medicine is being used that doctors say will eventually effect a cure. But who wants to continue an agonizing course of treatment when a medicine like South American Kidney Cure is within the reach of every one and that is so speedy as well as certain in its effects? This new remedy has been thoroughly tested by learned physicians, and stands today ahead of any medicine used for this purpose. It does not pretend to cure anything else, but it does cure kidney disease. Sold by H. S. McDonald.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

Dropped Dead.

Mrs. Robert Gordon, of Tweed, dropped dead on the street there last evening. She was the wife of the manager of the banking house of Murphy, Gordon & Co. there.

Acknowledged with Thanks.

The committee of the P. P. Home acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the sum of $23.04, being their share of the collection at the Union Service on Thanksgiving day in the George street Methodist church. This should have been acknowledged at the time but was overlooked.

Strayed Sheep.

Strayed into the premises of the undersigned, lot 4 in the 4th concession of Smith, on or about the 5th of November, 1895, a yearling ram. The owner is requested to prove property, pay expenses and take it away.

Endeavourers at Port Hope.

The local churches are represented at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Association of B. Y. P. U. of C. E. at Port Hope as follows:—Murray street—Rev. J. E. Trotter, Mr. E. A. Stanley, Mr. Louis Croly, Miss Mary Stratton, Miss Croly and Miss Perry. Park street—Mr. A. L. Grover, Mr. Plummer, Miss Hunt, Mr. Geo. Benton, Miss Pilling and Miss M. E. Mann.

A Kindly Remembrance.

Tuesday the aged and infirm inmates of the Protestant Home were cheered and brightened by the kind thoughtfulness of the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the George street Methodist church, who repaired to the Home and rendered a short program of vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitations, etc. Refreshments were also taken to the Home by the Society.

The Fortnightly Club.

There was a good attendance at the fortnightly club meeting in J. C. McCallum's parlour, Tuesday evening. The paper of the evening was read by Mr. A. C. McCallum on the subject of "Mechanical Abundances," and the author displayed a thorough knowledge of the principles under discussion. The discussion which followed was interesting and was participated in by quite a number of the members present.

Another Post Office Burned.

Tuesday morning at Codrington, 10 miles north of Brighton, fire totally destroyed John A. Robinson's general store. The post office and Wade's telephone office were in the same building. The loss of insurance on stock $800, on building and on building and contents $900, in the British American. Cause of fire unknown. This makes the third post office inside a year that has been destroyed by fire on this route between Brighton and Campbellford.

Deaks and Bookcases.

At Clegg's. A large assortment of secretaries and bookcases. A splendid line of hall racks, no end of the furniture, the largest line of bedroom furniture we ever offered. See our pictures—cheaper than ever. The balance of our stock of window shades will be cleared out at cost. All the cheaper lines always in stock. Bedsteads, $2, good chairs, 30c, Spring mattresses, pillows, etc. A. Clegg, 472 George street.

See the beautiful display of Dolls at the Times Bookstore.

Praise for Rev. W. R. Young.

Rev. W. R. Young, the popular pastor of the George street church, recently made a very favorable impression upon the congregation of Metropolitan church, Toronto, on Sunday. A gentleman who is in touch with the members of that church, received a letter from one of them yesterday in which he is complimented in having such an able and eloquent pastor. The writer goes on to state that both of Rev. Mr. Young's sermons evoked the most flattering comments from the congregation of the Metropolitan church.

Arrested for Theft.

John James Carson, alias Peacock, alias Fletcher, alias McDonough, was arrested at Newmarket yesterday on a charge of taking and carrying away a picture, frame and overcoat, the property of Mrs. Margaret McBurney and Wm. Duncan. The alleged theft was committed in September. Carson was a photographer, pedlar and while in town boarded at Mrs. McBurney's, corner of Sheridan and Hunter streets. On his disappearance the articles were missed and the Chief of Police was informed and as a result Chief Somerville, of Newmarket, captured the man yesterday. He will be brought to Peterborough to stand his trial.

His Feet Frozen.

Frank Johnson, of LaPeer, Mich., had his feet badly frozen while at work at the Howry camp, about 40 miles north of Penelon Falls, and passed through here on his way home. It appears that he was unable to get his feet wet and asked the foreman to allow him to return to the camp to put on dry footwear. He was refused and was compelled to finish the day's work in that condition. At night when he returned to the camp he discovered that his feet were frozen. However, he kept on working for three days but at last he had to quit. The physician who attended him says that it might be necessary to amputate one of the feet, but the patient would not consent and left town yesterday afternoon.

Dangerous.

We often see this sign on roads or streets. Any kidney ailment is dangerous. Please you never know where it will end. Suppose you feel languid, suppose you have several symptoms, there must be poison in the blood for these are the certain signs. To the fact that poisons get past the kidneys, may be traced every sickness to which you are liable.

Treat the kidneys forthwith and first of all. It is the safe and proper thing every time. Therefore do it promptly and well. We are trying to teach people to turn to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as the simplest and most effective treatment of kidney diseases on earth.

Can't you see the point? Every serious disease results from the kidneys being out of order. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills keeps on curing these diseases.

PRESBYTERY IN SESSION.

Much Business of Importance Transacted.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PRESBYTERY OF THE PETERBOROUGH DISTRICT was held yesterday at 9 a.m. The following ministers and elders were present: Rev. Mr. Chaffin, Port Hope; Rev. Mr. Andrews, Keene; Rev. Mr. Bennett, clerk of the presbytery, Peterborough; Rev. Dr. Torrance, Peterborough; Rev. Mr. Thompson, Hastings; Rev. John Hay, Cobourg; Rev. Richard Hay, Warsaw; Rev. C. S. William Johnston, Millbrook; Rev. A. C. Reeves, Lakefield; Rev. J. F. Somerville, Norwood; Rev. D. M. Jamison, Hawwood; Rev. J. W. Tanner, Omemee; Rev. R. Laird, Campbellford.

Riders—Mr. A. Fairburn, Lakefield; Mr. G. Stewart, Peterborough; Mr. W. H. Elldred, Cobourg; Mr. Robert Tully, Peterborough; Mr. T. Thompson, Keene; Mr. J. Clarke, Campbellford; Mr. P. W. Chase, Hawwood; Mr. W. Mattison, Havelock; Mr. E. M. Sanderson, Springfield; Mr. W. H. Hozburgh; Mr. J. Larmer, Millbrook; and Mr. J. Rutherford, Mount Pleasant.

Several reports were presented on the state of the churches within the bounds of the presbytery, after which the session adjourned for luncheon.

Immediately after the resume of the session the call from Springfield to Rev. Mr. Logie was set aside owing to that gentleman having a call elsewhere. The congregation was therefore granted leave to moderate in another call when the people are prepared.

Bobcaygeon was also granted leave to moderate a call when prepared and to find its own pulpits for six weeks. An arrangement was decided upon for the visitation of augmented congregations.

The following exchange of pulpits will take place this term: Rev. Dr. Torrance will visit Springfield and Bethany; Rev. A. McWilliams, Janville, Ballyduff and Pontypool; Rev. J. F. Somerville, Havelock; Rev. Mr. Reeves, Warsaw; Rev. Mr. Jamison, Bobcaygeon.

The next meeting of the Presbytery was appointed to be held at Port Hope on the third Tuesday of March, 1896, at 9.30 a.m.

The Curling Club Making Preparations For the Event.

The bonspiel committee met Monday and drafted the following letter which will be sent out to the clubs in the province: The Peterborough curling clubs purpose holding a grand bonspiel on Tuesday, Jan. 1. We would be pleased to have your club represented and we think we can safely promise to make it pleasant for you should you decide to come.

We purpose to have a single rink competition, open to not more than four rinks from any club, for four pairs of curling stones for the best rink and four single stones (curling stone patterns) for the last competing rink.

The stones presented in this competition are from the Andrew McKay Curling Stone Manufacturing, Peterborough, which is a guarantee of their quality, two pairs being presented by the makers and two pairs by the Peterborough curling clubs. The four single stones are very finely presented by Mr. J. S. Russell, secretary of the Ontario Curling Association and are valued at $20.00. Entrance, $2.00.

A PRESENTATION.

Miss Florence White Retires From the W.A. Secretaryship.

Miss Florence White, who for a number of years has been the able secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's South Ward Mission, has resigned that position and will remove to Winnipeg next month. Last night a large number of friends met at St. John's Mission and presented Miss White with a beautiful silver fern holder and an address. Miss Chamberlain presented the fern holder and Rev. Carl Smith read the address which was as follows:

Dear Miss Florence White: We the members of St. John's South Ward branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, desire to express to you the deep regret we feel at your withdrawal and eventually your departure from our midst. The untiring zeal you have always shown as secretary of our society has been thoroughly appreciated and we feel sure our loss will be another's gain. With congratulations and best wishes for your future welfare we ask you to accept this silver fern holder as a token of our esteem. Presented by Miss Chamberlain. (Signed on behalf of the South Ward Woman's Auxiliary.)

Miss White was taken very much by surprise and made a pleasing reply. After the presentation refreshments were served and a pleasant social evening was spent.

THE ARABS ARE HERE.

A Filthy and Vicious Aggregation in Camp Near Town.

A number of filthy and vicious looking Arabs resorted to town on Saturday night and went into camp near the waterworks dam on the east side of the river. They came in covered wagons, and consisted of men and women and about twenty children ranging in ages from 5 to 16 years.

A more filthy looking aggregation never struck this town. They were dressed in filthy rags and were covered from head to foot with dirt and grease. The children were chewing tobacco and smoking cigarettes and cigars, and the women smoked and drank and used an unintelligible jargon among themselves, but they displayed a knowledge of English by begging tobacco and money from the group of boys and women who went out to satisfy their curiosity. The begging was also extended to the houses in the immediate vicinity of the camp.

Filthy aggregation are four bears and several dogs. The dogs and bears are made to fight and wrestle for and for this performance a collection is taken up. The women are notified them to leave the town at once.

NEW SNOW PLOW.

The question of purchasing a new snow plow for the present season arose and Councillor Smith suggested that the council purchase a steel one, a model of which he submitted to the council for their approval. While the advantages of the steel plow over the old one is obvious in use, we readily recognized the council thought it better to procure one of wood and steel as of old, which could be made in the village. A resolution to this effect was then passed.

The Supply of Teachers is More Than Sufficient Says the Board.

The County Board of Examiners composed of J. C. Cole, Brown, J. Davidson, A. Wherry and W. A. Evans, J. C. Brown, P. S. L. and the chair, held a meeting at Norwood on the 11th instant at which the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

That no extensions or renewals be given, as the supply of teachers is sufficient and more than sufficient to fill all the schools.

That Miss Emma Lewis and Mr. R. G. Johnston be granted their certificates when they obtain their legal non-professional standing, and that Mr. E. Gallagher be given his certificate when he obtains the age of eighteen.

That hereafter no candidate be admitted to the Peterborough County Model School who has not the necessary legal qualifications as a schoolmaster and age.

A Baby in a Bag.

One of the Arab women connected with the camp of Arabs on the east side of the river, was brought from house to house in Ashburnham yesterday. She led a small child by the hand, and in a grain bag on her back, carried an infant baby, as one might carry a bushel of grain.

TRY A BIT OF THIS.

It is interesting and, moreover, it is New and, Perhaps True.

In man's hand it was lighted, that it, in turn, might light the gas that was made by man and flowed from three gas jets at the will of man, who signified his wish by turning the keys that held the gas in check. The match was touched to the first jet and the gas flame flared up. And as it flared the match went out. Man touched to the second jet and once more the match flared, kindled by the flame which it, by its own flame, had created. And thus kindled the match transformed the outpour of gas from the outlet jets into flames like unto the first. And then it consumed itself entirely. And man, having no further use for it threw it away.

It is a fifth man as with the parlor match. Man, made by God, in God's hands gives forth his energies and strength to render available to the greatest degree another man, also made by God. And the other man does he never surpass the man who aided him? And does the man who aided him never go to the other man to give him of his plenty the very thing the other man lacked until the man gave it to him, and in the giving lost it himself? And does the other man gladly give to the man that which he wishes? And does the man, taking the which he lost in giving to the other man, and which the other man gave again to him again give to other men who are as the other man was before the man gave him? And after the man has given to all whom God intended he should give, does he not burn himself out? But after he is burned out, has not God some use for him even then? If not, does God ever cast him aside, because he has burned himself out in supplying light to his fellowmen?

It was a cigar. It was made of fine tobacco by skilled hands. It was rich in color and graceful in form. The fine quality of its bone and sinew stood forth clear and remarkable through the wrapper. It was bought by a lover of tobacco, who gladly paid the price asked that he might enjoy it. It was lighted. Its smoker puffed at it. The smoke curled and wreathed. Ashes appeared. The cigar gradually whitened, slowly losing its nucleus. Yet the smoker enjoyed not to the extent of his anticipation. He pondered and ceased to puff. The fire of his cigar died low. The smoker forced through the cigar air which in turn drove out the smoke nestling in the cigar. The fire then died out and the smoker was left with a satisfied smile.

It is so with man! Man, like the cigar, is of fine material, moulded by wondrous hands. He is superb. His fettle and his mettle shine unmistakable. He is turned over to life. The fire of endeavor consumes him, producing the ashes of expended energy, and the disappearing smoke of emotion. Life enjoys man but not to the extent of his expectations. Life ponders. Man's fire of endeavor, but the cigar dies out. The smoke of emotion is forced from him. Feeling dies out within him. Then life starts him again. Man burns anew. Life is content. Man changed by life, is satisfactory to his lord. But he is not the man who was first forced to endeavor. He is feeble just as the cigar is no longer mild and gentle in its first flavor. But the smoker liked the cigar the better for the change. Does life like feeling, or can one who feels, like life?

RUGBY UNION RULES.

What the Delegates Did at Conclave, in Toronto.

Representative football men from all parts of the Province were present at the annual meeting of the Ontario Rugby Union in Toronto.

Many amendments were made to the rules but none of a very radical nature. Hereafter players on a college or university team, must be bona fide undergraduates at least one year's standing, while those on a town team must live in the town or city or within seven miles of it. Junior players will be looked after more carefully and only those who have registered with the secretary of the union, will not, however, have to furnish birth certificates.

The playing rules will not be changed, but an effort will be made to bring the style of play in Quebec and Ontario more into conformity with something which will make the inter-provincial matches more interesting. These officers were elected at the meeting:

President—Mr. W. A. Logie (Hamilton).
First Vice-President—Mr. Walter Dick (Toronto).
Second Vice-President—Mr. A. B. Ford (Queens).
Secretary—Mr. J. M. Mowat (Oshawa).
Committee—Messrs. D. B. Barry (Hamilton), W. D. Campbell (Trinity), Percy Eby (Lorne), Ross (Queens), Barr (Varsity), Bain (Osgoode), Oiler (R.M.C.).

BYRDON WEESE CONVICTED.

The Magistrate Gives Him 40 Days For Pick Pocketing.

"He does nothing but walk about our store looking for pockets to pick," said Magistrate, floor walker at Eaton's, referring to a young man named Brydon Weese charged with attempting to pick pockets. Mr. Magistrate swore he saw Weese put his hand in a lady's pocket, from which her purse was partially protruding, but as the lady turned around suddenly he drew it out again without any booty. Witness had noticed the man a number of times in the store, and had followed him about and put him out every time he caught him.

Detective Harrison and Sergt. Reburn swore Weese gave a false name and address when arrested and told conflicting stories as to his business and relatives. Weese's brother gave him a good character, and the Court sent the prisoner to jail for 40 days.—Toronto Telegram.

LOST ON A TRAIN.

A Clergyman's Wife Loses Three Valuable Diamond Rings.

Rev. Thomas S. McWilliams, of the American Presbyterian church, Montreal, arrived in the city last evening and reported to the police that three valuable diamond rings belonging to Mrs. McWilliams had been stolen. When the O. P. R. train was approaching Smith's Falls, McWilliams placed the rings on a ledge in the washroom while she washed her hands, and came away without them. Some time afterwards she thought of the rings and went to the ledge to get them, but they had disappeared.

The conductor was notified and the place searched, but the rings were not recovered. The missing articles were valued at $400.—Telegram.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 23, 1895.

If you please, Mr. Cleveland, may we celebrate Christmas as usual this year?

Up to date John Bull and his children have shown no sign of accepting President Cleveland's notice to quit this continent.

Vermont is being systematically stocked with various species of game birds from other States and lands, under the direction of a department of the State Game Commission. A number of Mongolian pheasants, which have been introduced in several Pacific States with much success, were recently received at the headquarters of the commission. The birds are to be kept in confinement and the eggs distributed in various parts of the State. The eggs will be set under domestic hens, and the young pheasants will, at the proper time, be set free in the forests.

A potato centenary is proposed in England. In 1596 the first potato was planted in England, in Holburn, about the time that Sir Walter Raleigh was planting the first Irish potato at Youghal, near Cork. For two centuries the potato continued as a botanical curiosity. When first eaten it was a delicacy, sometimes roasted and steeped in sack, baked with marrow and spices or served and candied. When Parmentier developed the plant in France, Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette wore the flowers as ornaments. Frederick the Great had a force of Pomeranian farmers to plant potatoes by the fear of his soldiers. It was the famine of 1771-72 in Germany that first demonstrated the value of the tubers.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly For January, 1896.

The first magazine for the new year is the brilliant January number of FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY, illustrated with more than one hundred up-to-date pictures by the best illustrators of America and Europe. The leading article, upon "Great Ship Canals," by Arthur Vaughan Abbott, C. E., describes the world's principal artificial waterways of the present day, including the new Baltic, the Manchester, and the Corinth Canals of Europe, and the Welland, the Sault Ste. Marie, and the Harlem, in America. Albert L. Rawson, the well-known artist and Orientalist, contributes, under the title of "A Bygone Bohemia," a most interesting chapter of reminiscences of the famous coterie of wits, writers, poets and players who brought celebrity to Pfaff's resort, in New York city, a generation back. Mr. Rawson's article is enriched with some rare and hitherto unpublished portraits, including those of Henry Clapp, George Arnold, Walt Whitman, Richard Realf, Artemus Ward, Mark Twain, Josh Billings and Petroleum V. Nasby. Other features of the January FRANK LESLIE'S are: an elaborately illustrated descriptive paper upon Morocco, by A. B. de Guerville; "A Day with the Sardinian Tunny Fishers," by Charles experience; "Chamois-Hunting in the connection with Alps," by Hugh E. M. Stuffed; south by Naval Cadet Days at Annapolis," by C. Groff; short stories by Howard Chandler Christy, Champion Bissel, Eileen Edgar, and others; and poems by George Edgar Montgomery, Mackenzie Bell and Catharine Young Glen.

The annual report of the athletic association of the University of Pennsylvania shows that there is money in football. The gross receipts from seventeen football contests during the season of 1895 were $48,668.02. The net receipts, after paying over $12,000 in guarantees and percentages, and over $13,500 expenses, were $22,658.32. Nearly half of the season's gross receipts was taken at the game with Cornell Thanksgiving Day—$22,670.

A London correspondent, writing from Constantinople about the Sultan says: I have tried to glean something from the diplomats who have most recently seen the Sultan as to what impression they derived from recent audience. These gentlemen seem to consider that to all the general business of government the Sultan brings a mind highly gifted with reasoning powers, and that he is entirely satisfied with his own mode of rule, and convinced that, although not ideally perfect, it is the best adapted to the condition of the empire. In apologetic discussion of his policy he defends it with considerable argumentative force. Viewing matters, as he does, from his own standpoint, his reasoning upon them is lucid, consistent and cogent. The listener may not adopt his conclusions, but that is the fault, not of his arguments, but of his premises. What precedes does not, of course, give a complete picture, for the Sultan gives audience to ambassadors when his mind is calm, but that calm we know to be sometimes seriously disturbed. The Sultan's belief in himself is unbounded; therefore his own preservation stands in the forefront of all his higher desires. It is this absolute and perfect faith in himself which leads him to prefer rogues and fools to honest and able men; for the latter have opinions and principles which are apt to traverse the sovereign will, while the former, through their artlessness and cupidity, will work out the pure and simple purpose of his infallible wisdom.

A Nice Quiet Chat

ON this occasion we are going to use our space in THE TIMES to talk to you about our GENTS' FURNISHING DEPARTMENT.

There are lots of people in Peterborough who do not know what a fine class of goods we have in this line, and customers we cannot suit are as rare as hens' teeth. In TIES for winter wear, we have them in all kinds—Checks, Stripes, Plain or otherwise, at all prices, and a large assortment to choose from.

Also, we excel in GLOVES, BRACES, UNDERWEAR, SHIRTS and FANCY SHIRTS, &c., and our motto is "Shirts that are Shirts." As we are cranks on the subject of Shirts, we are bound to do the trade in this line.

We also wish it to be known as loudly as we can proclaim it, that we have a very fine stock of HATS and CAPS in the latest styles, made by the best makers, and we positively state that we can suit the most exacting customers that ever walked in shoe leather, in Fedoras and Stiff Hats in all shapes and styles. Caps of all kinds from the cheapest to the most expensive.

To the gentlemen of the city who wish to look always neat and dressy we would say that you ought to procure one of our fashionable

Call in and see us and we will use you right.

FITS FOR THE FEET—Narrow, Medium or Straight Toes for any taste. Pointed, Round, Square or Common Sense.

Selling shoes alongside of clothing cuts down expenses and makes prices lower. That's the plain matter of fact. We've got the grip on the best shoe trade of Peterborough and the department is growing all the time. The reason isn't far to find—we've worked all round the subject and know what to buy and what to let alone.

IF YOU ARE SUFFERING.

from CANCER, why do you not begin our treatment at once, and TEST FOR YOURSELF the truth of what others say about us?

DEAR DOCTOR, I take pleasure in adding my testimony to the many who have been cured by your excellent and almost painless cancer treatment. Nearly six years have passed since you so successfully removed the cancer from my breast. I could not tell you half the good things I say in favor of it whenever opportunity admits. When I see so many suffering with this terrible plague, and many dying a horrible death just from the want of proper treatment, I wish the power to cry out against the "quack doctor," who the general lot of physicians who persuade people they have no cancer, or, at best, a very mild case which they can cure in a very short time. I have known of so many cases that have, even fatal, that I thank God for the little form which sent me to you, with such good results. He assured I will do all I can. May God aid you in your good work and give you a long life to rescue the suffering, in my earnest prayer. May my testimony help and be the means of relieving some poor mortal by sending them to you, in all Luck, and will be pleased to answer any communications addressed to me on the subject.
Sincerely yours,
MRS. G. F. CURRIE,

A WINTER NIGHT ON THE FARM.

Hoop up the logs still higher and higher,
Till up the chimney roars the fire,
And spreads around its ruddy glow
To make our hearts with joy leap so.
The myriad shadows on the wall
Dance mirthful steps without our call.
As through the room the soft warmth creeps
And frolic gay its revel keeps.

Here gathered round the old hearthstone
Are us three boys. We're not alone,
For sitting in her big armchair
Is mother, smiling, sweet faced, fair,
And father listening to our jokes,
Which we relate through numerous choices
In trying to swallow at a round
The big soft pippins, plump and round.

Soon corn is popping o'er the coals,
A snow white feast for hungry souls,
And hickory nuts and chinquapins.
That autumn raids had gathered in
Are cracking merrily. Then, just brought up
From cellar's depths in foaming cup,
Is spicy cider, like sparkling wine,
Causing lips to smack and eyes to shine.

Thus speeds each happy hour,
While howling storms spend all their power
Outdoors in vain. With cheer and fun
Our evening's sport its length has run.
When father says, "Tis growing late!"
Then work begins with hook and slate,
And problems rack each stubborn brain
Which drowsy grows beneath the strain.

Soon flung aside are mental cares,
And clambering up the old back stairs
We tumble in big feather beds.
Like downy seas beneath our heads.
Lulled by the winds with wailing song,
To dreamland fair we're borne along.
Thus ends, unknown to care and harm,
A winter night down on the farm.

—Robert Brumblay.

The Fall of Athens.

The fall of Athens was due to a combination of causes. But what lay at the root of it all was the weakness of the Athenian navy and the refusal of the necessary supplies for placing it in a state of efficiency. In the earlier stages of the struggle with Macedonia a sufficient armament could have been provided without recourse to the theoria or any increase of the property tax.

Then it was exclusively to the decay of public spirit, the aversion to military service and the general deterioration of the national character, aggravated, if not originated, by the new tastes and habits and the fastidious skepticism engendered by the new culture, to which the misfortunes of the state are to be attributed. Afterward, when the force which would have been sufficient at one time was no longer adequate to the crisis, and it became necessary to provide for a much larger one, the apathy which had already done so much harm was rendered doubly mischievous by the false economy to which we have already referred.

Finally, when at length the two contending parties had laid aside their jealousies, and Athens had fitted out a force worthy of her ancient fame, there was no one to command
it. When she had generals, she had neither ships nor soldiers. When she had both, she had no generals.—
Macmillan's Magazine.

Betrayed.

A stylishly dressed young woman was brought up before the police magistrate at B— for stealing ribbons out of a shop. The clerk of the court had seen her converse with her lawyer, and was therefore greatly surprised when, in reply to his inquiry as to her name and address, she merely shook her head.

"She is a Frenchwoman," the lawyer explained, "and does not understand German. Just put down Marie Latouche."

The clerk was incredulous. "How old is she?" he asked.

"Twenty-two," replied the legal advisor.

The clerk pretended not to have heard correctly and said, "Thirty-two?"

"No, twenty-two," the fair captive blurted out as she clapped her hand on her mouth and burst out laughing.

"Ah!" said the clerk, "then you can speak German, though you don't understand it?" — Tagliche Rundschau.

Among the Freaks.

The Armless Wonder was resting his head on the cold slab of a marble mantel just before the show opened when the Fat Woman came in and took her place. "Hello, Army," she said in that strangely familiar way these people have, "what's the matter?"

"I was out with the boys last night and, oh, my head!" groaned the Wonder.

"You deserve to suffer," she said harshly, "and I have no sympathy for you."

"That's all right," retorted the Wonder. "I have one thing to be thankful for."

"What's that?"

"That I'm not the two headed freak from Springfield," and the Wonder felt so grateful that he actually smiled at the Fat Woman.—

THE WALL STREET PANIC

CAUSED BY THE ACTION OF PRESIDENT CLEVELAND.

Another smashing of Stocks All Round Owing to the Senator's Passage of the Veto Bill—Several Firms Forced to the Wall.

Special to The Times.

New York, Dec. 21.—The receipt of heavy selling orders from London, the result of the Senator's grandstand action in the Veto Bill, caused a further liquidation for home account, and a break of 1 to 2 per cent. at the New York Stock Exchange this morning.

SCENES IN WALL STREET.

Wall street witnessed another exciting scene when the stock exchange opened for business. Long before the hour for beginning business large crowds had massed themselves in the clearing gallery, standing in rows of two and three deep.

An unusual number of ladies were present, and the exchange presented a lively spectacle. The operating brokers, looking grim and worried, were about early discussing with much animation the critical situation. Hopes for a brighter outlook today were numerous, but they were generally based on the President's message to Congress yesterday on the financial question.

The bulls and bears were common in their declaration to try and steady the market.

All sides seemed better prepared today, however, for existing conditions than were yesterday, when the sudden onslaught on English buyers swept so many off their feet here.

Immediately after the chairman's gavel announced the opening of the market there was a repetition of yesterday's scene. The various posts were at once surrounded by tumultuous crowds and operations began with an exciting scramble. The confidence anticipated did not manifest itself.

There was another smashing of stocks all around and as price after price went lower and lower, a feverish feeling began to spread among the operators. There seemed nothing to encourage a better feeling or steadier market and another day of great losses was feared. There was a regular slaughter of certain securities during the first ten minutes of business by brokers whose customers failed to respond to last night's calls for margins.

A good deal of concern was manifested in the reports from London as to the withdrawals of credits, and especially as to the rumored action of the Rothschilds in the matter. Nothing definite could be learned, but the fact that London was again a liberal seller of our stocks lent color to the report.

As usual in times of great excitement in Wall street, there were rumors of embarrassments of firms and individuals.

Towards 11 o'clock the selling power exhausted itself, and there was a quick recovery of 1 to 2 per cent. London bought a few stocks shortly after the opening, but this had no special significance.

Foreign houses in this city say the whole situation, so far as Wall street is concerned, now turns on the exchange situation and the amount of gold to be exported.

The Sun says: It was reported in Wall street this morning that if the stock market continued in a demoralized condition, the board of governors would hold a meeting and act on a proposition to close the exchange for several days or weeks.

The failure of Hatch Bros. was announced at the New York Exchange at 11:15 a.m. The firm consisted of W. D. Hatch and Horace Hatch, with the former as the board member. The firm conducted its business at No. 66 Broadway.

At 11:30 a.m. the failure of H. K. Burras and Company was announced on the Stock Exchange.

BOSTON BROKERS GONE DOWN. Boston, Dec. 21.—Pyles & Co., Congress street, stock brokers, have failed. The announcement was made on the Stock Exchange this morning.

Was given up by his physician as well as by specialists in Toronto, and by himself and friends. Now comes a change.—He says in a letter to Dodd's Medicine Co.: "After commencing with your Dodd's Kidney Pills, I got help inside of two weeks. I took eight boxes in eight weeks, am completely cured, not a symptom left, general health good. Have regained my old health and weight. Had been bothered with heart and liver, both have vanished with the diabetes. I can walk briskly for miles instead of crawling as before. Am a brother of the President of the Toronto Street Railway Co. and well known here." Diabetes is set down as incurable—But Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure.

WITH A CLOTHES LINE.

"An old and respected resident of an adjoining county met with a sad death at his home last week. He was sitting with a coal oil lamp near by, the lamp was lighted, and the burning oil, running over the rim, fell into his clothes, he fell and the floor. A doctor was sent for but his services were of no avail. Had it happened at a later hour the house and the whole family might have been burned."

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realized more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." Mrs. C. C. CROFT, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

DAILY AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

S. S. Anniversary.
Rev. Mr. Shorey, of Lindsay, preached in the Sunday school anniversary services in the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday.

A Monster Turkey.
A turkey weighing 30 pounds attracted considerable attention in front of W. J. McCallum's restaurant on Saturday. It was raised by Mrs. Ben Coores, of Otonabee. It will be served on the Christmas eve bill of fare.

Police Court Today.
The two dissolute women who were arrested in a lively stable will appear before Magistrate Dumble this morning. John McDonough, the picture agent will also answer to the charge of theft. Several other cases will be heard.

Decks and Bookcases.
At Clegg's. A large assortment of secretaries and bookcases. A splendid line of hall racks, no end of parlour furniture, the largest line of bedroom furniture we ever offered. See our pictures—cheaper than ever. The balance of our stock of window shades will be cleared out at cost. All the cheaper lines always in stock. Bedsteads $2.50, good chairs, $2.00. Springs, mattresses, pillows, etc. A. Clegg, 472 George street.

Successful Pupils of a Successful School.
Miss Della Mitchell, pupil of the Canada Business College, Chatham, has accepted the position of stenographer offered in the Arken Steam Specialty Co., Chicago. James Warren has accepted the position of stockkeeper and office assistant with Wm. Gray & Sons, Chatham. Fred Thompson has changed from the position of stenographer with Geo. B. Douglas, Burlington, Chatham, to a similar position with Messrs. Wilson, Rankin, McKenough & Kerr, one of the leading law firms in Western Ontario.

Advertising a Failure.
Advertising a failure, at least it has proved so in its having failed to bring forward one bad axe out of the large number of Ridgway Pennsylvania axes sold by last year for which we have offered in the TIMES for some weeks two new ones for each. Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of crescent saws this year for which we claim that they will saw faster, keep sharper longer and give better satisfaction than those of any other make. George Stethem & Son, next door to Post Office.

The Song of the Autumn Ser.
'Sing ho! sing ho! for a skinner hold!
'For the white winged caper and her jolly crew!
'For the whistling wind from the north, as cold
As an arctic blast!
'Sing ho! once more for the fading shore!
'For the cloudless sky and the ocean blue!
'For the foaming wake and the gurgling roar.
'Where the boat has passed!
'Sing ho! sing ho! for the weather rail!
'For the sheet trimmed aft and the quivering luff!
'Or the sudden flap of the wind-tossed sail.
'And the—'Hard-a-lee'!
'Sing ho! at last for the swaying mast!
'For the spinnaker set to the freshening puff!
'For the waves that rise and the spray that darts
On the rolling sea!
—Outing for November.

A Clever Swindle.
Joseph Ronger, a farmer who lives near Maxwells, N. Y., had an experience last week that he will take care not to have repeated. He was in Winthrop and having sold some cattle had $67 in his pocket when he started for home. He gave a stranger a ride and the stranger gave him a couple of drinks from a flask and Mr. Ronger remembered nothing more until he awoke next morning at the Allen House and found his money gone. The stranger had driven into Maxwells and said that he had found the team and sleigh on the road with Ronger "paralyzed" and had driven them in to save him from freezing to death. He then rode his way to Richard's Landing and was ferried across the river to Dickinson's Landing, giving the boatman $1 in his generosity and then hired a map to take him back to the station at Wales. He stated that he had been at work in the woods and was just coming home when he was "paralyzed" exhibiting a roll of $67.

How to Cure All Skin Diseases.
For itching, apply "SWANSON'S OINTMENT." No medicine required. Cures itching, itching, all eruptions on the face, hands, feet, etc. It is a great remedy for all skin diseases, and is a great remedy for all skin diseases, and is a great remedy for all skin diseases.

BROOK'S CLEVER SCHEME.

He Worked the Clergy of Peterborough for Small Amounts.

In the police court on Saturday morning Aston Brooks pleaded guilty to the theft of a watch from Mrs. Mary Hooker, a Northampton. He said he was intoxicated and when in that condition he did not care what he did.

Then Brooks was charged with being a vagrant and Rev. J. J. Rae and Rev. W. H. Young gave evidence to show that the prisoner was guilty of begging.

It appears that Brooks called at the residence of Rev. Mr. Young and told him that he came from Montreal and was the sole support of his mother who was ill. He had a job promised him in Orillia and he wanted money to enable him to proceed there. Rev. Mr. Young gave him a note to Mayor Kennedy that he might get a pass from the municipality.

Rev. J. J. Rae said that Brooks asked him for money to get a ticket to Toronto. He lowered his demands to $1 and finally accepted 25 cents to get a meal with.

On both charges Brooks was remanded until Friday.

THE NOMINATIONS.

Nomination for Mayor, Councillors and Trustees Next Monday.

One week from today will be nomination day for mayor, councillors and school trustees. The nominations will take place at the following places:

The mayoralty nominations—At the town council chambers from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. For councillors and public school trustees (time, from 12 to 11 o'clock) at the following places:

Ward One—W. Van Every's store, Rutledge street.

Ward Two—In the market hall.

Ward Three—J. & W. Mother's shop, Aylmer street.

Ward Four—Wm. Lee's shop, Smith street.

The elections will be held one week later, January 6th, 1896.

BUSINESS ON SATURDAY.

A Rainy Saturday Night Put a Damper on Trade.

Saturday's market was not the largest of the year, but next to it. If there had been sleighing the town would not have been large enough to hold the crowd. As it was the streets were filled with all sorts of merchants were kept very busy.

The rain on Saturday night was a serious loss to the merchants as people who intended to do their Christmas shopping there, were kept at home. However, this trade is in the town and on Monday and Tuesday nights the town-people will doubtless leave a lot of money with the merchants.

WARM WEATHER BUT WET.

Cold Waves from the West is Not Likely to Reach Us.

"The weather gives no indication of immediate change," said the weather expert Saturday. "Look out for quite a bit of this jolly atmosphere."

Reports from St. Paul and vicinity have told stories of a cold wave that sweeps away east and they have been repeated here with a touch of it here but the observation says that the temperature all over the Western States is rising and the cold wave will not likely even reach Chicago.

COAL STILL STEADY.

New York's Drop in Prices Does Not Affect Us.

Despatches from New York says that the Toronto Telegram have announced a drop of about 35 cents per ton in stove coal has occurred there. "That will not in any way affect the market here," said Mr. Elias Rogers, this afternoon. "When we hear from Washington I told me the other day that coal was $5.50 in the capital city."

OBITUARY.

The late Mrs. Harvey, whose maiden name was McCormack, came to Peterborough many years ago, the bride of Dr. Alexander Harvey, who was so well known in Peterborough and neighboring county. The doctor was unassuming and modest but of recognized skill and respected and beloved by many. Mrs. Harvey was the mother of a large family and her sons going to Manitoba the doctor and his wife went out there to spend their last days with their children.

Dr. Harvey died about five years ago and his body was brought to Peterborough to be interred beside some of his deceased children in the Little Lake cemetery—he being a Protestant. A daughter, Mrs. Peter Merrick, died a few months ago and now the bereaved mother is being borne by loving children that she may sleep beside the remains of her loved ones in our beautiful cemetery. Mrs. Harvey was a faithful and devoted daughter of the Roman Catholic Church, and at the Cathedral here where she worshipped for so many years the last sad rites will be offered to her remains at Tuesday morning next at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Harvey will be remembered as a warm hearted and generous woman who forgot her own pecuniary interests in offering generous help to such as appealed to her sympathies. She had many friends who while lamenting her death will avail themselves of this sad opportunity of testifying their grateful remembrance of a long and pleasant friendship with her and her family.

DEED.

The funeral of Mrs. (Dr.) Harvey will leave St. Peter's Cathedral on Tuesday morning at 9 a.m. for place of interment (Little Lake Cemetery). Friends are invited to attend.

THE MAYORALTY.

Dr. R. W. Bell will not be a candidate for the Mayoralty. Dr. Bell came to this decision on Saturday and informed the deputation which waited upon him to that effect.

For several weeks it has been known that Councillor Cahill was a probable candidate although he had not announced himself. Mr. Cahill has set conjecture at rest by stating that he will be in the field for the Mayor's chair.

Mr. Wm. Yelland, an old and respected citizen who has spent several years in the council, announced on Saturday to THE TIMES that he would be a candidate for the position of Mayor. Mr. Yelland was waited upon by a large deputation of influential citizens who urged him to run and he has accepted their wishes.

It is not likely that either gentlemen will withdraw, so it is a settled fact that there will be a contest this year.

INS AND OUTS.

Cam Sowers was out on a shopping tour on Saturday night in an endeavor to select a suitable Christmas present for his friend, Mr. Howell, premier.

It is rumored that Messrs. James Snyder and R. M. Roy will offer the services of their launches to the English government in case of war.

By the time the British lion gets on to the fact that the United States is twisting its tail, something will drop.

Around Christmas time the turkey has a regular frost.

A green Christmas may mean a fat graveyard to those people who eat too much turkey.

Earth slumbered beneath a mantle of white.

The feet of the birds who fluttered and gambled in the snow were redder than holly berries. Yet they were quite unconcerned and happy.

The banes of the sweet, girlish lady who leaned lovingly over the manly shoulders of her husband and imprinted a kiss upon his brow matched the rest of her hair perfectly. She seemed to know it, and her hair was of the sort that invites a closer scrutiny.

"Dearest,"—she was resting her cheek fondly upon his temple—"how do you like your present?"

"Be careful!"

As he made reply his glance wandered to an object that lay at his feet.

"I made,"—he kissed him again "it myself, dearest."

"You did, indeed?"

"Are you proud of your little wife, dearest?"

"Awfully."

She twined her arms about his neck.

"My darling girl!" there was a degree of perplexity in his tenor—"what is it—is it?"

With a look of poignant regret she disengaged herself from his embrace.

"I had hoped,"—she trembled in her distress—"you wouldn't ask me that. I—I do not know."

It seemed like a bitter, dreary Christmas after all.

THE HOLIDAY DISPLAYS.

Many Rarely Attractive Windows and Interiors.

Christmas is the season of good will and gifts. The practice of sending a gift as a sign of friendly intention is probably traceable to the ages of barbarism but whether it originated the custom has bravely stood the test of time and today perhaps exerts a more vigorous influence upon us than it ever did.

Any doubt upon this subject would be dispelled by a stroll along the leading streets of Peterborough. On the grandeur and beauty of this holiday season. It would appear as if the various business establishments had striven to surpass all previous years in the display of their gift giving impulse which obtains the mastery over most people during the festive season. The windows are at once a temptation and a delight. The trouble is that one is lost in bewilderment before the multiplicity of attractions. Some of the big stores have given their window space over to the display of toys. And the toys are of a grandeur and beauty that never dreamt of anything like them when they were boys and girls. The Christmas card of the good old days is now no longer very much in evidence; but the production of illustrated periodicals, holiday picture books and holiday pictures is becoming wonderful in its extent and variety. For many people this part of the holiday display will have a greater attraction than anything else. Hardly less enticing and certainly a good deal more substantial are the contents of the window displays of the leading druggists and provision stores, for comfort and good cheer are no less closely associated with the Christmas season than are any of the more or less beautiful sentiments that have grown around it.

People are in the habit of looking for winter weather at Christmas tide. "A green Christmas and a fat churchyard" is made to apply to business life as well as to human life. But whether there is any thing in the adage or not in its original application, the effort to make it apply to business as well seems to be a mistake. Certainly the weather of the past few days has not been ideal winter weather; yet if the crowds that swarm the sidewalks and throng the stores every afternoon may be taken as an indication of business activity, our merchants are not suffering much from want of snow. It was with difficulty one forced a passage along George street on Saturday, and the spacious doors of many of the big stores are ever on the swing. No there is no evidence of any graveyard effect upon business life of this part of Peterborough at least.

A most encouraging feature of all this holiday display is that prices are for the most part very reasonable, so that poor in heart and pocket, indeed, must be the man that cannot rejoice himself with something to commemorate the joyous season.

Dolls at cost at the Times Bookstore.

A man found a bill, says an exchange. He paid the grocer and took a receipt. The grocer paid the real estate agent the money for rent. The agent paid the $10 to the man who owned the property, who happened to be the man who lost the bill. He deposited it in a bank, and it was returned to him as a counterfeit. Was there anything gained or lost in this series of transactions?

CHRISTMAS TURKEY.

Directions for Choosing the Seasonable Fowl—How It Should Look.

In selecting the holiday poultry, remember that young, plump, well-fed but not too fat poultry will prove the best. The skin should always be finely grained, clear and white. The breast full and fleshy and broad, the legs very smooth, the toes pliable and easy to break when bent back. The birds must also be heavy in proportion to the size. This applies more especially to chickens and turkeys.

In regards to ducks and geese, their breasts must also be very plump, the feet flexible and yellow; when they are red and hard and the bills of the same color, the skin full of hairs and coarse, they will likely be old and tough.

For stewing and boiling, white legged poultry should be chosen, because when dressed their appearance is far more delicate. But dark legged ones are said to be more juicy and of better flavor when roasted.

The greatest precaution ought to be taken to prevent poultry getting at all tainted before it is cooked, but unless the weather is very warm it may be kept for a long time hung in a cold, airy place. With the exception of pigeon and poultry will be better for being killed some time before it is cooked if every suspicion of taint is avoided. It is claimed, however, that pigeons are better for being cooked on the same day that they are killed, for they only lose their flavor by hanging, even a short time.

In choosing a chicken or turkey see that the breast bone is pliable; it will feel hard so that it is impossible to bend it. The tail will be almost certain too tough and unsatisfactory when cooked, but it is important to remember that all kinds of poultry must be thoroughly cooked, for no one can how carefully and intelligently it may be chosen it will be a disappointment if it is underdone.

CHOOSING THE CHRISTMAS ORANGES.
It is often a perplexing question to the inexperienced buyer how to tell which oranges are the sweetest, and juiciest, and in every way the most desirable; and when they are to be bought in great quantities this is an important consideration. What an aggravating disappointment it is to discover, when too late to change, that much of the fruit is sour or bitter, or tasteless and dry.

The very sweetest and richest orange is the black or rusty coated fruit. Pick out the dingiest oranges in the box and you will get the best. Another way to choose an orange is by weight. The heaviest are the best, because they have the thinnest skin and more weight of juice. Thick skinned oranges are apt to be dry; they either weigh less because of having so much skin, or because of the poverty of the juice in these particular specimens. A slight freezing of the tree often causes this condition in otherwise fine fruit.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 23, 1895.

AN AMERICAN OPINION.

The well known banking house of Henry Clews & Co., has sent the MORNING TIMES a statement in regard to the grave crisis through which we are passing. The firm says: "During the past week, Wall Street has unexpectedly found itself at the mercy of an extraordinary political typhoon. Like a thunder-clap, came the President's arraignment of England on the Venezuelan affair, coupled with a threat of war unless the case were satisfactorily settled. Nobody had dreamed of such a result from Lord Salisbury's reply to our Secretary of State, and the President's attitude was so surprising that few were able to take it seriously, and it was therefore suspected to be a bid for the vote of the million for Grover Cleveland as a candidate for a third term. Whether this construction was right or wrong, the opposition seem to have felt they had no safe alternative but to take the Message in that sense. Instantly, therefore, the Republicans proceeded to enthusiastically comply with the President's request for a Commission of Inquiry on the spot, appropriated a significantly liberal sum for its expenses. Immediately following, from the same party, came a bill authorizing a loan of $100,000,000 for the purchase of arms and for other military purposes. Having thus successfully outbid the President,—if he was really bidding as supposed,—the purposes of party action were satisfied, and no further action has been taken.

"While there is much uncertainty as to the real purpose of the President, and many are unwilling to take it all seriously, yet men of large responsibility regard it as necessary to act in some measure on the assumption that the Message meant nothing short of its face purport. There has considerable realizing on stocks, London having sold here about 100,000 shares in two days, valued at close upon $6,000,000, and prices have fallen heavily. This foreign realizing has increased proportionately the amount of gold that will have to go out, and has thrown some very unwelcome doubts upon the prospects of the new loan that must be soon forthcoming to replenish the Treasury reserve. The conservative and business sentiment of the city is very strongly opposed to the President's recommendations, and probably an early occasion will be taken for giving expression to that sentiment in an open and impressive manner. It is felt that already very serious injury has been done, which will come to be felt when we need foreign gold for the support of the Treasury and for purposes of currency reconstruction; but it is hoped that, while the full retraction of the measures undertaken by the Administration may not be expected, yet something will be done to enlist England in measures looking to a settlement and yet save our Government any unaccepted yielding. In any case, men of judgment hesitate to believe that war with England is a possibility, but yet fear that an indiscretion has been committed which

A Run Down Condition.

"I suffered great weakness in a run down condition after having the grip and I believe taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and found the will to be just as recommended. My son has been a sufferer of rheumatism by using Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. R. Meyer, Having Out. experience Hood's PILLS cure biliousness, indigestion, etc. (south) he is, and, by telephone.

may cost us much more than we can afford under existing circumstances.

This was Wall Street's way of looking at the situation up to the close of Thursday. Friday morning showed that estimates of the gravity of the position had become much more serious. Large London orders to sell came on the market, holders of stocks lost confidence, margins became exhausted, and panic ensued, with an average fall of ten points in prices before noon. The consequent distrust made it somewhat difficult to get money and high rates had to be paid in some instances. This naturally affected the possibility of exporting gold, and some large contemplated shipments on Saturday have been temporarily deferred, though of course, under the present feeling in London, they must be ultimately made, as no considerations of interest would induce European bankers to defer settlements as affairs now stand. So large were the London selling orders that no tract could be kept of them and no accurate estimates of the valuation of the transactions could be made. It is, however, safe to say that the London realizations of the last three days must range somewhere between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 in market value. This represents so much addition to the gold exports and to the drain upon the Treasury. The situation in financial circles has thus become unquestionably quite serious. The uncertainty about further selling by London, and the possible effects of the situation upon the Treasury finances are the chief points in the situation; and upon those contingencies no one can form any trustworthy estimate. This only we know that the President's Message has already cost the investing public some hundreds of millions of dollars.

A novel application of the trolley system is being planned at the Lake Superior mining district in Michigan, where it is proposed to run a road to Marquette, the nearest lake, port, which will generate its own electricity. This, it is thought, will be possible, because there is a heavy grade, which loaded cars go down, while they return empty in the other direction. Dynamos will be placed in each car, which will transfer all the power of gravity, not needed for the decent to the wires in the form of electricity, which can be used for drawing the empty cars up the grade.

A WINTER NIGHT ON THE FARM.
 Heap up the logs still higher and higher, Till up the chimney roars the fire, And spreads around its ruddy glow To make our hearts with joy leap so. The myriad shadows on the wall Dance merrily steps without our call, As through the room the soft warmth creeps And frolic gay its revel keeps.
 Here gathered round the old hearthstone Are us three boys. We're not alone. For sitting in her big armchair Is mother, smiling, sweet-faced, fair, And father listening to our jokes, Which we relate through numerous choices In trying to swallow at a round. The big soft pippins, plump and round.
 Soon corn is popping o'er the coals, A snow white feast for hungry souls, And hickory nuts and chinquapin That autumn raids had gathered in Are cracking merrily. Then, just brought up From cellar's depths in foaming cup, Is spicy cider, like sparkling wine, Causing lips to smack and eyes to shine.
 Thus speeds each happy hour, While howling storms spend all their power Outdoors in vain. With cheer and fun Our evening's sport its length has run, When father says, "The growing late!" Then work begins with look and state, And problems rack each stubborn brain Which drowsy grows beneath the strain.
 Soon flung aside are mental cares, And clambering up the old back stairs We tumble in big feather beds, Like downy seas beneath our heads. Lulled by the winds with wailing song, To dreamland fair we're borne along. Thus ends, unknown to care and harm, A winter night down on the farm.
 —Robert Brambley.

The Fall of Athens.
 The fall of Athens was due to a combination of causes. But what lay at the root of it all was the weakness of the Athenian navy and the refusal of the necessary supplies for placing it in a state of efficiency. In the earlier stages of the struggle with Macedonia a sufficient armament could have been provided without recourse to the theories or any increase of the property tax.
 Then it was exclusively to the decay of public spirit, the aversion to military service and the general deterioration of the national character, aggravated, if not originated, by the new tastes and habits and the fastidious skepticism engendered by the new culture, to which the misfortunes of the state are to be attributed. Afterward, when the force which would have been sufficient at one time was no longer adequate to the crisis, and it became necessary to provide for a much larger one, the apathy which had already done so much harm was rendered doubly mischievous by the false economy to which we have already referred.
 Finally, when at length the two contending parties had laid aside their jealousies, and Athens had fitted out a force worthy of her ancient fame, there was no one to command it. When she had generals, she had neither ships nor soldiers. When she had both, she had no generals.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Retrayed.
 A stylishly dressed young woman was brought up before the police magistrate at B— for stealing ribbons out of a shop. The clerk of the court had seen her converse with her lawyer, and was therefore greatly surprised when, in reply to his inquiry as to her name and address, she merely shook her head.
 "She is a Frenchwoman," the lawyer explained, "and does not understand German. Just put down Marie Latouche."
 The clerk was incredulous. "How old is she?" he asked.
 "Twenty-two," replied the 1 gal adviser.
 The clerk pretended not to have heard correctly and said, "Thirty-two?"
 "No, twenty-two," the fair captive blurted out as she clasped her hand on her mouth and burst out laughing.
 "Ah!" said the clerk, "then you can speak German, though you don't understand it?" — Tagliche Rundschau.
Among the Freaks.
 The Armless Wonder was resting his head on the cold slab of a marble mantel just before the show opened when the Fat Woman came in and took her place. "Hello, Army," she said in that strangely familiar way these people have, "what's the matter?"
 "I was out with the boys last night and, oh, my head!" groaned the Wonder.
 "You deserve to suffer," she said harshly, "and I have no sympathy for you."
 "That's all right," retorted the Wonder. "I have one thing to be thankful for."
 "What's that?"
 "That I'm not the two headed freak from Springpatan," and the Wonder felt so grateful that he actually smiled at the Fat Woman.—Detroit Free Press.

"IS IT STRANGE?"

When the day is slowly dying
And the stars begin to peep,
While the summer flowers are lying Bathed in dew and kindly sleep,
By my door I stand and listen
For a dear loved step again.
Is it strange the tears should glisten
When I wait so long in vain?
Is it strange the sob should gather
As a token of my pain?
Day by day I live without him,
Ne'er a message of his love.
Shall I, can I dare to doubt him,
Once as true as heaven above,
Once so eager I should listen?
Does he treat me with disdain?
Is it strange the tears will glisten
When I ask myself, in vain,
"Is he false to me, my lover?
Will he never come again?"

Every hope is quenched in sadness,
Even life grows dark to me,
When a sudden tale of gladness
Comes across the deep blue sea.
Standing in the shadow dreary,
Waiting with a wild unrest,
Is it strange a footstep near me
Tells of him that I love best?
Is it strange I should be weeping
When he clasps me to his breast?

A BORAX DEPOSIT.

How It Was Discovered and the Wealth That It Brought to Winters and His Wife.

Borax was discovered out west by a man with an idea. Dr. John A. Veatch was a good deal of a geologist, and when he went west to look for gold and saw the vast stretches of parched and bitter alkaline plains he concluded from his knowledge of rock formations that borax could be found somewhere in the region. So he began to look for it deliberately, and one day early in 1886 his prospecting spade struck a small deposit in a dried lake bottom. It was not worth much, but it set a great crowd of miners to peering about in the hope of finding better deposits. A few years later some prospectors discovered that the bottoms of several California lakes were full of borax crystals, and from mining in the earth they began pumping water out of huge caissons set in the mud and then digging the earth up inside of them and washing out the crystals. Although the borax thus found was not pure, it could be used for manufacturing fluxes of various sorts, and the substance was greatly cheapened.

But the greatest discovery was made in that rough, hot region, Death valley, in California. It was made in a most romantic way. In 1880 Aaron Winters lived with his wife, Rosie, in a gulch known as Ash Meadows, not far from the deadly mouth of Death valley. He was so fond of his wife that he would not allow her to be long absent from him, although their little hut on the side of the mountain was 100 miles from the nearest neighbor in a wild, rugged, forsaken country. One day a desert tramp came along and stopped overnight at the Winters' home and told the hunter about the borax deposits of Nevada. When he went away, Winters thought that he had seen deposits of the kind described on his explorations into Death valley. Accordingly the strange couple went together to make the search, having previously provided themselves with certain test chemicals, which when combined with borax and ignited would produce a green flame.

Having procured a piece of the substance which he believed to be borax, Winters and his wife waited for nightfall to make the test. How would it burn?

For years they had lived like Piutes on the desert, entirely without luxuries and often waiting for the very necessities of life. Would the match change all that? Winters held the blaze to the substance with a trembling hand, then shouted at the top of his voice: "She burns green, Rosie. We're rich. We're rich!"

They had found borax. The mine was sold for $20,000, and Winters took Rosie to a ranch in Nevada; but she could not stand prosperity, and a few years later she died.—Chicago Record.

A Fortunate Resemblance.
A woman of commanding stature and expression tells this amusing story of an experience that befell her in Washington:

"I was passing the White House on the occasion of a very solemn and impressive event of which I had no knowledge until I was at the doors and saw a great crowd of people trying vainly to get in. I had no wish or intention to enter, but was passing along the side street to avoid the crowd, when a policeman, who was turning people away from a side entrance as fast as they presented themselves, beckoned to me, and before I could explain I was whisked through the entrance into the grounds. There was nothing left but for me to go on, and I was taken into the house and seated in a most favorable place to witness the ceremonies. But I felt all the time that I was masquerading and would surely be discovered and treated as an intruder. That I was not was owing to some inexplicable likeness to somebody else, but whom I have never discovered. I at least tried to maintain my assumed dignity."—Exchange.

Talleyrand could throw more pathos into a single word than another man could express in a dozen sentences. He was a master of eloquence.

THE WALL STREET PANIC

CAUSED BY THE ACTION OF PRESIDENT CLEVELAND.

Another Smashing of Stocks All Round Owing to the Senate's Passage of the Venezuelan Commission Bill—Several Firms Forced to the Wall.

Special to the Times.
New York, Dec. 21.—The receipt of heavy selling orders from London, the result of the Senate's unanimous action in the Venezuelan commission matter late yesterday, coupled with further liquidations for home account, led to a crash of 1 to 3 per cent. at the New York Stock Exchange, this morning.

WALL STREET. Wall street witnessed another exciting scene when the stock exchange opened for business. Long before the hour for beginning business large crowds had massed themselves in the circular gallery, standing in rows of two and three deep. An unusual number of ladies were present, and the exchange presented a lively spectacle.

The operating brokers, looking grim and worried, were about early discussing with much animation the critical situation. Hopes for a brighter outlook today were numerous. It was generally expected that President Cleveland's message to Congress yesterday on the financial question would have a tendency to revive confidence. The bulls and bears were common in their declaration to try and steady the market.

All sides seemed better prepared today, however, for existing conditions than were yesterday, when the sudden onslaught on English holders swept so many of their lot to here.

Immediately after the chairman's gavel announced the opening of the market there was a repetition of yesterday's wild scenes. The various posts were at once surrounded by tumultuous crowds and operations began with an exciting scramble. The confidence anticipated did not manifest itself.

There was another smashing of stocks all around and as price after price went lower and lower, a feverish feeling began to spread among the operators. There seemed nothing to encourage a better feeling or steadier market and another day of great losses was feared. There was a regular slaughter of certain securities during the first ten minutes of business by brokers whose customers failed to respond to last night's calls for margins.

A good deal of concern was manifested in the reports from London as to the withdrawals of credits, and especially as to the rumored action of the Rothschilds in the matter. Nothing definite could be learned, but the fact that London was again a liberal seller of our stocks lent color to the report.

As usual in times of great excitement in Wall street, there were rumors of embarrassments of firms and individuals. Towards 11 o'clock the selling power exhausted itself, and there was a quick recovery of 1 to 3 per cent. London bought a few stocks shortly after the opening, but this had no special significance.

Foreign houses in this city say the whole situation, so far as Wall street is concerned, now turns on the exchange situation and the amount of gold to be exported.

The Sun says: It was reported in Wall street this morning that if the stock market continued in a demoralized condition, the board of governors would hold a meeting and take on a proposition to close the exchange for several days or weeks.

The failure of Hatch Bros. was announced at the New York Exchange at 11:15 a.m. The firm consisted of W. D. Hatch and Horace Hatch, with the former as the board member. The firm conducted its business at 110 Broadway.

At 11:30 a.m. the failure of H. K. Burras and Company was announced on the Stock Exchange.

BOSTON BROKERS GO DOWN.
BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Price & Co., Congress street, stock brokers, have failed. The announcement was made on the Stock Exchange this morning.

POND'S EXTRACT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20, 1894. I have used "Pond's Extract" for many years and always insist upon my patients getting "Pond's," not the ordinary Extract, which is often a very poor article. W. K. BROWN, M. D.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9, 1895. I use Pond's Extract a great deal in my practice. I think it very valuable in all venous enlargements. J. L. BRADFORD, M. D.

SANTA BARBARA, CALIF., Nov. 27, 1894. I have been using Pond's Extract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the experience you mention of druggists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't believe it. I use Pond's Extract a great deal as an antiseptic in combination with glycerine and carbolic acid. I think it far superior to any antiseptic known. F. G. FLOURNOY, M. D.

COLUMBIA, PA., Jan. 18, 1895. I have been a constant user of Pond's Extract since 1852, and do not expect to discontinue it while I live. S. ARMOR, M. D.

CHelsea, MASS., Nov. 8, 1894. I have made diseases of the skin a specialty for thirty years, and am free to say I know of no remedy that has given me such perfect satisfaction as Pond's Extract in cases for which it is recommended. G. W. BABCOCK, M. D.

ASTHMA'S INSTITUTE, Buffalo, N.Y., Dec. 8, 1894. I know Pond's Extract to be a valuable remedy, and shall continue its use whenever the opportunity offers. GEO. H. CALKINS, M. D.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 13, 1894. I am pleased with the purity and strength of Pond's Extract. J. L. DURYEE, M. D.

Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of crosscut saws this year for which we claim that they will saw faster, keep sharper longer and give better satisfaction than those of any other make. Esquimaux Characters. Although the Esquimaux laugh at death and make a jest of sorrow, they are none the less indulgent husbands and affectionate fathers. True communists in both theory and practice; unselfishly sharing their last morsel with a smile; a simple, kindly, dirty, good natured, child like race, possessing no hope of betterment; giving no thought to the future; systematically forgetful of the past; living only in the present and making the heaviest burdens of that present light with irrepressible cheerfulness of heart.

An illustration of the apathy with which mortality is regarded by the Esquimaux was afforded by an incident of our cruise. Ten deaths from blood poisoning had occurred among the natives within ten days, yet there were but few evidences of sorrow or alarm. When I expressed sympathy with a man whom I had employed as a pilot, and who, within a month, had lost his father, wife, child and wife's brother, he said to me, smilingly: "At chook! Not so many to feed. Flour dear. No fish. Plenty men hungry. Plenty men die. Anank! Very good! Byne-bye no more Esquimaux. All sleep—no—everybody. So!" Then emphasized his philosophy with a hearty laugh.—Outing for November.

For the Deserving Poor.

A kind hearted farmer yesterday left three bags of turnips and three bags of potatoes at the police station to be distributed to the deserving poor.

Your Last Chance.

At 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon the big doll which has attracted so much admiration in the show window of McCullum's restaurant will be awarded to the one who has guessed the nearest to the number of candles in the sealed jar. Those who desire to obtain a guess must do so before 5 o'clock on Christmas afternoon.

The Public Library.

The following books have been received at the Public Library:—From Far From Home, Mackay; The Seven Years, Faras; A Story of the Earth, Seeley; Sunshine and Hair, Setoun; Cot and Candle Stories, Trull; A Victory Won, Swans; Slain by the Doones, Blackmore; In Quillier, Couch; Meadow Grass, Brown; The Mystery of the Witch-face Mountain, Craddock.

A Presentation.

Last night, St. Andrew's Junior Endeavor presented Miss Ella White, their superintendent, with an address and very handsome fruit basket. Miss White has been untiring in her efforts with the Juniors. This they have noted with gratitude and so embraced this favorable opportunity of giving expression to their high appreciation of her services.

To Gladden the Poor.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's church decided to hold a "Fruit Social" in aid of the poor. On Friday the Rev. Mr. Williams appeared to the congregation to respond liberally. This they have done nobly as large quantities of potatoes, flour, meal, butter, tea, eggs, sugar, etc., were conveyed to St. Andrew's Sunday school room where the ladies were waiting to receive the same. No doubt many homes will be gladdened by these useful gifts.

Business Troubles.

J. T. Wilford, hotel keeper, Cross Hill, has assigned to S. L. Petch. McLennan, hotel keeper, general store keepers, have assigned to W. H. Pummer. Wm. Johnston, general store keeper, West Plains, have assigned to G. D. Hlawley.

David Wallace, tailor, of Orillia, has assigned to a Toronto assignee. There will be a meeting of creditors on Thursday.

Fight With a Lynx.

In conversation with a man from the Algonquin park lumbering regions this morning, says the Lindsay Post, our reporter gained the details of a terrible fight with a Canadian lynx. He said two men named Scott and West were out on hunting, when their dogs traced what they supposed to be a racoon. With the aid of a lantern the animal was located among the branches of a tall spruce. Scott attempted to send a ball through its glaring eyes, but at the report of his rifle the animal with a piercing scream made a spring and landed upon him, knocking him down, and before the dogs could come to his rescue tore away the clothing and badly lacerated the flesh of his arms and shoulders. In a short time the Canadian lynx, as the animal proved to be, literally tore three of the seven dogs to shreds, and was fast making way with the others when Westlake attempted to strike it with an axe, but only succeeded in turning the infuriated animal from the dogs to himself and was soon bitten and scratched in a terrible manner. The wounded man fought bravely and he finally dealt the lynx a death blow with an axe, almost severing the head from the body. The man was not dangerously wounded, but he had some deep and painful scratches.

How to Cure All Skin Diseases

Apply "SWATHE'S OINTMENT." No medicine required. Cures itching, all eruptions on the face, hands, leaving the skin clear, white and fresh looking and curative power by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for "SWATHE'S OINTMENT." Lyman, Montreal, wholesale agent.

DEBATE AND ENTERTAINMENT.

Pleasant Evening Spent at the Catholic Association Rooms.

The numbers of Mr. Field are especially worthy of mention, as he captured the audience in his first number, a well rendered recitation. The proceedings closed with the National Anthem.

PLAY THE ONE GAME.

Ontario and Quebec Rugby Unions Harmonize Their Rules.

At a meeting of the Canadian Rugby Union executive, held in the Windsor hotel, Montreal, on Saturday afternoon, at which there were present representatives of the Ontario and Quebec unions, it was decided to donate a championship cup, $100 being voted for that purpose. In a championship match hereafter no player can appear on a team who has played the same year on any other team in either Quebec or Ontario.

Matches will hereafter only last 1 hour and 20 minutes, which is 20 minutes shorter than heretofore.

Two points will be all that can be scored from a flying kick.

Other changes of less importance were made, but the rules of the two provinces are now uniform, and the same game will be played in both Ontario and Quebec next year.

The officers elected were: A. F. R. Martin, Osgoode hall, president; Victor Buchanan, Montreal, vice-president; E. Bayley, Toronto, secretary-treasurer.

Teachers Meet.

Last night the teachers of St. Andrew's Sunday school met in the ladies parlor to decide regarding Sunday school papers, the arrangement of classes, prizes, etc., for the year 1896.

ATTACKED THE OFFICERS.

A Breezy Time in the Police Court Yesterday Morning.

There was an exciting scene in the police court yesterday morning. Two women—though they looked more like young girls—were in the police court charged with being swindlers and of ill repute. They were Lizzie Payne and Jane Lennox, both sisters and married women. They had been remanded from Thursday last and to both charges they pleaded not guilty.

When the first witness "General" Tighe was called Mrs. Payne showed her temper immediately, threatening the witness and accompanying her threats with unseemly oaths. Throughout his evidence she made interruptions, though the police warned her to keep quiet. The charge was proven against Mrs. Payne, who is only twenty years of age, and the Magistrate sentenced her to two years in the Mercer Reformatory.

Then the rumpus commenced. Oaths and threats came in torrents. "I sentence you to two years in the Mercer Reformatory," said Mr. Dumble to Mrs. Payne, whose case was heard first. "No you won't, I won't go down there. I will make some one suffer before I go out of this," was the retort, and the woman was a prisoner in a loud voice. When saying this Mrs. Payne was bending over the dock and the cause was not apparent until she lifted a foot, which she had taken off, and stepped on the witness's foot. She was so quick for the woman, and grabbed her hands. She evidently intended to carry out her threat. "I will make some one suffer for this," for a while she was in a state of confusion, but the policeman was too quick for the woman, and she was forced to retreat. She was screaming and crying, and the blood to run, and swearing effusively.

Then the sister joined in the warfare. She was called "General" Stewart, and she was to push Constable Stewart away. The chief nabbed Mrs. Lennox, but she was bound to be released and pulled and jerked desperately, but the chief had the grip. When she found she could not release herself she attempted to bite the chief's hand, but failed. The scene was becoming hideous, and the magistrate called on two constables to assist, and the prisoners were forced out of the dock and almost carried down to the cells. This was the first chapter and the last was even more thrilling and exciting. When the women were placed in separate cells the oaths that were uttered became worse and everybody came in for a share. Some palls happened to be in the cell where Mrs. Payne was and she was forced to cause a tumult, for she threw them around in lively fashion. It was apparent that the woman was wild and could only be placed under control by being handcuffed. The handcuffs were procured and after a struggle placed on her wrists. Another pair was procured and her arms were pinned behind her back, and then she was forced to keep quiet in actions, but not in words, for she still continued her swearing and threats.

Then Mrs. Lennox started up a furor and "her poor sister's" treatment irritated her and she was bound to kill someone. It was decided to let her up and when the officers came to the door she said she would smash them if they entered and she tried to do so, but she was also conquered after a battle, more desperate than any of the morning. Her arms were tied and soon the two wild women quieted down and began singing songs.

The Magistrate did not have the opportunity to hear all the evidence in Mrs. Lennox's case, but sentenced her to two years in the Mercer Reformatory also.

The scene was only witnessed by the witnesses, court officials and reporters. Before the case began the court room was crowded and the Magistrate had the room cleared of all except those interested.

The prisoners were taken to the county goal this morning and en route they protested against the treatment they were given. They were handcuffed to the wall, and when they were taken to the jail they were handcuffed to the wall, and when they were taken to the jail they were handcuffed to the wall.

CHANGES IN BICYCLES.

Tubing Will be Larger and the Weight Increased—Other Improvements.

The changes in the bicycle of 1896 will just be as numerous as they were in the wheel of 1895. They will not be so noticeable to those who are not experts, for the improvements will be in the running gear, while this year the change was principally in the frame. The frame of the bike for next year will be a little different, however, for the tubing of all probability will be larger all around. The tubing of 1895 was larger than that used in 1894 but it will be bigger than ever next season. Both manufacturers and wheelmen have taken kindly to the large tubing and they give their opinion without hesitancy that it gives a wheel a better appearance and that it is more suitable as far as practicability is concerned. Most of the manufacturers in the United States and Canada have adopted tubing 1 1/8 inches in diameter for the top and lower rails and for the seat post. For the head the tubing will be 1 1/4 inches. The material used in the forks will be 5/8 and 3/4 inch in diameter.

Experts on wheels this season have concentrated their efforts towards removing the friction incident to the present means of propulsion. It is the expert's duty to remove the friction at every point possible and turn out a wheel as rigid and as strong as possible, and at the same time to keep it down in weight. The enquiry of many of the experts have been upon the chain-rod. Dozens of new schemes and chains have been experimented with, but none have the simplicity desired by the manufacturer.

THE SIZE THE SAME.

There will be no change in the size of the wheels, but more spokes will be used in the new wheels. Barrel tubes will be all the go. They are much larger than in use this season, but the barrel tube is in uniformity with the big tubing, and will of course look quite in place. Besides these changes much attention is being paid to the construction of the crank hanger, bearing parts and the joints of the frame, as well as the adjustment of the saddles and the shape of the handles. There is a tendency to substitute wider handles on the pattern than were used in 1895. They will not, however, reach the handles of 1893 in this respect.

The base of nearly all the wheels to be manufactured next season will be shorter, and, as a consequence, will bring the front and rear wheels closer together, making the machine more rigid and strengthening it a great deal.

Manufacturers promise little reduction in the price of bicycles next spring. The advancement in the price of tubing and nearly everything else connected with the building of wheels will serve to keep the price of bicycles up. As long as tubing is concerned as it is at present the manufacturers will have an opportunity to demand a price almost as large as he has been getting for the wheel of 1895.

Canadian dealers have protected themselves by the organization of a Cycle Board of Trade. All the manufacturers and dealers, by becoming members of this organization, have pledged themselves to stand by one another and maintain a uniform figure for wheels.

Tandems have become very popular, and many will be used next season. The output this year was very small and was not more than 1,000 in America. The popularity of tandem riding has made itself felt, and there will be at least 10,000 constructed in 1896.

LADIES' WHEELS.

Much attention has been paid to the manufacture of ladies' wheels by the expert. Early this year it was well nigh impossible to get a wheel with a drop frame, especially of the lighter class. None of this trouble will exist next season, for some concern in the United States are going in to build ladies' bicycles entirely.

A very important and one of the first questions the prospective purchaser enquires of the dealer is regarding the weight of the machine. The difference in this year's wheel from the one of 1894 in this respect was great, but it will not be so with the pattern to be used next year. If anything, next year's bike will be a trifle heavier. The extra weight will be caused by the larger tubing and the tires. The new tires will have a thicker outside shoe to protect them from punctures, and this will add to the weight.

Some of the bicycle manufacturers have made known their intentions of having a new sort of a brake on their wheels next year. It will not be after the plan of the old time contrivance, but will work in connection with the front sprocket wheel. The new brake will differ from the old one in many respects. It will not be visible to the eye, and it will only work when the rider brake pedals. The new appliance will not hinder the speed of the machine as long as the wheelman pedals forward. Since the old time brake, which worked from the handles, has been dropped, it has been dangerous for wheelman to descend hills when journeying through the country. Several tests have been made with this new brake on all kind of machines, and it has been pronounced a success. A firm in Toronto have decided to place the new contrivance upon their wheels. The weight of the machine would only be increased about five or six ounces.

.... A Christmas Greeting ....

NCE again, I come to greet ye,
From my mystic home afar,
Where a ray of blessed rapture
Ever gleameth from a star,
That above a lonely stable
Shed its radiance long ago,
Where the precious Babe of Beth'lem,
Shivered in a manger low.

"I have come to share my treasures,
Where poor needy mortals be,
And to bring the peace of heaven,
Where dissension sad I see,
And to cheer the heart of sorrow,
Smooth the lonely brow of age,
Grace a thornless wreath of roses
On the old year's fading page.

"I shall breath a word of solace,
Where a mother weeps alone,
For some baby-hand that never
More on earth shall press her own.
I shall bring in spirit closer
Those who rest beneath the clay,
With the living hearts that mourn them,
On my happy festal day.

"But my sweetest earthly mission,
Since the Blessed Babe first smiled,
Has been e'er to render pleasure
Unto ev'ry little child;
So I wish you each to help me,
Share among them all my cheer,
For, remember that I only Come from heaven once a year.

CHRISTMAS GREETING.

The TIMES extends to its many readers "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Cleveland did not know it was loaded.

It is a crying shame that John Bull should refuse to longer entrust his money with Uncle Sam.

Grover ought to issue another manifesto ordering the confiscation of John Bull's money before it all gets away from the United States.

The lash which President Cleveland prepared for John Bull has turned into a whip of scorpions and is being applied to the back of Uncle Sam himself.

Sir John Lubbock says that if a man ate as much as a spider does, he would in each twenty-four hours require two whole oxen, ten well-grown pigs, and four barrels of fish.

The Hamilton Spectator puts it this way: "Perhaps the intense desire of the 'Christian' people of the United States to have Lord Salisbury adopt an aggressive policy with Turkey has something to do with the present relations of the United States and Great Britain. It would be a smart thing to get Britain embroiled in a war for the protection of the Armenians and then take advantage of the situation by jumping on her back."

Bear trappers in the State of Washington have utilized a novel device for their purpose this season. Bruin is known to be very fond of honey, and with this weakness as a basis the hunters rigged up some ordinary beer kegs with a small quantity of sweet in each. One end of the keg is removed and a number of nails driven through the staves from the outside. The keen-scented bear dives in for the honey, but he cannot back out again, and, handicapped with the keg over his head, he falls an easy prey.

A Run Down Condition.

"I suffered great weakness in a run down condition after having the grip and I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and found it to be just as recommended. My son has been relieved of rheumatism by using Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. R. Meyer, Zephyr, Ont.

HOOD'S PILLS cure biliousness, indigestion.

The January Number of the Delineator is Called the Winter Holiday Number.

The Fashion articles for the month are timely and complete, covering the entire field of styles for Ladies, Misses and children, Millinery, Lingerie, Dress Goods and Trimmings. The rich holiday display in the shops is interestingly described. Mrs. Roger A. Pryor's article on the Social Code relates to Society Balls and Parties for Children. The space devoted to Woman's Work and Advancement includes a thoughtful conversation between Edith M. Thomas and Dr. S. S. Elliott on Women's Business, and interesting paper by Miss Margaret McNaughton discussing Architecture as a Profession for Women, a graphic description by Lucia M. Robbins of Woman's Work at the Atlanta Exposition, Harriet Keith Forbes' directions for Burnt Decorations upon cardboard, and the continuation of Sara Miller Kirby's Kindergarten Articles. The first of a brief series of Papers on the care of the Teeth, by a well known New York dentist, will be found exceptionally valuable. Mrs. A. B. Longstreet describes the Carving of Meats, and in Seasonable Cookery Impromptu Luncheon Menus receive attention. In Mrs. Witherspoon's Tea-Table Gossip are noted some new Home-Made Holiday Gifts. The review of Holiday Publications includes mention of many particularly intended for young readers. The novelties in Knitting, Tatting, Crocheting and Lace-Making are illustrated and described.

The Montreal Star offers to equip a regiment with Lee-Metford rifles, in the event of war, and also to make a weekly allowance towards the families of any of the members of the regiment who have been such dependent upon them while absent from home on active service. The TIMES has not a sufficient bank account to enable it to follow the patriotic example of its big contemporary, but it is willing to sacrifice all its relations on the gory field of battle in defense of our beloved country, should occasion require it. It is all very well for millionaire newspapers to offer money, but what is that to one's own flesh and blood?

A bicyclist in England who killed a man by running against him on the highway has been set to prison on conviction of manslaughter for four months. The New York Sun, on the suggestion of this incident, calls attention to a fact that may not be known to many wheelmen. It says: "Brewers' wagons, and cable cars, and a great many wheelmen, have done a great deal to spread the idea that while pedestrians are supreme on the sidewalks, vehicles rule the roadway. The truth is otherwise. On the street, as well as on the sidewalk, the right of way belongs to the man afoot, and don't you forget it."

The result of the census taken the other day in Berlin has caused some surprise. It shows the total population of the German capital to be 1,674,112, whereof 797,186 are males and 876,926 females. The estimate, based on the periodical returns of births and deaths and of departures and arrivals, which in Prussia have to be reported to the police, had shown, as worked out on November 10, a total population of 1,757,898. Moreover, the increase in the population during the last five years, according to Monday's census, has been only 6 per cent, as against 20 per cent, between 1882 and 1890, and 16 per cent, between 1880 and 1885. The explanation lies in the enormous growth of the suburbs as compared with Berlin proper.

Professor J. McVior Tyndal, Mystic, of Los Angeles, California, was buried alive on January 7, and will be buried for thirty days. "Man's estate men," says the express of last week, "have called on him and the location of the burial ground will be decided on and made known during the coming week. Two well known restaurant men have already invited Professor Tyndal to a first meal after his thirty days' interment, and numbers of people will without doubt watch the resurrected Tyndal eat it if he is ever able to eat after so many days' lingering in the jaws of death. The outcome of this great Indian adept's test will be watched with interest. Professor Tyndal has made a will leaving all of his property to the newspaper workers of Los Angeles."

COMMON SENSE REQUIRED

WHAT MR. CLEVELAND LACKED IN THE VENEZUELAN QUESTION.

Gladstone's Message of Peace—A Re-awakening Over the Border—Comments of the English Press—The Venezuelan Commission.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The despatch which Mr. Gladstone sent to Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World, in answer to the latter's request for a message to the American people on the Venezuelan question, has attracted wide attention here and elsewhere. Mr. Pulitzer telegraphed that American sentiment was the turning point, and that once turned the wrong way no power on earth could hold it back, and that a word of peace and fellowship from Mr. Gladstone would aid to check clamour, to soothe passion, to encourage sober thought, and may avert calamity. In reply, Mr. Gladstone cabled: "Dare not interfere. Only common sense required. Cannot say more with advantage."

The St. James' Gazette, commenting upon Mr. Gladstone's message, to the proprietor of the New York World, says: "Common sense would have avoided the shock which has been given to both countries. It will find its way out; but it is the Americans who must supply the peaceful path, which they are fully capable of."

WILL NOT BE RECOGNIZED. The Commission says that the names of the gentlemen suggested as the members of the Venezuelan High Commission are above suspicion for integrity, experience and good judgment. Unhappily the body itself is, in a diplomatic sense, hors concours. Its findings will not be recognized by Great Britain.

The Daily News, referring to the excitement in America, says: "The community has rightly itself from unwisdom to wisdom in a day and a night. We may all be proud of this. As surely no other race in the world could have passed from the same time. We must be careful to guard against all language calculated to provoke reaction." Although the reaction may not be triumphant it is satisfactory to find that the Americans, whether they dislike it or not, are hesitating to incur the guilt of breaking the peace of the civilized world for such a contemptible cause and in vindication of claims repudiated by all the nations of the old world. President Cleveland's manifest incapacity to understand the effect of what he was doing when he sent such a warlike message to the Congress has shattered the confidence felt in him as a pillar of sound finance and a mainstay of the public credit. The renewal therefore of his proposal of currency reform after he himself has made them impossible has dashed the hopes of his friends and set his opponents to work to turn his errors to account.

CEMENTING THE EMPIRE. It is now clear, says the Times, that Mr. Cleveland's financial proposals have no chance of passing. Deeply as we must regret that the controversy has arisen, we can at all events rejoice in the demonstration it has afforded of the unity of our national sentiment, especially the attachment of our Canadian fellow subjects to the Crown. Good may come out of the evil if the incident should leave the Canadians to strengthen their organization and admonish us at home to strain every nerve to retain that indisputable command of the sea on which the empire depends.

THE COMMISSION OF THREE. The Venezuela boundary commission will probably not be announced by President Cleveland until the latter part of this week or the first part of next week. It will consist most likely of three members. The President's aim is to put on the commission only such men as will inspire respect and confidence on both sides of the Atlantic and whose acquirements will be acknowledged by the world of statesmanship, science and letters. In making the selections men with whom politics is simply an incident and not their profession will be preferred and one close to the President is authority for the statement that probably not a single name so far mentioned will be found on the commission. The President is searching the universities and colleges of the country for suitable men. Secretary Olney is in daily consultation with the President in this matter.

NO FRIENDS THERE. NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A special to the Herald from Vienna says: The conviction is gaining ground here that President Cleveland has committed a huge blunder. The comments of the press are becoming daily more severe and especially after the crash on the Vienna bourse, which resulted directly from the President's message. Not a single journal in Austria takes the side of Mr. Cleveland.

DIABETES CURABLE.

Given up to Die—Dose Dodd's Kidney Pills and is Cured by Eight Boxes.

Special to The Times.

KIRKFIELD, Dec. 23.—Mr. Duncan McKenzie, miller and lumberman of this place had returned from Kansas lately. Had failed in health and strength, had lost fifty pounds in weight. Was given up by his physician as well as by specialists in Toronto, and by himself and friends. Now comes a change.—He says in a letter to Dodd's Medicine Co.: "After coming to help with your Dodd's Kidney Pills, 100 help inside of two weeks, I took eight boxes in eight weeks, am completely cured, not a symptom left, general health good. Have regained my old health and weight. Had been bothered with heart and liver, both have vanished with the diabetes. I can walk briskly for miles instead of crawling as before. Am a member of the President of the Toronto Street Railway Co. and well known here. Diabetes is set down as incurable—But Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure."

REAL WAR IN THE EAST.

Turkish Troops at Zeitoun Instructed to Spare Neither Man, Woman nor Child.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The Constantinople correspondent of the United Press telegraphing under date of Dec. 21 says: An official telegram received there from Zeitoun reports that the Turkish troops which have been advancing for some time upon the latter place, made a successful ambush and were victorious but withdrew to Marash, which place offered better facilities for the encampment of the troops. The correspondent says also that other reports of the engagement have it that the Armenians won a victory over the Turkish troops and took about 100 of them prisoners. Letters received in Constantinople from the interior show that orders have been issued to the Turkish soldiers to spare neither man, woman nor child.

HONOUR OF WAR.

A Protestant clergyman, pastor of a church in Zeitoun, has acted in the capacity in the peace between Turks and Armenians at that place, the latter being in possession of the town. A division of the Turkish army has advanced to Giben, two days' march from Zeitoun. Upon the appearance of troops, the inhabitants of the town, about 2,000 persons, fled and took refuge in Zeitoun, leaving their cattle and other property. The soldiers are burning all of the houses and their contents, provisions, etc., as they go along.

LOOKING AFTER THAT $500

ADOLPH ROSENTHAL THINKS THAT THE CITY SHOULD PAY HIM THE REWARD.

His Lawyer's Letter—The Resolution of the Toronto Council Offering a Reward for the Conviction of Incendiaries.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 24.—Adolph Rosenthal, the chief witness in the Osgoody fire case, by whose evidence "Win" McMillan was sent to Kingston penitentiary for ten years, wants a reward of $500 from the city of Toronto. His lawyer writes as follows to the City Clerk: "Mr. A. Rosenthal has instructed me to apply to you for payment of the $500 reward offered by the city to the party who should give the information leading to the discovery of the person who set fire to the Osgoody building. As you are aware, the information which led to the conviction of McMillan was given by Mr. Rosenthal, who is therefore entitled to the reward."

Rosenthal's claim is based upon the following resolution adopted by the City Council at a meeting on Sept. 19: "Alfred Lamb seconded Ald. McMarich, moves that the President of the Council, under the provisions of Sec. 481 of the Municipal Act, publish a proclamation offering a reward of $500 for information that will lead to the conviction of any party or parties who willfully, by their incendiary acts, destroyed any premises within the municipality of Toronto; and also, that a further sum of $100 be offered as a reward for any information that will lead to the conviction of any party or parties attempting to destroy, by their incendiary acts, any premises within the city of Toronto, exclusive of cases now pending before the court."

BATTLE NEAR COLON.

In Which the Cuban Rebels Achieve a Victory—An Impetus to the Revolt.

Special to The Times.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A special to the Herald from Havana says: A battle has been fought near the city of Colon, in which the Government troops were defeated, and their leaders are reported to have been killed. The rebels were commanded by General Antonio Maceo. They were fairly well armed and equipped with rifles and cannon. The revolution is declared to be assuming more serious aspect every day, and the Government forces are becoming apprehensive of the outlook. The Government appears to be growing weaker in the eyes of the people, and the planters of the island are greatly disturbed and uncertain as to the future. NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A despatch to the Herald from Nassau, N.P., says: Advice received here from Cuba state that a big battle has been fought in Palmarito district of Ramon De Las Yaguas, between a force of 1,200 Spanish troops under General Canella, and nearly 3,000 Cubans, in which the rebels were victorious. The Cubans, it is stated, were poorly armed and equipped, but full of enthusiasm. During the battle the revolutionists fled a retreat and the Government troops were led into a trap. The rebels then closed in on all sides, and inflicted great slaughter upon the Spanish troops. The Government troops were forced to fall back before the triumphant rebel army, and retreated to Guantanamo. Cuban advisers also say that a battle has been fought in the Province of Puerto Principe, in which the rebels were defeated, after a fight lasting seven hours. After the battle the Cubans fell back into a valley, burning all the cane upon several sugar estates. The total loss of the Spanish or the rebel forces is not known.

SAD SHOOTING FATALITY.

SAD CHRISTMAS IN THE HOME OF A FAMILY AT BARRIE.

Were Hunting Together. One of the Mintys Fired at a Squirrel and the Bullet Entered His Brother's Brain. Special to The Times.

BARRIE, Dec. 24.—A sad shooting fatality occurred at Dalston yesterday, when John C. Minty was accidentally shot through the brain by his brother and was instantly killed.

It appears that the three Minty brothers went out shooting, and having separated, one of them shot at a squirrel, and in so doing shot his brother, whom he did not know was in such dangerous proximity. The deceased was only seventeen years of age. The funeral takes place on Christmas Day. It is said the young man who did the shooting is in a dejected condition over his terrible mistake.

WHERE IS BOSQUET.

The Cashier of the Bank Du Peuple Cannot Be Found.

Special to The Times.

MONTREAL, Dec. 24.—J. S. Bosquet, the cashier of the Bank du Peuple, whose mismanagement was made public after a meeting of shareholders the other day, has left the city and there are speculations as to whether or not he intends to return. At the meeting of shareholders the other day there was talk of prosecuting Bosquet, but no immediate action was taken. However, a warrant was issued yesterday charging him with conspiracy to defraud, but it is doubtful if it can be executed. Several trunks, supposed to be Bosquet's, left the city for Denver, Col., on Saturday. "Bosquet has certainly left the city," said the bank's president yesterday, although the missing man's son said he was confined to bed with brain fever.

GREENWAY'S COUP GOES.

Politics in the Prairie Province—Victory Predicted for the Government.

Special to The Times.

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 24.—The suddenness with which the Provincial elections were brought on rather took the public breath away, no one outside of the Government and a small circle of confidential friends having any idea what was intended. The campaign is now being started in earnest, but it is conceded on all hands that Greenway has played a trump card and will be sure to win by a magnificent majority. Indeed it is not contemplated that any candidates will be run in the English constituencies opposed to Greenway's school policy. Many predict on the other hand that there will be a dozen Government acclamations, as the Opposition took no interest in the revision of the lists, being so disgusted with the policy of the Dominion Government, which they felt was calculated to wreck the party in this province. It is likely, however, that some Patrons will be nominated in rural constituencies, and that the Government's five candidates will be put in the field, but it is believed they will run as supporters of national schools. The Free Press, which leans toward the Conservative party, admits to-day that Greenway is "sure of a greater majority than he now has."

Advertising a Failure.

Advertising a failure, at least it has proved so in its having failed to bring forward one bad axe out of the large number of Ridgway Pennsylvania axes sold by us last year for which we have offered in the Times for some weeks two new ones for each. Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of crosscut saws this year for which we claim that they will saw faster, keep sharper longer and give better satisfaction than any other. The book is so interesting that many friends here will be pleased to learn that he has succeeded in obtaining advance orders for a large number of the book, and is about to have an edition printed in French for lumbermen unable to read English. His son, Messrs. Thompson, who attends the Collegiate here, is now writing the book to Lindsay subscribers. —Lindsay Post.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

THE TIMES wishes its thousands of readers A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year. We hope they will spend the day merrily; that Gladness will guard the portals of the home, Cheerfulness preside at the hearth, and Plenty adorn the banquetting board.

The anniversary of the natal day of Christ, the Saviour, is a season of gladness. The Shepherds who watched the flocks by night were filled with a wondrous joy when enjoined by the Heavenly choir: "Peace on Earth; Good Will to Men," and with good will filling their hearts they pushed onward to Bethlehem to do homage to the New Born King. This spirit of goodwill will to the poor and friendless which shall find expression in gifts from those who have plenty to give those unfortunately situated. We sincerely trust that the poor of Peterborough will be enabled, through the good will of those who have plenty, to spend a merry Christmas, that they, too, may echo the joyous song: "Peace on Earth; Good Will to Men."

Roping a Wild Elephant.

With the two ropes ready, All approached the elephant from behind, for it was his hind legs he was attempting to secure. Twenty feet or twenty feet off he made the end of one of the ropes fast to a tree, and then inch by inch, covered the intervening distance. At last, after much painful effort, he lay at full length almost touching the animal, the two nooses lying over one behind each pillar like leg. Giving a last glance to see that the rope he had fastened was clear, he took the noose and pushed it forward until it touched one foot. To get it on the leg the elephant must by some means be induced to raise his foot. With a long thorn All gently poked the other leg, just as a fly might irritate it, for the pachyderma, in spite of their thick hides, are very sensitive to the bites of insects. Slowly the foot he was endeavoring to secure rose and rubbed the spot he had poked. As it left the ground the noose was slipped over beneath it, so as encircle it when replaced. Then after a moment's pause, with steady, unflinching hand the noose was raised and lightly raised. When the elephant felt the contact of the rope he at once, with the other foot, attempted to shove it off down to the ground. This action allowed All to slip the second noose into place. After another moment both nooses were raised and still with gentle touch drawn tight, one on each leg. The elephant at once moved forward, but before it could feel the check of the tree to which it was attached. All had glided away and had taken a turn round another trunk with the second rope and made it fast. Nor was he a moment too soon, for, suspecting danger, the elephant dashed forward with a mighty rush. When it reached the end of its tether its hind legs were pulled from under and it was thrown to the ground.—Ouling for November.

Only Two More Places to Hear From—Great Excitement in Orangeville—Had the Weather Been More Favorable a Larger Vote Would Have Been Polled, Special to The Times.

ORANGEVILLE, Dec. 24.—The returns compiled at Orangeville at eight o'clock this evening give W. Stubbs, the McCarthyite candidate, a majority of 240, with two places to hear from.

All day yesterday the streets of Orangeville presented an unusually busy appearance. Knots of men animatedly discussing election matters were seen at every street corner.

The Queen's hotel, the headquarters of the Conservative candidate, especially was crowded since early morning with workers and voters, rig after rig leaving for the different polling places filled with voters from a distance, who arrived by train.

Had the weather been more favorable it is thought that a much larger vote would have been polled; but a fairly good return was made, however, the electors being worked up to a high pitch of excitement. The several committees did splendid work for their candidates, and up to noon it was exceedingly hard to make a guess at the winning candidate, public opinion being about equally divided.

Mr. Dalton McCarthy returned to Toronto yesterday afternoon fully confident that Stubbs would be elected. When interviewed by a press representative Mr. McCarthy said: "There is no question as to the result. After a thorough canvass of the whole district our returns show a majority of 400 for Stubbs over Willoughby, with the Grit candidate simply out in the race."

THE RETURNS.

The following are the returns as received by special wire yesterday:

ORANGEVILLE, 5.30 p.m.—The first return received from Cardwell is as follows: at Ingleswood—Willoughby (Con.) 21; Stubbs (McCarthyite) 36; Henry (Lib.) 42. At No. 1 Polling Booth—in Bolton—Willoughby, 18; Stubbs, 24; Henry, 30.

ORANGEVILLE, 6 p.m.—Three places in Cardwell give Willoughby, 84; Stubbs, 76; Henry, 47.

BOLTON, 6.15 p.m.—Willoughby, 73; Stubbs, 70; Henry, 35.

CARDWELL, 6.30 p.m.—Henry, 15; Stubbs, 138; Willoughby, 43.

ORANGEVILLE, 7.30 p.m.—Thirteen places give Willoughby, 676; Stubbs, 779; Henry, 221.

ORANGEVILLE, 7.40 p.m.—Twenty places give Willoughby, 1010; Stubbs, 1201; Henry, 278.

ORANGEVILLE, 8 p.m.—Returns compiled in Orangeville give Stubbs 240 majority with two places to hear from.

A REFUTATION.

Editor Morning Times.

DEAR SIR,—I notice in your issue of the 17th inst. a letter over the signature of C. W. Sawers, endeavoring to dispute certain statements made by me at the Lady True Blue Social held on the evening of Dec. 3rd, namely, that he was not an invited speaker at the celebration held under the auspices of L. O. L. No. 321, at Downers Corners on Nov. 5th, and that he himself asked to be allowed to speak for three minutes to make some historical reference that he was hissed to such an extent that little or nothing could be gathered from what he said, and that the officers of the lodge, surmising that he wished to create the impression that they endorsed his action on the Manitoba school question, sent a letter to the Orange Sentinel setting forth the conditions under which he was permitted to speak.

In attempting to refute my statements, he quotes from a letter written by himself and signed by his chief dupe, J. Graham Weir, to the effect that some person was elected to the hall for hissing him during the delivery of his "historical" address. I enclose you, sir, for your perusal a declaration signed by 48 ladies and gentlemen who were present to the effect that no person whatever was elected from the hall on that occasion and further that they heard me called upon by the chairman to address the meeting and heard me speak in the presence of J. G. Weir and C. W. Sawers that he was not invited to be present and had no business there and this statement was not contradicted by any person present. They also declared that instead of being disgusted with what Mr. Weir calls my few insulting remarks they were received with prolonged cheers by all present.

Mr. Weir is quoted as having said that he hoped at their future entertainments the hissing would absent themselves. My reply to that is that if all that hissed absent themselves there will only be himself and a few of his relatives present. A statement appears in the letter in which Mr. J. Graham Weir denies having subscribed his name as a member of a special committee to report on the conduct of Mr. Sawers for his slanderous misstatements regarding myself, and further saying that no such report or resolution condemnatory of Mr. Sawers was ever passed by L. O. L. No. 321. He also accuses someone of adding his name to this report without his authority. I enclose the original report, so that you can see the name of J. G. attached in his own handwriting. Mr. Editor, and the names of seven persons who witnessed him affix his signature to it.

Mr. Sawers winds up his letter by making the statement that none of my four or five friends were re-elected to office at the meeting of L. O. L. No. 321 held on the 10th inst. There has been no election of officers yet in Lodge 321. The election will take place on Tuesday, the 31st of this month. Mr. Sawers, as agent for Dr. Alfred Hall's "patent medicine," must be doing a very poor business, and his practice as a lawyer must have gone completely to the dog when he can afford to devote so much of his time in company with "Detective" Weir, combing and concealing such mammoth and notorious falsehoods.

It is not my intention to take any more notice of the falsely slanderous statements of these political wirepullers and place hunters who expect to gain a Government office in return for their advocacy of Separate schools for Catholics. Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain, sir, Yours truly,

READ WHAT PHYSICIANS SAY OF POND'S EXTRACT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29, 1894.
I have used "Pond's Extract" for many years and always insist upon my patients getting "Pond's," not the ordinary Extract, which is often a very poor article. W. K. BROWN, M. D.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9, 1895.
I use Pond's Extract a great deal in my practice. I think it very valuable in all venous enlargements.

J. L. BRADFORD, M. D.
SANTA BARBARA, CAL., Nov. 27, 1894.

I have been using Pond's Extract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the experience you mention of druggists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't believe it. I use Pond's Extract a great deal as an antiseptic in combination with glycerine and carbolic acid. I think it far superior to any antiseptic known. F. G. FLOURNOY, M. D.

COLUMBIA, PA., Jan. 18, 1895.
I have been a constant user of Pond's Extract since 1852, and do not expect to discontinue it while I live. S. ARMOR, M. D.

CHELSEA, MASS., Nov. 8, 1894.
I have made diseases of the skin a specialty for thirty years, and am free to say I know of no remedy that has given me such perfect satisfaction as Pond's Extract in cases for which it is recommended.

G. W. BABCOCK, M. D.

I know Pond's Extract to be a valuable remedy, and shall continue its use whenever the opportunity offers.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 27 1895

INDICATED BY THUMBS.

Alleged indication of Nervous Derangement Commonly Observed.

"When I went to a nerve specialist first," said a man who was once an invalid, "he told me that one way of judging the condition of a person's nerves was to watch his thumbs. Ever since that time I have found the greatest satisfaction in looking at people's thumbs. The doctor said that if they moved involuntarily outward it was a sign that the nerves of that man or woman were not in the best condition. I find myself now sweeping the line that sits opposite me in a car, and if that doctor's test is a good one there is a surprising number of people in this town whose nerves need looking after. There are few among the women who do not involuntarily move the thumbs outward at intervals of every few minutes, and when your attention has once been attracted to it the process of watching their hands grows very interesting. I have found the habit much less frequent among men; but take the average number of women in a cable car and it will be a surprise to you to see how many of them indulge unconsciously in this little habit. I only hope it does not mean anything as serious as it might indicate if that nerve specialist's diagnosis was a good one."

HIGHWAYMEN IN ROSEDALE.

Several Ladies waylaid and Robbed of Their Valuables.

Special to The Times.

TOMONTO, Dec. 26.—The unprotected neighborhood in the Rosedale section has become a sort of hunting ground for most impudent robbers, and several reports of misdeeds by highwaymen have come in to the police.

On Christmas eve a man attacked a lady on Park road and, besides giving her a terrible fright, relieved her of her money, which, fortunately, amounted to only $1.50.

The scene of another outrage of a similar nature was laid on the Hurley street bridge, where a man seized a lady and forcibly demanded her money. She screamed lustily and the robber became alarmed and fled. Citizens in the neighborhood are beginning to clamor for additional police protection.

Twenty thousand roses.
There are nearly 20,000 rose trees in bloom now at Dunlop's conservatories Bloor street west, Toronto. Visitors are always welcome. ### HIS LORDSHIP ARRIVES

To Substantiate His Charges—Reached New York Yesterday.—The Committee Will Hold a Hearing Tomorrow in Private.

Special to The Times.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The Earl of Dunraven, accompanied by Mr. Arthur Glennie, ex-commander of the Royal Portsmouth Yacht Club, and George Asquith, his legal adviser, arrived in this city on board the Teutonic last evening. Mr. H. Maitland Kersey, his Lordship's American representative, met the Earl down the bay and brought him to the city on a White Star line tug.

Lord Dunraven's purpose in crossing the ocean is to endeavor to substantiate the charge of foul play made by him against the Defender and which has caused so much talk and ill feeling. He brings with him depositions of a number of the Valer's crew and Mr. Glennie will also testify. It is expected that Mr. Asquith will be allowed to appear before the committee and conduct Earl Dunraven's case.

The Earl's charge, in brief, is that after the Defender had been measured for the cup races, she was secretly loaded with lead ballast, so as to sink her four inches deeper in the water, in which condition she sailed her first race and that directly after the contest the ballast was removed, so that when remeasured next day no discrepancy was found. The Earl does not say that Mr. Asquith or the other owners knew of this fraud, but as the lead could not have been put on board without their knowledge, the charge amounts to the same thing.

The New York Yacht Club appointed a committee, composed of J. Pierpont Morgan, W. C. Whitney and Geo. L. Rives, to investigate and take action, and the first hearing is set for tomorrow. The hearing will be private.

HAVE NOT YET ACCEPTED.

Phelps and Lincoln Asked to Serve on the Venezuelan Commission.

Special to The Times.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—A morning paper has the following special from Washington: The President has tendered places on the Venezuela High Commission to Edward J. Phelps, of Vermont, ex-Minister to England. Their acceptances have not been received, and the third place on the High Commission will not be filled until Mr. Phelps and Mr. Lincoln accept.

Mr. Lincoln was Secretary Olney's own selection, and it is said that Chief Justice Fuller, of Illinois, strongly recommended him on the ground that a report signed by two former American Ministers to England, both of whom have been warmly praised by the British press for many years, will have much weight in Great Britain. It is urged that public opinion in England cannot ascribe to such men as Phelps and Lincoln any prejudice against England, where they are both very popular.

The third member of the commission is likely to be one of the associate justices of the United States Supreme Court, probably either Justice Brewer or Justice Brown. Mr. Harlan, whose selection was strongly urged by several Senators, is not considered by the President.

Julian and Fitz Part.

EL PASO, TEXAS, Dec. 26.—Martin Julian and Bob Fitzsimmons had some words last night at the opera house where Fitzsimmons was giving an exhibition and Julian announced to reporters this morning he would have nothing more to do with Fitzsimmons. It is thought the quarrel may be patched up.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Weather.

Probable: Unsettled, turning to sleet or snow, becoming considerably colder.

Norwood Elections.

Mr. John Finley, ex-reverend of the village of Norwood, will be a candidate for the reversion of the post office. A Montreal man has just been fined forty dollars for delivering letters in that city for merchants. The gist of the act is that no one but the Postmaster General can deliver mail, send or deliver letters in Canada, and the penalty for infringement of this law is a fine of twenty dollars for each letter delivered.

Annual Entertainment.

The annual Christmas entertainment under the auspices of Mark street Methodist Sunday school was held in the town hall, Ashburnham, Christmas evening. The program contributed by the children was much enjoyed, and the Christmas tree was of special interest to the young people.

May Invite Dunraven.

The arrival of Earl Dunraven in New York on Christmas Day set the gentlemen of this city to talk of renewing their invitation to his Lordship to visit Toronto as their guest at a complimentary banquet. It is likely that the talk will take formal shape, and that a meeting will be held on an early date to take the necessary steps for the forwarding of the invitation.—Mail and Empire.

A Law of General Interest.

There are few indeed aware of the law forbidding the conveyance of a letter except through the post office. A Montreal man has just been fined forty dollars for delivering letters in that city for merchants. The gist of the act is that no one but the Postmaster General can deliver mail, send or deliver letters in Canada, and the penalty for infringement of this law is a fine of twenty dollars for each letter delivered.

Mr. McCallum's Guessing Contest.

There was a great deal of excitement at Mr. McCallum's restaurant on Christmas Day. It was caused by the large crowd of people who were waiting the announcement of the winner of the doll. The winner was Mr. George Stevens, of Ashburnham, who guessed 1850; his guests being only eight less than the number of candles contained in the jar. Mr. Stevens had thirty-nine chances.

An Empty House Burned.

The fire brigade were called out last evening at 8:30 o'clock. They quickly responded to the call, but when they reached the scene, an empty, rough cast house on the east side of Downey street, between Simcoe and Hunter streets, the flames had already gained considerable headway, and despite their indefatigable efforts to save the building it was pretty well gutted before they succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Christmas Letters.

The receipt of letters at the Toronto Postoffice during Christmas season have been absolutely unprecedented. Last week 416,000 pieces passed through the office, an increase of 31,000 compared with the corresponding period of last year. The English mail of Monday and Tuesday was extremely heavy, there being an apparent falling off in the number of cards and an increase in the number of small presents. The totals for the present week will be record-breaking.—Midland Empire.

At the Opera House.

Max O'Reil, the gifted humorist, was greeted with only a fair, but exceedingly select and appreciative, audience last night. His lecture, "John Bull, Sandy and Pat," was enthusiastically received and his witty and humorous reminiscences kept his audience convulsed with laughter. His style of discourse is extremely captivating and his true-to-life interpretations of the English, Irish and Scotch characteristics are irresistibly funny, while at the same time plentifully interspersed with undeniable truths, told in such a manner that it is impossible to take offence.

A Christmas Wedding.

A very pretty wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Lancelotti, of London, formerly of Ridgeway, on Christmas morning, the contracting parties being Miss Lora Loretta Green, B.A., only daughter of Mr. H. M. Green, and Mr. Wm. F. Kenham, B.A., Principal of the Brockville Collegiate Institute. The bride was beautifully attired in white silk, and a lovely bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Fanny Frobenham, sister of the bridegroom. Mr. Duncan Walker, of Brockville, was groomsmen. Many beautiful and beautiful presents were given. There was a large number of guests. The home was beautifully decorated. A happy couple left for Peterborough on train.

DEATH OF MRS. TOOLE

The Deceased Formerly Lived in Peterborough and is Well Known.

The death of Mrs. Toole, wife of Mr. Wm. Toole, who a few years ago conducted a planing mill business on the site of the Rathbun Co.'s premises, Bethune street, will be learned with regret by her many friends in town. We clip the following obituary notice from a Manitoba paper: "It will be with the most profound feelings of regret that the many friends will learn of the death of Margaret Thornton, wife of William Toole, Esq., of Grassmere, which sad event occurred on Tuesday, Dec. 26, at 4 o'clock p.m., after scarcely twenty-four hours illness. She was attacked with paralysis on Monday evening and remained unconscious up to the time of her death. She passed away quietly, surrounded by the members of her family. The deceased lady was in her 68th year, and was a devoted wife and mother. A husband, five sons and one daughter survive her, and the sorrowing relatives have the sympathy of the entire community in this their hour of sorrow. Mrs. Mitchell, sister of the deceased lady, and Mr. Toole, Jr., arrived from Winnipeg on Tuesday's train about fifteen minutes after the death of Mrs. Toole."

DEATH OF MR. DOUGLAS.

One of Peterborough's Oldest and Most Respected Citizens Passes Away.

Mr. Andrew Douglas, a well known and most esteemed and respected citizen died at the family residence, 52 Gilmour street, yesterday at 12:30 p.m. The deceased gentleman had been suffering severely for several weeks from malignant tumor of the parotid gland, which caused his death. He was born in Perthshire in March, 1827, and came to Canada in 1854, taking up his residence in Peterborough, where he has since resided. He followed the business of contractor and builder, and he was a master of his craft. He was concerned as contractor or superintendent of construction of several of the most important buildings in Peterborough. He built the first St. Paul's Presbyterian church and was superintendent of its erection, as well as of the rebuilding of St. Andrew's. He was superintendent of the rebuilding of the Nichols block, Simcoe street, now occupied by Hall, Gilchrist & Co. He also superintended the rebuilding of the South ward school some years ago and the building of the North ward school.

Mr. Douglas, who was a citizen of undoubted integrity and good principles, never sought any public office, although frequently requested to do so. His opinion and experience were often called upon in matters connected with his calling.

About 35 years ago the deceased gentleman was united in marriage to Miss Jessie Robertson, daughter of the late John Robertson of Perthshire, Scotland. To this union were born three children, of whom only two survive. He was a Presbyterian in religion and a Liberal in politics. The funeral will take place from the family residence on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

FOR A SMALL THEFT.

The Man of Many Names Will be Tried Before a Jury.

At the police court yesterday morning John James Carson Peacock Fletcher McDonough was charged with stealing an overcoat and a picture frame. He is elected to be tried summarily and pleaded not guilty to both charges. Mr. F. D. Kerr defended the prisoner and Mr. R. E. Wood prosecuted. The former charge was dismissed but he was committed for trial on that of stealing the picture frame.

Boating a Muskallonge.

Another rush would surely give him freedom, but one thing could be done. "I'll not let me, and to attempt to lift a fish upon the line was but to make certain of losing him. It was a case of now or never. He was rising and would surely make another dash, so, firmly but gently I drew the string until he was at the surface. A cautious lift, and he rolled over on his side, and I snubbed as I looked at the terrible array of teeth, which like the tusks of a dog, flashed at me from beneath strong jaws. But there was no alternative; my hand stole down till my fingers caught in a fierce grip inside his gills, and I had him and he had me! For a moment there was a awful splashing and commotion, and my hand felt as if it was being run through a set of cog wheels. But he came up over the side of the canoe, for I would have suffered my arm to be chewed off rather than relinquish the prize so fairly in hand. A moment later he was thrashing about on the foot boards and I thumped him with the paddle in vindictive glee, for the best was questionable who had got the best of it.—Outing for November.

A Cricketer's Souvenir.

Mr. John Wright, of the Walker House Toronto, received from England a Christmas present that was as interesting as it was beautiful. It is a plate of the finest Colport Chins. On the back is an inscription intimating that the plate is issued in commemoration of Dr. W. G. Grace's century of centuries, 1866-1895. The front of the plate is quite unique. Its centre is a likeness of Dr. Grace in the conventional cricket cap. Radiating from the portrait, which is surrounded by a laurel leaf, are wicket and bats. Every wicket bears the name of a match, the year in which it was played, and the score made by Dr. Grace. There are 90 wickets and 10 bats, and the latter, which bear similar inscriptions, indicate the scores made by Dr. Grace, of over 200. The decoration around the edge of the plate consists of cricket balls and stumps. The whole design is very complete and attractive, and forms a beautiful souvenir of the greatest living cricketer. There is only one similar plate in Canada, and it belongs to another Toronto gentleman.

CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD.

Three Gentlemen Named for Municipal Honors in Number One Ward.

Mr. W. Rudkins, after being earnestly and persistently requested by a large number of citizens to become a candidate for councillor in No. One Ward, promised yesterday to give the matter his serious consideration. It is safe to say that Mr. Rudkins will accept the nomination, and should he be elected, will make a reliable and active member of the civic board.

Mr. Richard Sheehy has also, at request of numerous citizens, consented to run for No. One Ward.

It is also reported that Mr. Wm. White, a member of the council in 1894, will again be an aspirant for municipal honors at the coming election.

Antarctic Exploring.

Three great British scientific societies are agreed that it is the duty of the British Government to fit out an expedition for thorough antarctic exploration. In November, 1893, the Royal Geographical Society appointed a notable committee to inquire into the propriety of such an expedition and report. They reported in favor of having the Government send two suitable vessels to explore the south polar regions, and keep them at it for three years. The report was adopted and transmitted to the Royal Society, which in turn appointed a powerful committee, which, in May, 1894, reported strongly in favor of the scheme. At the beginning of the present year the council of the British Association gave the plan its vigorous endorsement, and it doubtless took further action on it at its recent annual meeting in September. The plan of Dr. John Murray of the Challenger, who addressed the Royal Geographical Society on the subject two years ago, was to send out two suitable government steamships of about 1,000 tons each, have them start in September, land a company of about ten men somewhere south of Cape Horn, and another in Victoria Land, and have these parties spend two years or more ashore, exploring the antarctic continent. The ships would land the shore parties, first summer, visit them the second, and take them off the third, and would spend their own winters and all their other available time in deep sea and other observations along the outer margin of the antarctic ice.

All Must be Friends Today.

Farwell, farwell, to the grand old year; He came and he has passed away; Like the song of a bird or a fleecy cloud, On the brow of a summer day, His form was bent and his eye was dim, His locks were as white as snow, And would bid him sleep with the autumn leaves.

And the hopes of the long ago; And over him sang the moaning winds, And a soft and sweet soft air. All hail, all hail, to the queen of morn, And her steeds as fleet as air, That speed their flight o'er the mountain height, And this is the news they bear:

Awake, awake, for the night is gone From the deep blue sea so clear; Awake and haste with a welcome smile, And a song for the glad new year. Awake, awake, and the youth behold, Who comes in his bright array And these are his words to the young and old:

That all must be friends today.

Then come with joy and with social mirth, Let the momentary be the day; Bring flowers, bring flowers, for the golden hours, For all must be friends today.

A silver chime from the bell of time Takes up the tuneful lay, Let all be glad and not one be sad, For this is the New Year Day.

A GROCER'S SHOP INVADDED BY ANGRY CREDITORS.

The Career of a Smooth Young Englishman Who Is Landed by the Police in Winnipeg for Obtaining Money Under False Pretences.

Toronto, Dec. 27.—The store of John Miller, grocer, at 77 Queen street west, was this morning in a state of siege. At an early hour about a dozen creditors obtained admittance and two or three of them succeeded in carrying off the equivalent of their accounts.

A Colborne street creditor made a descent upon two barrels of sugar and endeavored to remove them to his wagon standing outside. A struggle took place and the creditor took up a position in the store and refused to leave the premises without his sugar, the other creditors keeping him company.

CREDITORS IN A ROW.

Outside in the street was a row of six or seven empty waggons the owners of which were inside fruitlessly endeavoring to obtain loads for their vehicles.

This little drama was the result of a

Wednesday night he handed the key of the store to one of his employees and has not since returned. At 8 o'clock last night the Eoy, Blain Company, who had supplied him with goods, sent to 77 Queen street west and bought up goods sufficient to cover their account and this probably was ever then account him this probably gave rise to the report. Mr. Miller had only a few days' credit with this firm and bought about $200 worth of goods at a time. His last bill, however, was not due.

FREQUENTLY ABSENTED HIMSELF.

Mr. Miller's landlady at 250 Yonge street stated to a reporter that he left his room on Thursday morning in order to take the six o'clock train to Hamilton, taking no baggage with him and leaving all his belongings behind. He had frequently absented himself for three or four days at a time and she does not consider his departure unusual. His servants at the store tell the same story.

A DISHONEST CRICKETER SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.
John Lane, a young Englishman of good family, has been sentenced at Winnipeg by Chief Justice Taylor to two years in the penitentiary for obtaining money under false pretences. Lane went round soliciting subscriptions for a mythical railroad man with a broken leg who was badly in need of funds. Lane pocketed the proceeds of his philanthropy, was found out

LIVED IN TORONTO,
Lane was well known in Parkdale, where he resided last summer. He came to Toronto about May and put up at the Gladstone House, where he gave out that he was in receipt of an income from Epsom land. He had a free and easy way with him and quickly made acquaintances. He was a familiar figure on the Parkdale cricket grounds, where he practised most assiduously and was on friendly terms with all of its members. It was not long before he had made many friends.

ere his finances went down to zero and then he began to borrow. To everybody he told the same story, that he was expecting money from home and this story was believed for a time.

EMBEZZLED CHURCH FUNDS.

Finally the landlord of the Gladstone house, became urgent in his demands for a settlement of the board bill, which had assumed formidable proportions. Then Lane undertook to sell tickets for an entertainment given in connection with St. Mark's church, Parkdale. These were given him, and Lane got rid of a number of them, but not getting rid of the

for them. But when settling day came he was $20 short, and an explanation was in order. Lane told the church authorities that he had lost the money, and would refund it as soon as his money came from England. The story was believed by some. Others a little more suspicious made enquiries and found that Lane had paid the sum of $20 as part payment of his board bill. They informed the other members of this and the result was that Lane was charged directly with the theft of the money. He confessed his guilt and the matter was hushed up, the shortage being made up by several of Lane's friends who

SKIPPED OUT.

In the meantime the Gladstone House people got wind of the affair and told him to leave. He did so and for a short time quartered himself on those of his acquaintances who were willing to harbor him.

He lived in this way for a few weeks and then left the city making his way to Winnipeg where he fell foul of the law with above results.

one of them drew a revolver and shot at Cummings, who dropped on the sidewalk. The men ran up a side street. Several persons, hearing the shot, ran to Cummings' assistance. The wounded man was removed to the General Hospital by the ambulance. Several policemen on the scene shortly after the attack but did not succeed in capturing the assailants. Cummings is doing well in the hospital.

A CLEVELAND LOOP-HOLE

THE GREAT BRITAIN - VENEZUELA CONTROVERSY MAY BE SETTLED AMICABLY.

Useful Sam Willing Endavour to Blame the Venezuelans for Making Doubtful Claims—The Only Question of Concern now is the Attitude of Venezuelans Themselves. Special to The Times

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The Washington public has settled down to the conviction that the Great Britain Venezuela controversy will be amicably settled, and without any serious friction between England and the United States.

The only feature of the Venezuelan question now of concern to the officials is the attitude of the Venezuelans themselves, as shown in dispatches from Caracas. The report of war preparations in Venezuela is seriously depressing. Intimidations have been made to the Venezuelan Government of the necessity of keeping the war spirit down. It is not the intention of the authorities to permit Venezuela to drag the United States into war. Should that country inaugurate hostilities, she would have to abide the consequences, without support, moral or otherwise, from this Government.

THE COMMISSIONERS.

A member of the Cabinet who has been consulted in the selection of the Boundary Commission, told me today that the men who have been discussed for appointment on the commission are Chief Justice Fuller and Associate Justices Brown and Harlan, of the Supreme Court; President Eliot, of Harvard College; President Seth Low, of Columbia College; President Gilman, of Johns Hopkins University; Andrew D. White, formerly President of Cornell University; Robert T. Lincoln, formerly Minister to England; former Senator Geo. F. Edmunds, of Vermont; and Benjamin Tracy, of Brooklyn, formerly Secretary of the Navy.

An official of the State Department said that by working night and day the commission would be able to submit its report within six months from the time of its organization. Otherwise it would be nearly a year before it could conclude its labors.

NOT QUITE COMFORTABLE.

There is an uncomfortable feeling here that the Venezuelans may have concealed some facts relating to their evidence, or that they have not investigated the matter as carefully as they should have done. There is also just a bare suspicion that Lord Salisbury has some surprises in store for this Government. The commission is evidence which his agents found at Madrid. It is remembered that in his note Lord Salisbury mentioned briefly the records found in the Spanish capital, but did not give copies of them or do more than to say in a general way that they upheld the British contention. It is surmised that he has by this time carefully examined those records, and from them deduced a pretty strong support of the claim that the western limits of the Dutch possessions is at the Orinoco, and not at Essequibo. The commission is now at work upon a second communication to this Government, as is hinted in the despatches from London, it is believed the new evidence forms the basis of his note.

The statement is positively made by responsible members of the Government that if the commission finds evidence supporting Great Britain's claim, it will report. If Venezuela has no rights within the disputed territory the commission will certify to that fact, and thereby bring the entire subject, so far as the Government is concerned, to an end.

ANTICIPATING THE REPORT.

Instead of being a humiliation to the Administration, it has contented that the report of the commission in favor of Great Britain, should a report be made, would put to shame Britain's accusation that the United States has been actuated by any other than the highest motives.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—A despatch to the Standard from Madrid says that their correspondent understands that Spain will not object to the American commission consulting the Spanish archives about Venezuela, but will clearly intimate that this is an act of courtesy which does not imply the slightest admission of the Monroe doctrine.

FROM THE PRINCE.

New York, Dec. 26.—The World publishes the following cablegrams received in reply to its request for opinions upon the Venezuelan situation: BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 24.—"Sir Francis Knollys is desired by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York to thank Mr. Puller for his cablegram. They earnestly trust and cannot but believe the present crisis will be arranged in a manner satisfactory to both countries, and will be succeeded by the same warm feeling of friendship which has existed between them for so many years."

AND THE PRELATE.

"With all my heart I pray to God to avert from this country and the United States the crime and disaster of war between them, and I hold it to be the bounden duty of every man in both countries to avoid all provocative language, and do all that he conscientiously can to promote peace."

FROM THE FRATERNITY.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 26.—Christmas greeting. Freemasons' Club, Manchester, to American Freemasons: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The New York correspondent of the Times says:—"The Prince of Wales well understood American feeling when he authorized Sir Francis Knollys to send a joint message to the world in his own and the Duke of York's name. There is not, from an American point of view, a word too much or too little. It is a message which both parties into which this country is now divided can accept, and one which is equally gratifying to both. The people of the United States have cherished a real regard for the Prince of Wales ever since his visit to this country, where many pleasant memories still survive. They receive with pleasure his assurance of friendship. They will be likely to interpret it as expressing also the sentiments of the Queen."

THE SENTIMENTS OF THE QUEEN who has ever been a venerated figure to Americans and is not less now than for two generations past. They see nothing irregular or unconventional in the sending of such communications as those now published. The effect of them has perhaps been more direct and beneficial than if they should come through the Foreign Office or Parliament. Their simplicity and sincerity are essential. Nobody here sees any reason why the Prince, destined, each in his turn, to be a sovereign, should not declare his good will to a sovereign people. If it be unusual, and if their Highnesses have used their prerogative to do what should be done in such a matter, kindly words more welcome to the people to whom they are addressed."

CALLING THEM DOWN.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Certain army men have appeared in recent issues of the newspapers in discussion of military matters, and outlining what should be done in such a matter. They received personal letters from War Secretary. Expressions from such sources, he says, are not only given undue significance, but they are also injurious to the good reputation of the discipline of the army and harmful to the country in contributing to an unwarranted apprehension.

Secretary Carlisle declined to say anything for publication concerning a story printed here that Russia stood ready to loan the United States $100,000,000 in gold, and that the United States was considering the acceptance of the offer. The story says the offer has been pending since early in the present Administration. A high treasury official, possessing the entire confidence of Secretary Carlisle, says he never heard of the offer, and does not believe such an offer is in existence or apprehension.

A despatch from Moscow is to the effect that "The entire Russian press discusses the chances of a conflict between England and America with an ardent approaching enthusiasm, and in a tone of frank hostility to England."

TRUTH WAS UNPALATABLE.

PEORIA, Ill., Dec. 26.—Rev. Capswy Witsar Hatt, pastor of the First Congregational church, preached a sermon Sunday night on the Venezuelan question, when he criticized the President's message and said that America could not hope to cope with England. One of his wealthiest parishioners, an old soldier, contradicted him during the sermon. An angry crowd surrounded the pastor after the service, and disapproved his statements, and the feeling against his position in his church is very strong today.

BRITAIN'S COOL ATTITUDE.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The English Government has hitherto refrained from adding a single ship to the Atlantic stations. I am in a position to say that there is no probability of its taking any such step for the present.

Further, Sir Julian Pauncefote, at Washington, has not communicated with the Foreign Office for some time past.

This authentic information is sent as characteristic of the essentially passive and pacific attitude of Lord Salisbury's Cabinet.

BERLIN, Dec. 26.—Emperor William has expressed the opinion that the Anglo-American conflict will end in an understanding between the two powers.

The Czar will do nothing to encourage President Cleveland in his present policy, as the United States would then become too troublesome in the far east.

At St. Petersburg, however, the Foreign office expects that England will sustain a serious moral defeat if President Cleveland should persist in his present policy.

'ENGLAND IS OUR MORTAL FOE.'

Captain Du Cunha's Address to a Roomful of New York School Boys.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Five hundred and fifty American boys assembled on the upper floor of the Boys' Grammar school, No. 8, in King street, Tuesday afternoon, to enjoy what their principal, Mr. T. Whiteside, called a Christmas racket.

Everything would have ended in an entirely pleasant and harmonious manner had it not been for the intervention of Principal Whiteside, after all the regular exercises were over, of "Captain" Cunha. The captain is a tall, slightly bald headed man, with a large nose, and the ends of which are waxed out like giant's dancing needles on either side of his nose, and are given a slightly upward tilt. He has a voice like the Bull of Bashan. Principal Whiteside introduced him as an old friend of the school, and for the benefit of the adults present said that he had for several years been accustomed to offer a prize in the form of a book to the boy who passed the best final examination.

Capt. Du Cunha's speech was most inappropriate to the Christmas season. There is a bare possibility that the Board of Education may call Principal Whiteside to account for having permitted him to deliver it. "I want you boys," said he, "to remember that your lives are in our mortal foe. Sentimentalists have referred to Great Britain as our mother country, but she is a cruel and most unnatural mother. You boys are all young, and I feel that I am doing a vast service to my country in telling you to grow up as the firm and bitter enemies of England. Don't be mistaken by the idea that England is our mother. She is traitorous, false, wicked and cruel from top to bottom, and always has been. I want you boys to enroll yourselves as her enemy. She is like a snake that tries to charm you with its eyes before it destroys you with its bite."

"Does England dare to fight us?" yelled Capt. Du Cunha. "You bet she don't," yelled the boys, who were being worked into a high state of excitement. "That's right," replied the captain. "Hate England as you would the devil. She tried to smother the life of this republic out in 1776 and she was our foe during the war of the rebellion. We are absolutely nothing in common with Great Britain, remember that, boys. Pay no attention to what the peace-at-any-price people may tell you. Remember that one American is worth more than half a dozen Englishmen, and prepare to fight for your country. Never forget that traitorous, wicked, cruel Albion is and always has been the foe of free America."

The boys were by this time so worked up that it required all the power of the principal to keep them in check. They stamped, clapped and cheered for the gentleman with the long waxed mustaches. The full name of this firebrand is by the way, George W. Du Cunha, and he lives at No. 108 West Eighty-fourth street.

TO SAVE UNCLE SAM'S CREDIT.

Tariff and Bond Bills Adopted by the Ways and Means Committee. Special to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—After several hours' consideration, the bond and tariff bills were yesterday formally adopted by the House Ways and Means Committee. Chairman Dingley stated to the committee that the bills were framed as calculated to save the credit of the Government, which was endangered.

The Wilson Act had been taken as the basis of the tariff bill. An estimate of the probable increase of revenue to be derived from the tariff bill had been made, based on importations under the Wilson Act in 1864. This showed a probable increased revenue of $40,000,000, which would about equal the deficit of the past year. It is thought certain that the tariff bill will pass the House and will likely pass the Senate but the assumption generally is that the President will veto it.

VERY HELPFUL TO LADIES.

Quick Relief, With no After Unpleasantness, Comes to Those Who Use South American Kidney Cure.

Whilst both sexes are sufferers from kidney trouble, in many respects women are liable to peculiar weakness and pains, because of disorganization of the kidneys. Objection is taken, and rightly, to many remedies because of the method of use, as well as after unpleasantness. This is never the case with the South American Kidney Cure. It gives ease to the patient in a few hours, and no annoying effects follow, for in a short time even in aggravated cases an entire cure is effected. There is no other medicine like the South American Kidney Cure. It is a remedy for the kidneys and bladder only—not a general specific that is supposed to cure everything that ends by effecting no cure. South American Kidney Cure does its particular work and does it well. Sold by H. S. McDonald.

WHO WON THE BATTLE?

CONTRADICTORY REPORTS OF THE BOMBARDMENT OF ZEITOUN.

Anarchy Sets Enthroned—Fearful Conditions Throughout the Ottoman Empire—Soldiers Ordered to Spare Neither Man, Woman or Child. Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The Gaulois publishes a report of an interview with Constantine Effendi, the newly appointed Turkish Ambassador to Great Britain, in which the diplomat declares there is no Armenian question except that of reforms, which are difficult to apply in such a composite country as Asia Minor. The Sultan alone, he says, is the judge of what is useful. Time and patience will be required.

The most recent advice received in Vienna from Asia Minor says that the Armenians at Zeitoun are still besieged. The official report of the attack on Mehel is probably intended to discount a fresh or impending slaughter of Armenians. A telegram from Constantinople says that an official telegram received there from Zeitoun reports that the Turkish forces which have been advancing for some time upon the latter place made a successful ambush and were victorious, but withdrew to Marash, which place offered better facilities for the encampment of the troops.

Other reports of the engagement have it that the Armenians won a victory over the Turkish troops and took about a hundred of them prisoners.

Letters received in Constantinople from the interior show that orders have been issued to the Turkish soldiers to spare neither man, woman nor child. A Protestant clergyman, pastor of a church in Zeitoun, has acted in the capacity of envoy in the parleying that has taken place between the Turks and the Armenians at that place, the latter being in possession of the town.

ANARCHISTIC CONDITIONS.

A division of the Turkish army has advanced into the town of Zeitoun, from Zeitoun. Upon the appearance of the troops the inhabitants of the town, about 2,000 persons, fled and took refuge in Zeitoun, leaving their cattle and other property. The soldiers are burning all of the houses and their contents, provisions, etc., as they go along. Terrific rains have prevented the roads to be knee deep with mud. The wood, the only available fuel, is green and water soaked, and the men are eating meat that is only half cooked, in consequence of which a large number of them are sick.

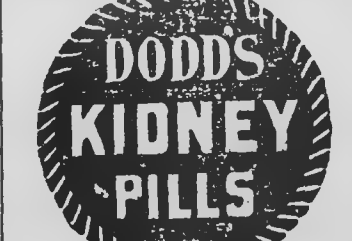

The sick ones were returned to Adana and others who were unfit to march further were left at Geben. When the soldiers arrived at Geben they ordered 8,000 loaves of bread to be supplied by the Christians. The bread was furnished and the ravenous soldiers ate every loaf before the last ration had been taken away. Another division of Turkish troops is advancing upon Zeitoun from Marash, but the prevailing floods make the advance very difficult. A third division is advancing from Gokoun. This division must traverse a difficult pass, which a hundred men can defend. The general belief is that the Armenians in possession of Zeitoun have nothing to fear except hunger.

FIRED BLANK SHOTS.

It is reported that the United States cruiser Marblehead has fired a number of blank shots at the town of Merzina, in Asia Minor. If the report is true the shots were probably fired with the object of frightening the Turks, as a means of securing the protection of American property at Marash and Adana.

An official telegram dated December 21, says that the Armenians at Zeitoun have made an attack upon the village of Mehel, killing two men, five women and three children and carrying away all of the cattle and goods in the shops and houses. The inhabitants of the village fled to Genkoun.

Norwood Elections.

Mr. John Finley, ex-reeve of the village of Norwood, will be a candidate for the reeve'ship for 1931. Mr. Finley says he will not run again this year and so far no one else has entered. Messrs. H. G. Buck and R. J. Stuart are, however, spoken of.

May Invite Dunraven.

The arrival of Earl Dunraven in New York on Christmas Day set the yachting men of this city to work on the idea of inviting him to visit Toronto as guest at a complimentary banquet. It is likely that the talk will take formal shape, and that a meeting will be held on an early date to take the necessary steps for the forwarding of the invitation. Mr. Dunraven is, however, spoken of.

A Law of General Interest.

There are few indeed aware of the law forbidding the conveyance of a letter except through the post office. A Montreal man has just been fined forty dollars for delivering letters in that city for merchants. The gist of the act is that no one but the Postmaster General can collect, convey, send or deliver letters in Canada, and the penalty for infringement of this law is a fine of twenty dollars for each letter delivered.

An Empty House Burned.

The fire brigade were called out last evening at 8:30 o'clock. They quickly responded to the call, but when they reached the scene, an empty, rough cast house on the east side of Downey street, between Simcoe and Hunter streets, the flames had already gained considerable headway, and despite their indefatigable efforts to save the building it was pretty well gutted before they succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Christmas Letters.

The receipt of letters at the Toronto Postoffice during Christmas season have been absolutely unprecedented. Last week 418,000 pieces passed through the office, an increase of 30,000 compared with the corresponding period of last year. The English mail of Monday and Tuesday was extremely heavy, there being an apparent falling off in the number of cards and an increase in the number of small presents. The totals for the present week will be record-breaking. Midland Empire.

A Christmas Wedding.

A very pretty wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Lane, of London, formerly of Ridgeway, on Christmas morning, the contracting parties being Miss Lora Loretta Green, B.A., only daughter of Mr. H. M. Green, and Mr. Wm. F. Keenan, B.A., Principal of the Brockville College Institute. The bride, who was beautifully attired in white silk, carried a lovely bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Fanny Packenham, sister of the bridegroom. Mr. Duncan Walker, B.A., of Brockville, was groomsmen. Many valuable and beautiful presents were given. There was a large number of guests. The home was beautifully decorated. The happy couple left for Peterborough by the noon train.

Boating a Muskallouge.

Another week would surely give him freedom, and that one thing could be done. Gaff had none, and to attempt to lift such a fish upon the line was but to make certain of losing it.

It was a case of now or never. He was sitting and would surely make another dash, so, firmly but gently he drew in the string until he was at the surface. As he cautiously lifted, and he rolled over on his side, and I shuddered as I looked at the terrible array of teeth. The jaws of a dog flashed at me from beneath strong jaws. But there was no alternative; my hand stole down till my fingers closed in a fierce grip inside his gills, and I had him and he had me!

For a moment there was an awful splashing and commotion, and my hand felt as if it was being run in rough sets of cog wheels. But he came up over the side of the canoe, for I would have suffered my arm to be chewed off rather than relinquish the prize so fairly to hand. A moment later he was thrashing about on the foot boards and I thumped him with the paddle in vindictive glee, for it was questionable who had not the best of it.—Outing for November.

A Cricketer's Souvenir.

Mr. John Wright, of the Walker House Toronto, received from England a Christmas present that was as interesting as it was beautiful. It is a plate of the finest "Colport China." On the back is an inscription intimating that the plate is "issued in commemoration of Dr. W. G. Grace's century of centuries, 1865-1965." The front of the plate is quite unique. Its centre is a likeness of Dr. Grace in the conventional cricket cap. Radiating from the portrait are twelve wickets, each with a name, and every wicket bears the name of a match, the year in which it was played, and the score made by Dr. Grace. There are 10 wickets and 10 bats, and the latter, which bear similar inscriptions, indicate the scores made by Dr. Grace, of over 200. The decoration around the edge of the plate consists of cricket balls and stumps. The whole design is very complete and attractive, and forms a beautiful souvenir of the greatest of cricketers. There is only one similar plate in Canada, and it belongs to another Toronto gentleman.

Antarctic Exploring.

Three great British scientific societies are agreed that it is the duty of the British Government to fit out an expedition for thorough Antarctic exploration. In November, 1930, the Royal Geographical Society appointed a notable committee to inquire into the propriety of such an expedition and report. They reported in favor of having the Government send two suitable vessels to explore the south polar regions, and keep them at it for three years. The report was adopted and transmitted to the Royal Society, which in turn appointed a powerful committee, which, in May, 1930, reported strongly in favor of the scheme. At the beginning of the present year the council of the British Association gave the plan its vigorous endorsement, and it doubtless took further action on it at its recent annual meeting in September. The plan of Dr. John Murray of the Challenger, who addressed the Royal Geographical Society on the subject two years ago, was to send out two suitable government steamships of about 1,000 tons each, have them start in September, land a company of about ten men somewhere south of Cape Horn, and another in Victoria Land, and have these parties spend two years or more exploring the antarctic continent. The ships would land the men on the first summer, visit them the second, and take them off the third, and would spend their own winters and all their other available time in deep sea and other observations along the outer margin of the antarctic ice.

DEATH OF MR. DOUGLAS.

One of Peterborough's Oldest and Most Respected Citizens Passes Away.

Mr. Andrew Douglas, a well known and most esteemed and respected citizen died at his family residence, 32 Gilmore street, Thursday at 12:30 p.m. The deceased gentleman had been suffering severely for several weeks from malignant tumor of the parotid gland, which caused his death.

He was born in Perthshire in March, 1827, and came to Canada in 1854, taking up his residence in Peterborough. He has since resided. He followed the business of contractor and builder, and he was a master of his craft. He was concerned as contractor or superintendent of construction of several of the most important buildings in Peterborough. He built the first St. Paul's Presbyterian church and was superintendent of its restoration as well as of the rebuilding of St. Andrew's. He was superintendent of the rebuilding of the Mitchell block, Simcoe street, now occupied by Hall, Gilchrist & Co. He also superintended the rebuilding of the South ward school some years ago and the building of the North ward school.

Mr. Douglas, who was a citizen of undoubted integrity and good principles, never sought any public office, although frequently requested to do so. His piety and experience were often called into requisition in matters connected with his calling.

About 30 years ago the deceased gentleman was united in marriage to Miss Jessie Robertson, daughter of the late John Robertson of Perthshire, Scotland. To this union were born three children, of whom only two survive. He was a Presbyterian in religion and a Liberal in politics.

The funeral will take place from the family residence on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A CHANCE FOR ARBITRATION.

President Cleveland's assertion that the boundary between Venezuela and British Guiana should be left to arbitration ought not to be lightly dismissed. The arbitration principle is an important one and has been growing in favour. If it can be made use of without loss of self-respect and without materially endangering the true interests of the country, it ought to be.

The only weakness in the President's attitude upon arbitration is that he did not make the scope of his remarks wide enough. By all means arbitrate the boundary of Venezuela; but at the same time let us have the Monroe doctrine, as expounded and interpreted by President Cleveland and Secretary of State Olney, submitted to an impartial tribunal of jurists. The pretensions of the United States with regard to this doctrine have already been scouted as absurd by the leading authorities in international law in that country. President Von Holst, of Chicago University, Professor Sumner of Yale, Professor McLean of Harvard, and many others equally eminent have ranged themselves against the preposterous contention that the United States can dictate to other nations in matters in which it is not directly interested. Here is an opportunity for President Cleveland and his friends to show their sincerity.

Unfortunately the huxtering conduct of Congress, under the guidance of Senator Morgan, in disputing the payment of the damages inflicted by American revenue cutters upon Canadian schooners in the high seas ten years ago, leaves little hope that any real devotion to the principle of arbitration animates the swashbuckling politicians of the United States. Although they may set up arbitration as the principle to which they are devoted, what they mean is that England shall arbitrate when the United States considers it convenient, not that the United States shall arbitrate when it does not suit its supposed interests to do so.

Queen Victoria has been winning a prize at a cattle show with a shorthorn heifer. In this crude country they call a shorthorn a pony.

The grip sustained a signal defeat in Albany on Sunday, when it laid pipes to prevent the delivery of the Rev. F. A. Strough's Christmas sermon. The pastor of the Clinton-avenue Congregational Church had prepared a special service and sermon for his congregation. He was prostrated by a sharp attack of the grip on Saturday night, and his physician ordered him not to leave home the next day. Mrs. Strough bravely came to the relief of her husband. Instead of disapproving the congregation she occupied the pulpit and carried through the entire service with the assistance of a deacon, who prevented her husband's discourse from being interrupted by his illness. Still the heifer in usual interest by the skater in the open air as admirers.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB.

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF THIS CHASTE SOCIETY.

The President Gives Some Good Advice—Failed to pass—Was it an Insult?—A Lot of Miscellaneous Business.

"I should like to say a few words to Bro. Tiedup Garley," said the President, as the meeting opened and the Hall grew quiet. Bro. Garley, who is a young man with a mellow look and a hitch in his gait, advanced to the platform in a hesitating manner and the President continued:

"Bro. Garley, I learn that you are on the point of going into business for yourself. I am told that you are soon to open a corner grocery and a butcher shop combined."

"Yes, Sir"

"I'm glad that you are about to make a start in life, and I desire to drop a few hints which may be of value to you. Bro. Garley, the grocer who gives fifteen ounces to the pound may wax fat for a few years and get to be a referee at one of Bro. Boneyard Billy James' mesmeric performances, but justice has her eye on him, and when the old girl gets around to it she'll give him a dose that will set him back for twenty years."

"The person who sells forty and fifty cent tea from the same chest, may get along very smart for a while, but he's only coaxing a boil to grow on his nose. When the boil comes he'll pay out more for flaxseed than he has made on the tea."

"In selling beefsteak study human nature. Some men don't object to a pound and a half of bone to a half a pound of meat, but we ain't all built after that fashion. Don't kill a hundred dollars worth of custom for the sake of selling four cents worth of bone."

"while it is expected that you will hide the bad potatoes in the middle of the measure, don't misunderstand the public and water your molasses as well."

"The wrapping paper which you buy for two cents a pound can be weighed up with goods that sell for fifteen, and nobody will kick, but don't imagine that gives you license to roast beans with your coffee or keep filling up the vinegar barrel with rainwater."

"Be careful to whom you give credit. There are plenty of people in this world who like to pay debts, but there is about the same number who will jump you as soon as the books balance fourteen cents against them."

"Don't cease going to church because you are in business, but next time the pew-renting comes off take a seat a little further back. Lots of people have somehow got the idea that a modern business man, doing business after the modern fashion, has got to do a heap of wrestling with his conscience in case he adopts any particular brand of religion."

"The public will expect you to make some mistake in addition, but be a little careful about it. Make them in favor of the public about half the time."

FAILED TO PASS.

Bro. Photograph Henry, Port Hope, offered the following resolution:

"That it is the sense of the Lime Juice Club that Parliament should pass a law making it a penal offense for any person to place a torpedo chicken in his coop. The reason we want this law is to protect the material chicken from being subject to explosion."

Bro. Lightning Arrestor McBurney, of Port Hope, also favored the resolution not because he was afraid of the pugilistic tendencies of the mover, but on account of the peaceful nature of the hen. The torpedo chicken was invented to surprise the person who gained access to a hen coop and undertook to pull a pullet off her roost, but had demonstrated that the torpedo was liable to explode at any time and bring destruction on the innocent fowls.

Bro. Steppoff Kelly also favored the resolution. He was a friend of the hen under all circumstances, and he would ever raise his voice to ameliorate her down-trodden condition.

Bro. Henry Peter opposed the resolution and demanded a call of the roll. There were some who are always seeking to connect certain people and chickens together, but why he could not see. If the torpedo chicken was invented to protect chickens from thieves, why need members of this great Club be afraid? (sensation). Why need any man seek to work up sympathy for the hen? Bro. Photograph might prefer hen meat to other meats, but let him sit in silence and not seek to drag this Club before the public in a false light. (Wild cheer by mistake from Armature Parkins of the Port Hope branch, who was promptly fined $1200 and costs).

The Secretary called the roll and the resolution was voted down by 1432 to one—Bro. Croft voting contrary to spite Bro. Ed. Brown for waking him out of his fifth nap.

WAS IT AN INSULT?

The Secretary then announced the following, dated Port Hope, Ontario: To the President of the L. J. C.: You and your club are respectfully invited to attend a New Year's ball, to be given in honour of yourself and club, in the Town Hall in this place on Tuesday evening next. During the festivities negotiations will be renewed in regard to the annual bath and hair clip of yourself and club. Desiring and trusting that a full attendance will honor this invitation, I am, in trade and festivity,

RAZOR REYNOLDS

"Mister President, I object!" shouted Bro. Henry Peter, as he bobbed up in evident agitation.

"To what do you object, Bro. Peter?" blandly queried the President.

"To the tone of that communication, sir! The Secretary should be reprimanded for reading it to the meeting. I move that it be not inscribed on the minutes."

"Softly, Bro. Peter," chided the President, as he reached for the letter. "We are invited to a ball. Anything wrong about that? It is an affair given in our honor. Isn't that all right? Negotiations will be renewed in regard to the annual bath and hair clip of myself and club. What's wrong about that, Bro. Peter?"

"It's all wrong, sir! It's a hit at us—it's an insult."

"How?"

"The yearly bath, sir! It speaks of us as though we only bathed and cut our hair once a year!"

"Fur!" I presume a yearly bath and hair cut would be quite new to some of us. Sit down, Peter—sit right down and calm your agitation before it strikes a vital spot. We ain't going to kick up a fuss with our Port Hope friends to gratify you."

MORE VILLANY.

The Treasurer said that he had discovered an attempt to tamper with the Club's safe. Some one had evidently tried to open the door with a boot-jack, as the key hole had been found filled with scapiron. He would announce for the benefit of the thieves, that the safe never contained above 30 cents in cash, and that any attempt to blow it open would surely result in bringing down the whole roof of the Hall of Wisdom.

THREATS.

The reading of the following epistle created much excitement.

SLOPEVILLE, Dec. 26.

Some weeks ago I offered to become an honorary member of your association and lecture on the "Structure of the Mule" for $13. Your president did not present my name on account, I think, of my owning a four minute horse, etc., which seems to be a violation of your by-law No. 100. I now wish it understood that I will get in line in opposition to President McBride and all other tyrants of his class. I have purchased the influence of many prominent members of the club, and the obnoxious by-law will soon be repealed. I shall be in Peterborough in a few days to arrange for delivering a lecture entitled, "How to prevent your toes from turning in." All members of the club except President McBride will be admitted free.

TWO FORTY O'BRIEN.

"Pay no attention to the communications of disappointed candidates. When Bro. O'Brien strikes Peterborough in person Bro. Piledriver Riley will probably interview him."

QUERIES ANSWERED.

After a severe fit of coughing, during which he threw up a fish bone dated 1843, Nutmeg Cunningham read the following from Bro. Bobcaygeon:

"We the undersigned, residents of Bobcaygeon, desiring of advancement, in a social condition in the world, having heard that your club does not confine its membership to the limits of your own day, respectfully enquire:

1. Do you expect any dues of honorary members of your Great Club?

2. If not, what benefits are such honorary members entitled to in case of sickness or accident by the rules of the club?

We would be gratified to receive information touching the rights and immunities of the non-paying members of the Club on the honorary list.

Your most obedient servants,

WHALEBONE WELLS,

TRANSPARENT THOMPSON,

RISQUE GARLICK.

The Secretary was instructed to reply that honorary members paid dues at the rate of fifty cents a month, and instances have been known where their anxiety to pay had caused them to mortgage their cook stoves. Each honorary member is entitled to a free ride on any railroad in case the conductor doesn't object. In case the conductor does object it wouldn't be polite to dispute the point with him. In case of sickness or injury the club expects to send a resolution of sympathy, and in case of death it binds itself to allow the widow to select a tombstone from over 40 designs kept constantly on hand.

SAT UPON.

Rev. Fardown Toothpick arose to make an enquiry. He had lent considerable money to members of this club, and had experienced great trouble in getting his shekels back. What he wanted to know was whether the fraternal spirit supposed to exist shouldn't obligate a member to square up with another?

"Brother Toothpick, there is hayseed in your dress," solemnly replied the President. "Did you ever hear of one church member who paid his debts to another sooner than to a sinner? If you or any other member of this Great Club so far forgot the voice of prudence as to lend your doubloons to Tom, Dick and Harry, with the feeling that fraternal spirit will be a lever to assist in the repayment, you will get badly left. Let us now go home."

Market Reports.

PETERBOROUGH.

The market since last Saturday has been very quiet, owing no doubt to the bad weather and the exceedingly heavy condition of the roads; but a large attendance is expected to-day. Prices are firm.

TORONTO

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Dec. 27.—Butter—Very little business is being done, owing to the weather dealers do not care to buy. Prices are fairly steady at 11c to 12c for large rolls, 15c to 16c for good dairy tubs and 18c to 19c for inferior tubs. Creamery butter is in good demand and steady at 21c to 22c for rolls and 21c for tubs.

Eggs—Country offerings continue fair, especially of held fresh and picked. Local sales are light. Prices are steady at 14c to 15c for picked, 16c to 17c for held fresh, 17c for cold storage, 17c to 17c for late gathered and strictly new laid eggs are nominal.

Potatoes—The market is quiet and there is but little trading. Cars on the track here sell at 25c to 26c and potatoes out of store at 25c to 30c.

Poultry—Stocks here are well cleaned up and the market is in good shape. Further shipments of good stock should sell easily and bring fairly good prices. The market is steady at 5c to 6c for geese, 6c to 8c for turkeys, 40c to 70c for ducks and 35c to 40c for chickens.

FARMERS' MARKET.

Receipts of grain on the local street market were nil this morning. No hay or straw was offered and none was inquired for. Some delayed consignments of poultry were received, but little or no trading was done. The stocks are pretty well cleaned up. Prices are expected to be steady. No dressed hogs were offered, and prices are nominally the same.

GET ON YOUR SKATES.

Some Notes One May Take Any Night at the Rink

This weather is more encouraging for skaters and for the men who make the ice than that which we had at Christmas-tide. Perhaps tonight we have not looked this morning yet to see if that red sign which sends a thrill of disappointment through the skater as he or she be-holds it on approaching the rink door—"NO SKATING TO-DAY"—If it is not up you may see many styles of skating indulged in by the gay throng.

SHE SMILED AT THE YOUNG MAN IN THE GALLERY AND—!!!

Three and four girls abreast arm in arm, swing round the corner like a whirlwind and glide down the ice with long, graceful, sweeping movements. Then there is a stout man. He comes around the corner in quick, short sweeps. It looks like manual labor to him; his mouth is wide open and he appears to be panting for breath. Now the small boy appears. He dodges in and out, now between a group, now in front of some girl who screams, now in front of some girl who screams. Then there comes the high-stepper. He lifts his body and his head with every stroke. He lifts his skate as high as his knee every time. Now in the mad rush around the corner someone falls. The small boy yells, some turn for a moment to look and the race continues. The skaters make a pretty spectacle. Taken as a whole the picture they represent is interesting and not tiring to an onlooker because it is ever changing. At the rink on Charlotte street every provision is made for the spectators as well as the skaters. They have a room with a stove in it which keeps it quite warm. Angus is always on hand to look after the welfare of everyone and his geniality makes him well liked by all. There are galleries all round the sides for spectators.

"I'LL BE DENIED IF BILLY HUGHANON SHALL HAVE THE NEXT SKATE WITH HER!"

A closed rink has many advantages, which an open one could never have, viz.:

The curlers. Their costumes and ludicrous positions and their hoarse voices as they cry "soup 'er up!"

Then there is the superior accommodation which is not very often provided in the open rink.

The absence of snow or rain, which prevents skating on an open rink and also the immunity from chilling winds and blinding flurries of snow.

Still the hardy Canadian youth and the equally hardy Canadian girl often prefer to skate in the open air with the blue sky as a gallery to gaze into and the twinkling stars as admirers.

The vigor of the young Canadian and the damsk cheek of the Canadian girl may be attributed largely to their fondness of and their indulgence in skating, which is healthy and invigorating when indulged in with moderation.

The Times artist attended the rink before the thaw and turned his kodak loose on the gay throng of skaters, securing several excellent views of well known and conspicuous figures on Charlotte street ice, which are produced here.

Winter Locomotion in Sweden.

All the winter traffic in Stockholm is on sledges; the sleds and private carriages go on runners, with only the curly splash boards to denote the wheel of summer. Long light sledges are also used, propelled from behind with the foot in a succession of kicks, and can be driven at a great pace, but the most curious means of locomotion is the Swedish snow shoe. These "ski-dor" are strips of pine wood, six or eight feet long, by about 4 inches wide, and strapped quite closely to the feet. The Lapps and up-country peasants use them perpetually during winter, and can go on at a speed of six or eight miles an hour.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—With the jagged edge of a broken beer bottle old man Berry, of St. George, cut his throat. The wound of itself is not fatal, but Berry's constitution is so weakened by disease that the self-inflicted injury will hasten his end.

Berry has been despondent for some time, his crippled condition and added helplessness from disease undoubtedly affected his mind and unbalanced his reason. On many occasions he has remarked that he was tired of life, and thus the attempt to end it caused little surprise.

THE COMING SESSION.

Business of Parliament Will Not Commence Until January

Special to The Times.

OTTAWA, Dec. 27.—The meeting of Parliament on Jan. 2 will only be formal. An agreement has been reached by the leaders on both sides that after the reading of the speech from the throne on Thursday next, a motion will be made that the address in reply to the speech be taken into consideration on Tuesday, Jan. 7, and both Houses will then adjourn until that day. This will enable a large number of members to spend New Year's day and the Epiphany at home and only come to Ottawa on or after the 7th. Only 20 members are required to form a quorum and there are more than that number who are resident in Ottawa.

A Bear Story.

One day last week Sandy Evans and his hired man were cutting wood in a small patch of timber on their premises. Noticing the peculiar actions of their dog towards a certain log they went forward with the expectation of unearthing a coon. The hired man thrust his axe far into the log when suddenly the axe was violently struck out of his hand, and immediately afterwards a large bear made its appearance. Mr. Sandy Evans seized his axe and struck the bear a powerful blow on the head killing it. Another bear was also discovered in the log. Not thinking it safe to rely wholly on their axe, one guarded the log while the other sped across for Mr. John Kay, one of our best shots, and an old hand at bear killing. Mr. Kay speedily put in an appearance and with little difficulty put an end to the second bear by sending a bullet through its heart.—Lindsey Watchman.

HUGE TIDAL WAVES.

Those that Sweep the Coast of China at Least Twice a Year.

Special to The Times.

Twice a year—at each equinox—the famous tides of the Tien-Tang river, that flows from the borders of Kiangsi, Fuhkien, and Chekiang to Hang Chow bay, attain their greatest height, and a bore of sometimes over 40 feet in height sweeps irresistibly up its shallow and funnel-shaped estuary, often producing tremendous havoc to the surrounding country—hence its name, "monkey dyke," from the amount expended in successive centuries on its embankment.

It is seen at its best at Hang Chow, the prefectural city not far from its mouth. About fifteen minutes before it is visible a dull, distant roar is heard, momentarily swelling, until that wall of muddy water, tall as the bulwark of the biggest liner, as overwhelming as a glacier, sweeps into sight round the bend a mile away. Not a boat is to be seen on the lovely crowded river; all are hauled up on the huge embankment, and in a few moments and safe with a dozen rattan cates, for none but ocean-going steamers could stem the current, and even they would need skillful navigation. As the eagle nears the shore becomes deafening as a storm at sea, drowning the excited shouts of the thousands who line the walls, until finally it foams past in turbid majesty, hurrying toward the heart of China.

The Chinese annals tell how, a thousand years ago, Prince Wu Shu made 500 "daring" archers shoot half a dozen arrows each at the advancing flood, and then, after praying to Wu Tsz si, the tutelary deity of the stream and originally an upright Minister, whose body was cast into the river after Wu had committed suicide, put the key of the dike water into an envelope and threw it into the stream, whereupon the waters retired! But as by that they would have flowed back in any case even the Chinese did not regard the experiment as very miraculous.

A couple of hundred years later the Emperor Kan Tsung had ten iron plates, each weighing about 150 pounds, sunk in the river by way of propitiating the spirits but the water promptly carried away both charms and embankments. Only last century a Hang-Chow tea merchant leaped into the river, like another Marcus Curtius, to avert the annual disaster.

McMILLAN SENTENCED.

HE WILL SPEND THE NEXT 10 YEARS IN KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

Declared His Innocence in Court—The Judge Says He Does Not Believe the Prisoner Is Guilty of the Murder of the Building Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 21.—When Judge McDougall took his seat in the Court of General Sessions this morning William McMILLAN, who was convicted of the fatal shooting of the Osgood Building on January 10th last, was brought up for sentence looking depressed and bearing signs of his long confinement, but cool and collected.

County Crown Attorney Dewar moved for sentence and the prisoner was asked if he had anything to say and calmly though emphatically answered:

PROTESTED HIS INNOCENCE.

"Your Honor charged very strongly against me. On that charge the jury brought me in guilty. I stand before you as guilty, but as a matter of fact I am innocent. I was not the cause of the fire and know nothing about it."

Judge McDougall in pronouncing sentence said:

"I wish I could concur in that view, but I am sorry to say in view of the testimony given at your trial I entirely agree with the finding of the jury. It is a terrible misfortune both to yourself and friends to see you in this position."

A GRADUAL GOING DOWN.

"I have made careful inquiry as to some of your antecedents and as to your past career and the information which I have received does not redound to your credit by any means. Not that you have been concerned in any offences of so grave a character as the one you are charged with in this instance, but all show a gradual deterioration, a gradual going down, a gradual falling into habits of dishonesty. That sort of a character does not stand a man in good stead when charged with a serious offence. Apart from that I have to consider what would be adequate punishment of so serious a crime as this."

"You have had a long and fair trial by a jury of your countrymen. That jury, after very careful consideration, no bias or prejudice, found you guilty of this offence. They have returned their finding into court."

THE PUBLIC AND THE VERDICT.

"It may be quite true that certain sections of the public by reading the accounts of the trial in the press have come to a conclusion in favor of your innocence but the public did not hear the evidence. The evidence which was given in court did not reach the public and any judgment which an outside individual may have formed up on that cannot be allowed to outweigh the force of the conclusion of the twelve honest men, who, after deliberation, came to the conclusion as to your guilt."

MIGHT HAVE BEEN MURDER.

"The consequences of a crime such as yours may be frightful. In your case it may be very fortunate for you that you do not stand charged with the crime of murder. It was only by a merciful dispensation of Providence that the unfortunate people who occupied the upper flat of the building escaped with their lives. Had a life been lost your sentence would have been a more serious character."

NOT DELIBERATELY FIRED.

"You are a young man, and in expressing my opinion in connection with your guilt I do not mean that you deliberately, in the sense of premeditation, fired the shot which killed the man. I believe you committed a criminal act of negligence in creating a fire and then going off without seeing whether the result was disastrous, or what actually took place. That in your case the law is quite as bad morally as if you had actually taken a bullet and shot at a man. The consequences to the owners of the property was the same; the risk and dangers to the unfortunate people whose lives were barely saved were the same."

THE CRIME OF ARSON.

"The crime of arson unfortunately seems to be on the increase in our community. Whether that is due to the hard times, to people's necessities, or to an increase of the mischievous and wicked criminal spirit prevailing in the community, I do not know, but it is a fact that the crime appears to be on the increase. It is one of the most difficult crimes in the calendar to detect. It may be committed in secret and no eye can see the perpetrator except that of the Almighty. Yet it often happens that circumstances or facts will come to light which sufficiently point to the guilt of some individual. In your case the circumstances which led to your conviction, the facts and testimony are such as a jury of your countrymen have concluded establish a reasonable conviction as to your guilt."

TEN YEARS.

"My duty will be ended when I impose a sentence which is going to be more lenient than perhaps I ought to give, looking to all the facts of the case, and to the fact that human life was possibly involved in the consequences of the crime."

THE SENTENCE OF THE COURT.

"The sentence of the court is that you be confined in the Kingston penitentiary for a period of ten years."

RAILROAD WRECKS.

Mississippi to Two Freight Trains at Niagara Falls.

Special to The Times.

NIAGARA FALLS, Dec. 21.—There was a wreck in the Central yards at Niagara Falls yesterday. A West Shore freight train bound for the west came along at a high rate of speed. While crossing Third street just before entering the station yard, one of the cars jumped the track, pulling two more with it. The train rushed along through the yard and out to First street before it was stopped. Several cars were damaged and the track and platform torn up for a long distance.

There was a queer accident in the Erie yards last night at the bridge. About 10 o'clock a freight train was brought across from the Grand Trunk yards in Canada, and started over the Erie for the east. Just after getting under way it broke in two, the rear part of the train starting back for the Canadian side. There was one brakeman on it and he attempted to stop the brakes and stop the train. First street before it was stopped. Several cars were damaged and the track and platform torn up for a long distance.

THE WAR CLOUD IS DISSOLVING.

The President's Financial Statement Regarded as a More Peaceful Document.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—The stock market opened in good tone and speculation in the opening dealings was very brilliant. There was good buying in the leading shares in which some prominent houses were prominent. Nearly all the active list made rapid advances. The market is fairly steady and there are no indications of a panic.

LONDON STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon there was less excitement on the Stock Exchange, but the markets were in a very unsettled condition. There was a disposition to take a more hopeful view of the Venezuelan question politically, but there were grave apprehensions regarding the financial outlook in the United States.

ITS FINANCIAL SIDE.

THE TIMES SAYS THE EFFECT OF THE SCARE WILL BE LONG FELT.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The financial article in the Times says: "Although the panic has subsided, it will take a long time to repair the injury done. In the first place, many investors have become impressed with the idea, which is new to them, that the attitude of many educated persons in America regarding foreign affairs is wanting in breadth and depth of view. European statesmen and financiers have always allowed for this deficiency, but in this event they were surprised by the current of events. Probably President Cleveland was deluded with the idea that whatever the result of the message, he could easily borrow on the continent. Such a delusion would not have misled a statesman with a mind trained to foreign affairs, and the temper of foreign financiers. The British, who were ready to place $30,000,000, and the Parisians $25,000,000 at his disposal, will not do so now. There is no doubt that America can obtain a loan of $100,000,000 at a rate of 4 per cent, but the discretion of American statesmen in dealing with the Venezuelan difficulty but they will have to rely largely on American resources until a degree of confidence is restored in Europe."

"President Cleveland's manifest incapacity to understand the effect of his own message would have been counteracted by the financial and the military of public credit. English capital will remain where there is a reasonable promise of security and no where else. English capital is not so easily moved as is the capital of the world are actuated by precisely the same motives."

"It would be a strange, though not an unusual, result if President Cleveland's action were to be hampered to assist to the increase in the tariff and to agree to the demands of the silver party."

OLD WORLD OPINIONS.

PARIS, N. Y. and GERMANY, SMALLER ON THE VENEZUELAN AFFAIR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford, editor of the Liberator, says that British subjects are indignant and wrathful over the action of the United States in the Venezuelan matter. That at first the British thought it was merely a political dodge, but now they can hardly believe that theory.

The English have not lost their self-command, says Mr. Ford. There has been a panic in the Stock Exchange, but in what? If Americans found the social atmosphere of London somewhat frigid on the first day, the mercury rose to the normal point before the end of the week. The American Ambassador, thanks to the generous and eloquent speech of Mr. Compans Carr, was received with cordiality and even enthusiasm on the evening of the first day.

So long as Mr. Cleveland was asking for arbitration, as in this annual message, and they were refusing it, the Monroe doctrine could be justified on normal grounds, and the English attitude required defence; but when he shifted his position and insisted upon American arbitration for the settlement of the British frontier, they felt that the ground under them was firm.

WALL STREET'S PANIC.

Nearly all the London journals refer to the few failures in Wall Street yesterday as the first fruits of Mr. Cleveland's policy, the Times being almost cynical in its sarcasms over his financial message, which, it says, dealt with a catastrophe directly produced by his Venezuelan message. The news and other journals are equally quick to point a moral; indeed, it is a notable exception since the appointment of the commission has been sanctioned by both Houses of Congress, that the English press refers to the whole policy as Mr. Cleveland's, the view generally taken this morning being that the Republican leaders have concluded to let him bear the whole responsibility for it.

THE REVIEWERS SAY.

The weekly reviews have the most kind and judicious articles on the Venezuelan message. The Economist says that the best ground for hope consists in the total absence of passion, when this side, the very idea of war between English speaking people is held to be unworthy of the civilization and ideas accorded in both camps for all their former misdeeds. Trained diplomats, it adds, are not in the highest credit after their failures in Turkey, but they are more competent than untrained rulers to avoid giving the peace of the world such a shock as Mr. Cleveland has inflicted.

The Spectator closes a just and friendly article by refusing to believe that the American people desire war. "We are not absolutely certain," it says, "that no section of our own people will regard it with any feeling but one of horror and detestation. To Englishmen, war with America is civil war, which unless driven to it by direct menace to their own territory, they will never commence."

ON TO BATTLE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Mr. G. W. Smalley in the Herald says: "We are marching to war. Heavily. The country is on this. Mr. Cleveland is another. To support Mr. Cleveland is not necessarily to support the true interest of the country. It might be possible that it should have to choose between Mr. Cleveland and the country. Which should we choose? There is a lesson for us in the opinion of the rest of the civilized world. All Europe is against the President's contention and policy. The press of every other country in Europe sides with England against the United States. That does not prove we are wrong, but it may lead us to reflect a little."

"We are fond of talking about France as if she were our friend. She once was, for reasons sufficient to her, our friend, and a good friend, but her friendship for three generations has been but a memory. The French do not like us, and we do not mind saying so. They have, moreover, interests in this side of the Atlantic which prevent them from accepting the Olney Cleveland version of the Monroe doctrine. So has Spain. Germany is against us, and Austria. The three most powerful journals of these two great powers not only condemn the President's policy, but it is to them a subject of derision. Italy is against us. No voice is heard anywhere in Europe for us, or if there be voices, they are those of individuals, not of nations. Public opinion is the most potent of all forces. If we plunge into a war, in defiance of it, we are not fighting England only; we are contending against all European powers. Are we strong enough for that? We have to think of the honor and reputation of our beloved country, and to remember that the verdict of history is fore-shadowed in the census of Christendom."

LONDON, Dec. 21.—General Laurier, formerly a member of the Canadian House of Commons, who arrived in London during the early part of the week, said, during the course of an interview upon the sensational reports in circulation, that, while he firmly believed that President Cleveland's message to Congress on the Venezuelan question was only an electioneering ploy, it must be recognized that there is a very large amount of inflammable material in the United States, to which President Cleveland has applied a match, and which at any moment, may get beyond his control. Continuing, General Laurier remarked: "There is therefore a very serious risk of certain hot-heads on the frontier attacking what they cordially hate, the British flag, so far as Canada is concerned, the chief danger lies in a small party of these jingoists crossing the frontier in a moment of excitement and insulting the flag in a way to

AT ONCE CALL FOR REVENGE.

"There is a very strong national feeling among the Dominion militia, which is composed of young men, who, in case of an emergency, would instantly place their services at the disposal of the Government. This feeling is not confined to the militia, it was evidenced during the times of the Fenian raid and during the Northwest rebellion. There is no question that the Canadians are ardent in their determination to defend their country and remain part of the British empire. Canada is stronger today than she was in 1812, and yet at the end of the war Canada was in possession of Michigan, and, but for the unwise action of the Home Government would still possess it."

Feeling in Canada is perfectly friendly to the United States, provided she minds her own business; but once she attempts to interfere in Canadian affairs there is not a man in the Dominion but will cry 'Hands off.' The French Canadians are equally opposed to the idea of being absorbed by the United States."

Abyssinia's Monarch Will Bow to Italy and Peace Will Follow.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—A despatch from Rome to the Central News says that General Baratieri, the commander of the Italian troops operating against the Abyssinians, has been authorized to conclude a peace with King Menelek II of Abyssinia on condition that the treaty of Uccialli, which virtually placed Abyssinia under the protection of Italy, is recognized.

SUNK THE WILLOWBANK.

But Saved Her Crew—The Berlin in Collision—Shipping Casualties.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.

PLYMOUTH, Dec. 21.—The British cruiser Blake arrived here yesterday from Chatham. She reports that while off Portland at 1 o'clock in the morning she passed a large steamer named Berlin which signalled that two of her boats had been searching for three hours for the British barque Willowbank, bound for Glasgow, with which vessel the Berlin had been in collision. No trace of her could be found. The Blake afterwards saw an empty boat belonging to the Willowbank. The Berlin had a hole in her bow. She proceeded up the channel. Those on the Blake could not say whether or not the Berlin was the steamer that came belonging to the International Navigation Company. This steamer sailed from Antwerp for New York the day before and was reported to have passed Dover yesterday.

SOUTHAMPTON, Dec. 21.—It is known now that the vessel that was in collision with the Willowbank was the International Company's steamer Berlin. She passed Hurst Castle yesterday afternoon bound for this port. She had her sails over her bows evidently for the purpose of keeping before the wind in the narrow channel. She was hoisted to inside the Needles and this accounts for her delay in entering the Solent. A pilot and two tug boats left her to assist her in. The Willowbank has a crew of 30 men. They were all saved by the Berlin, which must have found them aloft after speaking the Blake. The only life lost was that of the pilot.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The British steamer Alicia, from Middlesbrough for Bilbao, has sunk in collision with the British steamer Netley Abbey. The steamer Netley Abbey was bound for Bilbao. All the people on the Alicia, with the exception of five, who were drowned, were rescued by the Netley Abbey. LONDON, Dec. 21.—A despatch from Ostend says the mail boat from England was entering that harbor this morning it came into collision with and sank a fishing boat. Five of the fishermen's crew were drowned.

Fierce Fighting Between Turks and Armenians With Heavy Losses.

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.

BERLIN, Dec. 21.—The Frankfort Zeitung publishes a despatch from Constantinople saying that there has been fierce fighting at Zeitoun between the Turkish troops who surrounded that city and the insurgent Armenians, who defended it. Both sides are said to have lost frightful. The Turks were 10,000 strong and had 24 pieces of artillery. The Armenians numbered 15,000, but they had no artillery.

ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA

The Rev. J. L. Murray, of Kincardine, Ontario, assured in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, in December, 1874, under Policy No. 1306, on Twenty Year Endowment plan, paying an annual premium of $69.90 for ten years. He paid into the Company in all $699. In December, 1894, his Endowment matured and he received a cheque from the Company for $1,344.70, being a return of all premiums paid, and in addition, $665.70. That is to say Mr. Murray got back the money he invested, with about 4 1/2 PER CENT. COMPOUND INTEREST, and his life assured for $1,000 for twenty years free of charge.

It is needless to say that Mr. Murray was much pleased. You may gather the fact from the perusal of his letter here to appended. This I consider very good indeed, and I have pleasure in giving my testimonial to that effect. Yours sincerely, (Signed) REV. J. L. MURRAY.

INDICATED BY THUMBS.

Alleged Indication of Nervous Derangement Commonly Observed.

"When I went to a nerve specialist first," said a man who was once an invalid, "he told me that one way to judge of the condition of a person's nerves was to watch his thumbs. Ever since that time I have found the greatest fascination in looking at people's thumbs. The doctor said that if they moved involuntarily outward it was a sign that the nerves of that man or woman were not in the best condition. I find myself now sweeping the line that sits opposite me in a car, and if that doctor's test is a good one there is a surprising number of people in this town whose nerves need looking after. There are few among the women who do not involuntarily move the thumbs outward at intervals of every few minutes, and when your attention has once been attracted to it the process of watching their gloved hands grows very interesting. I have found the thumb much less frequent among men; but take the average number of women in a cable car and it will be a surprise to you to see how many of them indulge unconsciously in this little habit. I only hope it does not mean anything as serious as it might indicate if that nerve specialist's diagnosis was a good one."

HIGHWAYMEN IN ROSEDALE.

Several Ladies waylaid and Robbed of Their Valuables.

Special to the Times.

Toronto, Dec. 21.—The unprotected neighborhood in the Rosedale section has become a sort of hunting ground for most impudent robbers, and several reports of misadventures by highwaymen have come in to the police.

On Christmas eve a man attacked a lady on Park road and, besides giving her a terrible fright, relieved her of her money, which, fortunately, amounted to only $1.50.

The scene of another outrage of a similar nature was laid on the Huntley street bridge, where a man seized a lady and forcibly demanded her money. She screamed lustily and the robber became alarmed and fled. Citizens in the neighborhood are beginning to clamor for additional police protection.

A LIBERAL VICTORY!

James McShane Elected In Montreal Center By 333 Votes.

AHEAD IN EVERY WARD!

THE FRENCH CANADIANS APPEARED TO CAST A SOLID VOTE FOR THE LIBERAL CANDIDATE.

(Special to the Times.)

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—The Liberal party scored a big victory in Montreal Centre today when Mr. James McShane, popularly known as "The People's Jimmy," was elected to the House of Commons by a majority of 333 votes over Sir William Hingston, the Conservative candidate.

The result was just about what had been looked for, McShane's popularity with all classes being very great.

A PRONOUNCED REVERSAL.

At the last general election, J. J. Curran, the Conservative candidate was elected by 1,260 majority. Today the French Canadians seem to have voted in a body for the Liberal standard bearer. The vote by wards was as follows:

| Ward           | McShane | Hingston |
|----------------|---------|----------|
| West Ward      | 400     | 502      |
| Centre Ward    | 410     | 304      |
| East Ward      | 476     | 185      |
| St. Ann's Ward | 2002    | 1890     |
| Total          | 3330    | 3083     |

Majority for McShane, 333.

BEFORE THE COUNT.

HOW THE GOVERNMENT TRIED TO WIN IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—One of the most doubtful contests that has taken place in Montreal Centre for many years, as appearances go, is now being waged here.

Both candidates have been holding monster meetings during the past week and while Mr. McShane's supporters have shown the greater enthusiasm his opponent has some very powerful interests on his side.

Veiled threats of deprivation of employment have been freely circulated as a warning to all who would vote against the Government candidate. Circulars were distributed at church doors on Christmas Day, warning Catholic electors that if Sir William Hingston was not successful the Government would not consider itself bound to carry the proposed remedial legislation.

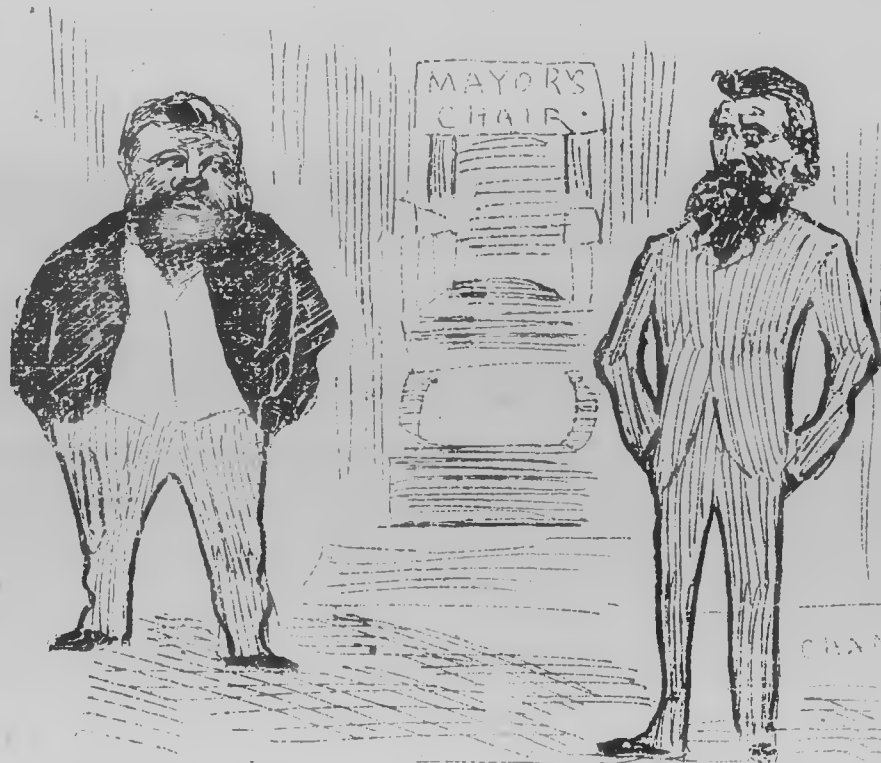

La Presse and La Minerve publish rabid appeals to the Catholics. They say the Orangemen and fanatics of Ontario have gone against the Government; it is time for Catholics to rally in its support.

Liberal speakers have declared definitely against coercion of Manitoba. Mr. McShane depends a great deal on his personal popularity, while Sir Wm. Hingston's somewhat reserved attitude has not gained him many friends.

Though Hingston claims a majority among the McShane men are very con-on the Irish and French English Conservatives voting owing to dis- the Government on recently accorded the appointment of the Superior Court del to the Circuit the Customs collectorship and some prominent Conservatives like R. D. McGibbon have declared against the Government, the sentiment being that a lesson must be taught.

"THE CONSTITUTION."

SIR HUBBERT A STICKLER FOR THE CABINET'S PET EXCUSE.

MONTREAL, Dec. 27.—In a speech last night, Sir Hubbert Tupper said that, though a Catholic Minister and a Protestant member had left the Government, its policy had always remained the same down to the present. If they could not stand by the constitution then Confederation was a myth and should be broken up. He stated emphatically that the Government intended to carry out the decision of the Privy Council. In reply to the statement that Parliament could not coerce Manitoba, he said he believed that Parliament could work its will in any province of the Dominion. They had tried to induce Manitoba of its own volition to carry out the terms of the judgment of the Privy Council, but now, face to face with a refusal, no member of the Cabinet would shrink his duty. They would carry out their pledge.

BIKE AND ICE.

Dispute in a Bicycle Club—Chicago Hockeyists May Come Here.

A special meeting of the Wanderers Bicycle Club will be held next Thursday night and every shareholder who takes an interest in the club should be on hand as the business to come up is of the most important nature.

A statement of the club's financial condition will be made, showing the loss at last summer's race meeting.

It is rumored that there will be a split in the club, which would be regrettable as the Wanderers is the oldest club in Toronto and has on its membership roll some of the best riders in the country. The "second thought" as the war correspondents say, of the directors, will probably result in the club being strengthened instead of weakened.

CYCLING NEWS.

Harley Davidson is at Hot Springs. He will come east shortly to take in the skating races.

The Australian rider, Parsons, who beat Zimmerman, is only 10 years old.

Sam Gibbons will represent a local firm on the track next year.

The Australasian says that Zimmerman was ill when Parsons beat him, and if the crowd had not demanded it, he would not have appeared at all. At Sydney, he beat all competitors, before nearly 30,000 people. In the mile race he won by thirty yards.

PETERBOROUGH, DECEMBER 27, 1896.

THE ANTHEM AND THE WAR DRUM.

The Christian governments of the world are extending to each other the usual compliments of the Christmas season this year with their hands upon their revolvers says the Montreal Star. Off the coast of Asia Minor, not so far from Bethlehem and near to the city of Constantinople, lie black-visaged representatives of the fleets of Europe. Nominally they are there to protect the Christians of Armenia from the Turk, but if this be their real errand it is marvellous how little a big fleet can do. Undoubtedly public opinion and not diplomacy is the best friend of the Armenian, and unluckily President Cleveland has intervened at a critical time to distract the attention of this potent friend from the dark doings below the Black Sea. For just at Christmas time has come a new menace of war into the stormy council room of armed nations, and the hands of that party in Great Britain which always cries out against making the British the disinterested police of the race, is strengthened by their ability to point to a new enemy of the integrity of the Empire. It is perfectly plain that the more Britain is compelled to stand on the defensive the less will she be able to play the aggressive protector of the weak and the distressed. Nothing could be more inconsistent than for the Americans to call upon England to protect the lives of the threatened missionaries in China, and to go to the rescue of the persecuted Armenians in Turkey; and then to menace her with war and the hostility of a new power. That the public opinion of the United Kingdom would force the rescue of Armenia is perfectly clear if it were not for the jealousy of Europe. Russia herself would soon be in Constantinople if the Car had no one to reckon with but Turkey. As it is, Britain is leading in the putting of pressure upon the Turk; and to add to the enemies of Britain is to lighten the force of that pressure.

Still, whatever the rights and the wrongs of the situation may be, it must afford amusement for—say, a Mohammedan—to hear the Christian world singing "Peace on earth, good will toward men," amidst a perfect clatter of war talk.

CANADIANS UNCONQUERABLE.

The unanimous opinion expressed by the military leaders of the United States, that in the event of War with Great Britain, Canada would be occupied at once, shows that they have forgotten lessons of 1812, says the Toronto News. To those who are familiar with the events of that war, the views of the United States generals form humorous reading. They all agree that the soldiers of the union would reach the Canadian frontier at Niagara, Windsor and Montreal within twenty-four hours, and simply pass over and occupy the land. They evidently take no account of the one hundred thousand members of the Canadian militia, many of whom are among the best-drilled volunteers in the world, and taking second place to none on earth in the matter of courage and endurance.

Canadians are not anxious for war. Their dealings with the neighboring republic have all gone to show that their wish is to live amicably beside the big nation whose progress is a matter of pride to all English people. But if the time should ever come when Canadians will be called on to defend their country from aggression, they will be found to be of the same unconquerable stock that successfully resisted the attempt of 1812.

Was talk comes high. John T. Iomar, a great cotton dealer, says days last week "the South-western and merchants have $16,000,000 by the fall in the occasion by the alarmist message," he adds, "will send Merchants and

Of course, with the danger of having the great American nation jumping on his back while he is engaged, John Bull won't be able to busy himself in protecting the Armenian Christians from their Turkish persecutors.

The decision of the chief justice of the supreme court of California, that poker-playing for money is not gambling, is announced as something entirely new. It is not new. Some years ago the county judge of Wentworth decided that poker is a game of skill and not of chance.

Europe is an armed camp. Japan has just completed a big contract for the construction of a vast naval dockyard and a gun factory, and is strengthening her war fleet. The United States government is about to spend a hundred millions or so in the manufacture of war material and in strengthening the coast defense. We agree with the Hamilton Spectator that we must be doing something in Canada to prepare for the invasion from over the border, which most of the United States papers are eagerly predicting as a certainty of the near future. Material for the manufacture of plowshares and pruning hooks must not be looked for in the sword and spear factories for some time to come.

It is to be regretted that Mr. Cleveland did not consult the Professors on International Law in the Universities before penning his effusion upon the Venezuelan matter. All those who have expressed an opinion on the subject speak with no uncertain sound as to the absurdity of the propositions advanced. Dr. Burgess, of Columbia College, seems to believe in the theory once advanced by Bishop Butler to the effect that waves of national insanity sometimes occur and that the "blundering crime" of the President and the House of Representatives is due to one of them. Mr. Hall Caine, however, expresses the opinion that the President was suffering from "political hypnotism" and "patriotic intoxication." That is a gentle way of putting what a good many others, newspapers included, insinuate in a more forcible way.

2,500 ARMENIANS KILLED

CAUGHT IN A NARROW PASS BETWEEN THE HILLS AND SHOT DOWN.

The Fall of Z. Itoun—No Quarter Shown—Only 250 Turks Were Killed—Fears Entertained That the Survivors Will be Massacred.
Special to The Times.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 27.—It is officially announced that most obstinate fighting preceded the capture of Zeltoun by the Turks.
The Armenians lost 2,500 killed during the engagement and fully 250 Turks were killed.

The narrow pass between the hills, leading out of Zeltoun is said to be crowded with Armenian men, women, children, and it is feared they will be massacred.

The ambassadors of Great Britain, France, Russia, Germany, Italy and Austria sent their dragomans to the palace today to make representations with the view of preventing the Armenians from being massacred and pointing out the gravity of such action. Little hope is felt, however, that the representations of the ambassadors will avail and the general belief is that the survivors of the Armenians at Zeltoun have already been killed.

POND'S EXTRACT

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29, 1894. I have used "Pond's Extract" for many years and always insist upon my patients getting "Pond's," not the ordinary Extract, which is often a very poor article. W. K. BROWN, M. D.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9, 1895. I use Pond's Extract a great deal in my practice. I think it very valuable in all venous enlargements. J. L. BRADFORD, M. D.

SANTA BARBARA, CAL., Nov. 27, 1894. I have been using Pond's Extract in my practice for twenty years. I frequently have the experience you mention of druggists insisting they can put up as good as yours. I don't believe it. I use Pond's Extract a great deal as an antiseptic in combination with glycerine and carbolic acid. I think it far superior to any antiseptic known. F. G. FLOURNOY, M. D.

COLUMBIA, PA., Jan. 18, 1895. I have been a constant user of Pond's Extract since 1852, and do not expect to discontinue it while I live. S. ARMOR, M. D.

CHELSEA, MASS., Nov. 8, 1894. I have made diseases of the skin a specialty for thirty years, and am free to say I know of no remedy that has given me such perfect satisfaction as Pond's Extract in cases for which it is recommended. G. W. BABCOCK, M. D.

ASTHMA'S INSTITUTE, Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 8, 1894. I know Pond's Extract to be a valuable remedy, and shall continue its use whenever the opportunity offers. GEO. H. CALKINS, M. D.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 13, 1894. I am pleased with the purity and strength of Pond's Extract. J. L. DURYEE, M. D.

POND'S EXTRACT is used by the leading physicians and principal hospitals of America and Europe.

OPPOSED TO MONROE.

European Powers Combining Against the United States Policy. Special to The Times.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The Daily News publishes a de-patch from Vienna stating that Lord Salisbury, the British Prime Minister, is negotiating with France and Holland with a view to adopting common action against the policy of President Cleveland. Spain has already declared for England.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The Herald says editorially: "Somebody at Washington ought to tell Venezuela to keep quiet. If Venezuela has assumed that the United States has taken up her cause and means to fight her battles the sooner she is disabused of that notion the better it will be for all parties concerned."

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The Times and other papers speak in high terms of the message sent by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York, by request, to the New York World.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—A special to the Herald from Caracas, Venezuela, says: "The annual Venezuela do not contain any record of such a patient as occurred here yesterday. The whole city was in fête. The demonstration was organized to show Venezuela's appreciation of the attitude of the President of the United States. The procession was reviewed by President Crespo and his Cabinet."

Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of crosscut saws this year for which we claim that they will saw faster, keep sharp longer and give better satisfaction than those of any other make. Emissions, Varicose and Syphilis Cured.

At the age of 15 I commenced to ruin my health. Later on I was afflicted with the disease of Syphilis. I was weak and nervous, despondent, pimpled, swollen eyes, bone pain, ulcers, hair loss, sore tongue and mouth, drains in urine, varicose veins, a wreck. I was in the last stage when I met and recommended Dr. Kennedy & Kegan. A dozen other doctors had failed in curing me. Dr. K. & K. cured me in a few weeks by the New Medical Treatment. I would warn similar diseased men to beware of Medical Fraud. Dr. K. & K. are reliable, honest and skillful physicians.

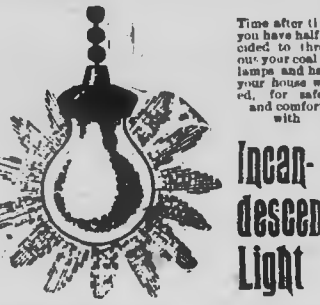

We treat and cure—Varicose veins, Syphilis, Emissions, Gonorrhea, Stricture, Urinary Diseases, Kidney and Bladder diseases, 16 years in a cure, and all other diseases. Write for free literature. You will be glad to hear of our success. It is all free.

Had it happened at a later hour the house and the family might have been ruined."

TELLING THE BEES.

How They Are Notified of a Death in Their Owner's Family.
There is probably no insect in which mankind in general takes more interest than it does in the common honeybee, and of the dozens of superstitions which have been woven about bees none is more curious and interesting than that called "telling the bees" of a death.

Informing bees of a death in the family of their owner, in order to keep them from deserting the hive when they find it out of their own accord, is a custom so ancient that no antiquarian has ever been able to trace it to its origin. In this country it is only practiced by recent additions to our population from the lands across the sea, but in parts of Britain and continental Europe it is looked upon as a necessity, providing the apiarian desires to keep his swarms from deserting their abodes. So universal was this custom of "telling the bees" a few years ago in Europe that an inquiry concerning bees was more than likely to elicit the reply that they had all left the place since So-and-so died, because the grief-stricken family had neglected to tell the little honey gatherers what had happened. If neighbors were talking of the death of a friend, some one in the company would most likely ask if the bees had been informed of the sad circumstance. A recent correspondent of one of the big London weeklies, who says that the custom is still practiced in Devon, tells of a funeral cortege which was halted in order that an apprentice boy might be sent back to tell the bees what was going on, a little detail which had been overlooked before starting for the cemetery.

In Austria, Italy, Poland and in parts of Russia, when the master or mistress of a house dies, not only the bees, but the live stock in general is supposed to be acquainted with the fact by rattling a bunch of keys at the hives, in the stables and among the herds. In France, when the master or mistress dies, the bees are informed and have their hives draped in mourning.

Oliver, in his "History of Beverley," says that the inhabitants of that place invariably clothe their beehives in mourning on the day of a funeral, this to insure the future prosperity of the swarm. Besides the mourning decorations, an offering of "funeral biscuits," pounded fine and soaked in wine, is sometimes added.—St. Louis Republic.

The Electric Crater.

Everybody knows that an arc light is formed by causing an electric current to pass between the points of two carbon rods. One of these is called the positive and the other the negative electrode, and the current passes from the former to the latter. Particles of carbon are carried off from the positive electrode until its end becomes cup shaped.

To the little cup thus formed the name of crater is applied, and from this crater four-fifths of the light is emitted. The negative electrode does not become as hot as the other.

Between the two a little cloud of vaporized carbon is formed, rising from the crater, and this vapor gives forth a golden yellow light. But it is overpowered by the light of the crater itself, which has a violet tinge due to the incandescence of solid particles of carbon.

The arc of light extending from one electrode to the other also has an axis of a violet color which is its most brilliant part.

The fact that most of the luminosity comes from the crater explains the reason why the light does not appear equal in all directions. It is brightest from that point of view which shows the largest portion of the crater.

A very interesting effect is often noticed when flies or other insects flutter about an arc light. Their shadows, cast on a neighboring wall, appear gigantic. The reason is that the light of the crater is concentrated in a point smaller than the bodies of the insects, and the boundaries of the shadows consequently widen with increase of distance.—Youth's Companion.

Bismarck and the Ambassador.

One day the Austrian ambassador to the federal diet, Count Rechberg, received a dispatch instructing him to vote with Prussia for a certain important measure, accompanied with a confidential letter directing him to induce the representatives of the other German states to vote against the measure, and thus defeat it. In his haste he handed the wrong paper to Bismarck, who read and returned it with the remark:

"There must be some mistake here." Rechberg saw his blunder and grew pale and excited. "Don't be disturbed," said Bismarck. "You did not intend to give me this document, and therefore you have not given it to me, and I am wholly ignorant of its contents." In fact, he made no mention of it in his official reports, and thus won Rechberg's gratitude, besides having him henceforth "on the hip."—San Francisco Argonaut.

MUNICIPAL NOMINATIONS.

work in the council had been honest; his stand independent. If elected his work would be equally faithful and honest and he pledged himself to work for the best interests of the town.

Mr. Yelland said as regarding the town solicitor, he understood Mr. Cahill was the man who was using the town solicitor along in the Mason case, which, he was told, could have been settled for $200 if Mr. Cahill and Mr. Town Solicitor had not urged the matter. He was also told that Mr. Cahill wanted to give $500 to the Edison Company and yet he preached economy. Mr. Moore and Mr. Dennistoun held Mr. Cahill in high estimation, though he did not know for why, and they seemed to think he was the only man entitled to the office. Mr. Yelland did not think Mr. Cahill thought this himself.

Mr. Cahill said he appealed to the town solicitor for his advice, and so could he. Of course Mr. Cahill might also get the advice of Mr. Moore and Mr. Dennistoun. Mr. Moore had given him (Mr. Yelland) some advice. He had advised him not to run, but probably he had an object in giving this advice. (Laughter.) Mr. Moore had told him that he was sure to be beaten, but a friend came along and offered to bet Mr. Moore $5 or $25 that Mr. Yelland would be elected and then Mr. Moore had nothing to say.

He had been called by some a temperance crank, but he did not think he was one. If he was, then was not Mr. Cahill a liquor crank? When the Scott Act was in force he had simply done his whole duty as a public official. It was the duty of such an official to see that the law was enforced. His duty in this connection had been done openly, and he did not think he would change his mind with a mean act.

In closing Mr. Yelland asked the ratepayers to vote like men and for the best man. He wanted the fight to be fairly and cleanly fought.

MR. STONE SPEAKS.
Mr. Stone, in making a few remarks, said that he had no axe to grind—one year in the council had been enough for him. He thought well of both candidates, but he wished to point out that Mr. Yelland was mistaken in the matter of the Mason case. When the matter had come up in the council Mr. Cahill had drawn up a cleverly worded resolution that had put all the responsibility upon the town solicitor. Mr. Stone added that it was important to the town to have the question definitely settled, or the town might be at the mercy of every who met with an accident on our streets.

Mr. Cahill said that Mr. Yelland had said that the case could have been settled, and remarked that he had asked Mr. Dumble that question when he appeared before the council, and he called upon Mr. Frank Mason to verify what he had said.

Mr. Mason said that Mr. Dumble had told him that he had stated to a Town Councillor that the case could be settled for $200. (Cheers.)

Mr. Cahill—Who was the councillor, was it myself?

Mr. Mason—No.
Mr. Cahill—That's enough.
Mr. Mason, continuing, said that Mr. Cahill had told him that the case would be settled, although the town solicitor thought it should be appealed. As to the $5000 grant to the Edison Company, Mr. Cahill had said that it was handed over.

Mr. Cahill said that what Mr. Stone and Mr. Mason had said in regard to the Edison case relieved him from responsibility in that matter. As to the Edison case it was well known that he had always been in favor of building up the manufacturing interests of the town. When the lamp works were proposed to be moved to Peterborough the whole council had been in favor of the $5,000 grant in order to anchor the Edison Works in Peterborough.

CONSPIRACY TO MURDER.

THE HYAMS TWINS ARE AGAIN PLACED ON TRIAL.

The Charge of Conspiracy to Murder Martha Wells-Hyams is Taken up First—Forgery Cases Come on Later.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 30.—The fact that the Crown authorities had set today as the date for the commencement of the investigation of the charges against the Hyams twins of having conspired to murder Martha Wells-Hyams was quite sufficient to attract a large crowd to Court street, and at 10 o'clock a throng had assembled outside the Police Court building. The disposal of the other cases on the calendar occupied over an hour and a half.

FIVE CASES OF FORGERY.

The brothers were then arraigned on four separate charges of forgery. The charges were that on April 14, 1893, they had forged the name of William Hyams as an endorsement to a $200 check; on April 18, 1893, the name of Alexander Crane to a $250 check; on April 12, 1893, the name of William Stone to a $250 check; and on April 8, 1893, the name of John Jackson to a $200 check.

In all these cases the prisoners pleaded not guilty and were remanded until January 6.

The conspiracy case was then taken up. The first witness called was Dr. James Burns, of 7 College street. He deposed that he was examiner for a number of insurance companies among which was the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. On January 23, 1893, at the house of Dr. Field on Spadina avenue, as a result of an insurance application on behalf of Martha Wells Hyams, whom he knew personally he examined her in the usual way. Dr. Field and Mr. Higgins, agent for the Mutual Life, were the only other persons then present, as far as witness could see, though before his departure Dr. J. L. Davidson came in to examine her for the same company as himself.

TELL TALE TELERGRAMS.

George Hoparth, local manager of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, identified four telegrams sent from Toronto to Montreal in January, 1893, and Albert W. Barber, of the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Company, produced several references to their contents. All reference to their contents was for the present studiously avoided.

DALLAS FIGURES IN IT.

J. W. Kerr, for eight years connected with the Standard Insurance Company, swore that a year ago last July, or a little earlier, Dallas Hyams had spoken to him about placing insurance on the life of his sister-in-law, Martha Wells Hyams, who was, he stated, then in Montreal.

Witness had seen Dallas in the matter several times at 11 King street west. He subsequently saw Mrs. Hyams with Harry Hyams, at Dr. Field's residence on the occasion when she underwent medical examination there for life insurance purposes. Witness could not remember the amount named by Dallas or whether he had ever stated any amount but the amount named in the application, filed in at Dr. Field's was $10,000. Witness could not remember that anyone wished to make this sum even larger but he had heard Mrs. Hyams advise Harry, if he wished more insurance to place it on his own life rather than on hers. Witness was the only one who urged an increase.

THE COMMISSION THAT WASN'T PAID.

Dr. Field was to get a commission, but the whole transaction collapsed owing to the refusal of the part of the money to sanction it. Witness saw Dallas at the King street office after the application had gone in. Dallas intimated that they had decided to take $75,000 insurance.

The task of getting evidence out of this witness was very tedious and the Crown Attorney dropped him.

At this point the cases were remanded for a week because Dr. Field, the next witness required by the Crown, was unable to be present.

ROBBED OF $1,500.

MONEY STOLEN FROM BETWEEN MATTRESSES A QUEER CASE WHICH IS BEING INVESTIGATED.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Dec. 30.—James Eves, a well known citizen who resides at 31 Charles street and who at one time kept a refreshment establishment on Yonge street, above Eam street, reported to the police this morning that the fat sum of $1,500 had been stolen from him some time during the previous night. His story is to the effect that before retiring he carefully secured the cash between the mattresses. He then went to bed and slept soundly, but to his surprise, when he went to look for the money, though he had noticed no disturbance meanwhile it was nowhere to be found. There are no indications of a burglary having been perpetrated. Detectives Davis and Harrison are investigating the story.

ARRESTED THE NURSE.

Detective Davis, on making an investigation of the facts, considered himself warranted in arresting a Mrs. Jaue Robinson, who lives on Ellis street, and who for three days had been in the Eves household as the nurse of Mrs. Eves, who is an invalid.

The three persons in the house last night were Eves, his wife and Mrs. Robinson, who is a cripple, occupies a room adjacent to that of his wife, and Mrs. Robinson admits that she saw him putting something in the bedding. A search made by the detective failed to reveal the missing money. Eves says that he once knew Mrs. Robinson as Mrs. Patterson.

Twenty thousand Roses.

There are nearly 20,000 roses in bloom now at Dunk's conservatories. Bloor street west. Visitors are always welcome. Mr. Dunk is proud of his establishment and takes pleasure in speaking of his beauties. He ships them by mail and exports to all parts of Canada, and as these orders are filled direct from the trees, he guarantees them to arrive in good condition. Sale room, 45 Yonge street, and 45 King street west.

Advertising a Failure.

Advertising a failure, at least it has proved so in its having failed to bring forward one bed axe out of the large number of Ridgway Pennsylvania axes sold by us last year for which we have offered in the Times for some weeks two new ones for each. Our offer still holds good. We are introducing a new make of crosscut saws this year for which we claim that they will saw faster, keep sharper longer and give better satisfaction than those of any other make. ## LIBERALS ON TOP.

Mr. Napoleon Charbonneau Elected in Jacques Cartier County

BY A MAJORITY OF 574.

THE CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE DEFEATED IN EVERY PARISH BUT ONE—LIBERALS REJOICE.

(Special to the Times.)

MONTREAL, Dec. 30.—The Liberals have scored another decisive victory. There is great rejoicing in the Liberal camp here tonight over today's election in Jacques Cartier County. Another seat has been won from them by the Government, Napoleon Charbonneau, the Liberal candidate being elected by 574 majority.

The constituency became vacant by the elevation of Mr. Girouard to a Judgeship, he being appointed to the bench of the Supreme Court. The Conservative candidate in the present contest, J. A. Descaerens, was a member of the Provincial Legislature until quite recently, when he was induced to resign and accept the nomination for the Dominion House.

The Liberal candidate had a majority in every parish but one. The returns by parish, showing Liberal majorities, are: Point Claire.....283

Dorval.....80
Lachine.....110
St. Anne.....90
St. Genevieve.....115

Conservative majority in St. Laurent. 73
Final Liberal majority.....574

At the last General elections Mr. Girouard was elected by a majority of 230. The returns today show a general reversal of feeling.

BEFORE THE VOTE.

THE BATTLE WAS HOT AND FIERCE—HOW THE GOVERNMENT SUCCEEDED.

The last shots have been fired in the campaign of Liberalism in Jacques Cartier County, and it only remains now for the electors to pass their verdict. Mr. Charbonneau's friends are very sanguine that this will be in favor of the Reform candidate. His organization is complete at every point, and if victory does not rest upon the Liberal banner today it will not be far from right down hard work from the beginning on the part of himself and his committee. All day Saturday every one at the Liberal headquarters, 7 Place d'Armes, was busily engaged. All the divisions were heard from by telephone, and the reports were most encouraging.

There was every hope of winning, and the reports were most encouraging. It was conceded that the fight will be a close one. It would be a majority was at all large, the lists have been stuffed.

There were 600 people at the Liberal headquarters, and there were 600 people at the Conservative headquarters. A large number of people were divided upon the issue, and the result was a close one.

candidate is being used. Money is flowing like water, and intimidation is being used wherever possible. In St. Laurent a large contractor has written letters to many voters on behalf of the Ministerial candidate. An ex-Government employee, who was dismissed from his position, is working for him in Lachine, and nearer home a post office employee, who was formerly connected with the Louis Blain Works at Quebec, is doing what he can for Mr. Descaerens.

SUFFOCATED BY GASES.

The Narrow Escape of an Electric Works Student.

Mr. A. Barclay, a young Englishman, who recently came to Peterborough to take a course at the Electric Works, had a painful experience yesterday afternoon at the Works.

While suffering from a severe cold he entered the metal room and inhaled poisonous fumes which nearly overpowered him. He managed to rush to the door, but fainted on the outside.

Mr. Barclay was taken to his rooms at the Hoffman House where he was attended by Dr. Boucher. He is recovering from the effects of his painful experience and will be around again soon.

HOTEL THIEVES.

A Detective Who Has Experience Tells of Their Methods.

A favorite lounging place for the hotel crook is the desk, says a detective to a reporter. He can tell at a glance what rooms are occupied but his favorite plan is to wait until some prosperous looking person about to leave the hotel for a walk hands his key to the clerk and asks him to "put that in 90."

If the thief were to open the door of, say room 85, because he saw that key in the rack, he would run great risk, for the occupant might return at any moment. But he knows that 90 has gone out for some time anyway. Any thief can open the ordinary hotel room door with a skeleton key. He goes up in the elevator and even whistles as he rattles the picklock and then enters. In ten minutes an expert can go through a dozen trunks and a bureau.

A successful gains sometimes is worked by the chap who presents a package at the desk, addressed to some guest, whose name the rascal has copied from the register. It is generally well done up and looks valuable. The clerk pays $5 to $10 on it. When the bundle is opened it is found to contain rags and a broken bottle.

The hotel sneak thief who wants to get into a room that is bolted, or even locked with the key on the inside, has an easy time of it. With a pair of lip-pets he seizes the key and unlocks the door. It is bolted, but with a curious little instrument made simply of a piece of whalebone and a string he pushes back the bolt and enters to find probably his victim's trunks or bloomers on a chair near by. He leaves the small change, too, for it jingles. That's where he isn't as mean as the average woman. She takes change.

The assumed absent-minded man, but really a thief, generally walks up to the desk and asks for the key of any room. Sometimes, if a crowd is around or there have been many arrivals, he gets it. If the clerk spots him, he replies in an astonished way, looking around as though dazed.

"Why, I thought this was the Hoffman House," he says, "and I'm in the St. James."

I know of one case where a fellow not only got into a room that way, but ran for a bellboy to carry his bag to a cab. It belonged to the other fellow, of course.

The man who used to walk behind the clerk and help himself to valuables isn't around now as much as formerly. Folks have learned by experience and are more careful. The petty hotel thieves who hang about the reading rooms looking for a chance to steal an overcoat are numerous, for they are small fish, and the police forget them in their rush for bigger game. It's a risky business, but a burglar I once knew said he had to take to hotel thieving for he had a weak heart, and the danger in connection with burglary caused him to fear he might drop dead with excitement. He steals now only in the daytime.

ARE THEY MARRIED?

A License For the Marriage of A. B. Appleby and Abbie Duggan

ISSUED ON CHRISTMAS DAY

A DISPATCH FROM DETROIT SAYS THERE IS NO RECORD OF APPLEBY HAVING OBTAINED A DIVORCE.

If Mr. Alexander B. Appleby and Miss Abbie Duggan are not man and wife now, they will be very soon. The wedding, if it has not already taken place, will be a very quiet affair. It is not likely there will be any cards, and the public will not know how many presents the happy couple received or what the bride wore, or whether the groom looked comely or haggardly nervous. The wedding, if it has not already taken place, will likely come off in Detroit, in some little out of the way chapel or in the private precincts of a hotel parlor.

The telegraph wires ticked away merrily last night and they bore on their lightning wings the sequel of an oft-told story, a story of the broken vows of a man, and the yielding of a weak woman; a story of alleged illicit love and its consequent effect in the breaking up of a happy home, the desertion of a husband, and the tears of a deserted wife.

A dispatch from Detroit, Michigan, states that on Christmas day Mr. Alexander Appleby took out a marriage license to marry Miss Abbie Duggan. The records show the bare details required by law, viz:—

Marriage Licenses.
"Alexander B. Appleby, 44 years of age, Fargo, N. D., and Abbie Duggan, 31 years of age, Detroit, Michigan. Licenses to marry."

To secure this little certificate there are certain requirements stipulated by law besides the payment of the fee. The parties must take oath, assenting certain things, and the question is how could Appleby take this oath?

The despatch says: "Alexander Appleby has a wife in Peterborough, a town in the province of Ontario, Canada, from whom he made two attempts to secure a divorce. The first application for divorce was made at a place named Wahpeton, North Dakota, about a year ago. This man Appleby lived there 90 days in order to make the application. He sued for it on the grounds of infidelity and desertion and although he had witnesses summoned from California, Buffalo and numerous other places he failed to sustain any one of the charges and the application was dismissed. Then Appleby applied in Fargo, N. D., and this case is now pending, as the records do not show that a decision has been handed down."

The facts in the case are well known in Peterborough. Miss Duggan is very highly connected here and her relatives are much respected. Sometime ago Mrs. Appleby instituted a suit for damages against Miss Duggan for the alienation of her husband's affections, placing the sum at $10,000. Miss Duggan placed the case in the hands of Messrs. Stratton & Hall who entered an appearance. Shortly afterwards Miss Duggan left town and nothing has been heard in connection with the disgraceful affair until the above despatch announcing that a marriage license had been taken out, was received.

The pending damage suit will likely go by default and other proceedings will be taken—probably across the line.

They Don't Observe Sunday.

Mr. John Martin, who will be remembered as the obliging passenger agent for the Peterborough Navigation Company, last summer is now in Leadville, Col., and has written to a friend in town describing the kind of country and the manner of living out there. Mr. Martin says that in Leadville, a town of 12,000 or 15,000 population, there are no churches and the people work on Sunday as on week days. The climate is something like that of Canada. Carpenters earn $3.00 per day, but only the poorest board can be had for $20 per month and first class board is $80 a month.

Social and Festival.

In George street church on Wednesday evening a social and festival will be given by the ladies of the church in the interests of the building fund of the New Grace Church now approaching completion. Refreshments will be served from 6 until 8 p.m. After which a choice program will be rendered. Tickets only 25 cents. All are cordially invited.

Counterfeits.

A few years ago a great discovery was made. Unprincipled persons are trying to prey upon and dupe people who are led to ask for kidney treatment.

Some of the methods adopted by imitators are as follows:
First.—To imitate the size, color and shape of Dodd's Kidney Pills and sell them by count.

Second.—To put them up to appear very nearly the same and to be offered at the same price.

Third.—To hook on the word "kidney" in naming cathartic pills so as to increase sales of mere physic.

Fourth.—To give a name so near to Dodd's that unwary people may be deceived and think they are getting Dodd's. Look out for such dodges. When you want kidney medicine you want the best. And ought not to be the subject of any trick.

So Beware!
